Fifty Beds and New Facilities to Be Added

Hospital Announces $1,500,000

Construction Program

Plans to expand the Winchester Hospital, increasing its bed capacity from 110 beds to approximately 160 beds, were revealed yesterday by Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., president of the hospital's board of directors. The announcement was made following extensive studies of bed needs and improved ancillary facilities to meet increased patient demands and advancements in medical treatment.

Expansion plans for the forty-seven-year-old community hospital also include the addition of new X-ray, laboratory, central sterile supply, emergency facilities, postoperative recovery room, special care unit for the acutely ill and a new delivery suite.

Extensive studies of hospital requirements in the Winchester area by consultants and engineers, both the Massachusetts State Department of Public Health and the Health Division of United Community Services, have resulted in an A-1 priority for Federal funds which are distributed by state governments to hospitals under the Hill-Burton Act.

This source is expected to finance 20% of the total construction cost, which has been estimated at approximately $1,500,000. The balance of funds will be sought through community support of a fund-raising program to be conducted throughout the hospital service area.

It is contemplated construction will get underway about July, 1960, and will be completed in approximately two years.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll of 8 Bonad road observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Tuesday, June 30. There was no formal celebration but the Carrolls received many cards, flowers and other messages of congratulation, as well as a number of appropriate silver gifts.

John Carroll of Winchester and Mildred Haley of Woburn were married June 30, 1934, and have spent all of their married life in Winchester, having many friends about town. They have a son, John, recently graduated from Malden Catholic High School, and a daughter, Miss Nancy Carroll, who is a cashier in the Charlestown Branch of the National Shawmut Bank.

MISS MARGARET CAMPBELL

Observed 98th Birthday June 26

Miss Margaret Campbell of 16 Chisholm road, one of Winchester's oldest residents, observed her 98th birthday Friday, June 26. In excellent health, she still loves to visit and travel.

Miss Campbell makes her home with her nephew, Donald W. Campbell, who calls her "a most amazing person." Up early each morning, she aids with the housework, bustles herself in the garden and enjoys visiting and chatting with friends in the neighborhood. A woman many years her junior might find the schedule she follows arduous.

Miss Campbell came to Winchester six years ago after a long residence in Chelsea. Born in Cape Breton, Is., Nova Scotia, June 26, 1861, she worked for many years for Everlast, Inc., in Chelsea. The Campbells would seem to be a long-lived clan, Miss Campbell's two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Weymouth of Haverhill and Mrs. Annie MacDonald of Allston being both over eighty.

The Star salutes Miss Campbell and wishes for her continued health and happiness.

Coming Events

July 7, Tuesday, Fruit and Flower Mission, Mrs. Erwin Hutchings, 25 Hancock street, PA 9-2254, in charge for Unitarian Church.

New Town Record System Approved

James J. Costello, town accountant, has received a letter from the Supervisor of Public Records for the Commonwealth approving and commending the new record system for the Town of Winchester.

The keeping of town records has become a big part of modern government and with it has come the difficult problem of knowing what to save and what to discard. Under this new system the town records have been grouped together and will be handled from now on automatically.

Each group of records was classified as to usage and type and then a retention schedule was set up which allocated the different groups either to the vault or to the third floor "non-fire proof" storage. There are 49 different kinds of records which differ in their importance, so that some must be saved two years, and some permanently.

Work will begin soon on putting the system into final operation.

Percival Mott

Percival Mott of 4 Wolcott terrace, a native and widely known resident of Winchester, died Monday, June 29, at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn, at the age of 70.

Mr. Mott was the son of the Rev. Herbert H. and Annie (Cornish) Mott. He was born June 11, 1889, in Winchester, while his father was filling a pastorate at the Unitarian Church here. He lived in Winchester at that time only a short while, going with his father to pastorates in several New England cities and towns, his last being in Norton.

Mr. Mott attended Middlesex School in Concord, and during World War I was selected for Officers Training School at Plattsburg, N. Y. Illness prevented his completing his training and he served through the war on ground work in aviation in Texas.

He took courses at Massachusetts Agricultural College, now University of Massachusetts, and spent several years working at the Wamsutta Mills in New Bedford.

He then entered teaching and for a time taught in Northampton. He then taught mechanical arts for sixteen years in the Junior High School East in Arlington, later after his retirement from public school work, teaching at the Veterans' Rehabilitation Hospital in Bedford.

During this time he studied at Boston University, completing the courses necessary for his Master's Degree. He had been for the past five years retired.

Mr. Mott returned to Winchester more than 25 years ago, purchasing at that time, the former home of the late editor of the Winchester Star, T. Price Wilson, on Wolcott road. He was a former member of the University Club of Boston.

He interested himself in town affairs, taking a particularly keen interest in school matters and in the town library. He was a frequent contributor to the Star, writing many letters on a variety of subjects and never hesitating to espouse the unpopular side of any controversy if his investigations and knowledge of a subject caused him to feel that he was right. He spent many hours in investigating personally all aspects of public questions, and failure to secure popular support for his contentions did not discourage him from advocating what he believed to be best. In education he was among those pushing for individual advancement of pupils according to their abilities and for greater continuity of education as well as for discipline and respect for authority.

Mr. Mott had for some years spent his summers at Corea, Me. He loved to work with his hands and was restoring an old house at Prospect Harbor in Maine with the idea of making it his own home at some future time. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Annie Hopkins Mott.

Private funeral services were held Thursday at the Kimball Chapel with the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Burial was in Norton.

Recommends Fourth Salk Vaccine Dose

The Winchester Board of Health is joining other boards and public health officials in officially recommending a fourth dose of Salk polio vaccine for all persons who completed their basic three shots a year or more ago.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney of the Public Health Service recently made public, with his endorsement, a recommendation to that effect from a special committee of advisors he had asked to review the Salk vaccine situation.

There was no reference in the announcement to live polio vaccines, which thus far have not been approved by the service for general use in the United States.

To Participate in "Experiment" Program

Miss Elizabeth Ann Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., 6 Everett avenue, sailed on July 2 aboard the S. S. Ascania en route to Sweden. She is participating in the program of "The Experiment in International Living."

She will spend one month in Montana, to the south of Stockholm, living with a Swedish family on a farm. The remainder of the summer she will be hosting throughout the countryside with a Swedish-American student group.

She will return early in September in time to start her senior year at Connecticut College where she is president of the Student Government.

An informal reception to "Dannie" and his good wife got the program away to a fine start with the honor guests refusing any sort of receiving line and mingling with their friends and well wishers throughout the hall.

Following the reception there was an entertainment program with William F. Branley, director of industrial arts in the Winchester schools, as master of ceremonies. The incomparable O'Rourke's, Phil and Teddy, presented songs and chatter, including their own top-drawer version of the ever-popular "McNamara's Band," and Frank Flaherty, popular tenor, sang several old and new favorites.

At an appropriate moment Mr. Branley presented Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell with a purse of money and the best wishes of all present. "Dannie" added to his already high stature as a speaker with a most appropriate reply.

Concluding the evening there was a buffet lunch and dancing to the toe-tickling tunes of Bob Fiore's Band, the guests of honor setting the other dancers an excellent example by their proficiency on the floor.

Heading the committee in charge of arrangements was William F. Branley. Assisting were Chester Thibault, Richard Fiore, Ned Dalton, Charlie Haggerty, Jerry Roberti, Charlie Doucette, George Foley, Jim Costello and Tom Drapeau.

Another Trip for Freddie

Freddie Hills of Winchester Appliance is expecting to take the Mrs. on another free trip to Nassau in October as the result of his showing in the current York Air Condition sales competition.

Freddie has already won a trip to Nassau for himself, and is well on his way to winning a second trip during the closing days of the contest which ends July 30. He will need this second trip to take Mrs. Hills on the junket. Needless to say, he will bend every effort toward achieving a second win and was very confident of doing just that when he talked to the Star.

Monday night, of course, did not hurt his chances and Freddie says there is more of the same ahead. He personally feels that waiting to place your order for a York will serve no really useful purpose and will even argue the point with you.

Thus far Mr. Hills has won three two-trip contests, the first to Nassau, the second to Varedere Beach, Cuba, and the third to Ocho Rios, Jamaica. This year's win will return him and the good wife to Nassau and the Hills can hardly wait!

Featured entertainment at the affair will be Balloons the Clown, with Bobo the Clown and the Trail Riders from WMUR-TV. Also on the program are George and Dixie Smith and Ralston, who has been seen on Big Top.

The list of the events is as follows:

- Watermelon Eating Contest

Free Ice Cream
In accordance with the usual custom ice cream will be distributed free to all Winchester children at the Fourth of July celebration at Leonard Field commencing at 1 p.m.

Town Accountant Reads Paper to State Group

James J. Costello, town accountant, was moderator of a panel discussion on budget methods which was held as part of a meeting of the Massachusetts Municipal Auditors and Accountants Association. At the meeting, which was held at the Hotel Belmont in Haverhill, Mr. Costello read a paper.

The paper was a discussion of Winchester's budget system and fully explained the "program approach," which is a new innovation here, allowing for more detailing. Under this new approach, the budgets are broken into the amount of work done under each item, such as so many feet of sidewalk poured, etc., rather than just lumped under one category.

He was elected Selectman in 1938, serving for three years, after which he was a member of the Board of Public Welfare in 1942 and 1943. In 1944 he served as acting Selectman to fill a vacancy, and in the same year, again to fill a vacancy, he was appointed Town Treasurer.

Retired Tax Collector Died June 26

Donald Heath, retired Collector of Taxes and long active in the political and civic life of Winchester, died Friday evening, June 26, at his home, 16 Marshall road, at the age of 76. Impaired health caused him to retire as Collector December 1, 1958.

Mr. Heath was the son of John Randall, and Alice (Norton) Heath. He was born June 24, 1883, in Jamaica Plain, but as a child went to Melrose where he attended the Melrose schools and was graduated from Melrose High School.

From school Mr. Heath entered the employ of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, completing 41 years service before retiring in 1945. He had served as district traffic chief and was at the time of his retirement division toll supervisor. His service included a year with the company at Lewiston, Maine, and he was a past president of Thomas Sherwin Chapter of Telephone Pioneers of America.

On September 20, 1919, Mr. Heath married Teresa Draper of Cohasset, and went with his bride to Lewiston for his telephone company service there. It was from Lewiston that the Heaths came to Winchester in 1920, living first on Main street, later on Everett road, and in recent years at 16 Marshall road.

"THAR SHE BLOWS!"

Submerged car is pulled from Mystic Lake Wednesday after it and trailer had rolled into the water while owner was launching a motor boat. Police frogmen, Officers Anthony Amico (left) and James Cogan, worked under water to free the car.

Automobile and Trailer Roll into Lake

Two Winchester Police Frogmen, Officers Anthony Amico and James Cogan, worked for some time under water Wednesday afternoon to free an automobile and trailer that had rolled into Upper Mystic Lake and submerged while their owner was launching a motor boat.

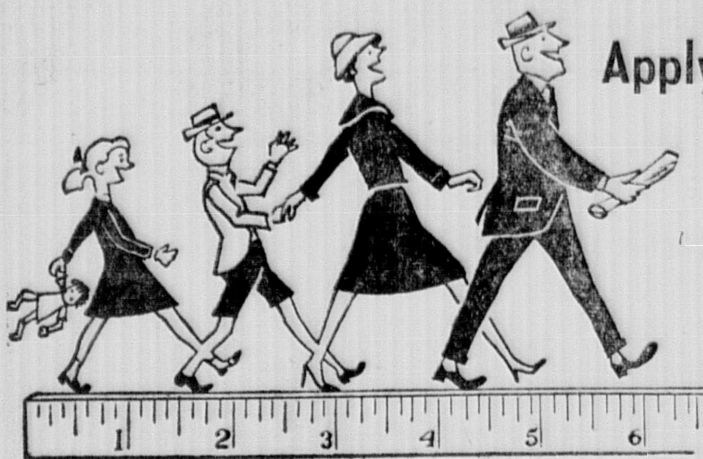

The accident occurred shortly after 1:30 at the filled cove at Bacon's Pond, near the iron bridge, the rendezvous for motor boat enthusiasts. The car and trailer were owned by Mrs. Andrew Crawford, and John Reardon, Fire Chief James E. Callahan also responded with the Department's rescue truck, driven by Firefighter Bob Wyman. Metropolitan Police Officers reported in their police boat and cruiser, and a large crowd gathered to watch salvage operations.

As soon as the police arrived they learned no one was in the submerged car, but the services of the Frogmen were needed to free the car so that a tow truck from Mirak Chevrolet in Arlington could pull it from the pond. The machine was fender-deep in mud and Officers Amico and Cogan worked for some time to make the hauling job possible, first detaching the trailer.

About two hours were consumed in the job and the Frogmen were running out of air. Officer Crawford being sent to the Woburn line to pick up a new supply, being relayed through Woburn from Wilmington.

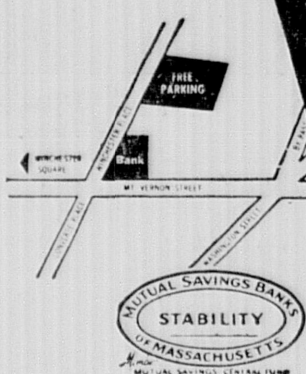

Because of the steepness of the drop in the lake bottom four attempts had to be made before the car was finally pulled from the lake.

"Stay Away from Fawns"

Dr. Eric H. Hansen, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, today cautioned sympathetic and well-meaning animal lovers to stay away from any fawn that they might come upon that appears to be abandoned. Dr. Hansen said, "At this time of year many young deer are picked up and taken away, only to die, as few know how to care for them properly. The mother deer often leaves her young for several hours, or even a day, while she searches for food, but does return to feed them."

"Unlike many other animals," the doctor said, "the mother will run when strangers approach, giving the impression that the fawn has been abandoned, thus making it an easy prey for well-intentioned, but misguided people."

The governor of Massachusetts receives $20,000 per year, top salary of all six New England governors. Maine's $10,000 is the lowest figure for the region.

EDITORIALS

Reference was made at the recent special town meeting about snap judgment plans for relieving the town's secondary school space problem, plans hastily conceived and never mentioned to the school building committee in any sort of time for adequate consideration before its report to the town. Perhaps there was something in the charge, perhaps not!

Quite often a plan will occur to some one at the last minute, leaving little if any time to present it to the proper authorities for their consideration sufficiently in advance of the town meeting at which some sort of action has to be taken.

We do not know all the ins and outs of the Kishler plan for adding to our present secondary school buildings presented to the meeting by Mr. Lybeck. We do know that it wasn't arrived at in "fifteen minutes," and that as far as detail went it gave as much specific information as any of the other plans advanced. They had pictures! It had a picture!

If the school building committee and school authorities think the plan of adding to the present school buildings is a dead duck, they are doing themselves a disservice. There are many who like the plan and as of now will oppose any other plan that has yet been advanced.

The fact that the special meeting voted for the Well Field site for a new junior high school does not guarantee that such a building will be built there. There are still such ponderables as price and design. Much will depend upon what sort of building the committee asks the town to buy. The Star does not believe it will buy anything fancy or inordinately costly, even for the children of the town. There are too many people tax conscious and too many people who are willing to believe the particular school population experts who predict a noticeable decrease in school children after three years or so.

The Star is not, however, writing this editorial with the idea of boosting the Kishler plan, or opposing it. It is not advocating a million dollar junior high school on the Well Field lot if the school authorities plan to put one there.

There has come to our ears a new plan which we believe has sufficient merit to receive careful consideration by the school building committee and the people of the town as a whole. In the last analysis it is the voters who will decide what sort of new school will be built, if any.

The plan, of which we have heard, is to build a two-year junior high school on the Well Field site and have all the junior high school pupils in town go to that school for their seventh and eighth grades.

The freshman class now in high school, under the plan in question, would go into the present junior high school, along with the school administrative offices, and the present senior high school would house the three upper high school grades.

This plan would take the younger secondary school children out of the center traffic that is believed to be such a threat to their safety, would provide adequate space for both the freshman and upper high school classes and would preserve the 6-2-4 system of education which so many believe to be sound. Surely under it our high school youngsters have been making fine records in college admission. It is hard to see how a switch to the 6-3-3 could better this record.

We do not know whether the school building committee has heard of the plan we have just described. If they have, they are probably considering it and weighing its pros and cons. The Star doesn't say it is the solution of our secondary school problem, at least, not yet. Perhaps there are valid reasons why such a plan will not do at all, though several teachers with whom we have discussed it informally have felt it might be good. By the time the building committee is ready to present a plan or plans for the Well Field, enough people will have heard of this plan to make it advisable for the committee to have the answers to the questions that are likely to be asked about it. We repeat, the committee should not consider the additions to the present school buildings beyond the bounds of possibility, particularly as a compromise plan!

There is another advantage to the plan we have been mentioning. It will provide quarters, and it would seem very adequate quarters, for the School Department. Such quarters are badly needed. Under the present setup there are school records which for lack of space have to be kept under lock and key in the high school and may not be available for 24 hours if there is no one at school headquarters available to dig them out. The Star knows through experience that this is so.

The Star also believes that the possibility of providing quarters for the School Administrative offices in a separate building on the Wadleigh lot are, because of cost, pretty remote. That remodeling plan to provide school office quarters at the town hall, beaten because of the inclusion of the controversial hall above the offices, was a pretty good one, but when, or whether it will again be proposed is problematical. Meanwhile the School Department needs adequate working quarters nearly as much as the youngsters need classrooms.

McCormack's Corner is a bad place from the motor traffic angle, and the actions of motorists at this spot are not helping to improve conditions. Parking in the restricted area on Church street from the very corner of the sidewalk in front of McCormack's has been a regular practice for some time, the pedestrian cross walk being blocked by the parked machines.

Now many are double parking at the corner, creating a dangerous situation, both for cars attempting to get around the double parkers to go west on Church street and for pedestrians attempting to get across the street and unable to use the cross walk. Often the single and double parkers do not need to park at the corner, and most of those we have observed are plenty young and vigorous enough to walk the necessary distance involved in leaving their cars where they should.

And while we are on traffic around the square, we believe we speak for many when we decry the conditions that apply during rush hours in front of the post office.

Here again indiscriminate parking in restricted areas adds to the hazard of traffic whizzing out of two parking lots and Thompson street, (a stop street), into Waterfield road. It ought not to take a sizeable accident to have this condition corrected.

Mrs. William C. Cusack
Executive Director
Winchester Red Cross

Dear Mrs. Cusack:

Thanks so much for your letter of June 10 and the three issues of the Winchester Star which you enclosed.

We thought you might be amused to learn that an alert Red Cross volunteer, a native of Winchester, but at present a resident of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, sent us the clipping describing Miss Myra Smith's service which appeared in the Star on May 8. Since we don't often hear of 99-year-old volunteers, we immediately forwarded the clipping over to National Headquarters in Washington where it is now being considered for possible mention in the Red Cross Newsletter. It seems that it's a small world we live in!

With all warm regards,

Drinking drivers, reckless drivers, and speeders will be removed from the highways. They will lose their driving privileges.

Lt. Colonel John Blake, Executive Officer of the State Police, and Registrar Riley will personally direct the activities of this army of enforcement officials mobilized to control this traffic emergency. They will maintain mobile headquarters at strategic centers of traffic movement and be in constant touch with the situation through the vast communication system set up for the holiday utilizing the latest electronic devices in communications.

Heath

Active civically, Mr. Heath was vice chairman of the Winchester Civilian Defense during World War II, serving as director of the Evacuation Division in 1942. He was also in that year chairman of the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee of the Winchester Red Cross.

He was chairman of the special town committee for the purchase of the Skillings property in 1943, chairman of the Winchester War Veterans Advisory Committee the next year, and chairman of North Metropolitan Area of the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign in 1945. In 1946 he was chairman of the Winchester Unit of the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society campaign.

Mr. Heath was actively identified with the Church of the Epiphany, serving the parish as vestryman, warden and lay reader, as well as on several church committees. He also served for some years as an usher at Trinity Church in Boston and was a member of both the Trinity Club and the Ushers Club of Trinity Church.

He was also a member of Mystic Valley Lodge, A.F. & A.M., and of the Winchester Rotary Club. In 1927 while engaged in accumulating family historical data, he was made a "Freemason of the Governor and Company of Massachusetts Bay in New England."

He leaves his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Christopher Wadsworth of Cincinnati, Ohio, and three grandchildren, Connamara, Stephen and Mayday Wadsworth.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Dr. John W. Ellison, and the assistant rector, Rev. Ralph B. Putney, officiating.

A delegation representing the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company was present with present and former town officers, representatives of Rotary and fellow parishioners. Senior Warden William M. Hopkins headed a group of former wardens and vestrymen who served as ushers and honorary bearers. They were Maxwell McCreery, Albert S. Crockett, Lyman E. Snow, Gerald Y. Hills and Ralph L. Garner.

Church Organist and Choirmaster Enos Held played the hymns, "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "The Strife Is O'er" at the recessional. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Children Present Summer Revue

A program entitled "Summer Revue" was put on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brennan of 12 Bridge street. The program was performed by Daniel Brennan, Evelyn Brennan, Josephine Granfield, Elizabeth Manzie, Peter Powers and Marcia Styles.

Costumes for the production were made by the girls and the program was planned by them. Refreshments were served following the show.

Act I—Hobo Act, Indian Dance, Chippunk Song, Virginia Reel, If You Didn't Have Rain, Prayer At Night, My Hat, and Baseball Song. An intermission followed and then the show resumed with Ballet Dance, You Are My Sunshine, Dutch Boy, Autographs, The Bible Tells Me So, Tap Dance, and Tan Shoes.

A finale closed the program.

JOHNSON ROAD—RIDGE STREET ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Building

Committee Reports

Editor of the Star:

The need for additional elementary classroom space in the west side of Winchester has been shown in many reports to the town, has been thoroughly discussed in various town meetings, and is well known to most citizens, so that further discussion at this time seems unnecessary.

Building Committee Plans

The preliminary work of the architects has been completed, working drawings are now in process. We expect to go out for bids in August, and to come before a special Town Meeting in September to ask for funds to construct the school, on the basis of the firm bid submitted by the lowest acceptable bidder.

We will hold an open meeting during the summer if there is sufficient interest, as soon as working drawings are sufficiently advanced, but because so many residents may be away at that time, we offer the perspective rendering here printed and the following description of our problems, and the solution we have reached.

Location of the Building

The site selected by the town some years ago has 9.29 acres, and has been approved by the SBAC (School Building Assistance Commission). However, from the wide swamp area along Johnson Road, the site slopes upwards at a grade of about 10% along Ridge Street, becoming narrower in the upper area. Because of the cost of building on the lower filled swamp area, and the extreme suitability of the site for play area, it was decided to locate the building on the slope.

Because any access road from Ridge Street would have a very precipitous grade, and because Johnson Road is wider than Ridge Street, the access road was located on Johnson Road, at the eastern corner of the site where it will bisect the play area.

Single Building vs. Multiple Wings

There is a ledge over essentially all the site from four to six feet below the surface. Thus it became apparent that if we were to construct a single building as originally contemplated, it would be necessary to use some form of split-level construction.

Disadvantages disclosed in preliminary studies were: there would be no direct egress from half the classrooms, expensive fire escapes would be necessary, much greater corridor and stairhall space would be needed, and stairs up to or down from any double loaded corridor would be required for each classroom.

In addition the building proved too long for the site, did not give the best utilization of the land, and required us to turn the building so that poor orientation of classrooms for light and view resulted.

The type of construction used at Parkhurst School was studied and rejected because of the different slope of the land, the ledge interfering with cellar excavation, and the high cost of such excavation in view of the lack of usable space thus secured.

The multiple wing solution was tried, and though less compact, and having more exterior wall area, was found to cost the same or less. Advantages were the direct egress to ground from every classroom, omission of stairs from corridor to classroom, reduction in total corridor space with short wings.

This solution follows the slope of existing ground for appearance, solves the ledge problem because excavation is kept to a minimum, gives more flexibility for educational purposes, offers the best orientation for sun and view and the same orientation for each classroom, and finally gives many administrative advantages for school and community use.

Another consideration resulted from the School Department educational specifications, which called for a future possible expansion to twenty classrooms. This can be readily achieved by simply adding another and similar classroom wing to the rear of the proposed building.

The first plans filed with the SBAC showed four wings: the front wing containing Multi-Purpose and Administration areas, and the other three having four classrooms each. Following further study the classroom wings were changed to two wings of six rooms each. This change was filed and accepted by the SBAC at the Preliminary Plan conference.

In this connection, studies with the heating engineers disclosed the feasibility of using individually fired units for each wing. Thus the present heating facilities need not be over-sized for potential expansion, and any such expansion could then be easily managed.

Considerations Regarding Classrooms

The educational specifications called for good natural lighting, separated work areas, maximum flexibility of space and usage, light control for audiovisual aids, a minimum of 900 square feet per classroom, and individual toilet facilities.

Different features studied were: domed skylights with flat roof, double loaded corridors with work areas between classrooms, partitioning of work areas for dual use, changes in orientation with window walls facing up-hill, single loaded classrooms with pitched roof and skylights, single loaded corridors with flat or butterfly roof and no skylight. Lighting studies were made of these under various conditions.

The final design selected was the pitched roof classroom, with skylight, in single loaded halls. The shape of the rooms permitted a decrease in the wing length, which in turn enabled us to fit the site to advantage. The work area was located next to the hall, and separated from classroom and hall by glass partitions, which offered easy supervision of coat areas.

This has permitted movable partitions between pairs of classrooms, for dual use and flexibility. The glass work area partitions and the skylights offer the best natural day-lighting, and easy black-out shades are provided for audio-visual aid activities.

Administrative Area

To the left of the lobby is a basket-ball-sized hall, with small stage, storage areas, small kitchenette, and toilet facilities with direct access from the play area. The hall can be opened to community functions without necessitating the opening of the rest of the school. Administrative rooms include the principal's and secretary's offices, faculty and conference rooms, health unit, storage and boiler room for this wing. The main book storage room, in this wing, will be supplemented by small storage rooms for each of the classroom wings.

The kindergarten is located at the right front corner (Eastern), nearest to the parking area and the administrative and health units. It will have its own enclosed outdoor play area. Except for certain movable equipment, the design will be similar to that of the classrooms. This will permit change of use to that as elementary classrooms in the case of expansion, or for other reasons not now foreseen.

Architectural Appearance The design is conservative and is felt to be harmonious with the construction in nearby residential areas. The lines follow the contour of the site. Where the roof may be seen by traffic on Ridge Street, it was felt to be particularly desirable to avoid the flat sky-domed roof construction used on many contemporary schools. The exterior materials will be mostly glass and red brick.

The access drive from Johnson Road will accommodate bus and rainy-day traffic without crossing play areas. There is provision under the multi-purpose area for a waiting area protected from rain. This and other areas will be paved for play. A full-sized playground will be at a level about five feet below Johnson Road.

A paved walk from upper Ridge Street will lead to the central corridor connecting the wings. Additional walks run along the ends of the wings, and along the classroom walls, to collect outdoor traffic from the individual egress doors.

In Summary

From information now available we expect to keep the cost within estimates given to the Town Meeting.

The building meets the requirements of the educational specifications of the Winchester School Department, of the School Building Assistance Commission, and the Department of Public Safety. We believe that the facilities will be comparable to those offered at the other elementary schools in Winchester.

The present plans follow basic principles for economical construction methods utilizing: modular design, repetitive units, commercial sized heating units, standard sized doors and similar units. The classroom height has been dropped to eight feet at the window wall. There are no expensive stairways, no basement. There will be more use of space from movable partitions and cabinets. There are no expensive decorations, no gables, no parapets, and no gingerbread in general.

If you will be unable to attend the open meeting proposed this summer, please write, or call us with your views, or with requests for information we may have overlooked.

Tree Lover's Lament

There is a Dragon in our town
Who daily dines on trees,
And gobbles up their branches
With truly wondrous ease!

Then, when a tree is leveled,
A power saw appears,
And slices off the rugged root
As with a pair of shears!

One really cannot but admire
The ingenuity
That man applies toward ridding us
Of many a noble tree,

But sometimes one could almost wish
This skill could be applied
To planting thrifty new ones
Where veterans have died.

Two sturdy arms, a sapling,
And the proper frame of mind
Would turn the trick, but where can one
This combination find?

Letters from Alison

(Ed Note—These letters and others to follow were written by Alison Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hersey of 29 Woodside road, while she was abroad playing with the United States Field Hockey Team at the big International Tournament at Amsterdam last month. Due to lack of space the letters could not be published as they arrived at this office, but in response to several requests they are being resumed. We believe those who know little of field hockey will find them interesting reading.)

Eindhoven, Holland.
April 20, 1959.

Dear Folks:
Last letter from Antwerp, we are now at last in Holland. We were met halfway on our train trip and were relieved of our luggage. As we had to make three train changes, it was a godsend not to have to struggle with luggage on and off each time. Finally, in Eindhoven, a small city of radio, T.V., and automotive industry, we were met by our hosts and hostesses and taken to our respective homes. Elly and I are at the home of a young couple whom we met playing hockey at the same club. They have a year-old daughter, Saja, pronounced Sasha, and a year-old Scottish, named Dokie.

It is really so much more satisfactory to stay in the homes. You should have seen us at the first breakfast! We were served soft-boiled eggs in a kind of an egg dish but there was another cup on the table. We didn't know whether or not we were to put the egg into it but, after many sly glances, Elly was brave enough to eat hers from the egg dish. Fortunately she was right. The rest of the breakfast was tea, bread, butter, peanut butter, cheese, jam, and chocolate jimmies to put on the bread—not had at all. Oh, forgot to say—the cup was for milk.

It is amazing how many people speak fluent English. We got so used to it that it is hard to comprehend that we can't communicate with the children. They are all so cute and healthy, the little ones running around with pint-size hockey sticks.

The day after we arrived we had a match with one of the best club teams in Holland and today we play the other best one. The members are very proud of their club house and their pitch, which, just as they had promised, we found to be the best in all Holland—very smooth and green. It was a joy to play on. They got the jump on us and scored twice before we could retaliate. At the end of the half we were losing 2-1. It was a very good team and they played English-type hockey. In the second half we scored to tie the game and then scored again. We put in the insurance goal on a perfect passing play. Final score 4-2, a moral victory for us, for we had outrun them and had more stamina than they, a new condition for an American team. Always before, American teams have done well the first half but lagged in the second. To come from behind and win decisively was an admirable team achievement. I hope the same proves true on Saturday against England.

After the match, we all, the men and the women, went out to a restaurant in the country which we had completely to ourselves. It was beautifully situated in the woods near a pond. We had drinks, dinner and dancing and the most delicious fruit sundae.

Everything so far has been perfectly organized and planned, with thoughts of giving us a good but restful time before Amsterdam. Yesterday we boarded a very modern bus, complete with telephone, coffee-maker and john, for an all-day trip to the N. E. of Holland, almost to the German border. Again we appreciated being in Europe this time of year—the Japanese cherry trees and the tulips and just the atmosphere of spring are tremendous. More about this trip in next letter.

Will write again soon.

Love,

Alison.

Amsterdam, Holland.
April 25, 1959.

Dear Folks:
Amsterdam is a reality at last! We had a very relaxing and restful time in Eindhoven. Besides the two games, we had a tour of the DAF automotive factory. They have just begun to produce their first car, the only Dutch car. It was a lot of fun as we were driven in a trainlike contraption around the factory, ending up with a ride on an arm vehicle over their test run—like a roller coaster.

Another trip was to the N. E. of Holland, where we ate continuously, starting with tea at Antwerp. Here, of us, Haussie, Joan, Elly, Vinnie and I went to see the town. It was a quaint one of narrow streets and many, many pastry shops. Their pastries are unlike anything anywhere else—really fancy with lots of whipped cream and chocolate. At one place we just stood over the grill outside, from which emerged the most delicious odors, and gazed avidly into the windows. Needless to say we finally broke down and went inside. Another highlight was a museum situated in a national park and outstanding for its Van Gogh collection. It was a small museum, but well planned and with a variety of painters from early examples for comparison to Picasso and Mondrian. Outside there were some statues, one in particular being described by one of our members as a turtle but much to her embarrassment ment found the title to be "The Couple."

One last event of importance was the second game at 6:30 p.m. It was against another team of about equal strength as the first. I was at RW. With the score of 2-1 in our favor at the half, we wound up the game with a final score of 6-2, a Pakistan, one with a for us, with Elly getting 3 of them. I played with my new stick that I short too. It really is much better for the right drive but I don't have all the confidence in the world at stopping a head on drive. I think though that with a little practice it will be great.

Amsterdam—the hotel that we are in is on the same block as where we stayed before. Do you remember, near the museum. It is right across the street from where we had the canal boat. They have planned so that most of the teams are in hotels by themselves but that we do have lots of occasions to meet and several field trips together. To get to the fields we share a bus with Scotland. In total there are 15 national teams here from Argentina to New Zealand. It was a great thrill the first night to meet all of the teams. On the way to the meeting, we met the South Africans across the street. It was just as if we were all back in Johannesburg again. They are all just as full of life and laughs as usual. Inside, the Scots joined us, making it seem even more natural. As Wales and Ireland came, there were also familiar faces of those who had toured the United States and of course there were all the familiar faces of those we had already played against on tour. Suddenly it was all brought home how very international a sport such as hockey really is and what opportunities it gives anyone in any country a chance to get beyond one's own national borders to see the ways and ideas of others.

Yesterday we had a short practice, had pictures taken and rehearsal for the parade which is wonderfully colorful with all the uniforms and national flags. The ceremony today will be complete with the presentation of the eldest princess, Princess Beatrix, aged 20. Today is the England game, the biggest of our whole tour. To win would be unprecedented but our team has the best chance of any U. S. team yet. So, fingers crossed. Will write after the game.

Best love to everyone,
Alison.

Amsterdam, Holland.

Dear Folks:
Much has happened since the last letter. I can't remember exactly where I left off so I will start with the conference. On Friday we slept late and then bused out to the fields with Scotland to have a practice and rehearse for the parade. That night after the team was announced to play against England, Gert and I went to see "The Diary of Anne Frank," a very powerful and moving film especially so because it all took place here in Amsterdam.

The opening parade on Saturday was truly a thrilling experience—15 teams marching in full uniform and each behind their national flag. The day was beautiful and a smart wind furlled the flags dramatically. After assembling on the field, the Princess Beatrix was presented to each captain. She is quite attractive although on the plumpish side. One day she will be Queen of the Netherlands.

Our game with England was the last of the day. We started out with grim determination and held them for about 15 minutes, almost scoring once or twice. Then they broke loose with the most perfect variety of passes and dodges to leave our poor defense almost helpless. It was an education in itself to watch them work. At the half it was 2-0. They scored again before we got one in and then they got one more near the very end, making the final score 4-1. They certainly are the ultimate in hockey, playing with precision, control and speed. Everyone of the forward was a dangerous threat with the ball. It will be awhile yet before U. S. hockey can reach their standard. However, I think the day will come. There has been much comment on the improvement of U. S. hockey even in the last few years.

Yesterday we swamped Argentina 6-1. I came the closest yet to scoring. I touched the ball just after it crossed over the goal line. Elly made the original shot. It was surprising what relatively free and open hockey the Argentinians do play. It was an enjoyable game to play, with little roughness. We have Germany and then Switzerland to go to complete the games in our pool. Then we will play one team from each of the other two pools according to the final standings. We hope that we can play South Africa sometime. Those of us who toured there would truly love to play and beat them. I think we could this time. They also were beaten by England 4-1.

This afternoon, Mary Anne and I, as the two youngest on the team, are invited to dinner, dance, etc., with somebody or other. All the other teams will be there, represented by their youngest. Thursday we celebrate the Queen's birthday by a ball. Our escorts are the Royal Navy. Some fun! Besides the games, they have also planned several field trips to the tulip fields and elsewhere. Eagerly anticipating them. Hope my film holds out.

Best love to everyone,
Alison.

Dear Stephanie:
Good letters, keep them coming.

Just came back from the Haut Coiffure. I think that he did everything possible to straighten out my hair on the top. After a good scrubbing with an oil shampoo, he proceeded to dry my hair with a kind of curling rod with teeth, if you get the picture. He put waves in the back and sides but made the front in a sort of a fuzzy shingle bangs. I hope a little water will put the curl back in again. We are all getting spiffed up for the Queen's birthday ball tomorrow. We are to go with the Royal Navy. Some fun!

Monday, the two youngest of each team were asked to go to a party, supposedly cocktails, dinner and dance. It sounded all very fancy, etc. To get there we had to ride for an hour on a public bus. We finally arrived at a castle way out in the country. Apparently, this school, which trains young men for positions in export-import companies, gets to entertain all groups that come to Amsterdam and so, being routine, nothing was really planned. The boys, quite attractive, were about 20-35 years of age. Entering the castle we first went down some dark winding stairs into the vaults below where they had a very attractive bar set up with tables, etc. Afterwards we went to supper in a huge dining hall and had cold soup, one rubbery sausage, potatoes and cauliflower. Yum-yum, lousy dessert, too. In all honesty, I'll have to admit that it did get better towards the end. We went back to the bar where there was a pick-up band and we had a time for ourselves—just like we old fraternity party. Unfortunately we had to leave at 9:30 to get back in time to get the English to bed. They have a strict curfew of 10:00—no matter what. I was sorry to leave because it was just getting good. The boy I was with told me about how it was here during the occupation. At one point the Germans came into his home and demanded that he tell them where his father was. He also said that Anne Frank was a symbol to the Dutch people. Have you read her diary or seen the movie? Really tremendous! It was quite an experience, when we went to see it here in Amsterdam, to sit in the audience knowing that the people all around probably had experienced much of what was in the movie, for, as you probably know, it took place here. When Chickie and Elly went the other night, two people in front of them left and, towards the end, a woman left screaming hysterically. If you do go bring plenty of handkerchiefs. Don't miss it!

Well, in case you are still behind on the letters home, our record is 12 wins, 4 ties, and 3 losses. We have outscored our opponent 67-24. Here at the Conference, England beat us 4-1. We will have a tough match against Germany, as they were only beaten 3-0 by England. We clobbered Argentina 6-1. Switzerland will be child's play because Argentina beat them 3-0.

How's softball and lacrosse? It sounds like lacrosse is a big success. Sounds, also, like you have plenty of social life lined up. Write if you have time. See you in May.

Best love to you,
Alison.

Amsterdam, Holland.

Dear Folks:
It's hard enough to keep track of time on a tour like this but even more difficult here in Amsterdam. I don't know when I last wrote, hope it wasn't too long ago. For the hockey news, we have ended up second in our pool, beaten only by England. We topped Argentina 6-1, Germany 1-0, and Switzerland 8-0, he same score as England beat them. Now we have the Netherlands and Wales to play before all is done. Fingers crossed for success.

Friday, we went to the bulb fields—all of 220 of us. It is absolutely unbelievable the colors that they produce—fields and fields of it. The apparent tragedy of it is that they strip the petals early in order to develop the bulbs. One sees stocks of color throughout the fields. We are fortunate to be here at the height of the tulip festival. Especially lovely and artistic were the tulips and hyacinths at Keukenhof where one could walk at leisure through the park of oak trees and lawns. I'm afraid I may have gone a little wild with my camera and taken a few pictures too many. The big tulip area is right next to the North Sea and most of the land is sandy, reminding me of the back beaches of Crane's or Winger's beach. During the festival, most of the homes, shops and schools are decked out daily with flowers, and automobiles wear garlands on their hoods.

In the afternoon we went to the Hague where most of us visited the miniature village or rather city, as it had an airport, a harbor, railroad network—the works. Unfortunately, we had to rush through in order to get to the respective ambassadors on time, our representative at the Hague being Mr. Young. We had a most enjoyable time eating good old American snacks for a change—chicken, tomato, cucumber sandwiches. Mr. Young was very interesting to talk to as he knew a great deal about American History, especially the little known aspects of John Adams' success here, apparently through whose efforts Holland was the first to recognize our independence and to lend financial assistance.

By interesting coincidence, two boys from Florida dropped in. I guess friends of the Youngs, one of whom was Pete Trenham and who is, in fact, one of his fraternity brothers. Pretty strange as the Trenhams are just about the only people I know in Florida.

That night, I had dinner with Connie and her husband. (A "Girl Scout" member of the Dutch troop who entertained Winchester Troop I when on tour in 1957). They have an eight-week-old baby and he, the husband, is a biology student hoping to attend Harvard at some point. I was late getting back from Hague so I kept them waiting but we finally got together. I'm afraid she went to a great deal of trouble and effort. Their apartment is 3 flights up, the first two straight up almost and very dark. Space is at a premium in Holland, especially in Amsterdam. We finally arrived at the top of the stairs and hung our coats in the hall, as they only have space for one closet. Their apartment consisted of two small adjoining rooms (one smaller room for the baby), a kitchen at the end of the hall and a room for her grandmother. They had their own gain but for bathing purposes they had to use the kitchen sink or the community bath at 25c a throw. Connie says that these facilities are typical and that they were lucky to have what they did. Money is not the question but rather where to put everyone. She said that some couples after 10 years of marriage still live in one room. In many cases there are as many as five people living in the same facilities as they have. Population in Holland is not decreasing or even holding steady. The main reasons are that the Dutch immigrants to Indonesia are found to return to Holland and there is only one small island in the Caribbean left for the Dutch to emigrate to. The government is so anxious to have the people emigrate that they pay their way to the new country. Australia is the biggest absorption point but in reality takes little care of the problem.

The other cause of overpopulation was pointed out by Mr. Young. As the politics now stand, the Protestants and Catholics, being about equal in number, each side is determined to keep it that way and so large families are encouraged. Holland, in reality, such a little country with so much of it under water. Even the suburbs have the same housing shortage and the building crews cannot keep up with the population. They are attempting to alleviate the problem somewhat by making more land through the process of building dikes, filling in the sea and eventually even binding the islands together and then joining them to the main land. It is a tremendous job ahead and will be one of the engineering feats of the modern world when accomplished. This whole thing just makes one feel how little room there is really left on earth—only in Australia and Africa really—and not even Africa for the whites if the negroes achieve his nationalism. I guess we'd better get those monkeys into space darn quick.

I forgot to mention the ball we all attended in honor of the Queen's birthday. Our escorts were the Naval Cadets. It was lots of fun even though the floor was too small to even move on. My date was tall, blond, and very nice, Gerald by name, and I think a good dancer only I couldn't really tell cause it was so-o-o-o crowded. That is going to be a job for us to find enough men in '63 to go around. Most of our men don't even know what field hockey is.

May come home a few days earlier. Am beginning to clutch about finding enough time to study for my exams. May fly from Vienna on the 23rd and home on the 24th.

Will write again soon.
Love,
Alison.

Amsterdam, Holland.
May 8, 1959.

Dear Folks:
I shall start while we wait for the bus to depart for the airport. It is quite sad that we have to say good-bye again to the South Africans, Scots, Welsh and Irish whom we knew before. We can always say, though, "See you in '63." It really doesn't seem so far away. It was a tremendous thing to share the spirit of the game and to be able, as our president so aptly said, to congratulate your opponent for a good game whether victor or loser.

To catch up on the news—Wales drew us 0-0 and Netherlands beat us 3-1, our goal being on a penalty kick. The best game of the conference was England vs. Australia, who previously in England drew 1-1. England got a quick goal which shook the Aussies for the first half. The English, who seemed to be in complete control, ended the half 3-0. The second half was a different story. Australia scored twice and practically frazzled the English defense, their star forward even missing a penalty kick. Final score 3-2 for England, an excellent lead to the tournament. It was officially closed by a parade similar to the opening one.

To catch up on past activities—I saw Miss Menko (leader of Dutch troop visited by Winchester Troop I in '57) for dinner at her apartment and a bus tour to the new areas being developed. New apartments rising up everywhere and yet they still will not have enough room, really incredible. On the way home, we found a place that had yummy frappes. I had a chocolate one, am dying for a home grown soda.

One of the big events of the evenings was National Night. Each country had 10 minutes to do something representative, which ranged from the beautiful song of the Welsh to the native dances of the New Zealanders. The English did a hilarious three part skit on the traditional habits of the Britons. We did a medley of typical songs plus a few hockey songs we made up plus a very popular chorus type line, only done with union hand movements. We wore our Bernaudas, blue sweaters and white gloves. It was quite effective. Well it is all done now except that the spirit lingers on. Hip, hip, hooray for the I. F. W. H. A. (International Federation of Women's Hockey Association).

Metman, West Germany

We flew out of Amsterdam for Dusseldorf on KLM after a delayed departure, only a 55-minute trip. Here in Metman, a town outside of Dusseldorf, we are staying in private homes. My family consists of a mother and father and two daughters, Christel and Ute, 21 and 18, both playing against us today. The two girls speak English and the father understands a little and can speak a little. The mother is a 100% German. The father spent two years in the United States as a prisoner of war. Although the war is not generally referred to, it does come up in the conversation. For example, as I was glancing through their books, they explained that they were all new as they had lost everything except the clothes on their backs after the bombings. Practically all of Metman is rebuilt, as are most of the cities around here. Their home here is like four-family apartments, of course all new. They have all the conveniences except for enough room. The two girls have day beds in the living room where I am now staying with Ute. Christel is sleeping on the couch in the dining room. The kitchen is relatively large with a four-burner stove and a small modern refrigerator. There is a big bathroom with tub and plenty of hot water. My family has no car but most of the other families do. The Mercedes is very common—really a swish car. Pop, you'll have to get one after the T-bird—really smooth driving. Most of us are alone and I gather that the housing ranges from the swank quarters of Joan and Elly complete with chauffeur to one place with no hot water.

This morning we went out to visit a castle. Pop, you would have loved it—lots of passageways, armour, swords, etc., really what you would expect to find in a fairy tale. This afternoon we play the local club. Maybe I'll get some tennis in before we leave tomorrow. I hope so. Have you started to play yet?

I have changed my travel plans, am now arriving in Boston on Sunday, May 24, at 5:10 a.m. An ungodly hour! Letters may come fewer but will try. Really have to stew.

Later in Hannover—We won our game in Metman 2-1. Hannover really nice. Will try to write from Berlin.

Lots of love to all,
Alison.

Berlin
West Germany
May 12, 1959

Dear Folks:
As usual I shall start this letter and hope to finish it bit by bit. Staying in private homes is quite time consuming and with all the reading I must do it leaves little time. My last letter was written from Metman but actually sent from Hannover. Let's see now—to go back. We arrived in Hannover around six in the evening and were taken to our homes. There was an apparent difference right away between the people of Metman and those of Hannover, the difference between city and town. Our new hosts spoke more and better English and were more "American" in dress and manner.

My family were the Ballermans—father, mother, and daughter Barbara, 15 years. They lived in a top apartment which made for a lot of climbing, four flights, but offered a lot of sun. In their rebuilding and development, they have planned very well. Using a whole city block, they build on the outside edge, leaving a court yard for gardens, etc., inside. This time I had a room to myself, and there was a housekeeper. Also, my Hannover family had two cars, an Opel and a Volkswagen, the other had none.

We really had a most enlightening experience in Hannover. As it was severely damaged during the war, it was nearly a miracle to see the center now. The people are proud of their accomplishment but speak with humility and emotion of the war. They are not only reconstructing their towns and country but also the outlook of the people, especially the children, in teaching them the necessity of international understanding and broadmindedness. They harbour no resentment toward the Allies but instead, as our guide put it, they put all their thought and energy into a new Germany. I think that it is with tremendous foresight that they have gone about it. One good to come from total destruction is the chance for ideal city planning. Although space is at a premium, they have set aside ample space for parks, grass, trees, etc. One of their big problems was what to do with the rubble. With much of it they built a stadium as a kind of reminder of the destructiveness of war. With other material they reclaimed swamp land and created a beautiful large lake. Of course all of this still has to be paid for, but still, good living conditions, etc., are a reality for them.

For hockey news, we squeaked out a 2-1 victory at Metman but we looked a tired old team, which I guess we were at that point after Amsterdam. We got the second goal just before time. In Hannover we didn't play much better and although we shot more than they, we only hit once. They beat us 2-1. We must have come close about ten times, but that is the breaks of the game. In Berlin we played in the Olympic Hockey Stadium on a beautiful field. The team played much better so we won 9-2. Elly scored four. She is either top scorer or close to it.

Here in Berlin, we have had a very deep and penetrating experience. Arriving late at night, we were met by our hosts and driven home. I had expected a big city—urban area, with people living close and crowded. Instead we drove through residential areas, trees, private houses just like Winchester. I am staying in a large house with a family of mother and two boys aged 21 and 16. The father is in the U. S. for three months.

The boys are really fun. Wolf is at the university and Brandt is in the high school. We had a roaring game of tennis yesterday, both are really good. They both play hockey, also.

As for what we have seen and learned these three days is too much to put down in a letter, for we have utilized every minute. The first day, we toured West Berlin, saw the new mixed with the ruins near the border. Had a marvelous steak dinner at the brand-new Berlin Hilton, really swish. Then came education! We went to the army base and had about a two-hour lecture on the Berlin situation. I wish I could retell all. With the aid of charts, we were shown the economic conditions, the effect of the blockade, which, incidentally, had its tenth anniversary a few days ago, the extent of control that the Russians have, the amount of refugee travel across the border. It was about the best thing I have heard and wish that an equivalent talk could be available to Americans, especially to the college students.

That evening, I went with my family to the Broadway of Berlin. It was all very modern, modern shops. Had an ice cream soda with the ice cream beaten in, not bad.

The next day, we were taken to East Berlin. There was no trouble getting in or out—but what a difference between the two! East Berlin is still close to the same condition as after the war except for its one main street, the Stalin-alley, which is the Russian's show place. But, just behind the ruins and terrible unrenovated houses. The shops are small and most of them are government owned. There are no cars on the street and few people. When you look into the shop windows there is hardly any one buying. It truly appears as a city without a heart or without hope. Everywhere the Russian flag is flown next to the German. We were allowed to take pictures of only certain things, not of the Russian soldiers or government buildings. There is relatively easy transit across the sector lines so people may work in the West and live in the East or vice versa. It is a constant pain to the Russians because it is so hard to control and is the chief way that East Germans defect to the West—right now at the rate of about 250 a day.

No more room, but will try for one more letter to tell of visit to refugee camp, plus all else.

Much love,
Alison

P.S. My family here send you all their best wishes.

Prophetic?

New England may boast about many things, but not about her railroads, thanks to the politicians. The Boston & Maine already has a receiver and the New Haven road isn't much better off. And these two roads cover all but a small part of New England territory. Politicians and corporation agitators will soon realize that they have carried their campaign of unfairness too far.

(Ed. Note—The Star is obliged to Mrs. Sear's Walker of Norwood street for the above clipping from the Star of October 6, 1946. It certainly is of interest in the light of what has happened to the railroads between that date and the present day.)

Tennis Tournament Winners

Winners of the spring draw doubles tournament had to wade through as much weather as the postman on his appointed rounds, but the results justified the betting.
Tournament chairman Bob Mulford and Parker Gray won the men's doubles, the second year running for Bob, but it took three hot sets to do it. Adolph Alla and Jeff Hills zeroed in to take the first set, but in spite of Alla's endurance, lost to a team with more power.
In the mixed doubles a new face among the local champs, Jan Collins drew dogged "Doc" Quigley for her partner and showed the consistency throughout the tournament it takes to beat finalists like Weegee Coon and Bob Pritchard. The Salisbury street supers almost wore down their opponents but lost to some smart net playing and determined rallies.

Ladies' doubles, though a small draw, was select and the quality of tennis was higher than most housewives' teams demonstrate. When it was all over, Dot Hills and Marcia Wingate had defeated Philippa Young and Jan Collins.
If the family championship doubles are listed last, it is simply a tribute to Dot and Art Hills, who kept past all opposition again. The year they met Frank Moore et fils in the finals and proved in straight sets what everyone knows that they are the best husband-and-wife team for miles around.

The well-deserved congratulations to all winners is only slightly belated by wondering how the tournament chairman has grabbed all that hardware. Anyway, there's always next year!

Notes on Little League

Alternates — Barry Blanchard, Rams; Douglas Carlson, Lions; Robert DiPietro, Bears; William O'Malley, Tigers.
The Major League All Stars will be announced following the doubleheaders Saturday, July 4, at both fields.

In the event of rain it will be held on Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

Mystic Valley and Tennis Center Championships

Play was concluded on Sunday, June 21 in the seventh annual Mystic Valley and Tennis Center Championships at the Palmer Street Courts, in a tournament marred only by three and one-half days of rain.

Due to a scheduling conflict with the Mass. State Girls' Championships, Winchester for the first time, its tournament for all three divisions of boys, 18 and under, 15 and under, and 13 and under.

In singles two Winchester boys Gerry Hills and Benny Bacon got to the quarter finals and semi-finals of their divisions. Younger Boys and Boys respectively, Little Mike Hills, Kent Parrot and Dwight Bellows won their early round matches while Winky Bacon, Billy Price, Alan Wynn, Chris Towner and Peter Campbell came-a-cropper.

In the 18 and Under Singles Harvey Harrison of Brookline staved off two match points in the fourth set to defeat Keith Jennings of New Canaan, Conn., in a five set thriller that will long be remembered by the spectators. Keith is still only 15 years old and bids fair to become the best New England Tennis player ever developed through the Youth Tennis Foundation of New England, successor to the New England tennis patrons.

In the 15 and Under Division the aforementioned Keith Jennings won over Peter Allen of Framingham in straight sets.

In the 13 and Under Division Steve Stockton of Garden City, N. Y. breezed through his age group with the total loss of only six games, beating Bruce Mahler of Needham in the finals.

In the 18 and Under Doubles Harvey Harrison and Nickie Saxton of Framingham had little opposition against two fifteen year olds, Keith Jennings and Benny Bacon, who had apparently played their best tennis in the semi-finals in upsetting the No. 2 seeded team from Canada in straight sets.

In the 15 and Under Division Benny Bacon and Don McAuslan of South Hadley rightfully won their appellation as the "cardiac" twins by coming from a third set deficit of 5-1 and 40-15 to pull the bacon fat out of the fire at 8-6 in their semi-final match early Sunday morning and then earn a three set victory in the finals over Justin Francis and Jim Freedman of Waban and Brookline. Benny made his father happy by becoming the first Winchester boy in the history of this tournament to reach and win the finals but he had a lot of help from Donnie McAuslan who also shares with Benny the "honor" of having a left-handed tennis player for a father.

In the 13 and Under Division Bruce Mahler and Peter Whalen of Chestnut Hill beat Steve and eight-year-old Duke Stockton 5-7, 6-4, 7-5.
On behalf of the Winchester Tennis Association acknowledgments are made with many thanks to the David Beals, Robert Kittredges, Winthrop Knox, William Towners, Edward Little, Scott Parrots, Alfred Pywells, Tom Raleighs and Whitney Grays who housed, fed and cheered on the visiting players.
Special acknowledgment is made to the other members of the tournament committee, David Rush and Helen Bacon without whose help this summer might have dragged into December. Their cheerfulness in answering the telephone every thirty seconds a day and especially nights during the rainy season and answering questions like why can't I play on the next court, etc. did much to slow the progress of our chairman towards the asylum.

Finally, we also wish to acknowledge our debt to the Winchester Country Club whose graciousness in permitting the use of their fast-drying courts did much to speed the running of our tournament.

Two Hundred Twenty Students Enrolled Winchester High School Summer Session Opened June 29

The doors of the first summer session opened at the Winchester High School last Monday, June 29. After many weeks of preparation Mr. Thomas A. Morse, director of the summer school, reported a most successful opening. The enrollment indicates that the School Committee's decision to approve such a program was justified as 220 students enrolled in the various courses.

Mr. Morse and the faculty have been particularly pleased at the serious attitude of the students and their strict attention to their studies. The school is operating without any bell system and students enter and leave the building with a minimum of supervision. Their acceptance of these responsibilities is heartening in these days of sharp criticism leveled at the high-school-age student.

The summer school is most fortunate in the strength of its faculty. Members of the regular high school staff teaching this summer are Mr. Burns and Mr. Weaver in mathematics; Miss White in English; Mr. Branley in driver education; Miss Bennett, typing; Mr. Cooper, history; Dr. Copeland, French; and Mr. Morse, creative arts teacher.

In addition, Miss Minetta Jenson, principal of the Noonan School, is handling the remedial reading program for Grades 2 through 6, and Mr. Haven White-side of Harvard Graduate School is teaching the special physics course. Miss Olive McPherson, a veteran teacher from Somerville High School, is teaching English.

Enrollment figures as of the opening of school are as follows:

English I—32
English II—28
English III—7
Math I—40
Math II—15
Math III—20
French I—18
French II—6
Typing—25
Driver Education—22
Special Physics—9
Creative Arts—Theatre—10
Remedial Reading—30

A number of communities are represented in the student body, the distribution being:

Woburn—5
Burlington—3
Lexington—3
Danvers—2
Melrose—2
Medford—2
Brookline, Tewksbury, Reading and Somerville—1 each

The percentage distribution of pupils indicates the greatest bulk of the service is to Winchester Public School students, who constitute 83.4% of those enrolled. Students from other communities account for 9.5%, and Winchester residents attending private schools, 7.2%.

The program is designed to satisfy various pupil needs, such as advanced study, makeup of failures, accelerated work, upgrading, better background; and to provide for skills and interests.

The summer session is a valuable addition to the educational program of Winchester. It is felt that the program will mature into a solid unit that will help meet the educational pressures of the day.

Registrar Riley says: This holiday week-end, good road manners will save lives—maybe your own. Slow down and live. Be sure you can stop in time to avoid a traffic accident.

Annual Outing at Salem Willows

To compensate for the loss of June 17 (the schools were the only town department working that day), the public school custodians took Thursday, June 25, for their annual outing at Salem Willows.

Even though the June-time weather was not at its rarest, yet one might say the good pleasant days of this year were a rarity. Well, anyhow, it was a passable day, as for weather, even if it was cloudy and there was a sprinkle in the afternoon.

Fortune favored the janitors in one way. The place where they usually camp out was feet deep with snow ready for hay, but uncult. Therefore they moved over nearer the ocean and the seafood eatery (restaurant to you).

Fourteen janitors were present, which means 100% attendance. Bossman Tommy Drapeau couldn't make it because the state inspector was passing judgement on the working condition of the various school heaters that particular day.

This spot was a knoll atop a small hill. Here a sturdy built summer house, containing a large stone table and benches, afforded semi-protection and a relaxing place against possible inclement weather.

The boys got a second break when they dodged the annual hand-out of 6000 Salem school kids at the Willows by a day.

Promptly, upon the Winchester school guardians' arrival, a portable grill was set up, fired with charcoal, and in no time at all, tasty hot dogs were nesting in fresh long rolls ready to be topped with mustard and relish, and then, of course, consumed! Remember, now, it was a cloudy conchish day, so you can guess quite a few of these franks were hastily devoured.

While the "tired-er" ones of the custodians sat down to a card game, the restless ones wandered about through the amusement places, and the athletically inclined turned to "hoss-shoe" pitching. A good, level stretch of ground near the pavilion made a passably fair court. There was one slight hurdle: the proximity and low-hanging branches of a small maple tree cramped a bit the style of those shoemen who fling for altitude.

Jimmie Allen of Noonan School turned out to be the champ in the a.m. series of matches. He bested both Fiore twins (singly, that is, not both at once). In cards, 45's was the game played, and here Peter Benson of Lincoln School and Al McKenzie of senior high came out on top.

About 1 p.m. Dr. Gilson and Bill Branley of the industrial arts department arrived. This was the signal to converge on the shore dinner house. Sixteen hungry men seated themselves around one long table, and while awaiting the two charming waitresses' arduous task of serving this motley bunch (by the way, one of them was a teacher of second graders in Newburyport), President "Skitchie" Fiore made an address of welcome, and especially thanked Dr. Gilson for finding time in his busy schedule to honor the custodians by his presence at this outing. Harry then spoke a few words, acknowledging Bob's greeting, and topped it off with a humorous baseball story.

During the meal "Doc" Gilson, Bill Branley and the Fiore twins did a lot of bragging about their several skills as horse-shoe pitchers, so there soon was a wager as to who was better than who? 22? 25? 30? 35? 40? 45? 50? 55? 60? 65? 70? 75? 80? 85? 90? 95? 100? 110? 120? 130? 140? 150? 160? 170? 180? 190? 200? 210? 220? 230? 240? 250? 260? 270? 280? 290? 300? 310? 320? 330? 340? 350? 360? 370? 380? ## Naval Reserve Seabees Build Scout Camp

For the second time the Seabees of the Naval Reserve Construction Battalion, Division 1-13 of Boston, received practical on-the-job training by doing construction work at Camp Sachem. The thirty-four enlisted men and three officers were engaged in a multiple-drill construction project for Minuteman Council at their Boy Scout Camp in Antrim, New Hampshire. Instead of the regular Tuesday evening drills this month, all hands of the Seabee Division enjoyed a spring week end in New Hampshire while engaged in much needed work.

Fred Smith, Scout Executive of the Minuteman Council, Walt Weldman, director of camping and activities, James Herens, Camp Sachem director along with the commanding officer of the Seabee Division 1-13, Lt. Commander Carl E. Hartbower, planned the projects to be undertaken by the men of the division. Assisting Lt. Commander Hartbower in his supervision of the work were the training officer, Lt. Donald Knowlton, and the officer in charge of construction, Lt. Frank Clark.

Women's Lodge 1592 Holds Bowling Banquet

The Annual Bowling League Banquet of the Winchester Women's Lodge No. 1592, Sons of Italy, was held at the new quarters of the Men's Lodge in Winchester on Tuesday evening, June 16. Included in the party of more than 75 persons were relatives and friends of the bowlers and invited guests.

Seated at the head table were Mrs. Florence DeFilippo, as president and toastmaster; her husband, Jim DeFilippo; venerable, Rose Fiore; her husband, William Fiore; deputy, Mary Benuillo; ex-venerable, Frances Errico; Mrs. Lillian Garcia, treasurer; her husband, Joseph Garcia; Mrs. Geraldine D'Onofrio, secretary; and her husband, Lawrence D'Onofrio.

Presentation of trophies for various winners were made by venerable Rose Fiore and deputy Mary Benuillo. First place team prizes were won by Capt. May Rondini, Dot Moccia, Gloria Monterisi, Florence Garcia and Florence DeFilippo, as members of the Trix. Second place team prizes went to Capt. Phil Corby, Lillian Garcia, Betty Morgan and Dolly Rodwell of the Kix. High average was won by Betty Morgan, high 3 string by Kay Lentini, and high single string by Gloria Monterisi.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation by William Fiore of a trophy donated by the Men's Lodge for the Best Sport among the bowlers during the season. This award was won by Mrs. Florence Garcia of the Trix. In his presentation talk, Mr. Fiore advised the younger girls to look to their laurels as it appeared that bowling was no longer a young girl's game judging from the way the Trix, a team composed entirely of grandmothers won first team honors and Mrs. Florence Garcia took the Best Sport prize.

Beautiful gifts were given to the members of the committee in behalf of the bowlers for their hard and unselfish work.

Dancing and refreshments followed the dinner catered by Reid and Russo. Later in the evening Italian pasty and cookies with coffee were served.

Ever wonder if you can get those colorful old fashioned Japanese lanterns for decorating. You can, at the Star Office, 25c, 29c and 50c.

Many Winchester Prize Winners in Recital

The annual pianoforte recital by pupils from the studio of Eunice M. Kiley, Main street, Winchester, was given in Fellowship Hall, West Medford Congregational Church, Tuesday evening, June 16.

The opening march was played by Christopher Hopkins of Winchester. Many Winchester pupils performed solos on the beautiful concert grand brought out from Boston for the occasion. Miss Kiley played second piano accompaniment to many of the solos, adding variety and zest to the long but varied program.

Works from Haydn, Handel, Chopin, Liszt, Schubert, Grieg, and Brahms were artistically performed. The program closed with the Grieg Concerto in A minor, first movement, played by the talented pupil Susan Carley of Medford.

Nineteen prizes were awarded for memory, scales and the chords and arpeggios, with a study in each of the twenty-four keys.

"Scales with a View." A hand-painted country scene, marked by a rainbow across the sky, was earned by the work of the pupils. Each stripe of the rainbow represented two keys with the added chords, arps, and study in each key. When 12 scales were accomplished the pupil is entitled to a picture with the first rainbow. A second rainbow is added for the minor scales, making 24 in all. The prizes to thirteen of the pupils were miniature brown-and-blue enameled pots filled with gold-wrapped candy, with gilt-covered candy money brimming over the top. Inside was an added prize of a ring with an imitation precious stone in it, for a special surprise.

Crowned "Queen of the Scale Contest" was a little first-year pupil, Elizabeth Goddu of Winchester. She had finished her two rainbows, 24 scales and had progressed into the second year with seven added scales, making 31 in all. A close second was the first-year pupil Marsha White, with 28 in all. Marsha is also from Winchester. Other first-prize winners were Carla Hutzenlaub, Elaine Brannen, Sally Hoyt, Cynthia Ware and Judith Russell. Second-prize winners were Mark Harrington, Karen Crowell, Nancy Tankard, Bonnie Shore, Christopher Hopkins, and Chantal Noisoux.

The memory prize winners for the year in the six groups were as follows: Marsha White, 76 pieces; Robert Queen, 41; Claudia Clark, 24; Andrea Bregou, 18; Sally Hoyt, 16; and Cynthia Ware, 10. The prize was a selected piece, tied in ribbons of class colors, blue and white, to be learned and performed next season. These pupils also took part in the program.

Other who did their share of contributing to the enjoyment of the large and enthusiastic audience of parents, relatives and friends were: Ross Stevens, Kevin, Irene and Joseph Lynch, Diane Christopher and Sandra Clifton, Pamela and Patti Payne, Peggy Padelford, Karen and Christine Trupp, Sally and Jean Hoyt, James Maguire, Debbie Gouze, Leigh Rauch, Terry Vercolone and Winston Clark, all of Winchester; John Gilbert of Reading; Judy Brenner of Belmont; Sheila Zablotsky, Albert Sullivan, Martha Russell, Ted Tankard, and Kathleen Gilbert of Medford.

Miss Kiley considers this annual recital as the fulfilling of what she calls an "obligation" to share our conception of beauty with the greatest number of people.

Vacation Hints

National Safety Council Lists Do's and Don'ts

More people vacation in July, August and September than during any other three-month period of the year.

Most people who travel these months will make the trip by car. About 3 out of 10 trips during the period will be less than 100 miles. More than half will be less than 200 miles.

With these facts in mind, the National Safety Council issued these helpful hints for vacationers:

Before you start your trip:
1. Jot down the items you want to take along. You'll think of more things to add to the list as the Big Day approaches. And you'll probably eliminate a lot of the excess baggage.

2. Have your car serviced thoroughly. Pay special attention to lights, brakes, tires and steering.
3. Make sure you take along such items as a first-aid kit, spare tire and jack.

On the way to your vacation spot, the Council says:

1. Pay strict attention to your speed. And obey traffic signs—they're your signs of life.
2. Look out for the other fellow. A good driver is a defensive driver. Don't overdo it on the road.

3. Make rest stops often, and limit your day's driving to 300-400 miles. And when you arrive at your destination:
Don't overdo it! "Fun is fun," the Council agrees, "but too much exercise can be dangerous. Play in moderation—and rest when you're tired." Other suggestions:

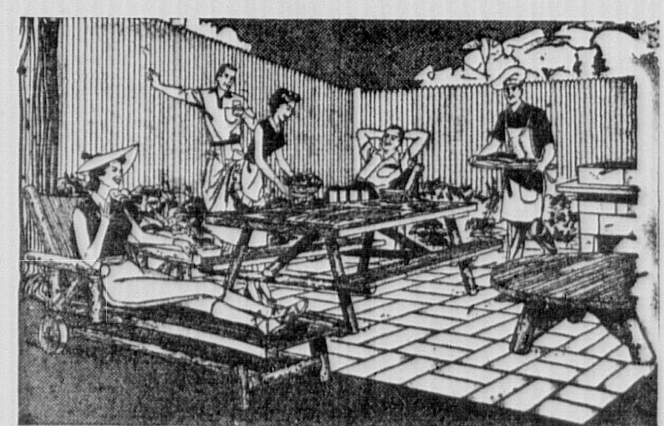

1. Swim only as far as you know you can.
2. Look where you're diving. Before you dive, find out about underwater obstacles and the water's depth.
3. Enter cold water gradually.
4. If your boat capsizes, stay with it till help arrives.
5. When it's hot, drink lots of liquids.
6. Better be pale than parboiled—don't get half baked under the sun.

Inter-Church Directors Meet

The final meeting of the season was recently held by the Inter-Church Directors Association. This is a group of representatives of the Winchester Protestant Churches which meets to coordinate the church-sponsored social activities of the junior high church groups, and also makes arrangements for the Easter Sunrise Service, the mid-week Lenten services, and the open houses held at the various parish halls after the basketball games for the high school.

The group was pleased to welcome the Rev. Joseph O'Donnell, the new minister of the First Baptist Church.

Officers for the coming year were chosen: Mrs. William Hopkins of Epiphany Church, chairman; Miss Jutta Reich of the First Congregational Church, secretary; Rev. Norman Smith of the Second Congregational Church, treasurer; and Mrs. Betty Lasselle of the First Unitarian Church, in charge of senior high work.

Tentative plans for next year include a square dance in November, a swimming party in February, an ice-skating party in April, and a dinner in January for teachers of all church schools.

The first fall meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 7, at ten o'clock, in the First Unitarian parish hall.

It provides the opportunity for extensive travel and study. Mr. Chapman will sail for England in August. He will proceed through France and Spain to Venice, Italy where he will spend September at the Congress Internationale Architects Moderne.

Then he will travel widely throughout Europe until the latter part of January. ### Annual Baptist Church Picnic

Despite threatening weather, the annual Family Church Picnic of the First Baptist Church was held at Grotton, Mass., at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 27, under the direction of the superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. William R. Sorenson.

After registering and preliminaries were over and a tour of inspection of the camp grounds and buildings was completed, a swim was enjoyed at the new waterfront and beach on Knops Pond. The event was under the direction of John Foster of Lloyd street.

At noon the entire group of approximately 75 persons gathered for a cook-out and picnic in family groups.

Following lunch a full program of events started under the direction of Mr. Paul Butterworth, consisting of the following events and their winners:

Kindergarten, 25-yard race — Won by Richard Butterworth; 2nd place, Robbie Thoms; 3rd place, Christie Shidler

Primary, 50-yard race — Won by Don McNeil; 2nd place, John Swanson; 3rd place, Betsy Thoms

Special event, 100-yard dash by the ladies — Won by Betty Newall; 2nd place, Barbara Watts; 3rd place, Hazel Dyson

Wheelbarrow race, primary — Won by Karin Sorenson and Betsy Thoms; 2nd place, Donna McNeil and Susan Swanson; 3rd place, Prudence Ward and Sharon Butterworth

Junior, three-legged race — Won by Dyson and Harwood; 2nd place, Karen Swanson and Sarah Shidler; 3rd place, Walda Lehmann and Janet Butterworth

Junior high, sack race — Won by "Skoote" Swanson; 2nd place, Charlie Thoms; 3rd place, Fred Josephson

Climaxing all events was a gigantic watermelon-eating contest by the majority of the entire group. Ten large watermelons were purchased for this event and were sliced endwise for large pieces for each person. These were cut in two for the smaller tots. At the sound of the starting gun the seeds really began to fly and out of it came the winners: first prize, Alice Watts; second place, Sharon Butterworth; third place, Prudence Ward. Honorable mention went to three adults, Mrs. Berta Swanson, Betty Newall, and Mr. Ralph Swanson. Following the racing events free ice cream and tonic was distributed by the church school department, and ribbon badges were awarded to the prize winners mentioned above. Volleyball and badminton games were available for those who wished to play.

Mr. Walter Josephson promptly organized a baseball game made up of the older children and the adults. No score was kept, but the prize hit of the game came from the new pastor, Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell, who put one far into the woods at the extreme end of the field. Mr. O'Donnell was very surprised when confronted with the second baseman with the ball, which in fact was a spare ball thrown in, just to confuse the issue.

At four o'clock a game of "pick-up" was played to clean up the grounds and prizes were given for the largest piles of papers gathered.

The picnic ended at about 4:30 when the tired group gathered up their things and made for home. Since the weather had cleared during the day the picnic was definitely a success and enjoyed by all attending. Transportation was furnished by family cars for those needing rides to and from Grotton.

Finigan Chosen for Institute

Francis X. Finigan, teacher of mathematics and physics at Winchester High School, is one of 60 high school instructors selected for a summer institute in physics which began this week at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine, and will continue through August 7.

Approximately 200 teachers from secondary schools throughout the United States and four foreign countries are taking part in institutes at Bowdoin in biology, chemistry, and mathematics, as well as physics. The courses are designed to improve the teacher's subject competence and to make him better able to interest qualified students in science careers.

The institutes, which offer graduate credit, are made possible by four grants to Bowdoin from the National Science Foundation. Each participating teacher will have his tuition paid and will receive a stipend of $75 a week, with additional allowance for up to four dependents.

Besides his teaching at Winchester High, Mr. Finigan coaches hockey and is an assistant coach of football. He is very popular with the student body, both as a coach and teacher.

Registrar Riley says: Common sense driving with courtesy and consideration for other highway users will reduce highway traffic accidents. Slow down and live. Be sure you can stop in time. The accident you avoid may be your own.

"Are Catholics Afraid to Disobey the Church?"

"Catholics," said Joe Page, "go to Mass because they have to."

"I know some Catholics who would like to sleep late on Sunday mornings, but they don't dare. And some of them would like to eat meat on Friday, too. The Church tells Catholics they can't do this and they must do that . . . and they're afraid to disobey."

Joe is partly right, of course. There are times when it would be more comfortable for a Catholic to miss Mass, more enjoyable to have steak instead of fish on Friday. And there are other laws and duties imposed by the Church that may conflict at times with the whim or convenience of the individual.

Observing these things, an outsider may well wonder why Catholics submit to such discipline. Is it because of fear, as Joe Page suggests? And with all the "do's and don'ts" imposed by the Church, does it really pay to be a Catholic?

Nobody knows better than a Catholic that his religion is not an easy one. It requires him to obey serious laws and fulfill burdensome duties which he would not have to do if he were not a Catholic.

What is it, then, that impels hundreds of millions of people to remain Catholics instead of choosing an easier, less disciplined spiritual life?

Catholics remain steadfast in their faith primarily because they believe it to be the religion given to us by God Himself for the salvation of our souls. They believe, as they have from the time of the apostles, that the Church was founded by Jesus Christ and invested with the Holy Spirit, and that it is His will to insure the infallibility of its teaching.

But Catholics also believe their religion agrees with common sense. It provides all of the seven grace-giving Sacraments, instituted by Jesus to help us find the way of life pleasing to God. In purely human affairs, it stands invincibly for a code of Christian morality based upon the laws of God and the teachings of Our Lord. Sometimes, even to Catholics who are personally inconvenienced, the attitude of the Church on a particular matter may seem harsh and arbitrary; yet knowing the Church to be founded in truth, and incapable of deceit, they willingly accept its teachings and abide by its discipline.

Anyone who takes the trouble to investigate will find that Catholicism is much more than a gathering-together of pious teachings and pious people. It is a way of life . . . a pattern for believing, worshipping and living usefully in the service of God in this life, that we may be worthy in the next of the fulfillment of Christ's invitation: "Come, follow me . . ."

If you would like to know more about the age-old Catholic Faith, then write today for our free pamphlet, which we will send you in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you, given to us by God Himself for

Living with Your Heart

("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

One of the greatest challenges of modern medicine is to find a way to diagnose atherosclerosis—before it brings on heart attack. Without doubt such a discovery would save as many lives as any other which medical science could achieve.

This is because much of what we call "heart disease" is artery disease for a long time before it strikes at the heart itself.

Think of your heart as a city, and your arteries as miles upon miles of tunnels leading there—tunnels which carry your city's food supply inside their walls.

Atherosclerosis is a virulent form of hardening of the arteries, a development common to advancing age but by no means confined to the elderly. The walls of these vital tunnels are not only hardened but roughened and thickened when atherosclerosis occurs.

Scarlike tissue forms on the inner walls of the arteries as they roughen and narrow. Eventually, the opening clogs, or a blood clot blocks it—and the supply of oxygen-carrying blood to a portion of the heart is suddenly cut off.

Although the heart serves as the pump which keeps blood circulating through the body, the blood which passes through its four chambers doesn't feed it. Your heart is a tremendously hard-working muscle, and it demands its own supply of rich fresh blood, coursing through a network of arteries going through the heart to nourish it.

When a major "tunnel" leading to the city of your heart is blocked, that part of your heart instantly begins starving. Heart attack follows.

Often, atherosclerosis has no clinical effect simply because the traffic isn't completely jammed. In other cases, arteries have been closed and their owners, whose collateral circulation is well developed, never know it; they may die years later of some other disease.

The role of cholesterol, a fatty substance in the blood, is under intensive investigation by the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations. In the laboratory, animals whose blood has a high-cholesterol content have had heart attacks. For a time, prevailing medical opinion was that cholesterol was the major villain in the blood clot problem. This idea has not been discarded, but keen interest is being shown in the possibility that the body's inability to break down the blood into an easy-flowing liquid may have as much to do with heart attacks.

At present, the presence of atherosclerosis can be diagnosed only through heart attack itself, angina pectoris—a manifestation of inadequate blood supply to the heart—or, sometime, by electrocardiogram. Heart disease, often induced by atherosclerosis, accounts markedly for deaths between the ages of 45 and 64 years in men, and in women from the 50's on.

But increasingly, it is striking at men in the 30's, and they are more vulnerable when heart attack does occur, probably because they have not lived long enough for their bodies to set up adequate collateral circulation to feed the heart in the presence of a clot.

There is much that medical science can do for heart attack victims—after the fact. But a reliable early test for atherosclerosis would make preventive medical history which would be remembered gratefully through the ages.

(For more information on atherosclerosis, send a postcard to Heart Headquarters, 650 Beacon street, Boston.)

An Appeal for Public Support

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has appealed for public support in his intensified war on "ruthless mail order merchants in fifth who are violating the homes of the nation in defiance of the national government."

Obscene mail dealers today are taking advantage of one of the nation's most cherished privileges to carry on their smutty trade, the first-class letter that is guaranteed private.

This sanctity of the letter must never be disturbed, but at the same time it is almost impossible for the Post Office Department to detect the materials sent by smut merchants in plain envelopes, unless we, the public, do something about it.

Materials contaminating the mails, Mr. Summerfield says, include filthy films and books, and dirty pictures, slides and related filth, advertised in highly objectionable circulars sent indiscriminately to homes here and all over the nation, he said.

Mail order dealers in pornography and obscenity are realizing half a billion dollars a year from their filth business, he has reported to Congress.

No wonder, as Mr. Summerfield has emphasized, obscene mail business is increasing.

During a recent 12-month period the local postmaster was advised, postal inspectors conducted 4,000 investigations on obscene and pornographic mail and caused the arrest of 293 persons dealing in this filth. This was an increase of 45 per cent over the previous year, and an all-time high.

Within the past few weeks, an Eastern raid resulted in seizure of 15 tons of dirty films, slides, photographs and other smut, and a mailing list with 100,000 names.

Another raid on the West Coast yielded huge quantities of filth from one dealer in especially objectionable film and photographs.

The Postmaster General has reported to our local postmaster alarming cases where teen agers wrote away for auto parts and received later "sex instructions" advertisements; of new graduating classes whose names were taken from newspapers by filth merchants who circularized every member of the class; of youngsters who wrote in for model airplane catalogs or a set of stamps and later received materials on films portraying sex and perversion.

Mr. Summerfield is diligently trying to clean up our mails, but he needs help.

The citizens of this community can assist by reporting receipt of obscene mail, or advertisements soliciting sale of such filth.

Let the local postmaster know promptly if you receive such mail, and let's help stamp out this dirty business.

Health for All

That Dreaded Pain in the Tummy

If you're a parent you've thought about it. And the thought scared you. What if you don't recognize it in time? What if you do the wrong thing? What if little Johnny's appendix becomes inflamed and, before you can get him to a hospital, it ruptures? No mother or father has escaped that fear.

Appendicitis is the most frequent cause of abdominal operations in children. What's more, in a great many cases, the appendix ruptures before it can be taken out, mostly because small children can't tell their parents what's bothering them.

Pain in the tummy region, fever, and vomiting are signs of many things, including appendicitis. In very little children, including infants, the most noticeable indications may be just fretfulness and loss of appetite. You may feel foolish doing it, but if these signs persist and you have any reason to suspect appendicitis, the Middlesex Health Association urges you to call the doctor, or get the youngster to a hospital.

Don't ever give a laxative when appendicitis is suspected. Rupture may be brought on by the intestinal turmoil caused by a laxative. The younger the child, the greater the danger of rupture.

One reassuring thing to bear in mind, however, is that a ruptured appendix can be saved. Children recover in this circumstance. But they have to be in the hospital about twice as long. Five or six days is the usual recovery time after removal of an unruptured appendix.

Stolen Car Found at Palmer Beach

The owner of the car was contacted by Sgt. John Elliott and he said that he did not know that his car was missing.

Local Agency Warns About Plastic Bag Use

The Middlesex Tuberculosis and Health Association is cooperating with the National Safety Council in warning all parents against indiscriminate use of thin plastic bags in the home.

At least 20 youngsters lost their lives during the first three months of 1959 because of accidents involving plastic bags. The Safety Council estimates that the death toll may reach 100 this year.

The thin plastic coverings or bags are used widely today packaging many food and other household items. They are also used by laundromats and cleaners to protect cleaned garments. Housewives find additional uses for the plastic, for storing foods in a refrigerator and for dust proofing dishes of furniture. However, misuse through ignorance of this useful material often has led to tragic results for children.

According to the National Safety Council, the flimsy nature of the material can cause the plastic to adhere tightly to a child's face, cutting off air intake by covering its mouth and nostrils. Also, children have died from chewing off pieces of plastic which remain lodged in the windpipe.

Mothers should not allow plastic bags or coverings within the reach of children. The plastic should never be used as home-made coverings for crib mattresses or sofa pillows.

Last year the Winchester Appliance Co. was successful in promoting the RCA color TV and over 50 sets were sold locally. Also featured at the firm are the Ampex stereophonic sound equipment. Ampex is the grandfather of tape recorders and is the leader. Magnavox stereo equipment is also featured.

The Appliance Company is run by Al Korn who took over the old Hancock Appliance Company after World War II and changed the name to Winchester Appliance Company. Previously the shop was called Saybrook Appliance.

Mr. Korn is a veteran of 20 years in the appliance business and has continued many of the lines previously sold by Hancock and added several new ones. Though sales loom large at the firm, Mr. Korn has devoted much time and effort to building up one of the best service departments in this vicinity. Increased space has had to be given to this popular department which now services all makes of TV, radios, phonographs and stereos.

Prior to World War II, Mr. Korn was associated with the appliance firm of Nolo Co., in Medford. After service in the war, he came to Winchester to establish the Winchester Appliance, learning that the Hancock Appliance was for sale and finding Winchester's reputation as a town was such as to attract him to establish a business here. He believes that Winchester people constitute a good cross section of the American scene and has enjoyed doing business with them. Native of Boston, he makes his home in Lexington.

Associated with Mr. Korn, as sales manager, is a popular 25-year Winchester resident, Fred R. Hill whose home is at 42 Winthrop street.

Previous to joining "The Appliance" eight years ago, Mr. Hill was with Miller and Seddon in Cambridge, selling air conditioning and commercial ice cream equipment. Born in Somerville, he was with Bastian Blessing, manufacturers of fine soda fountains, before joining Miller and Seddon.

Since September of last year the girls in Troops 5 and 10 have been vying for the honor of being one of the four Winchester delegates to the second international conclave of Senior Girl Scouts. Practice, learn, practice, learn, have been the seemingly never-ending training conducted under the leadership of Mrs. James R. Stewart, Jr., 7 Winslow road.

With the blessings and financial assistance of the sympathetic Winchester Board for Girl Scouts, under the presidency of Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, 26 Lakeview road, the girls attempted to reach new heights of performance of their Scout skills. Week end after week end were spent camping in the out-of-doors. Cooking and campcraft finesse were gone over and over again. With the undying devotion and understanding of the girls' mothers and the silent, suffering fathers, Mrs. Stewart, ably assisted by Mrs. J. P. Eugley, 43 Wildwood street, and Mrs. Edward F. Shinnick, Winchester executive of the Girl Scout Council, put the troops through their paces at home and in the field.

Finally the day of selection came. As selection committee chairman, Mrs. Eugley had the unenviable job, with her aides, of selecting the girls in order of preference. Reports of their many camping experiences, observations of many volunteers, analyses by disinterested parties at sectional encampments and a final personal interview tea before the selection committee, were the myriad of factors which entered into the ultimate placing of the candidates for this high honor in Girl Scouting. It became necessary to choose four delegates and four alternates, and the final ratings of all interested girls were listed as they qualified.

Delegates selected for Colorado were Deborah Eddy, Susan Fox, Betsy Root and Barbara Stewart. Alternates, who would qualify for an exciting international experience camping with Canadian Girl Guides in their country, were Laurie Ingraham, Susan Kimball, Dorothy March and Martha Ross.

Man Arrested on Bad Check Charge
in Local Store

A 22-year-old Wakefield man was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Police Officers James Cogan and James Flaherty after they received word that he had passed a bad check in a local store.

The man, identified as Bruce K. Hanson, cashed a $25 check and the store clerk and found that the name was on the list of "bad risks." He had left the store when the police were notified.

The officers caught him in another part of the center and took him to the station. It was discovered that he had a record of prior arrests and that he was wanted in several communities for this same charge.

Wednesday morning he appeared in Woburn District Court before Judge William H. Henchey and received a three-month sentence in the House of Correction in Billerica.

Polio Vaccinations Urged by Board of Health

The Winchester Board of Health reports that the State Department of Public Health has announced that there have been two cases of adult polio in Massachusetts as of Friday, June 19, 1959. In line with the policy of the Winchester Board of Health to keep townspeople informed of conditions in the commonwealth, the cases reported were of the severe bulbar type. The board urges everyone to begin and complete the proper series of Salk vaccinations. No one can be considered adequately protected against polio paralysis until this has been done.

The Board of Health is pleased to announce that the local medical profession has expressed willingness to cooperate in those situations where vaccinations cannot be obtained because of inability to pay. In such situations the only charge will be for the vaccine.

In the light of the foregoing statement of policy, the Board of Health is not scheduling a clinic at this time. It does, however, strongly recommend that everyone, both children and adults, visit his family physician and receive the proper vaccination series.

Attention is directed to the recent statement by the Administration of public health, Washington, D. C., recommending a fourth shot. Again, the board strongly urges everyone to obtain the full protection of the Salk vaccine. REMEMBER — YOUR NEIGHBOR'S SHOTS WILL NOT PROTECT YOU!

Winchester Observes Independence Day Saturday, July Fourth

With virtually perfect weather Winchester held its annual observance of Independence Day on Saturday, July Fourth. As usual the program followed closely those of recent years. The effort was toward a "safe and sane" celebration of the Fourth and the arrangements this year in the hands of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, were carried out to this end, there being nothing in the way of an untoward incident all day.

Auxiliary
Firefighters Drill

Scott Air-Paks were the subject of instruction at a regular meeting of the members of the Winchester Auxiliary Fire Department at Fire Headquarters. State law requires that there be at least two of these most valuable devices available for use at every building fire.

They consist of an adjustable, non-fogging head piece or mask which fits tightly against the forehead, cheeks and neck of the wearer to prevent leakage, a cylinder containing compressed air which is carried on the back of the firefighter and a flexible, corrugated tube to carry the air to the wearer, each inhalation bringing in air as though breathing normally in the atmosphere. An emergency valve which admits air in any quantity desired is also provided.

The Air-Pak provides protection for about 30 minutes of continuous use in conditions where respiratory hazards exist due to gases, smoke or lack of oxygen. It is equipped with a pressure gauge which shows how much air is left in the tank, thus enabling a man to get out before his supply is exhausted.

The primary purpose of these masks is to prevent death or injury to firefighters from the poisonous gases encountered in fighting fires. Carbon monoxide is present at practically all fires. Large quantities of this odorless, tasteless gas are apt to be generated at cellar fires or fires in confined areas. Men equipped with these breathing devices have a much better chance of reaching the seat of such fires than those not so equipped.

Each Auxiliary man tried on the Air-Pak belonging to Auxiliary Engine 6, adjusting it to his particular requirements and getting the "feel" of breathing while so equipped. The operation takes practice, a tight seal being necessary to prevent inhalation of other than pure air.

There are still some vacancies in the Auxiliary Department and men of good character who would like to take part in an interesting phase of Civil Defense are urged to contact Chief James E. Callahan or Captain I. F. Amico at Fire Headquarters.

Syringe Stolen

This coming Sunday, July 12, the Winchester Babe Ruth Leaguers play host to Malden in what may be a very exciting first game of the District A, Area IV, Tournament. Funeral Services Held for
Percival Mott

Private funeral services were held last week, Thursday, at Old Cemetery in Norton for Percival Mott of 4 Wolcott terrace, who died June 29 at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn, at the age of 70. The Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiated, and because of Mr. Mott's service during World War I his casket was draped with the flag of the United States sent by the Government and presented after the service to Mrs. Mott. Burial was in the family lot in the Old Cemetery.

Mr. Mott was born in Winchester June 11, 1889, while his father, the Rev. Herbert H. Mott, was minister of the Unitarian Church of this town. He was educated at the Middlesex School in Concord and at Massachusetts Agricultural College, now University of Massachusetts, later getting his Master's Degree from Boston University.

He taught in Northampton and later, for 16 years, taught wood-working in the Arlington Junior High School East. After retiring from public school work he taught at the Veterans' Rehabilitation Hospital in Bedford.

During World War I Mr. Mott was selected for Officers Training School at Plattsburg, N. Y. Prevented by illness from completing his training, he served throughout the war in aviation ground work in Texas.

After living in several New England cities and towns where his father held pastorates, the last being in Norton, Mr. Mott returned to Winchester 25 years ago. Always interested in civic affairs, he took an active part in many controversies over community matters, especially in those involving the schools and the library.

For some years he spent his summers in Concord, Me., and he was himself restoring an old house in Prospect, Me., as a possible future home. His widow, Mrs. Annie Hopkins Mott, is his only survivor.

for All-Star Tournament

Last Tuesday evening at the Arlington Elks Home, a meeting of the presidents and managers of the fourteen leagues comprising District No. 13 of Little Leagues in this area, was held to discuss the coming tournament.

District Director Russell Wedge presided. Winchester was represented by President Charles Koch, Vice-Presidents Pat Cosgrove and Jack Stumeke, Player Agents Ray Chase and Leo Ford, and All-Star Manager Art Johns.

Central Hardware Sold

Announcement has been made of the sale of the old-line Central Hardware store on Mt. Vernon street, a Winchester institution for more than half a century.

A corporation has bought the store and will continue the business after renovations and improvements. The proprietor and founder of the business, Mr. Joseph M. Donahue, will remain with the new firm.

The roster of this year's Winchester tournament team contains the names of 11 of the boys who participated in the 1956 Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa. This team won two of three games at the World Series to become the third-best Little League team in the nation. They defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Cotton, California. Six of the boys played on last year's state champions, who were runners-up to Stamford, Conn., in the New England.

The 1950 Babe Ruth All-Star aggregation is strong and well balanced both offensively and defensively, with a good crew of 14-year olds to press the older boys and keep them hustling. George Neville, Rod Gay and Mike Bellino are expected to supply the heavy artillery with their long-ball hitting. Keeping the pressure on the opposition will be such consistent and dangerous hitters as Paul May, Tom Mooney, Butch Franson and Jack Brenner. By and large this can be an explosive ball club which will provide interesting watching.

Defensively it is also a good, sound squad with plenty of experience in all positions except third base. Jim Flaherty, peppy third baseman and one of the league's leading hitters, will be lost for a period of about two weeks more because of a bad shoulder sprain that occurred in one of the last regular season games. Jim's return will definitely eliminate any infield weaknesses.

Pitching-wise the bulk of the burden will fall on Big Jack Brenner, John Peckham and Mike Bellino, all right handers. The boys will be backed up by Jim Callahan and Rod Gay. Rod, a tall six footer, has a lot of potential as a pitcher although he is not as experienced as the other boys. This group as a whole require much work to attain the polish of which they are capable. If Winchester stays in the tournament long enough this can become a very potent pitching corps.

According to Manager Sam Bellino no definite starting team has yet been picked. Any and all positions are open. The starting lineup will be announced shortly before game time on Sunday, and until then any boy who shows by his performance, hard work and interest that he deserves to start will receive every consideration.

One Injured in Accident

One person was injured Monday afternoon when a station wagon was in collision with a dump truck at the intersection of Church, Cambridge and High streets. Officer Alfred Poole investigated the mishap.

A Ford dump truck owned by John DeVries of 637 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington and driven by Dennis McGonagle of 10 Harrison avenue, Woburn, while traveling east was going through the intersection on a green light when it was struck by a Chevrolet station wagon owned by the Motor Lease Corporation of West Hartford, Conn. and driven by George Gelinis of 196 Pond street, South Weymouth.

Mr. Gelinis was taken to the Winchester Hospital.

Bennett - Norris Funeral Home
ONE ELMWOOD AVENUE
Winchester, Massachusetts

Dear friends,

The least suggestion of show or display in any funeral service is in poor taste.

It has always been our thought that the funeral director should be as inconspicuous as possible. The many details involved should be looked after quietly, respectfully...the family should be relieved of all possible responsibility.

That is our duty...our service.

Respectfully,

Forrest H. Norris

On the face of it this would seem to be a peaceful enough mission with the ability to get one's subject across to foreign students the chief hazard. Actually things were not quite so "ivory tower."

Many, if not most of the Nommensen University faculty were Dutch, and during the anti-Dutch movement in Indonesia in December of 1957 they were obliged to leave their posts in a hurry, thus throwing an added burden on the faculty members permitted to remain. As a result of the "Dutch-leave" Dr. Winchington had to teach sociology and other less familiar subjects as well as economic geography.

There was also a bit of actual danger for the Winchingtons in March of 1958. A rebellion against the government broke out in February of that year and at times the City of Medan was in the line of mortar fire.

In March one of the rebel commanders took over the city for a day, though his intention was to remain permanently. Lack of promised support in the city caused the rebel to leave and the government succeeded in re-establishing order.

After the rebellion Mrs. Winchington and her son, at the request of the American Consul in Indonesia, left Medan for Singapore until things quieted down.

Dr. Winchington found Medan a clean, attractive city on the whole, but like the rest of the country, plagued by financial troubles that threaten to become acute unless some effective solution for them can be found. The sharp decline of the rupee would already have precipitated a crisis were it not for the fact that a great many people have their own rice paddies and gardens, enabling them to subsist without making too many purchases.

Dr. Winchington and his wife, the former Anne Tonon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tonon of Lawson road, and their children, are staying in Winchester with Mr. Winchington's mother, Mrs. Margaret Adriance Winchington of Hancock street. His father, the late Rev. Frederic Winchington, one-time chaplain of Phillips Exeter Academy, was serving as a full-time Congregational minister in Hawaii at the time of his death.

Dr. Winchington prepared for college at Ponahou Academy in Honolulu and had a year at Exeter before entering Harvard, from which he was graduated with an A.B. degree in 1946. He got his Master's degree from Northwestern in 1948 and his Doctorate from Northwestern in 1955.

His thesis for his Doctorate was written on suburban land use and residential migration in Winchester between 1930 and 1950.

He taught at George Washington University from 1948 to 1952. He worked on a river basin project in New England and New York under the Army Corps of Engineers in 1954-55, and during the summer of 1955 he was senior city planner with the Boston Planning Board.

In the fall of 1955 Dr. Winchington joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky and had served as professor of geography there for two years prior to his teaching in Indonesia. He is returning to his post at Kentucky in the fall.

BERMUDA HONEYMOON TREE PLANTING

Among the many honeymooners taking part in Bermuda's 350th anniversary tree planting program are two of Winchester's well-known young people, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Everett of 14 Saddle Hill road, Weston, formerly of this town.

The program is based on an old Bermuda custom of the bride and groom planting a seedling, which adorned their wedding cake, in the garden of the bride's parents. Mrs. Everett is the former Miss Carol H. Crockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Crockett of 10 Central street, and Mr. Everett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Everett of 59 Wedgemere avenue. The newlyweds returned to the U. S. after their holiday at Cambridge Beaches, a Somerset cottage colony, on July 9th.

MRS. ROGER CHARLES GULLOTTI

Miss Horn, Mr. Gullotti Wed

The marriage of Miss Barbara Mae Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Horn of 2 Eaton court, to Roger Charles Gullotti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gullotti of 25 Cranston road, took place on Sunday afternoon, June 14, at the First Congregational Church. Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the church, performed the ceremony at 1:30 o'clock, and a reception followed at the Andover Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Horn wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and matching lace panels on the chapel length skirt. A three tiered veil fell from a Queen Elizabeth crown adorned with sequins and pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis tied with tulle and a cluster of white carnations.

Miss Priscilla T. Horn of Winchester was her sister's honor maid. She wore a nylon floral print dress with an Empire bodice over solid pink and a bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was a Star of Persia crown to match her gown and she carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations with tulle and a shower of ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lee Healey of Waltham, Miss Marie Gentile of Winchester; and Miss Gail McElheney, also of Winchester, and Miss Cynthia Tainter of Temple, N. H., cousins of the bride.

The bridesmaids were gowned in nylon floral print dresses, like that of the honor maid, except that their bodices were blue. They too wore matching Star of Persia crowns, and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations with showers of ribbon and tulle.

Mrs. Horn, mother of the bride, wore a lavender chiffon sheath with a back panel of matching chiffon, white accessories and a spring flower corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gullotti, wore a similar corsage with her beige sheer full-skirted gown and light green hat. Lawrence Tullberg of Winchester was Mr. Gullotti's best man, and ushering were Ernest Castella of Winchester, Paul Miller of Somerville, Joseph Horne of Reading and Ray Peterson of Maynard, cousin of the bridegroom.

Following their wedding journey through the Poconos in Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. Gullotti are making their home at 103 Main street in North Reading.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1957, and of Chandler School for Women, class of 1958. Mr. Gullotti graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1955 and attended Wentworth Institute.

We have new perpetual date books, handsomely illustrated with lighthouses from Maine to Alaska, and with historic scenes, $1.95 at the Star Office.

EDITORIALS

Commenting on our parking editorial of last week a former town official was in agreement, but felt that steps should also be taken to slow down drastically cars on side streets around town where the average driver does not expect to encounter 35 to 45 miles-per-hour speeds.

In most instances our visitor claimed the offenders are Winchester residents who aren't going anywhere in any sort of an emergency to warrant the high speeds at which they drive.

"Bombing" by younger drivers is a favorite pastime with its squealing of tires on curves and screeching brakes when quick stops are necessary. Anything to make a racket; and in this connection, whatever became of the old muffler regulation? Many cars, especially the hot-rods either have no mufflers at all or have them doctored so that they sound like Mack trucks.

All the fast drivers on side streets are not young drivers, nor men, according to our informant; nor is all the fast driving limited to side streets! Cars and trucks still approach the dangerous Parkway crossing on their way to the center along Main street much too fast and crossing Cambridge street anywhere except at traffic lights is ticklish business.

The racing of cars on the Parkway along Manchester Field is becoming more and more flagrant and many of those who regularly attend the Junior Legion and Babe Ruth League baseball games at the playground have wondered why something is not done to stop this dangerous fun.

Winchester has had on the whole few serious traffic accidents through the years, but it is commencing to look as though any continuance of this fine record will be increasingly more by good fortune than design.

The Star learned recently of a family moving from one of the best residential sections of the town because they no longer cared to put up with the depredations of neighborhood children; not teen agers, but children whom most would believe too young for the actions ascribed to them, children certainly young enough to be controlled physically if necessary by their parents.

Such reports are not pleasant to hear. Families with children have been coming to Winchester in great numbers in recent years. The town has welcomed them and has done its best to make the town a good place in which to bring up children, providing good schools and a fine program of recreation at its playgrounds, beaches and ponds that costs the taxpayers a lot of money.

It certainly is a far cry from what the community has a right to expect of its youngsters in return for such advantages when they start driving people out of town by their escapades. Often it is difficult to know just how to handle older youthful trouble makers, short of court action, but with kiddies below the teen age bracket it ought not to be too hard for parents to invoke an effective cure!

It is heartening to know that such an organization as the American Association on Emmeriti is calling attention of administrative officials, governing bodies and alumni of higher education, and of benefactors of great stature to the condition in which many, if not most, of their retired academic colleagues are forced to live in this period of great inflation.

The Association on Emmeriti represents retired faculty members of higher institutions of learning who are finding their retirement stipends wholly inadequate on which to live in any sort of manner befitting those who have served higher education from ten to 60 years, with an average service of 35 years.

College professors and instructors of the past generally commanded small salaries. For one reason many institutions they served were still coming of age and could afford to pay only modest stipends. For the college instructor his work was his greatest reward and because he was so engrossed in his work he neglected to look ahead and figure how he and his family would subsist after his active teaching on a retirement stipend based on a working salary modest at best.

The professors who are represented by the Association Emmeriti admit that a part of the blame for the financial plight in which they find themselves is theirs, because of this failure to raise their sites occasionally from preoccupation with their classroom or research activities and make suitable preparations for their inactive years. Generally their work-a-day salaries were too small to permit them to make much, if any saving out of income and professors were kept out of social security.

And now, to add to their woes, the good dollars they paid into such retirement funds as were in operation has been cut exactly in half by the high prices and taxes of inflation, giving the retired savants half or less the purchasing power they used to enjoy.

Twenty-one random cases of retired college teachers stipends covered by a national retirement organization averaged $40 monthly. Out of a random sample of 135, thirty-eight averaged $61. Of a sample of 3617 cases, 78 percent averaged less than $100 and the median was $166. The recipients of these stipends are teachers with years of training, experience and expensive study, yet their incomes in their old age do not approach those of the non-academic.

For instance, a professor with 35 years service, 24 years a full professor with departmental and public affairs responsibilities gets retirement pay of $140 a month; an office manager, with 35 years service, $301. A professor with 28 years service including several years as full professor, with a national reputation, gets a retirement stipend of $158, a plumber with the same length of service gets $232. A distinguished professor with a national reputation, 31 years service, full professor 25 years, department chairman 18 years and a statewide leader, gets a retirement stipend of $279; an administrator of the second rank, with approximately the same length of service, $500.

Though some colleges and universities have seen, and are seeing the light with regards to retirement pay, and are trying to make their retirement stipends more nearly befitting the distinguished service those who will receive them have rendered, there is still great need for improvement, and, there are certain dangers inherent in the present niggardly system.

Only a very few leaders of American education seem to be sufficiently aware of the relationship between inadequate retirement systems and the exodus of talented teachers, both experienced and potential from colleges and universities into business. Not only are educators quitting the classroom for the factory because of the immediately greater financial reward, but also in many instances they are making the switch because of the retirement security they will enjoy.

Higher education devitalizes itself further, the Association on the Emmeriti finds, by forbidding able teachers from contributing the ripe and rich fruit of advanced years to research, writing and instruction. One has only to look, the Association says, at "Hastings School of Law" in San Francisco, with its faculty made up of professors 65 or over, to be convinced of the potentials of adequately supported aged scholars and teachers.

On the other hand, the Association says, one has only to read the hundreds of letters our colleagues write us, to realize the utter waste of old age potentials, and the jeopardy, the bewilderment, the utter frustration the present mandatory retirement system forces upon us.

And the loss to the country can be very great, the Association finds. In support of this it quotes information from Russian scientific friends who say "if a man is strong, in good health physically and mentally, he is not allowed to retire (in Russia) but is kept at his post, paid a regular salary plus a bonus for working after the usual retirement age". . . . No wonder the Russians are producing scientific workers at a far greater rate than we.

In its June issue the Emmeriti closes by saying: "For most of us who are retired our needs are daily more and more pressing. We are nearing the end. But the influence of our distress cannot fail to leave deep marks on the life of the younger generation all about us, and on the nation. People who could make some effort on our behalf and yet shut their eyes to our suffering, will inevitably have to bear some of the responsibility for our plight. . . . A modest supplement would go far toward making the end of our lives less burdensome, less ignominious. The actual outlay would be less than many institutions spend on paint and brushes, on sidewalks, lawns and trees, on upkeep of athletic fields. . . . Our years are numbered; our needs are immediate, urgent, pressing!"

Why the Snub?

Editor of the Star:
The School Committee has announced its selection of an assistant to the superintendent of schools in Winchester, starting salary eight thousand five hundred per year. The usual pattern has been followed, the appointment being made to one outside of our own group of school teachers.

Apparently, it has never occurred to this committee that many teachers in our school system, if given the opportunity, would be very happy with an appointment to such a soft job and could enjoy the semi-retirement which accompanies this unnecessary position.

This action on the School Committee's part is a rebuke to many of our teachers. I discussed the matter at great length with one of the teachers, and the criticism was very high. Reward for services rendered, or a promotion for one of the teachers is language that this School Committee does not comprehend. It is most fortunate that business firms believe in promotion, otherwise the incentive for better things would be lost.

This same School Committee is forever boasting about our exceptional teachers. They should recall the old adage that actions speak louder than words!

Boys' State Delegate Thanks Legion

American Legion Post 97
34 Vine Street
Winchester, Mass.
Gentlemen:

As one who was fortunate in being selected for a week at Boys' State, I would like to thank the Winchester American Legion Post which sponsored me and the high school teachers who chose me. I found the week at Amherst a very interesting and rewarding experience, for I learned many things about state and town government. The 500 boys there were divided into two parties, and were again divided into small groups as citizens of cities or towns. Town and city elections were then held and upon completion of these elections, state conventions were held by the Nationalist and Federalist parties respectively for the nomination of the state constitutional officers.

In between business sessions a complete athletic program was provided. For two hours of each afternoon every boy had a choice of baseball, softball, track, tennis, or swimming.

After the state and municipal elections each boy participated in the government either through an elective or appointed office.

I enjoyed the program very much and again I would like to thank the people responsible for my participation.

Sincerely,

Roundup

In order to form a full patrol, according to the standards set by the Girl Scout national headquarters, Winchester combined with four selectees from Reading for each of the trips.

From the start of this year, then, it has been a continuous effort on the part of the girls and their trainers to polish up their skills, attend instructional conferences, learn traditional skills to be put on at the encampment, study basic foreign words with which to have some understanding of the girls from other countries, and, generally, form themselves into a team that would do for itself and for the towns it represented, a creditable job in Colorado and in Canada.

In addition to preparing their minds and hands there remained, especially for the Colorado trip, much special equipment to be procured and stencilled with the patrol number designation. All tools and cooking paraphernalia had to be marked with this identifying symbol, as well. And tents had to be readied for use in an altitude where it was not unusual to have almost gale force winds spring up without too much advance notice.

As a complete patrol, the girls were required to select a suitable name, and appropriate colors. In several meetings, they finally chose the name "Aberjona Sachems," since the Aberjona River flows through both Winchester and Reading, and Sachem, meaning an Indian queen, was both fitting and followed the pattern of the respective high school traditions. For patrol leader, the girls voted to place that honor on the head of Susan Fox.

From the neighboring town of Reading, Mrs. Ruth Nash, long an accomplished Girl Scout, was designated as coordinator, and the Reading selection committee nominated Mary Fitzpatrick, Debby Gourd, Elizabeth LaRocca and Ted Tibbs as their part of the new patrol. They, too, had wonderful support of preparation chairmen in getting a lot of the necessary equipment together for the good of the entire patrol.

At this point it might be interesting to the reader of this article to know that the encampment area is on a plateau, 6500 feet high, relatively treeless. Unoccupied rangeland, the territory was begun to be prepared last fall, for the influx of 7500 Senior Girl Scouts and almost 1000 adult leaders. Army Engineers worked over the grounds, and when the first contingent of Scouts arrived, everything was in readiness for occupation of the huge "tent city" including water systems, some temporary buildings, communication facilities, etc. So it behooved all troops to prepare accordingly.

Of inestimable assistance in visualization, imagination and previous experience to obtain the best equipment for the work the girls were to do in Colorado and Canada, were Mr. and Mrs. Jeness P. Engley and Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Butters. Their handicraft and skill were of the utmost importance in providing properly designed kitchen boxes, tool boxes and other equipment so that they would be light and yet strong enough to withstand railroad handling over that long distance. It had to be kept in mind that all the equipment and stuff might have to be hand-carried by the girls over a possible two miles from where the material was staged to their assigned camping area.

One of the indispensables in any such encampment is "swap" items. Many Winchester people came up with ideas and contributions. Actual pieces included Dial Hand pins from the J. H. Winn Co., Satellite Transistors from Radio Shack, Indian Baskets from the National Shawmut Bank and especially printed "Blue Laws" scrolls printed by H. G. McMenamin Co. on parchment-like paper donated by Carter Rice, Storrs and Bement. It will be intensely interesting to see what our girls come back with and how well they were able to barter.

On the day of departure, Mrs. Engley, a director of our Camp Joy presented the entire Patrol as well as Susan Kimball (the only Winchesterite going to Canada) to the Damsy Camp Campers. The "Oh's" and "Ah's" from these impressed youngsters were summed up in one statement by a Brownie "They're so big and so pretty! Will I grow up to look like them?"

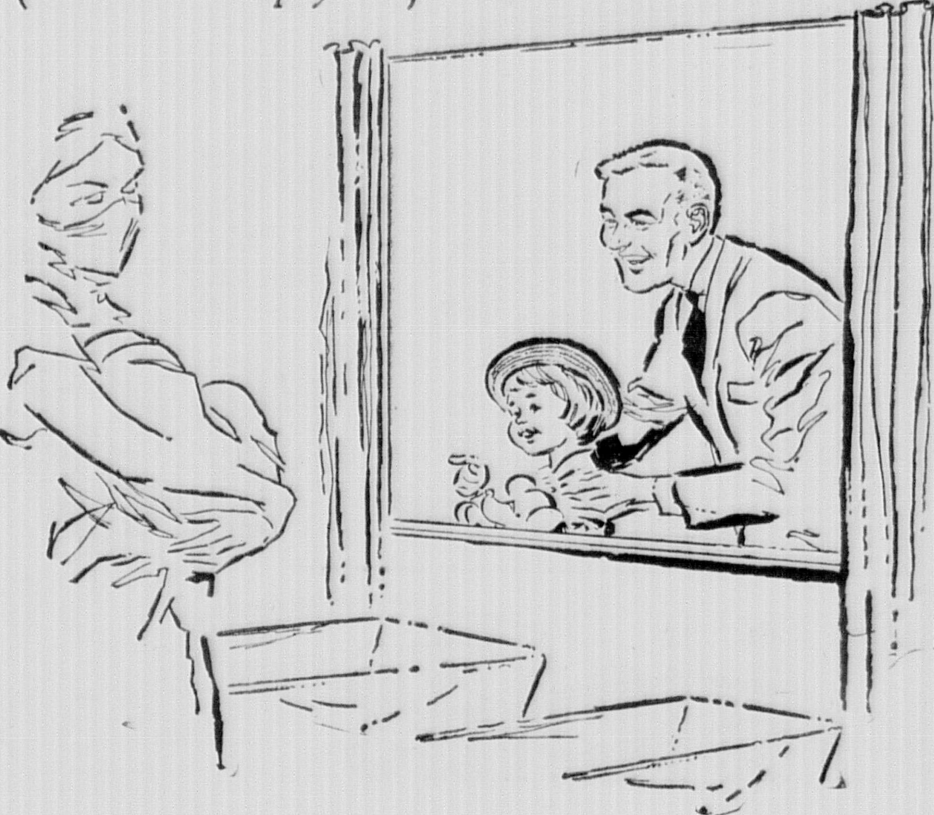

At a signal from Mrs. Engley, the Brownies then burst into a farewell song that she composed and rehearsed with the kiddies, for the past week. Their fond adieux were tearfully acknowledged by the departing Scouts. Then each girl was given an especial bracelet as a memento, accompanied by a short speech by selected campers.

Pandemonium broke loose as the Colorado Patrol walked to the cars that were to take them to South Station. With the Brownies waving and cheering, the Aberjona Sachems headed for Boston, full to the brim with excitement and anticipa-

During an intermission in the swimming events, Pat Gawlinski, the life guard and a champion diver, gave a diving exhibition to many enthusiastic viewers. The evening entertainment was a lobster supper and movies.

The snipes and turnabouts were also an active part of the holiday festivities. Clarence Borggaard won a first on Saturday in his new Snipe. Three races were conducted on Sunday morning in which Tom Legere won two firsts. The remaining was won by Rod Long.

The Turnabout fleet held one race on Saturday and two on Sunday morning. Rob Dannenberg won the honors in all three.

Coming events include the Snipe Invitational Regatta, to be held July 11 and 12. All members of the Winchester fleet are awaiting this important event; also, many out-of-town sailors will be on the scene. These include George Schwenk, Tommy St. John, and Hy Upson from Quassapaug, Conn.; Ramsey from New York State; Sam Card from Baltimore, Md.; and several others are expected.

Weather permitting, two races will be held on Saturday afternoon following a morning tune-up race. Saturday evening a barbecue supper will be given for skippers, crews, and members of their families. If poor weather prevails on Saturday, both race two and three will be conducted on Sunday. Immediately following the race or races on Sunday, the annual prize awarding will take place.

Henry Knowlton, director of athletics and football coach of Winchester High School, left the first of the week for Camp Wyanoke in Wolfeboro, N. H., where he will be in charge of the camp canoe trips along the Saco River. Mr. Knowlton was formerly for many years the waterfront director of the camp.

400 Register for Red Cross Swim Classes

June 29 and 30 found a total of 400 persons, 180 at Leonard Pool and 220 at Palmer Beach registered for various swim classes offered by Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Red Cross instructors Miss No-reen Johnson and Miss Ann Neville were very pleased with the fine interest shown by the children and parents in this all-out campaign to have our town rated high in the prevention of water accidents.

A group of forty aspirants for Jr. Life Saving badges are busily studying their text books in the hopes of completing the course this summer. It is also contemplated to organize an evening class for Sr. Life Saving.

At present there have been eight registrants for a class, but we would like to have a few more interested parties sign up at the beaches. The only requirements are to be a fairly strong swimmer and to be reaching the age of eighteen by the end of August.

Once again the town of Winchester will be represented in competitive swimming with the organizing of an aquatic team that will compete in the various swim meets that will be held throughout New England this season.

It's still not too late to register for one of these classes and more non-swimmers will be welcome.

The Fourth

There were a few complaints of fireworks, and undoubtedly there were a few "rugged individuals" who saw to it that their children had firecrackers or shot them off themselves "just to let folks see!" On the whole there was much less discharge of fireworks this year than in the past, the town and state ban gradually working toward elimination.

Winchester's observance opened with the usual early-morning ringing of the town hall bell, and during the morning three Legionnaires, Herb Froberg, Herb Nelson and Jim Carroll, garbed as clowns, rode through town in a jeep alerting kiddies everywhere to the big program of entertainment and sports during the afternoon at Leonard Field.

The trip around town was made possible by the loan of a sound-equipped jeep by Turner's Sunoco Station on Main street.

After the noon-time ringing of the bells by Town Hall Custodian Francis Muraw, the youngsters commenced to congregate at Leonard Field, and by the time the program got under way there was a good-sized crowd of youngsters and adults. It would be hard to tell who had the better time.

NOW THAT'S YOUR GUESS, IS IT?

Playground Supervisor Frank Provinzano registers a contestant in the Bean-Guessing Contest at the Fourth of July celebration at Leonard Field.

675 beans and were only one bean away from a perfect score, the jar containing exactly one bean more than they guessed, 676.

Interspersing the various events on the program was perhaps the most popular feature of the celebration, the serving of free ice cream to all the kiddies, and many rather "older kiddies" at the field.

Edward J. Farrell was chairman of the Legion committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration. He wishes through the Star to extend his sincere thanks to his Legion buddies and all others who in any way aided in making the affair so successful.

COL. RALPH T. MILLER

Reorganizes
Reorganization of Salvation Army services in New England has just been announced by Colonel Ralph T. Miller, New England Provincial Commander. In the interests of efficiency and economy the New England Province will be dissolved, stated Colonel Miller. The move will become effective October 1.

The change, according to Miller, will result in increased service to the needy in The Army's program of "Heart to God and Hand to Man." The move, recently confirmed by General Wilfred Kitching, International Commander, will bring an end to the system of administration by provinces. New England work will be conducted along state lines, allowing more intimate relationships between the agencies and the people served.

Colonel Miller, New England
Commander for the past five years, has received a promotion, and on the same date will become National Evangelist. "It is a great satisfaction to me," said the colonel "to know that one fourth of my time will be spent in the Eastern Territory, and so my many New England friends will not be lost to me."

The Provincial Headquarters in Boston will provide additional program facilities for The Army's work in the city and will serve as Divisional Headquarters for the new Massachusetts Division with Lt. Colonel James Hephurn as Commander. The Northern Division, comprising Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, will be led by Brigadier John W. Bages from Portland. The Southern Division of Connecticut and Rhode Island will be headed by Sr. Major Charles T. Mackenzie in Hartford.

"Wish You Were
Here" at North Shore
Few songs in Broadway musicals have as much competition from outside elements as the Joshua Logan-Harold Rome smash "Wish
You Were Here," which opens at North Shore Music Theatre, Beverly, July 13. In addition to the full swimming pool, there is a bathing beauty contest, a basketball game and a campfire cook-out!

All these spectaculars take place at a summer resort in New York's Catskill Mountains called Camp
Karefree, where Teddy Stern, a Manhattan secretary, uses her hard-earned savings for a two-weeks vacation. She is persuaded by her man-hungry friend, Kay Fromkin, to conceal her engagement while she's at the resort so she may enjoy the two weeks thoroughly without reservations. From there on the plot gets tangled up and straightened out in the best musical comedy tradition, accompanied by songs both sentimental and satiric: "Don Jose (from Far Rockaway)," "Tripping the Light
Fantastic," "Where Did the Night Go?" and the title number, which was recorded by Eddie Fisher and ran 16 weeks on the Hit Parade.

Adapted from the Arthur Kober comedy "Having a Wonderful Time," "Wish You Were Here" at the North Shore will star Stan Grover from the original Broadway cast. It was in this show that Rogers and Hammerstein discovered him for the part of Lt. Joe Cable in "South Pacific." For Teddy, the North Shore Music Theatre has engaged Tricia Foley, who will be coming from engagements in Nassau with the British Colonial Playhouse and the Surf Club. Two popular comedians from previous seasons, Jessie Elliott and Mickey Deems, will have featured roles in the production.

Performances at the North Shore
Music Theatre, Route 128, Exit 9, are Monday through Friday at 8:15 and on Saturday at 5 and 9.

So You're Going on Vacation

So you're going on vacation! Just load up the trunk, herd the family into the car and away we go, but hold on a second. It's not quite that simple.

Lots of things to be done before you start. Such as:

1. Stop milk and newspaper deliveries. Ask a neighbor to keep advertising circulars off your porch.
2. Don't lower window shades, this is a tip-off for burglars. And make sure someone mows your lawn while you're gone, several inches of grass is a sure sign you're away from home, too.
3. Tell the post office to hold your mail, or arrange delivery to a neighbor.
4. Lock windows and doors. Don't forget basement windows and the coal chute.
5. Tell the police how long you'll be gone and where you can be reached in an emergency.
6. Shut off gas and water at main valves. Electricity can be shut off at the master switch, unless the freezer or refrigerator is to be left on.

And from the National Safety Council come these tips on what to do before you leave on vacation:

1. Have your car serviced thoroughly. Give special attention to lights, brakes, tires, steering and windshield wipers.
2. Take a flashlight along for use in emergencies. Equally handy: a "trouble light" that can be plugged into the cigarette lighter receptacle.
3. Make sure you take along necessary equipment for repairing a flat, spare tire (is it inflated?), jack and tools.
4. Put a first-aid kit in your glove compartment, and be sure the contents are not stale or missing.

(One additional Council suggestion: "Start early on your vacation, and don't plan to drive too far in a day. Make this a vacation you'll really enjoy.")

"Streetcar Named Desire"

With "A Streetcar Named Desire" which opened Tuesday, July 7, versatile Group 20 Players turn from Shakespearean comedy to modern tragedy, presenting the Tennessee Williams prize-winning drama as the second offering of the 7th Festival Season at Theatre on the Green, Wellesley.

Starring Canada Humphrey as the ill-fated Blanche DuBois and Robert Blackburn as Stanley Kowalsky, the play is directed by Ellis Rabb, responsible for the recent production of "Much Ado About Nothing" at Group 20.

The setting and costumes, designed by William D. Roberts, will accent the local color of New Orleans' exotic French Quarter, featuring authentic and picturesque street-dancers, singers and hawkers. Chase Crosley will be featured as Stella, William Sweetland, as Mitch and Sydney Sturgess as Eunice. Stanley Jay, John Peters and Ralph Driscoll complete the cast.

The Tennessee Williams Play, after opening on Tuesday, July 7, will be performed daily except Sundays for two weeks. Theatre on the Green is located on the Wellesley College campus, half an hour from downtown Boston, just off Route 9. There is ample free parking space, and an indoor theatre is provided in case of rain.

Winchester Hosp. One of Five in New Program

Winchester Hospital is one of five hospitals in this district where students in the newly-established Regional Nursing School will receive clinical nursing instruction. Others are Arlington, Concord, Waltham and Woburn.

Sponsored by Newton Junior College, the new Regional Nursing School will be the first of its kind in New England, with a two-year junior college nursing program.

The school will open in September with Miss Virginia O. Allen as director. Miss Allen, a graduate of Monmouth Memorial Hospital School of Nursing at Long Branch, N. J., has a B.S. from Seton Hall University in Newark and an M.A. from Teachers College, Columbia University. She has served on the nursing staff of the Monmouth Memorial Hospital, has had experience in camp nursing and has also been health coordinator at Mid-Pacific Institute in Honolulu.

It is anticipated the new Regional Nursing School program will increase the number of professional nurses in the Greater Boston area. It is the summation of a project launched in 1956 by the Nursing Council of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston under a grant from the United States Public Health Service.

Babe Ruth All Stars Oppose Legion

In the continuance of their spirited rivalry, the Babe Ruth All Stars, managed by Sam Bellino, will play Albion MacDonnell's American Legion team at 2 o'clock on Manchester Field this Saturday afternoon. The game is scheduled annually as a tune-up for the coming All-Star tournament and always provides a fine-played, exciting contest. The All Stars are confident they can avenge the 8 to 1 defeat dealt them by the Legion last year. The Legion, on the other hand, is determined to repeat last year's performance and maintain their reputation for being a winning ball club. All signs point to a fast-moving contest, which should feature fine pitching and some lusty hitting.

Don't pass up this opportunity to witness a spirited contest between two potential championship teams.

"The spiritual power of Christ Jesus' teachings and example will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services in the Lesson-Sermon entitled 'Sacrament'."

One of the key statements of Jesus to be read from the Bible is this from John (6:51): "I am the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life."

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (22:26-31): "Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we have bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us."

Health for All

Your Child and Tuberculosis - II

Last week we talked about what parents can do to protect their children from tuberculosis. We emphasized the importance of general good health in fighting off disease and of the tuberculin test to find out if the child has been exposed to tuberculosis.

There is even more that can be done. The Middlesex Health Association, county Christmas Seal Agency, reports that in almost every case of childhood tuberculosis, the infection came originally from an adult. With small children, it is usually a member of the family or someone else who has been taking care of them. School-age children have, of course, a wider circle of contacts, and the older they grow the wider it becomes.

Protecting the small child from TB in the home is fairly simple. You make sure that none of the older members of the household can possibly infect him with TB. That means regular physical check-ups for each, and chest X-rays if the doctor advises. It is simple enough to make sure of immediate family members. Guard against poor health in anyone who cares for your children. Grandparents, too, must not endanger the health of the little ones. An annual chest X-ray for everyone over 40 years of age is a wise precaution.

As your child's circle of contacts becomes larger, the job of protecting him from TB meets your responsibilities as a citizen. You must be concerned with the tuberculosis control program of your community. What regulations protect your child from infection by school teachers and other school employees? Is there a tuberculin testing program in the schools? How is the health of food handlers controlled? Is the budget of your health department adequate to do the right kind of job? Does your tuberculosis association need your help?

The answer to the last question is definitely "Yes," wherever you live. As a volunteer worker for your TB association, you will be helping protect your child, yourself, your whole community from TB.

Old Winchester Toreadors

Sam Symmes and Jim Russell Rid Town of Dangerous Bull

(Ed. Note—So many readers bespoke their enjoyment of the Symmes Brothers Battle with a wild boar recently published in the Star that we dug up another tale of "Old" Winchester, this one involving another seion of the Symmes Family and a ferocious bull. For the benefit of newer readers we might say that the Symmes Family, descendants of Zachariah Symmes, one of Winchester's original settlers, have lived at or around Symmes Corner since the earliest days of the town.)

In the early years of the century Winchester was alarmed by persistent stories of a huge dangerous animal at large in the Middlesex Fells. Farmers were afraid to work in their fields and people reported being chased by what appeared to be a giant bull. Folks who encountered the critter didn't get close enough to it for positive identification, and the police of the town warned every one to keep away from wooded areas or open fields near the Fells.

Various officials and the police of the town hunted the beast without results, so finally the late Samuel S. Symmes, prominent town official and banker, decided to do something about it, aided and abetted by his brother-in-law, James W. Russell, another prominent citizen, who for many years in the old days ran Russell's farm.

As the first step toward exterminating the wild bull "Sam" borrowed from his brother, Walter, a nine shot Winchester repeating rifle of 45-70 caliber, a heavy-hitting weapon known to have knocked down a bear with one shot. Armed with this lethal gun "Sam" and "Jim" set out one Sunday morning about church time to lay the critter low.

Cruising about the neighborhood, they finally arrived at a spot near where the Ledgewood house now stands on Lodgewood road. At that time the land there, now heavily wooded, was a pasture, bordered by woods, and in those woods the two hunters heard a prodigious snorting and thrashing about.

The noise was almost immediately followed by the appearance of their quarry, an enormous bull, madder than all git out and headed for the two men, lickety larrup. It will be remembered that only Mr. Symmes was armed. Mr. Russell's position with the safari being that of advisor and possibly, morale booster. As a consequence he was in poor shape to meet force with force in opposing the bull. Something in the nature of finesse, or at best, strategic retreat seemed indicated, and Mr. Russell, examining this philosophy and finding it sound, lost no time at all in putting it into practice!

A good sized tree was handy and with commendable prudence and not a little celerity Mr. Russell mounted to its more lofty branches in virtually nothing flat. The bull was big, ugly, and if he read the critter's mind correctly, meant business!

Heavily armed, and having as a consequence no excuse for flight, excepting perhaps a perfectly natural tendency to adopt such a course, Mr. Symmes stood his ground. Taking careful aim, "Sam" let fly at the charging animal and at the third shot the bull plunged to the ground, stone dead; not too near, but not too blamed far off, either!

Joined by Mr. Russell, Mr. Symmes approached the bull and found that the three shots had struck the wildly charging animal in the chest so close together a hand's breadth could cover them all. The Symmes eye had been true, and the hand steady!

The beast weighed hundreds of pounds and to the frugal Yankee minds of that period it seemed a shame to have all that meat go to waste. As a consequence the carcass was sold to a local butcher for $60, and the butcher, stringing the carcass up to a tall pine that stood in the old pasture until recent years, cut it all up.

There was of course the small matter of ownership of the beast, but Mr. Symmes circumvented this legal roadblock to slaughtering the animal by placing an ad in a Boston paper, stating that the owner of the bull could have the carcass by paying for the damage the beast had caused. As anticipated, there were no takers!

It was believed at the time that the bull had escaped while being loaded on a foreign-bound ship at Charlestown, it being the custom to send much cattle abroad alive in those days because of the poor refrigeration.

And what became of the famous rifle? Former Selectman Marshall W. Symmes of Yale street inherited it, and his brother, Ernest, borrowed it to hunt mountain sheep in the Rockies. It was lost in a fire near Salt Lake City, all that was left of the piece being the barrel, which was bent almost double by the heat.

New Crackdown Ordered by Registry

Registrar Riley has ordered a drastic crackdown—to take effect immediately—on the drivers of motor vehicles involved in traffic accidents.

Traffic accidents will be investigated and operators found seriously at fault will lose their driving privilege. Owners of automobiles involved in traffic accidents where it has been determined the operator was seriously at fault will be given a hearing to show cause why their certificate of registration should not be revoked.

The registrar has taken this drastic action after a study made by his statistician which revealed a startling increase in the number of traffic accidents during 1958 as compared with 1957. In 1958, there were 6,000 more traffic accidents reported than in 1957. In July, 1958, 32 more persons were killed in traffic accidents than in 1957.

Registrar Riley is determined that the number of traffic accidents on Massachusetts highways must be reduced. The registrar says, "Avoid suspension of your license and revocation of your plates by avoiding a traffic accident."

Malden Trust Official Completes Banking School

Hildreth Auer, president of the Malden Trust Company, has announced that assistant treasurer Frederick Coffey is to receive a certificate of completion from the School of Banking at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., this week. The school, sponsored by Bankers' Associations in New England, is designed as a training school for top level bank management, and its student body is made up entirely of bank officers from the New England states.

Mr. Coffey has been attending the summer sessions during the past two years and has satisfactorily completed the required course of study at the school. One of the requirements for completion is the study of a pertinent banking problem and a report on the findings. Mr. Coffey's report concerned the public relations problems that arise with the advance of automation in banking procedures.

Two other officers of the Malden Trust Company have joined Mr. Coffey at the school this year and will study for their certificates. They are Perrin Sample, assistant vice president, and Lawrence J. King, assistant cashier. Last year, Alfred V. Seaward, treasurer of the bank, received his certificate as a member of the first graduating class.

According to Mr. Auer, an immediate past president of the Massachusetts Bankers' Association, the School of Banking was started to achieve a steady, adequate flow of alert, imaginative, and broad gauged executives for banks. Mr. Auer states that the Malden Trust Company has been sending its officers to the school for the advance training offered there because his bank believes that skilled manpower is a bank's most valuable asset.

In addition to the students at the school, the Malden Trust Company is represented on the faculty of the school by Dana Batting, vice president of the bank. Faculty members of the school are selected from all over the country for their knowledge of banking and bank management. Mr. Batting, who joined the faculty this year, is instructing in public relations as a part of a bank's merchandising program.

The Junior Assistants include Sam Gady and Ned Niblock. Among the second year Junior Councilors are Dave Bentley and Steve Hood; Jonathan Hopkins, Bill MacDonald, and John Mallory are in the first year Junior Councilor group.

Gregg Wood, Gordon Peil, and Hank Schumacher are councilors, and Henry Knowlton is on the trip staff.

Mrs. W. H. Bentley, wife of the founder of Wyanoke, is in residence at camp again and enjoying visits with her friends among the campers and councilors.

Expected soon from Winchester are Paul Gibb, Harold Mugford, Joe Schnader, Reed Billman, Joe and Kevin Lynch, and Chip Lewis.

The new dining room and a new fleet of sailboats are making a hit with the campers and councilors.

Winchesterites near Wolfeboro are always welcome to call at Wyanoke.

Attended Connecticut Commencement

Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph Tansey recently attended the commencement exercises at the University of Connecticut at which their son-in-law, Salvatore Catanzaro, received the degree of Master of Science. Mr. Catanzaro, who is married to the former Gail Tansey, was graduated with the degree of B.S. from Boston University in 1957.

He has accepted a position in the Social Service Department of the Elgin, Illinois school system. Mr. and Mrs. Catanzaro now make their home in Middletown, Conn., and will leave August 30 for Elgin, Illinois. While en route, they will visit Mrs. Catanzaro's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Tansey, in Dunkirk, New York.

Malden Babe Ruthers Champs Last Year

This coming Sunday afternoon the Malden Babe Ruth All Stars visit here for the first game of the 1959 Babe Ruth District A, Area IV Tournament. This is the same Malden Club which last year won the New England Pony League championship (13 and 14 year olds) and played in the Pony League World Series at Washington, Pa. This year Malden is franchised as a Babe Ruth League and twelve of the fifteen players who went to Pennsylvania, are returning as World Series veterans.

The Malden team is a big well drilled unit. It is coached by Bill Donovan, former college and semi-pro athlete, and is strong both offensively and defensively.

Pitchers Larry Cullen and Bob Casey, both left-handers, are the "one-two punch" on whom Malden is counting to go all the way to Stockton, California. Cullen, a six-footer, will probably start against the locals. Possessing a "sneaky" fast ball and a wide assortment of curves he expects to handuff Winchester without too much difficulty.

Offensively, Bob Roberts, big first baseman, and Tony Conti, two-hundred pound outfielder, will provide the power for Malden. Both boys have hit well over 400 for the regular season and are running neck and neck for the home run championship. The rest of the squad is composed of dangerous consistent hitters.

Defensively Joe Puopolo, a former Winchester boy, is the spark plug of the Malden infield and a star third baseman. Joe played regular third base this year for Malden High as a sophomore. He is considered by many to be the outstanding third baseman in Eastern Mass. schoolboy circles.

Malden's prospects for a strong team next year are also excellent with 6 fourteen-year-olds among the 15 all stars.

Calidyne	4	12
Knights of Columbus	1	15

Weather permitting, the Town Softball championship series will take place probably starting next Tuesday. The first four teams in the above standings shall qualify for playoff births.

The first and third place teams will oppose each other while the second and fourth teams meet in the best of three games for the semi-finals. The winners will then compete against each other for the championship and beautiful trophy.

If the Little League fence is removed from Ginn Field, the first and third place teams will play at that site on Tuesday evening starting at 6:15, while the second and fourth positions will meet at Leonard Field on the same evening and time.

Thereafter the teams will rotate playing sites with the finals taking place at Ginn Field the following week, starting Monday, July 20 at 6:15 p.m. The winners of the semi-finals will play in the best of three out of five game series.

This same column will keep you informed about the results of the semi-finals and the schedule for the finals, so watch for it and plan to take in some of the games. You will find these playoffs probably the best in many years. Prepare for some excellent evenings of enjoyment and excitement! Softball is faster than you think and you'll see some good players in action.

Training in Virginia

Cadet Gerald F. MacNeill, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. MacNeill of 51 Mystic Valley Parkway, is receiving six weeks of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Belvoir, Va. The training is scheduled to be completed August 1. MacNeill is a 1959 graduate of Northeastern University in Boston. He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1952.

Enters Williston

"Doug" Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick S. Thomson of 25 Fells road, has entered Williston Academy at Easthampton.

An outstanding athlete in this year's graduating class at Winchester High School, Thomson captained the football team, was a regular on the basketball team and also on the baseball team. Only a conflict between baseball and track prevented "Doug" from starring as a sprinter in that sport. He is unquestionably among the fastest Winchester has had.

Though plagued by injuries Thomson was an outstanding half-back and fullback on the football team for three years, also playing three years of varsity basketball and baseball.

Before starting in high school athletics "Doug" was a Little League standout, being a member of teams that represented New England at the World Series at Williamsport.

Hoped for the Best...and Got It!

Just a short time ago, he walked into his dealer's showroom—with his heart and his hopes high—to see if the time had come for his first Cadillac.

Well—his fondest hopes were realized—and here he is today with the car of his dreams.

What were the facts about Cadillac that made this happy and memorable moment possible?

First of all, the cost of a new Cadillac is remarkably modest—so much so, in fact, that many models are priced competitively with other cars of American manufacture.

And because Cadillac's initial price includes so many basic features that cost extra with other makes—Cadillac is actually the price rival of cars of far less stature.

There is also Cadillac's extraordinary economy of ownership. The car is amazingly frugal with gasoline and truly marvelous in its dependability.

And then there is the way a Cadillac protects its owner's investment. For such is the demand for Cadillac that the car returns an exceptionally high percentage of its original cost at the time of resale.

Those are the facts—and the conclusion, we feel, is obvious: if you are considering any motor car—even in the medium price field—you owe yourself a visit to your Cadillac dealer's showroom before you make your decision.

He'll be waiting for you—with the most surprising economy story of the year!

Ronel's Features Three Children's Shops

Ronel's, which is located at 23-25 Thompson street, is not one store as it seems but in reality is a combination of three shops, all of which cater to children. They are the Children's shop, the Shoe Shop, and the Toy Shop.

Featured at the store are women's and children's shoes, children's wear and a large selection of toys. All of the departments are preparing for back to school which will shortly become a reality. In the Shoe Shop there are shoes by Stride-Rite and Gerberich boys shoes which are made to fit all boys from the ones that need small sizes to those who wear the same sizes as their fathers. For gym shoes there are Keds and the Posture Foundation which are excellent for basketball and other games. There is, of course, the rubber footwear which is necessary for rainy days. And for leisure time there is the Comfy slipper.

The Shoe Shop specializes in fitting shoes to growing children. Because of their experience in fitting children's shoes, orthopedic surgeons send children to Ronel's when they are in need of specialized fittings. In the Children's Shop there are clothes for both boys and girls. For girls there are skirts and blouses for all occasions, including dress-up. And there are also coats and jackets and other outer and inner wear. Dresses include Kate Greenaway, Alyssa originals and coordinate sets.

For boys there are all types of suits and sport jackets, slacks, blazers, dress shirts and accessories for boys who wear sizes from toddlers to 12. There are also jackets and ments to form the perfect background for the rugs on display, both domestic and imported.

Aram T. Mouradian of 50 Woodside road, proprietor of the galleries, deals in Oriental rugs and broadloom carpeting, and also has a complete cleansing service for all kinds of rugs.

The Mouradian Rug Galleries have grown from a much more modest business, established in 1922 by the present proprietor's father, the late Hagop Mouradian, who had been an artist and photographer in his native Armenia, but who had also the love for and understanding of fine rugs that seems inherent in men of his race.

Hagop Mouradian came first to this country in 1900, but he did not remain permanently. He returned in 1921 and the next year established his rug business, then located in the Laraway Building on Park street.

In 1930 Mr. Mouradian moved his business to Church street, taking the store now occupied by the Fitzgerald Fuel Company. He died in 1939, and his son, Aram, took over the business, continuing in the old location until 1951, when he built the fine building presently housing the galleries.

Aram Mouradian went to work for his father while a boy at Winchester High School, and has been with the firm, boy and man, ever since, having gained from actual experience a sound knowledge of all departments of the business.

Though the business has expanded appreciably since its early days, Mr. Mouradian has always expanded cautiously, keying his expansion to the service he is able to offer his patrons. Service constitutes 50 per cent of the galleries' business, and, always looking for ways to improve this service, Mr. Mouradian last year installed what he believes to be a unique method of cleansing rugs of man-made fibers.

Mouradian's is the oldest oriental

To Study in Europe

Interesting Program Mapped
for College Group

Suzanne Dresser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Dresser of 83 Cambridge street, left on July 4 for Europe with a group of students from the University of Southern California.

The group, under the direction of Professor Caldwell, will attend lectures at Oxford and Cambridge, political talks with Conservative and Socialist leaders in England; also conferences with the German Government officials on West German and American mutual problems and lectures at Heidelberg in Germany. Then there will be lectures on Mozart in Salzburg, and in Vienna on the Hapsburgs, and conferences with government officials on "Austria as a Republic."

The students also will travel through Italy, seeing Venice, San Marino, Rome, Florence and Genoa. In Geneva, Switzerland, they will visit Palais de Nations. In Paris, they have a meeting with NATO and a lecture on Rousseau. They will fly home from Madrid, Spain.

"Alison's House" at Tufts Theater

"Alison's House," a play by Susan Glaspell, will open Tuesday, July 14 through Saturday, July 18, at the Tufts Arena Theater in Medford. Directed by Dr. Frank B. Hanson, "Alison's House" will be a timely revival of the story about people caught between the fading glories of the past and the rushing tumult that the present brings to them.

Although the scene of "Alison's House" is transplanted from New England to Iowa, Miss Glaspell's story is patterned upon the family of Amherst's Emily Dickinson, one of America's most important nineteenth century poets.

The Stanhope family, living in Alison Stanhope's house, features Paul Borlick as Eben, the idealistic brother. Susan Glaspell's touching and understanding play, opens Tuesday, July 14, at the Tufts Arena Theater, at 8:30 p.m.

his home in the house built for him and his family on the Parkway.

"Jim," as he is widely known, was born in Medford and grew up there, graduating from Medford High School and Franklin Institute, where he studied chemistry. During World War II he served in the Aleutian Islands with the Air Force and also for two years in England.

It was after the war that Mr. Connelly became interested in photography sufficiently to enter that field as a means of livelihood. He studied black and white photography at Franklin Institute in 1946, the same year in which he established his shop here, and he returned to school for special courses in color photography in 1948.

Mr. Connelly, in casting about for a place to establish a camera shop, was offered a Kodak dealership in Winchester and in another community. The proximity of Winchester to his home in Medford and his general knowledge of the town prompted him to choose Winchester for his business and he says that he has never regretted his choice. He likes the townspeople and enjoys his business relationships with them.

The Camera Shop stocks Kodak, Polaroid, and also Keystone movie cameras in a wide price range, from $3.25 to $175. It has also added View-Master colored stereo reels and has a direct daily pickup and delivery system of Kodachrome and Kodacolor processing and printing.

A member of the Winchester Auxiliary Police, Mr. Connelly is married and has two daughters, Janet and Joan.

Third Reverse for Proposed Quigley Plan

Board of Appeal Denies Permit for Apartments on Quigley Property. Finds Law Does Not Permit Plan.

The Board of Appeal, in a decision handed down June 22, denied the petition of Thomas Quigley, Jr., for permission to erect three group housing units or apartment houses on land owned by the petitioner on Lake street in the general residence district of the town. Specifically what was sought was the granting of a variance by the board from the Zoning Law provision that such apartment or group houses shall not exceed two and one-half stories in height. The proposed plan called for three and three and one-half stories in certain sections of the buildings where the contour of the land permitted.

A public hearing was held on May 12, at which William J. Speers, Jr., represented Mr. Quigley and the architect for the proposed buildings, Jerome Bailey Foster, showed plans. A statement in support of the appeal was presented to the Board signed by 16 residents of the immediate or nearby area.

George B. Redding, chairman of the Planning Board, spoke in support of the petition, and also recorded in favor were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Erskine of 41 Lake street, Frederick S. Hatch of 20 Jefferson road, Fred F. Stockwell of 2 Cabot street, and William M. Little of 94 Arlington street. Messrs. Stockwell and Little have a personal interest in the apartment houses.

Speaking in opposition were Charles C. Bond, 17 Gleggarry; August S. Nieuwenhuis, 15 Gleggarry; and William J. Wetmore, 9 Gleggarry. Others were present who took no part in the meeting and did not wish to be recorded either way.

Denial of the petition to erect the apartment or group houses by the Board of Appeal marked the third defeat for the proposed plan to erect such buildings on the Quigley lot.

Early in October of 1958 a special town meeting approved the proposal of the Planning Board to establish apartment house districts in Winchester. At that time it was proposed to erect a million-dollar apartment house of from 95 to 100 units on the Quigley property. This vote was set aside at a subsequent referendum.

At the March town meeting this year proponents of the apartment house failed in an attempt to have the meeting amend the Zoning By-Laws by substituting three and one-half stories for the law's two and one-half stories provision.

The Board of Appeal in its denial of the Quigley petition found that at the March town meeting it was the then interpretation of the petitioner, and it was assumed, the understanding of the town meeting members that the present by-law restriction of two and one-half habitable stories does not permit three, or three and one-half habitable floors in an apartment or group house in a general residence district as was proposed by those who introduced the motion seeking to amend the two and one-half stories of the present by-law.

The Board further felt that although some apartment or group houses of more than two and one-half stories could be detrimental to a neighborhood and community, it does not necessarily follow that all above two and one-half stories are detrimental to general residence districts. The board stated it does not intend to imply that the proposed apartment houses on the Quigley lot would be detrimental in the least. On the contrary, the board found facts in support of them very persuasive.

In dealing with provisions of the Zoning By-Laws, the Board felt it is important to keep in mind that they have been adopted by the voters to promote the health, safety, convenience and welfare of the inhabitants of the town, while the basic purpose of building laws, quoted by proponents of the apartment houses as seeming to protect their wanted plans, is to protect home owners with sound construction.

The Board of Appeal in its decision denying the Quigley petition said, "This board takes no official position with respect to the desirability of apartment houses or apartment house districts built or administered under by-laws duly adopted by the town. This case presents a question of law, and it is the unanimous opinion of the members of this board, and it finds as a matter of law, that the basement or first floor in each of the three separate apartment houses is a habitable story; that all three stories in each apartment are habitable stories; and that the board has no authority to authorize the proposed construction."

Savo F. Curro of 129 Cleaves street, Biddeford, Maine, was driving a panel truck north on Bacon street Wednesday at 2:10 p.m. and was crossing Church street when his car was in collision with a Ford sedan owned by Bonnell Motors of 666 Main street and operated by A. W. MacDonald, Jr., of 22 Hemmingsway street.

The sedan, according to police, was heading west on Church street. The traffic lights were in operation and both persons told police that they had the green light. With MacDonald was Bruce Bonnell of 81 Arlington street.

No injuries were reported. The truck was damaged on the right front fender but was able to proceed under its own power. The sedan was damaged on the left and front fender and was towed away.

Barbara MacWilliam Clark, daughter of Mrs. Edward H. Bailey of 3 Greeley road, chairman of the Winchester School Committee, is one of 247 freshmen who will enter Stanford University in California in September with "Honors at Entrance."

"Honors at Entrance" is a non-monetary grant awarded to the top 15 percent of the Stanford entering class, based on high school academic records. The awards are made by Stanford and the other members of the West Coast Committee of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Miss Clark prepared for college at Winchester High School.

Car Entered in Calidyne Lot

Sidney J. Balastier of 25 Summer street, Stoneham, reported to the police on Thursday that his car was entered between 7:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mr. Balastier, an employee of the Calidyne Corporation on Cross street, said that his 1953 Ford station wagon was entered and some fishing tackle and lines and a new Marine Band harmonica were taken and a pair of binoculars was broken.

He believes that this was done by young boys as there was a boy's bathing suit found in the car.

Winchester Day at Court in Woburn July 9

A goodly part of last Thursday's session of the District Court at Woburn was devoted to Winchester cases, several of which involved juveniles.

One Winchester boy appeared before Associate Justice Sartorelli charged with the theft of a TV set from the home of the noted architect, Royal Barry Wills, on Wood Lane.

On information that placed him near the Wills home on the day of the theft, the boy was picked up by Officer Andrew Crawford, and police say admitted the theft of the set, implicating another Winchester boy in the affair, and a Winchester businessman, whom he said bought the set from them.

The second boy named was able to establish an alibi, but the boy picked up by Officer Crawford appeared in court with the businessman. The latter denied having bought the set, but police say it was found concealed under a bed at his home in Billerica.

The case against the Winchester boy, a juvenile, was continued by Justice Sartorelli for a year. The man was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and fined $50. He was also found guilty of receiving stolen property and fined $100. On this same charge he was given a sentence of six months in the House of Correction suspended for one year.

The boy whose case was continued was also involved, with two older Winchester youths, in the theft of an outboard motor from an Arlington dealer during the latter part of June. Once again the same businessman was named as the receiver of the motor.

Officer Andrew Crawford and three officers from the juvenile department of the Arlington police picked up the boys and man June 22, and they appeared in Cambridge Court the next day.

The case was continued until June 29 when the businessman was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction, suspended.

One of the older boys was committed to the House of Correction for three months and the other, given a three-months suspended sentence. The juvenile was adjudged a delinquent and placed on probation for a year.

Stole Case of Cigarettes

Man Injured in Main Street Accident

A man was injured Wednesday night at 10:20 when his car hit a hydrant and smashed into a fence in front of the home of Richard C. Brock at 89 Main street.

Police Officers John Frongillo and Richard Beaton in Patrol 53 responded to the call. James M. McLaughlin of 6 Ash street, Woburn, was operating a 1956 Ford sedan south on Main street and as he approached the curve opposite Highland avenue he struck a hydrant on the opposite side of the road and careened into the fence in front of 89 Main street.

Mr. McLaughlin was taken to the Winchester Hospital by Officer John Boyle, where he was treated by Dr. Quinn for cuts over his right eye, on his wrist and for bruises on his body. He was held overnight at the hospital.

The car was a total wreck and was towed to Haggerty's Garage. The hydrant was moved six inches at the base and about 12 feet of fence was damaged at 89 Main street.

A cordial invitation is extended to all, including visitors in Winchester. Young children will be cared for in the Nursery.

Tail Pipes Stolen from Car at Night

The car was parked in front of the house.

Permission Lists Certain Conditions

Appeal Board Grants Permission to Erect Building for Sale of Farm Products on Mahoney Land

The Board of Appeal in a finding handed down June 5 unanimously granted permission to Paul J. Mahoney to erect a permanent building for the sale of farm and allied products, not more than 20 percent of which shall be raised off the premises, on property owned by the petitioner's mother, Martha L. Mahoney, et al, in a single residence district on Cambridge street.

Harvard Business Degree to Sargent

John King Sargent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon F. Sargent of Central street, was among those graduated in June from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration with the degree of Master in Business Administration.

Mr. Sargent's major at business school was marketing, and he was a member of the Finance Club, New Enterprises Club and the Marketing Club. He was graduated in 1953 from Dartmouth College where he was a history major and a member of the track team, Chi Phi fraternity and Interfraternity Treasurer's Council.

From 1953 to 1957 he served in the United States Navy as communications officer aboard a Navy attack transport and later as an instructor at the Officers Communications School at Newport, R. I. He now holds the commission of lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

Playing at Eastern Slope

Local theatre devotees will be interested to learn that for the past two weeks a nine-year-old Winchester boy, "Ricky" Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Collins of Cross street, has been playing the part of "Young Pat" in "Auntie Mame" at the Eastern Slope Playhouse, North Conway, N. H. "Ricky's" father is widely known in town through his long association with Hevey's Pharmacy.

In granting the appeal the Board found that the erection of such a building, if constructed at the location indicated by the petitioner, with adequate parking off the highway, will not adversely affect the health or safety of persons living in the neighborhood, or be detrimental to the public welfare, provided the roadside sale of all other farm and related products, Christmas trees and flowers, and all other products, if any, are permanently discontinued from all other locations on the Mahoney property as soon as the new stand is built and in operation.

The petition to erect a permanent farmstand on the Mahoney property followed a decision in favor of the Mahoneys handed down on February 27, 1959, by the Middlesex County Superior Court on a bill in equity brought by Building Commissioner William B. MacDonald of Winchester against Martha L. Mahoney, Constance McCarthy and Jane McCarthy Muller to restrain the operation of a roadside stand at which farm products and associate products are sold on their property in a single residence district in violation of the Zoning By-Laws.

In 1924 the district in which is located the Mahoney land was zoned for single residence, and in 1931 the Zoning By-law was amended to regulate the use of land.

In denying the town the right to stop the Mahoney sales activity in a residence district the Court found their land had a nonconforming use under the zoning provisions, since it had been in continuous use at least since 1920 for the sale of farm products, not all of which were raised on the premises, and though the business had increased somewhat in recent years, it had not changed in character. The court expressly found, however, as the Board of Appeal pointed out in its own finding, that no structure which could be called a building had been erected on the land for sales purposes.

The total Mahoney property comprises about 50 acres with a frontage of 1300 feet on Cambridge street, extending northerly from the property of the Winchester Conservatories. Three hundred feet north of the Conservatories land is a group of buildings consisting of a two-family house, three single houses, a barn and outbuildings. Land for these buildings takes 300 feet of the entire frontage, with another 700 feet extending to the north of the buildings. The land on which the petitioner sought permission to erect the farm stand is a portion of the last named property.

Because this land is now situated in a single-residence zone Building Commissioner MacDonald refused a building permit and Mr. Mahoney appealed from his decision to the Board of Appeal.

A hearing was held on the petition April 23, at which the petitioner, Paul C. Mahoney; his sister, Atorney Margaret C. Mahoney; his brother Charles; and George Barabara, a longtime friend of the Mahoney family; were heard in favor. Speaking in opposition were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gough, 203 Cambridge street; Arthur Nevala, 185 Cambridge street; Daniel W. Zenza, 209 Cambridge street; and David W. Ewing, 195 Cambridge street.

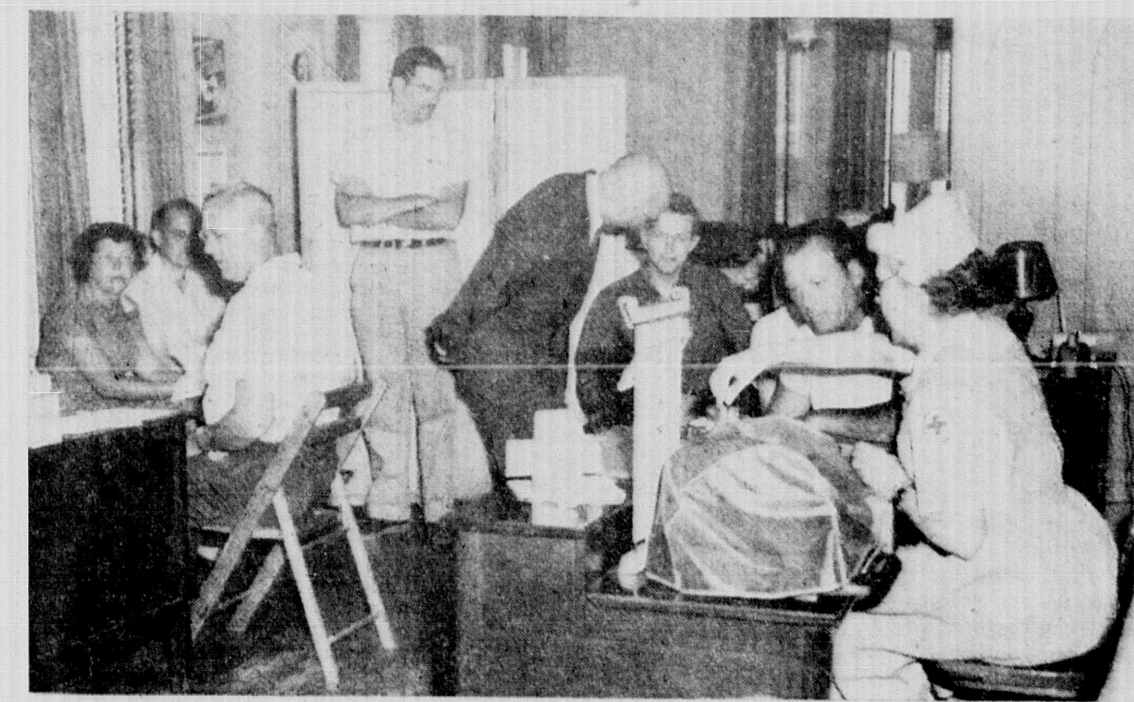

The Board of Appeal, in its decision found the petitioner and a tenant of one of the Mahoney houses have been conducting the business of roadside sales south of the Mahoney group of houses, their combined sales area at different times during the year covering the 300 feet from the buildings to the Conservatories land. During the Christmas season temporary lighting has been installed for night display and sales.

Across the street, directly opposite, are three single-family dwellings. On the Mahoney property about 300 feet north of the group of buildings, the Board found an area 200 feet in length has also been used for the display of flowers and plants from open stands in the spring and fall.

In his petition to the Board of Appeal the petitioner proposed to construct a permanent farm stand or store 60 feet from the single residence which is the last house to the north of the Mahoney group. The store would set back 60 feet from Cambridge street, would be one-story, 50 feet wide by 40 feet deep with a greenhouse approximately 26 by 14 feet attached to the southerly end of the store in line with the front.

Entrance would be by semi-circular drive from Cambridge street and there would be a parking space for about 20 cars on the premises and off the public way. The building would have a concrete floor and foundation, would be constructed of wood, and according to the petitioner, would be used for business from

A special donor day was held to secure special-type blood for a Winchester boy undergoing heart surgery. Twenty donors responded to the Red Cross appeal, with only 15 necessary.

Blood Donors Aid Boy Undergoing Delicate Heart Surgery

The Red Cross Heart Unit came out from the Boston Blood Center Thursday, July 9, to collect "A Positive" blood for Tommy Lindberg, who underwent a delicate heart operation Friday, July 10, to save his life.

A score of men and women rolled up their sleeves at Winchester Red Cross headquarters Thursday in a moving community response to an appeal for 15 pints of blood needed to secure an 11-year-old boy open-heart surgery at Children's Hospital in Boston.

Thomas Lindberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Lindberg of Lebanon street, has been waiting eight months for his chance to undergo this highly skilled operation.

Blood for such an operation must be obtained not more than 24 hours prior to the operation, so the Red Cross organized to set up a special heart unit of the regional Red Cross Blood Center. Volunteer donors were requested to report between 9 and 10 a.m. Thursday, but as early as 8:15 they began lining up outside Red Cross headquarters. The Red Cross is most grateful to the people of Winchester who so generously gave their blood for this operation.

Dr. Milton J. Quinn of Winchester was supervising physician, assisted by a staff of Red Cross personnel—Mrs. Harold Bates, nurse; Mrs. Rebecca Meigs and Mrs. Ellen Lanigan, staff aides; Mrs.

Garbage Contract Awarded to New Firm

A new firm, Leon Bushnick Corporation of Woburn, was awarded the contract for Winchester's garbage Monday night by the Board of Selectmen. The contract this year is for $3,600.

There were two bidders this year and the other bid was by the present garbage purchaser who bid $3,020. The new contract will net Winchester more than last year's.

Under the present system the town trucks pick up the garbage and take it to the Woburn piggery. Last year the contract was given to Stanley Rykaczewski, Inc. of Woburn. Both bidders have stipulated that if the city of Woburn refuses to permit the piggery to operate they can take it to New Hampshire.

Contagious Diseases

1 case of chicken pox

Dear friends,

There is a wide variety of tastes and opinions regarding funeral arrangements.

The important thing, as we see it, is to provide the service exactly as the family wishes. If suggestions are wanted, we are glad to offer them. But we want them to be merely suggestions, and not dictatorial in any sense.

Whatever your wishes, it is always our desire to carry them out to the best of our ability.

Living with Your Heart

By Richard J. Clark, M.D.

(Dr. Clark is the director of the Massachusetts Heart Association's Cardiac Work Classification Unit.) ("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

In the past some doctors have subscribed to the theory, "The longer you rest after a heart attack, the better." I once saw a patient who was told by his doctor to go home and stay in bed for six months. Fortunately he sought other advice and spared himself the consequences of quite a complete breakdown.

Before World War II, when a diagnosis of a coronary attack was made, the usual and accepted formula was six weeks of absolute bed rest. Today we know that the majority of such patients cannot only be safely ambulated within three weeks, but that under this program total comeback is more speedy and sure.

Many are now about and outside within six weeks, and if they are fortunate enough to have office or relatively light jobs, they can be getting back to work within eight weeks. By the end of ten to twelve weeks the average patient is able to return to moderately strenuous work.

Patients after a heart attack may be compared to athletes in or out of training. General strength does not return through rest alone but through a guided balance between rest and increasing activity. All too often we have seen patients three to four months or more after a coronary attack who wish to discuss returning to their old jobs involving moderate exertion or activity, but unfortunately they have been doing nothing other than sitting and lying.

We have to outline for them a further month of progressive walking, work around home and getting out into the world before they are in trim for their job. Often unwarranted fears must be overcome in getting these people going, but with development of confidence through encouragement and increased muscular and circulatory tone, they will soon be ready to resume self support and employment.

At the Cardiac Work Classification Unit of the Heart Association we see many such patients who require reassurance regarding ability to go back to their old jobs or who need guidance in finding new or more suitable employment. We have found that between two thirds and three quarters of patients after coronary attacks have been able to return to gainful employment. The majority can often best return to prior jobs which they know well, sometimes with suggested modifications.

We see those who have had one, two and even three attacks get back to the job and do well for some years. Some have returned to seemingly quite strenuous jobs, even involving lifting of up to a hundred pounds and they have done very well.

It has not been at all an unusual experience to find patients markedly improving after return to work. In some cases angina previously present decreases or disappears. Getting away from home, being busy, and loss of anxiety over finances are factors which play an important role in this picture.

Heart attacks can and do recur, both with those who are working and those who are loafing, but it is our belief that the activity of work in itself very rarely is the responsible factor; indeed, moderate activity may well be a preventive factor. Actually the majority of heart attacks occur at rest in bed.

Above all, the patient after a coronary attack must not develop the attitude that "he is done." This attitude alone will, in fact, finish him faster than anything else. He must have confidence and hope for the future in spite of what may have occurred. For a specific example and inspiration he need only think of the case of our President.

EDITORIALS

New England is a wonderful area which, all too frequently, is taken for granted by New Englanders. Many companies and industries in the six states hide their shining light under the proverbial bushel instead of sounding a Yankee bugle call to signal the unmatched, abundant resources and achievements of all New England.

Like all progress, New England's advancement cannot come by itself. It must be promoted and it will continue only with concerted efforts by all facets of our society.

To that end, the Star is joining with scores of New England daily and weekly newspapers in an unusual cooperative effort to boost our region. Each month during the second half of 1959 the newspapers will publish an advertisement with the theme "The NEW New England" to inform our readers about the national importance of the region's leading industries.

The public service advertising campaign was prepared by The New England Council, regional economic organization, in cooperation with the New England Daily Newspaper Association and the New England Weekly Press Association.

Connecticut Governor Abraham A. Ribicoff, Chairman of the New England Governor's Conference, has issued the following statement:

"Your organizations are to be commended strongly for cooperating with The New England Council in promoting 'The NEW New England' advertising program.

"A program reminding the citizens of New England of the many positive aspects of the economy of the six-state area can have far-reaching benefits. This series should give New Englanders a better understanding of the importance of our industries, and I hope that other advertisements dealing with other aspects of the New England economy will be prepared.

"The Governors of the New England States salute the New England Council for initiating and preparing the advertisements, and we are grateful for the public service attitude shown by the New England Daily Newspaper Association and the New England Weekly Press Association."

The Star is proud to participate in promoting New England. But in the final analysis, each citizen must be a salesman for his community and state and the great region in which he lives.

Let's "talk up" New England. And while you are at it, sell yourself on your region — if you need to.

In a recent editorial the Fayetteville Observer of Fayetteville, N.C., commends the air conditioning of rooms at Fayetteville Senior High School so that 270 students can attend summer school. What the Observer is really happy about is the year-round use of its high school, and hopes to see the day when every school building in North Carolina is air conditioned and used twelve months in every year.

The Observer offers the year-round use of school buildings as the only way North Carolina can overcome its "dreadful educational handicap". With air-conditioning in every school and every school utilized to capacity twelve months of the year North Carolina can instruct more children in a shorter time with less outlay for real estate. Only the richer states, in the Observer's opinion, can afford to let their school buildings stand idle three months in the year.

There are many in the north who are commencing to wonder about idle school buildings. Some educators are already advocating longer school years as one way of meeting the complexities of modern education. In almost every community the school buildings are the most expensive item in the real estate budget. There are those who believe they should be kept in use.

Here in Winchester the town is sponsoring a summer school of high school grade which seems to have gotten away to a good start this year. We don't have air-conditioning, but then, we do not have North Carolina's weather! The point seems to be, as children increase in numbers, and educational theory demands more and more specialized types of instruction, with laboratories, work-rooms and shops, there is going to come a time when some cities and towns just can not spend any more on schools, particularly new school buildings.

It is all very well to say the community needs the new buildings, has to have them, if you will; but if the community goes bankrupt providing the buildings and has no funds to pay for competent teachers, the buildings are not going to be much good!

Year-round use of the existing school buildings may be the answer in some instances. We believe many communities as things are going will come to give this idea some pretty serious thought!

Last week's turnout of donors to give blood at the Red Cross Chapter headquarters for a Winchester boy about to undergo delicate heart surgery gave everybody a lift. Though the blood wanted was of a rare type there were several more prospective donors than were needed to supply the necessary amount, and some of them arrived at the Chapter house fully half an hour before the appointed time.

It takes response to an appeal such as this to keep your faith in human nature alive in the face of the selfishness and apathy so apparent everywhere today.

Urgent appeals for help of all kinds have generally found Winchester ready and eager to assist. Last week's blood giving would indicate that the habit is well fixed.

The decision of the Board of Appeals to deny permission to erect apartment houses on the Quigley property on Lake street was rendered strictly in conformance with the Zoning By-law which forbids such buildings to exceed two and one-half stories in height.

The Board did not find the proposed apartments would harm the neighborhood, or that apartments or apartment house districts are necessarily harmful. It felt simply it had no right to grant a variance from the laws of the town approved by the voters, no matter how desirable appeared the project that the variance would permit.

Most of those with whom the Star talked about the proposed apartments, or at least those acquainted with the working of the Zoning By-laws and the thinking of the Appeal Boards with regard to them, felt that the decision finally handed down by the Board on the Quigley petition was the only one it could make.

There are those who are disappointed that the apartments are not going to be built. Naturally there are those who are pleased with the denial of permission to erect them.

The Star has felt that the initial approach to the problem, as suggested by the Planning Board, of creating provisions for apartment house districts under our Zoning Laws is the proper one. Under such procedure it has seemed to us the town can retain any necessary control of such buildings by simply refusing to create such a district where the voters think it should not be.

Altering existing Zoning laws in special instances is always dangerous, and this most recent attempt to get the necessary permission to erect apartments on the Quigley land seemed doomed from the start. In many respects the proposed location seems ideal, the caliber of the parties interested in the project would seem to guarantee its character and the tax revenue which the proposed apartments are estimated to bring to the town would be most welcome. It will be interesting to see whether the proponents will make another try.

about the middle of April to the end of October each year, and at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The estimated cost of the building, given by the petitioner, is $7,000.

Strong opposition to granting the petition was voiced on the grounds that constructing a permanent farm stand would result in a substantial extension of the area in which business could be conducted, that it would further commercialize the neighborhood and increase the noise and traffic hazards and be detrimental to property values. Such developments, opponents claimed are contrary to the intent of the Zoning By-laws which limit the use of the area to single residence purposes.

In reply to a question, the petitioner told the Board that if permission is granted to erect the wanted building, he would not agree to discontinue sales elsewhere on the property, or give up any other rights granted by the court.

The petitioner also would not agree to discontinue sales elsewhere as a land taking for a once proposed roadway connecting Cambridge street and Johnson road involved the area of the proposed stand.

The petitioner also told the Board that if the petition to erect a farm stand were denied, signs advertising the products for sale might be extensively displayed along the front of the property.

The Board of Appeal in its decision points out that any such signs not in existence when the nonconforming use of the property was established in 1931 would have doubtful legality, and further points out that any use of the Mahoney property not in existence in 1931 might be equally hard to justify.

The Board in its decision gave as its opinion that the court in finding for the petitioner against the town did not give the petitioner "carte blanche", granting him permission to conduct his business in any manner he might desire.

Though the Board of Appeal, in granting the conditional permit to erect a permanent farm stand on the Mahoney property, at the spot indicated, did not feel such a building will adversely affect the health or safety of persons living in the neighborhood, or be detrimental to the public welfare, it is the unanimous opinion of the Board, so expressed in the decision, that without the discontinuance of sales at the other locations on the Mahoney property, the erection of the new stand would be injurious to the neighborhood and detrimental to the public welfare.

The Board also provided in the event of a taking by eminent domain for highway purposes of a portion of the petitioner's property at or near the location of the site in question, which would involve or interfere with the permanent operation of the store, permission is hereby incorporated in the conditional grant of this petition to move the permanent store or erect another similar to it as a valid continuing nonconforming use on the Mahoney property north of the area occupied by the Mahoney residences, provided all applicable requirements of the Zoning and Building By-laws of the town are complied with.

Permission to erect the building under the conditions specified by the Board of Appeal will expire if the store is not erected and in use within two years from June 5, 1959.

THE NEW NEW ENGLAND

It's BIGGER than you think

No, the artist didn't err in preparing this special map*. His objective was to illustrate the area of each state based on the value of its manufactured products.

Note New England's manufacturing strength in relation to the rest of the states. New England has only 1 1/2 per cent of the nation's land area and only 6 per cent of the total population, but it accounts for nearly 10 per cent of the country's manufacturing.

New plants in new fields are starting operations here practically every day. New England no longer is dependent upon only one or two major industries. Based on widely diversified products, our current economy is in excellent condition for the competitive future.

Playground Notes

Playground supervisor, Frank Provizano, is again suggesting to the parents that they send their youngsters to the various playgrounds to participate in the wholesome recreation program sponsored by the Park Department.

As previously mentioned, two fields are properly supervised each day on a rotation plan. These fields are West Side, Ginn Field, Loring and Leonard Fields. Having two fields open to the public on special days is an attempt to have more youngsters use the excellent facilities maintained at the fields. It was thought, perhaps, having all four fields open would be too much for the youngsters each day; so having two fields available was believed to bring more youngsters to the playgrounds every other day without their possessing the idea that they are receiving too much supervised activity. It is true that the attendance has been showing slight improvement; but on the other hand, it is definitely felt that many youngsters are not accepting this excellent opportunity to mingle with others in activities that could be highly enjoyed.

The above-mentioned playgrounds are excellent play sites. There are eager and interested playground instructors waiting for the youngsters to appear. The equipment on hand is second to none, and it is all there for them to use. It is difficult to understand why the boys and girls would rather play on the streets and in their driveways when they could move to the wide-open spaces and play more games with more persons participating.

As for the types of activities being offered by the instructors, these are croquet, badminton, kickball, dodgeball, softball, baseball, basketball, horseshoes, quoits, volleyball, story-telling group singing, jack stones, sand boxes, swings and arts and crafts. What's missing? The equipment is there, and if the youngsters wish to use it, all they have to do is mention it to the instructors. The equipment has been

Educators Met Here

PLANNING ACTION TO RELIEVE COLLEGE TEACHER SHORTAGE

An attack was begun this week on one of New England's most crucial educational problems when a group of prominent educators met in Winchester at the headquarters of the New England Board of Higher Education.

Planning a series of studies, conferences and research on the problems of providing enough teachers for the region's colleges was the main purpose of this first meeting.

Directing the new College Teacher Program, which is sponsored by NEBHE and supported by a $70,500 grant from the Carnegie Corporation, is Dr. John W. Gustad, Dr. Gustad, a visiting professor at Harvard this summer, will be on leave next year from the University of Maryland where he is a professor of psychology.

Serving on the program's Advisory Committee are nine New England college educators and administrators. They include: Dr. Samuel N. Bogard, University of Vermont; Professor Theodore Braum, Boston University School of Education; President Victor L. Butterfield of Wesleyan University; Dean William C. De Vane of Yale; Dean Charles F. Donovan, Boston College School of Education; Dean J. Peterson Elder, Harvard University Graduate School; Dean R. Bruce Lindsay, Brown University Graduate School; Provost Shannon McCune of the University of Massachusetts and Dean N. L. Whetten of the University of Connecticut Graduate School.

The program will focus on problems of recruitment, preparation, orientation and retention of college teachers. It will sponsor a series of conferences involving representatives of all 89 accredited four-year colleges in the region as well as a number of faculty research grants to be carried out on N. E. college campuses during the coming year.

Dr. Gustad, who received the Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Minnesota, is a former director of the Southern Regional Education Board's project on the Choice of College Teaching as a Career. He is a member of the Committee on College Teaching of the American Council of Education.

The New England Board, an agency of the six states, was established to increase and improve opportunities in higher education for youth of the region through research and regional cooperation.

Town Softball

The Town Softball League has come to a close with the teams finally ending in this order:

Shamrocks (Kiwamis), with Mike Callahan as manager

Elks, with Mitchie Mawn as manager

Sons of Italy, with Hokie Procopio as manager

Veterans of Foreign Wars, with Wick Carroll managing

Sachems (Preston's Shell), with Dick De Minico managing

Calidyne, with Bob Gallo as manager

Knights of Columbus, with Henry Quill as manager

The first four teams were in the semi-finals as this article was printed, with the Shamrocks playing the Sons of Italy, and the Elks and VFW competing against each other in a two-out-of-three series, with the winners paired against each other for the championship and beautiful trophy. These finals are to be played at Leonard Field starting at 6:15 p. m. The first game will be played next Monday and every night thereafter until the championship team is crowned.

The Elks were hosts to the VFW this past Monday at West Side Field, with the VFW leaving the playing site with a 14-7 victory. The actual account of the game cannot be printed because the official score and his notes were not available after the game.

On Tuesday evening these same two teams met at Leonard Field and the VFW eliminated the Elks with a close 4-3 score. The Vets were first to score in this encounter with one run in the second inning when Dilorio doubled and tallied on Joeko Serieka's single. The Elks came back in the third frame to tie it up when Fields singled, Lou Farrell sacrificed and Paul McManus singled in a run.

The score came out one all until the fifth inning when the Elks took the lead by two runs to make it 3-1. Patterson opened the frame by reaching first on a walk, Smith singled and Patterson scored on Johnny Farrell's single, with Smith moving to third. Ken Donaghy then walked and Don Kenton hit safely to score Smith, Trailing 3-1. The Vets came back in the last of the sixth to cross the plate three times. Tom Cogan started the rally by walking, John Dilorio doubled and with men on second and third, Archie MacDonald stepped to the plate to meet one of Smith's pitches to drive it to left center, the ball going by the fielders and all three men crossing the plate, making the score 4-3 in favor of the Vets. The Elks were held hitless and scoreless in the last inning. Now the Vets are patiently waiting to take on the winners of the Sons of Italy and Shamrock series.

The Sons and the Shamrocks met in their initial contest on Tuesday evening and the Sons won this one 7-4. The game went scoreless for the first three innings. Then in the fourth the Sons got five big runs. Fiore walked to start the frame went to second on Berardi's single and both then advanced on Ciarra's single. Fiore tallied the first run when Cammarata hit safely with bases still loaded. Merendi fled out to left and John Flaherty singled to score Berardi and Ciarra. Flaherty moved to second on the throw to the plate. Moose Bellino fled out to second and Brooks connected safely to score Cammarata and Flaherty with the fourth and fifth runs.

In the last half of the same inning, the Shamrocks came back to score twice to make it 5-2 in favor of the S. O. I. Quentin Roberts led off in this inning by flying out to second, Jim Gibbons then singled and reached third on McMahon's fly out. McMahon then stole second and both men tallied on Kimball's single.

Both teams played hitless and errorless ball in the fifth. The Sons went down in order in the sixth but the Shamrocks came back for two more runs to make the score now read 5-4 in favor of the S. O. I. Hardy opened the sixth for the Shamrocks with a single. Quentin Roberts was walked, Gibbons then fled out to right center with both Hardy and Roberts advancing; a base on the throw to third after he catch. McMahon then grounded out short to first and Kimball singled to tally Hardy and Roberts before Bob Gray fled out to center for the final out of the inning.

When the S. O. I. came up for their last bats in the final frame they scored two runs. Brooks and Amico reached on singles and both scored on Bill Fiore's double to center. Berardi, Cammarata and Merendi then went out in order, but the S. O. I. now led 7-4. It looked like the Shamrocks were starting a rally in the last half of the last inning when Mike Callahan and Jim McElholm both singled as the first two batters, John Chapin stepped to the plate but fled out to first in foul territory. Hardy then grounded to deep short but Moose Bellino made a beautiful stab for the ball and threw to first in time for the out. Callahan and McElholm advanced to second and third, and with one more out to go to end the game. Quentin Roberts fled out to deep center. For a moment it looked like it might be the clincher but Angie Amico pressed hard to get under it and he tucked it away to give the S. O. I. the first step toward meeting the VFW in the finals next week.

Remember the finals will be held at Leonard Field starting next Monday evening at 6:15. Be there to see some good players in good action. There will be a game each evening (all at Leonard) starting at 6:15 until the new champion team is decided.

Winchester Babe Ruthers Won Thriller from Malden

A capacity crowd of 400 rooters chanced the threatening weather last Sunday at Manchester Field and were well rewarded with one of the most thrilling baseball games in recent Babe Ruth experience.

Behind the superb two-hit pitching of Jack Brenner, Winchester's Babe Ruth All Stars, after spotting a classy Malden Club an unearned run in the first inning, demonstrated true championship form and cashed in on the long-awaited breaks in an electrifying sixth inning.

Malden tallied in the first inning when a Winchester overthrow allowed a runner to reach second. A sharp single to center by first baseman Roberts scored the run.

From that point on the fans were treated to a masterful pitching duel between Winchester's Jack Brenner, who rolled up eleven strikeouts, and Malden's Culletton, who yielded only two hits. Until the sixth inning, the only hit Winchester could collect was a single by the third by centerfielder Tom Mooney.

When Winchester came to bat in the sixth, Malden's lone tally was beginning to look woefully big. Pitcher Jack Brenner, however, was not disposed to let this one get away from him and immediately took charge by slashing a lead-off single to right field.

Jim Flaherty sacrificed Brenner to second and Paul Mulloy hit a fly ball to short left field which was dropped when the left fielder and shortstop collided. Mike Bellino bounced a grounder back to the pitcher which enabled the runners to advance.

George Neville drew an intentional base on balls which loaded the sacks with two outs, and brought back Brenner to bat in this hopeful situation. With a count of two strikes on the batter, the pitcher uncorked a wild pitch and Brenner was able to score the tying run from third, with Mulloy and Neville advancing. On the next pitch Franson connected for a spinning grounder to third which eluded the fielder and tallied Mulloy with what proved to be the winning run.

The game was studded with sparkling defensive play by both clubs.

Winchester now advances to the second game of the district playoffs which is scheduled for Saturday, July 18. Winchester will play Woburn Nationals in what promises to be another exciting contest between traditional rivals. The summary:

Winchester Business for More Than 50 Years

Central Hardware on

Mt. Vernon Street Changes Hands

The announcement in last week's Star that the Central Hardware on Mt. Vernon street, a Winchester institution for more than half a century, had finally changed hands brought to many nostalgic memories of the old days when the former proprietor, Joseph M. Donahue, started a modest hardware store in Winchester in 1907 in the old building on the westerly side of Main street beside the river at the site of the present Locatelli Building.

The building was owned by Jim Burns and the store occupied by the Central Hardware was the one nearest to the river. Mr. Donahue paid the princely sum of $15 monthly for its use.

Money went further in those days, though there was not so much of it! You could buy a useable jack-knife from "Joe" for a dime and a deluxe model for a quarter. A dime would buy you a "shiny" stick of sorts and you could get your skates sharpened for ten cents, buy a "junior league" baseball for a quarter and a glove for from 25c to $1.00 according to your financial standing of the moment. Hardware prices seem less fixed in our mind for at the time our concern was less with building and home appliances than with sports!

For all his low rent, "Joe" stayed in the Burns building only a year, before moving to 15 Mt. Vernon street and establishing himself in the quarters now occupied by the Ames Store. There was little change in the merchandise carried at the Central Hardware in its new location, and no change in its business policy. "Joe" carried good stuff and a lot of it, which he was always ready to back with his reputation.

After 20 years in that location Joe made his final move, buying the building at 46 to 48 Mt. Vernon street that in the "old days" had housed the grocery store of J. C. Adams and later held a restaurant and an automobile battery shop. "Joe" had more room in the new store and could handle more new goods. He always continued to stock the old staples, and hardware items that could not be found elsewhere. He would produce from his huge and varied stock with the greatest ease. If Central didn't have it you were pretty much out of luck, and you could also get good advice from "Joe" on anything from lock nuts to weatherstrips, boat enamel or lamp chimneys. "Joe" has stoutly resisted all efforts to modernize his store with its big and widely varied stocks of the old and new. He liked the store as it was and claimed his customers did, too. The fact that three generations of townspeople made Central their headquarters for hardware lent weight to his contention.

Joe knows his Winchester. He was born here on Cedar street October 1, 1877, the son of John and Annie (McNulty) Donahue, and he spent virtually all his life in this town. His father died when he was fourteen and he had to leave school to augment the family income.

He carried papers and did all sorts of odd jobs until 1898, when he got a job with the then Nutter & Barnes Machine Shop on Atlantic Avenue in Boston. While learning the machinist's trade he dreamed of his own hardware store in Winchester, and on March 1, 1907, his dream came true as he opened his new establishment in Jim Burns' old building on Main street by the river.

In his 82nd year, Mr. Donahue has continued actively engaged in business and it will be good news to his patrons and many friends that the purchasers of his business are having him stay on at the store. He will be about the only familiar note in the new establishment, for the new owners plan a complete renovating and remodeling job which will include a new store front, exterior cleanup and new customers' entrance directly from the public parking lot at the rear of the fire station.

The new owners, a corporation, in which Attorney Leo F. Garvey has an active interest, plans to use the whole of the building for an enlarged business, using the second floor, now given over to apartments, for an enterprise allied with the hardware store, and taking over the third floor for necessary storage.

When completed the new store will be among the best establishments of its kind hereabouts.

PHILLIP GANGE

G. E. Promotion For Gange

Phillip Gange of Winchester has been appointed manager of facilities and maintenance at General Electric's iron and steel foundries in Everett, according to an announcement last week by Plant Manager Edwin S. Lawrence.

In his new assignment, Mr. Gange assumes responsibility for the development, modification and upkeep of plant facilities and for the maintenance of all machine tools and equipment in the Everett Foundries. The Everett facility is the largest and one of the most modern in New England.

Mr. Gange is a native of Woburn, having graduated from the Woburn public schools. He later received degrees from Franklin Tech. and Wentworth Institute.

News of Scout Roundup

Now that the Winchester-Reading patrol has been at the Girl Scout Senior Roundup for a week, we have become accustomed to the changeable Colorado climate. Camping in the shadow of Pike's Peak we experience all kinds of weather including sun, gusty wind, and sudden hail storms.

The past days have been so filled with new sights and activities that it's hard to know where to begin. Tuesday all of section 3 (the camp of 8,000 girls, which is divided into six sections) went on a tour of the Air Force Academy and the Garden of the Gods. Although we did not get out at the Academy we were able to see quite a bit of it. At the Garden of the Gods we walked around and looked at the huge sandstone rocks.

The tour ended with a delicious lunch at the "Flying W" Ranch. There we were entertained by a real cowboy singing group.

We spent a lot of time meeting girls from all over the world and swapping with them small tokens of our part of the country. We also spent time watching demonstrations, square dancing and singing.

We are all finding the '59 Roundup to be the experience of a lifetime.

McCarthy - Krog

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Immaculate Conception Church, Jamaica Estates, Long Island, N. Y., on Saturday, June 13, when Miss Barbara Carol Krog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krog of Jamaica Estates, became the bride of Dr. Hugh Francis McCarthy of 84 Sheridan Circle. The Rev. Stephen E. Burke of the Immaculate Conception Church in Winchester, a close friend of the bridegroom, performed the marriage ceremony, and celebrated the Nuptial Mass, at which Howard Hackett of Winchester, cousin of the bridegroom, served as altar boy. A reception was held at the Swan Club, Glenwood Landing, Long Island.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of white silk organza, applied at the neckline with hand-clipped re-embroidered imported Alencon lace with insets of silk organza rosebuds outlined with seed pearls. Her bouffant skirt, ending in a chapel train, was also appliqued with imported Alencon lace and her three tiered fingertip length veil of French illusion was held in place by a crown of traditional orange blossoms. She carried a bridal misal covered with satin and lace topped with a double orchid bouquet and a cascade of white roses and satin streamers.

Miss Mary Patricia Krog of Jamaica Estates, was her sister's honor maid, and the bridesmaids, all nurses in New York hospitals, were Patricia Ann O'Leary, Vivian Bernadette Caputo, Marilyn Louise Mallahy and Eugenia Mary Gluck. All the bridal attendants wore princess style full length dresses of pale pink tissue tulle with draped necklines and matching silk shoes. Their headpieces were matching pink crowns topped with scalloped tulle and the honor maid carried a cascade bouquet of deep pink roses and heavenly blue delphinium. The bridesmaids' bouquets combined light pink roses and delphinium.

Charles Emmett McCarthy was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Brian Dennis McCarthy, brother of the bridegroom; Paul Keane of Milton, Dr. Edward Sirois of Reading, Dr. Alan Heck of New York, Dr. Paul McLenn of Belmont, and Dr. Richard McCarthy of Jamaica Plain, Master Denis Michael O'Donnell of Woburn, a cousin and godchild of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

After a honeymoon on Cape Cod Dr. and Mrs. McCarthy are now at home at 7 Benham street in Worcester.

The bride is a graduate of St. John's Hospital School of Nursing and is a registered nurse. Dr. Mc-Carthy graduated from Boston College in 1952 and from New York Medical College in 1959. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternity.

Fred Mitchell Starts 49th Year as Local Barber

Fred S. Mitchell, who operates Mitchell's Barber Shop at 4 Thompson street, is starting his 49th year as a barber in Winchester. The Barber Shop has been at its present location for about 20 years.

Starting as a barber with the late B. F. Mathews in the barber shop which was located where the present Winchester Drug Co. is now, Mr. Mitchell has been cutting the hair of Winchester men since 1910. Since that date there have been many changes in the square.

The Barber Shop moved next to 8 Thompson street and remained there for about ten years before finally moving to its present location at 4 Thompson street, near the Main street corner. During the time it was at its second location Mr. Mathews died and Mr. Mitchell took over the business.

Throughout the past 25 years he has been assisted by Louis Goodell of Melrose, who is the second barber at the shop.

Specializing in children's hair cutting as well as adult haircuts, Mr. Mitchell has had the pleasure of barbering several generations of Winchester males. Since Mr. Mitchell is the oldest barber here he has had ample opportunity to develop a regular family business with grandfather, father and sons all coming to his shop.

Born in Scotland, Mr. Mitchell came over to the United States when he was 19 years old. He started cutting hair when he was 11 years old and he worked in Newburyport, Haverhill and Amesbury before coming to Winchester in 1910. A friend of his from Scotland, MITCHELL'S, cont. on page 12

At 10 Winchester place are located the workshop and one-of-a-kind room and a small gift room. On hand to welcome you are the partners of the firm, William Mason, Leonard C. Field and Mark Allen. Each year they try to surpass the high standards of originality and workmanship which they have set for themselves.

Featured at the Nantucket shop is jewelry made of polished Nantucket Beach stones. Many pieces are beautifully set in gold and even more are the popular sterling silver bracelets and necklaces. There is also a large selection of charms.

Macefield's features one-of-a-kind designs in 14 karat gold and sterling silver. The gems they use are unusual and the re-setting of diamonds is a specialty. All their jewelry is hand wrought.

It was taken over by the McCormack family in 1937. Henry McCormack was the first owner and he operated it with his brothers, Fred and Richard, until 1940, when they joined the Navy. In 1947 Fred McCormack was released from the Navy and he acquired the store from his brother. Henry now runs a store in Billerica and Richard has one in Hudson; both stores are called McCormack's.

Fred McCormack is well known in Winchester, where he was born and brought up. He is a graduate of the Winchester schools and lives at 7 Copley street with his wife, the former Rita O'Callaghan, and their six children. Mr. McCormack is an active member of the Winchester Lodge of Elks, the local Knights of Columbus group and of the Winchester Rotary Club. He also is a member of several state and county pharmaceutical organizations.

Actively interested in town affairs, Mr. McCormack is on the nominating committee of the Winchester Hospital, a member of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation and a hard worker on several charity drives. The Victory Dance, which is traditionally held after the Woburn-Winchester football game on Thanksgiving Day, was founded by Mr. McCormack and he has personally conducted it since 1937. All proceeds of the dance go to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

Associated with Mr. McCormack are two full-time pharmacists. George Butler of 309 Main street came to McCormack's from the pharmacy of the Massachusetts General Hospital in 1939 and has been chief pharmacist at the local drug store ever since. Well known in town, Mr. Butler has a ready smile and an equally ready willingness to help serve the store's patrons. The second pharmacist is James P. O'Brien of 27 Governors avenue. A veteran of many years of pharmacy experience, Mr. O'Brien formerly owned his own drug store in Somerville.

Miss Elizabeth Garden is supervisor of the fountain and cosmetic department at McCormack's. John Madden is back again as the delivery boy. His cheerful personality was missed when he took a leave of absence because of illness.

Besides the regular help McCormack's hires a group of local high school boys to man the store afternoons and weekends. Nearly all of the boys who have worked in this capacity have gone on to college and in some cases this work has been a definite factor in their being able to attend college.

McCormack's is a very well-stocked store, carries an extensive line of pharmaceuticals and receives shipment of all new drugs automatically when they come on the market. A civic-minded store, McCormack's is always ready to help Winchester people and groups.

Macefield's Shop

Many pieces of jewelry are designed to order. They study an old piece of jewelry and then combine the stones appropriately into new items such as rings, pins and earrings. Rough sketches are drawn and then two or three designs are selected as the best and these are drawn up in full color so that the customer can select the design he prefers.

This service allows for a true variety of jewelry. Designs vary from the conservative to the extreme, including primitive, classic and contemporary selections.

The selected drawing is kept on file at the shop for further reference for matching pieces or for reminders. The design is exclusively its owners and is not made again without his request.

In the gift room are pieces both decorative and utilitarian. The shops' owners choose carefully at gift shows and select only items which are attractive designwise and qualitywise.

Visit the shop in the fall and see for yourself.

A Winchester man was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction July 6 in the Woburn District Court on a non-support charge. Police say they had been looking for the man for two years when he was picked up at his home by Officers Andrew Crawford and James Flaherty. He told the police he had been suffering with a foot infection and had come home hoping to affect a cure.

"Middle East Maelstrom" Interesting Book

With world-wide attention now being focused on the explosive Middle East, Robert Paolucci's little book, "Middle East Maelstrom," is both timely and interesting, combining the factual with the humorous and telling something of the customs, language and tradition behind the people who live in this interesting part of the world.

The author, Mr. Paolucci, lives in Quincy, was graduated from Don Bosco College in Newton, N. J., magna cum laude, with the degree of A.B. in philosophy and humanities. He taught from 1956 to 1958 at the Italian-Lebanese School in Beirut, to which he will shortly return to study at St. Joseph's University.

His book recounts the experiences of an American school teacher among Arabs and brings to life the colorful atmosphere of Lebanon, particularly the capital city of Beirut. The author doubles as illustrator of the book and his clever black-and-white sketches are very amusing.

While "Middle East Maelstrom" was being written the rebellion of last year was in progress, the loyalist garrison in Beirut was besieged and the school where the author taught was struck with bullets.

Mr. Paolucci's book covers a wide gamut of customs and events, automobile driving that seems, as he tells it, even worse than ours. At least fathers in this country do not make a practice of breaking windows in cars with stones after their progeny has aimed and missed.

Nearly 1,000 Lebanese Arabs die each year as victims of the 45,000 automobiles in circulation in Beirut. No matter what the motor mishap the answer seems always the same, "Maalsh" (it doesn't matter!).

In part "Middle East Maelstrom" covers food and eating customs of the country, language, social amenities, sports events (boxing competitors would seem to take their lives in their hands), the strong arm of the law (a Lebanese soldier is a cross between a soldier and policeman), Lebanese justice, and Lebanese work philosophy.

Perhaps the Lebanese approach to work is best indicated by Mr. Paolucci's story of a mill foreman who asked two laborers walking along the road, single file, why they were not working.

"We're working, ya Bey. Maalsh!" protested the laborers, "We're carrying this plank up to the mill."

"What plank? I don't see any plank."

"Ya haram, Mohammed! We forgot all about the plank!" Publication date for "Middle East Maelstrom," a small book of

YOUNGSTERS HONORED BY GOVERNOR

Governor Foster Furcolo, in an impressive ceremony held in his office, awards the Governor's Medal for Bravery to Ellen Sullivan, 16, of Needham, and Charles Sayle, Jr., 16, of Nantucket. The two teenagers are the Bay State finalists for the national award of Young American Medal for Bravery, created by Congress in 1950. Ellen, last Christmas Eve, rescued infant Michael Strong from the flames and debris of the house next door which had been levelled by an explosion. Charles saved young Teddy Chambers from drowning after the young boy, who could not swim, had been carried overboard from a moving trawler when he became entangled in a hawser line which broke his leg.

Mr. Mitchell lives with his wife at 13 Winchester place. They have raised two sons of their nephew since the boys' mother died. The boys, John Mitchell, 15, and David Mitchell, 14, attended the Winchester schools and are now students at Thompson academy at Thompson Island. Their father is a sea captain on the U.S.N.S. ### Woman Hits Light Pole, Mail Box Police Officer Robert Baird investigated an automobile accident Tuesday morning at the intersection of Main street and Sheridan circle.

The car was owned and operated by Germain M. O'Brien of 84 Partridge avenue, Somerville. The car had hit an Edison pole and a U.S. mail box.

Miss O'Brien fell out of the car and she was taken to the Winchester Hospital by the police.

S.O.I. Seeks "Mass Participation"

For the first time in the 54-year history of the Order Sons of Italy in America, the organization will inaugurate a "mass participation" program calling on members throughout the United States and Canada to attend the August 20-24 supreme convention in Boston.

Supreme Venerable Joseph Gorasi, Woburn, has advanced the program since his election at the 1957 supreme convention held in San Francisco.

During the past two years the program has taken hold and several hundred members have attended supreme council meetings held at Boston, Washington, D.C. and Toronto, Ontario.

It is expected that more than 400 members exclusive of national delegates and their families, will attend the five-day convocation to be held at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel.

The Sons of Italy, with more than 100,000 members representing over 200 lodges in 44 states and Canada, is the largest fraternal organization of Italian-Americans in North America.

The national organization has 21 Grand Lodges, state organizations, in the following states and Canadian provinces: Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Sales Days in Woburn

Mid-summer bargains, the likes of which one seldom sees these days will be available in Woburn, during Woburn Sales Days, July 16, 17 and 18th.

The annual "Woburn Sales Days" will once again be featured by the merchants of the city, sponsored by the Retail Division of the Woburn Chamber of Commerce.

The residents of this area are invited to participate in the annual sales program, and take advantage of the many, many money saving bargains.

The sales will start on Thursday morning at 9:30, July 16th and will end at 5:30 Saturday afternoon July 18th.

The participating stores will have banners displayed in the window and throughout the store, heralding "Woburn Sales Days".

Kelly, partner in Winchester's Pacific Coast Lumber Co., 540 Main street, have left Winchester for two weeks active duty at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Fort Sill is the headquarters of the United States Army Artillery and Missile School.

Lt. Col. Stewart is head of the Artillery Department in the Boston Army Base 1030th Reserve Officers School. He has been its director for the past five years, planning, supervising and helping instruct artillery in both the Battery Officers Course and the Advanced Officers Course.

Major Kelly has been the Battery Officers Course instructor for several years, and his wide experience in and out of combat has helped him establish an enviable reputation for artillery instruction.

While at Fort Sill, Lt. Col. Stewart and Major Kelly will be instructing in field firing, tactics, and other phases of artillery.

Notes on Little League

Last Friday evening, July 10, at West Side Field the Reds, first half winners, met the Athletics, second half winners, in the rubber game for the American League championship, the Reds having won the first game 3-2, and the Athletics the second, 10-0.

Excellent baseball was played by both teams, with one eye on the ball and one on the darkening skies, hoping to get the game in before the predicted rain.

The weatherman gave us all a break and the game was completed with the Reds, managed by Neal Doherty and coached by Walter Cuff shutting out the Athletics, managed by Hal Lewis and coached by Arky Amico, by the score of 5-0.

It was a fine game and wrapped up the 1959 season.

Monday July 13, practice will begin for the American League All Stars, who will be managed by Neal Doherty, in preparation for their game with the National League All Stars managed by Art Johns, at West Side Field, Saturday July 25 at 2:00 p.m.

Remember the date and come and root for the team of your choice. They will put on a real game for you.

New Movie on Billerica H. of C. at Sheriffs' Meeting

A new movie filmed on location at the Billerica House of Correction was premiered before the national meeting of the Sheriff's Association in Milwaukee which started July 13th.

John F. Brocklesby, Deputy Master of the Billerica institution introduced the movie, called "Second Chance" with a review of current rehabilitation methods.

"Second Chance" covers the life of a typical inmate at the House of Correction exploring the many avenues of rehabilitation that are open to an inmate. His day-to-day life in the local institution shows the opportunities for self-correction that are gradually presented to the inmate. If the opportunities are taken, the movie points out, his sentence is reduced by parole and he is returned to society as a useful member.

"Humane, but just treatment with hope in the future, could be the theme of this movie," said Sheriff Howard W. Fitzpatrick whom Mr. Brocklesby represented in Milwaukee. Mr. Fitzpatrick, High Sheriff of Middlesex County, also stated, "Even though the movie's emphasis is on rehabilitation, we also expect it to be a strong message for juveniles because it presents a graphic picture of a local penal institution."

"Second Chance" is a twenty-seven minute color movie filmed by a group of volunteers under the technical supervision of Gilbert Studio in Lowell. All scenes were photographed at the Billerica House of Correction using amateur actors for "inmates".

The Sheriff's Association is a national organization of law enforcement officers who held their annual meeting from July 13 through July 15 in Milwaukee. The new movie was shown to the Sheriffs by Mr. Brocklesby on Tuesday, July 14.

Dunster Lane Resident Chased by Young Man

A resident of Dunster Lane called the police Friday to report that his wife had been chased by a young man as she walked along the street in the area. The lady was on her way home from a visit to a friend's home when she was chased by the man.

She walked by a parked car on Dunster Lane where a young man was changing a tire. After passing the car she heard a noise and found the man was behind her.

Since she was unable to describe either the car or the man, police efforts were hampered.

Science Museum Gets Model Heart from Heart Assn.

The Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association will present a unique "model heart" of giant proportions to the Museum of Science for exhibit in its proposed Hall of Man, Medicine and Public Health, it was announced today.

With the "transparent woman" presented to the Museum in 1956 by the Chapter, the exhibit will lead to a more complete understanding of the heart and circulation. The heart will "pulse" and a heartbeat will be heard as the motion of the cardiac muscle is reproduced—but it will be the result of a highly ingenious optical illusion.

For the heart will actually be a color transparency, viewed through manipulated lenses.

The lenses and prisms involved in the exhibit will be made of plastic, and will weigh 150 pounds, with portions manipulated mechanically to reproduce the heart's action. Prisms in the rear of the lens will distort the original picture to give the appearance of rhythmic pulsation.

The exhibit was created and will be built in Hollywood, California, by George Musaphia, Boston native, of Lafayette, California. A former director of special effects for major motion picture studios, Mr. Musaphia is temporarily residing at 24 Belmont street, Newton.

Living With Your Heart

"Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Years ago, a heart attack usually spelled economic disaster for a farmer.

Today, it isn't necessarily so.

American Heart Association studies in the Iowa corn belt have shown that a great many farmers who have recovered from a heart attack can keep on farming.

There are, of course, several "ifs" in this situation. First, the doctor must agree that the farmer is capable of resuming limited activity; more often than not, it is likely that he will.

After that, a great deal depends upon the farmer himself. He must learn to use his head instead of his hands, as much as possible, for farming is a highly strenuous activity at certain peak periods.

Although most farm jobs fall into the range of moderate work, some are just too demanding for a cardiac, for instance, working on ladders, opening and closing heavy gates and doors, carrying large loads. With proper planning, much of this can be delegated to others.

Every possible labor-saving device should be employed, and in this connection the county agricultural agent can be the farmer's best friend. He knows a great many labor-saving shortcuts which do not necessarily involve heavy expense.

The cardiac farmer's first concern should be to re-evaluate his operation and cut out any unessential enterprises which tend to make him spread himself too thin.

Most farmers are well aware of their physical capacities, which depend upon age, body build, experience, weather, and attitude. These capacities should be used at a lower rate after a heart attack. At any time of the year this will mean taking frequent short rest breaks rather than a few long ones, working slowly, avoiding long work days, refusing to fight self-set deadlines, and avoiding emotional stress as far as possible. If shortness of breath or chest pain occur, the farmer is working too long, too hard, too fast, or perhaps all three. New jobs should be started slowly, giving oneself plenty of time to adjust, and as much of the work as possible should be scheduled for cooler times of day.

The heat of summer, according to the American Heart Association, brings a tricky time for the cardiac farmer. Heat, both external, such as the sun and hot engines, and internal, metabolic heat, produce stress which places heavy demands on the heart.

To avoid this, keep down the weight, begin the day's work gradually and early, use such aids as sunshades and power steering on tractors, and dress and eat properly.

Fashion for the cardiac farmer in the summer's heat decrees moderately thick, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing which can absorb perspiration. A light-colored helmet lined with aluminum foil and with space between the head and helmet for air circulation is important. In the shade, lighter clothes and a loose-fitting peaked cap are suitable.

During the day, eat light meals with foods abundant in water, such as fruits and salads, to encourage free perspiration. Avoid starches. And remember, you lose a quart of water an hour doing farm work in the sun. Replace it. Unless your physician recommends a low-sodium diet, salt your food more heavily than usual.

The greatest heat of the day comes between 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. This is the time to heed the injunction about "mad dogs and Englishmen" and get out of the noonday sun. And any time the mercury approaches 90, the cardiac farmer should consider it an automatic red flag, and get out of it.

Even with these prohibitions and precautions, successful farming is possible. With intelligent planning, a doctor's advice, and the help of agricultural agents, the cardiac farmer's future is brighter than ever before.

(For more information on this subject write Heart Headquarters, 650 Beacon street, Boston.)

Bad Checks Passed in Two Local Stores on Saturday

An unknown woman successfully passed two bad checks in Winchester stores last Saturday and unsuccessfully attempted to cash one Friday night in a third store. The woman, who has not been apprehended as yet, also passed bad checks in Woburn and Stoneham.

The police received notification via teletype from Stoneham Saturday that a woman had cashed bad checks in some Stoneham stores. The message alerted the police in the area that she was around here. The police notified the local stores but the notification came too late. The checks she cashed were for $50 each. She seemed to know the local merchants and gave a non-existent Church street address. The police have a full description of the woman which was furnished by the teletype message.

Just a short time ago a man was apprehended in a local store after passing a bad $25 check here. This man was wanted in several other communities on the same charge and was taken to Woburn District Court where he received a three-months' sentence.

Water Test Shows Town's Swimming Areas Excellent

The state tests the water in each of the two town swimming areas every Monday and the results last week reported that Winchester's swimming areas contain some of the purest water in the state.

The samples of water were taken from Palmer Beach and Leonard Pool. Both areas are maintained by the Park Department for the enjoyment of Winchester residents.

Stolen Car Located on Winthrop Street

Sgt. Irving Reardon notified Mr. Campo that his car was in Winchester. Mr. Campo said that the car had been stolen.

Tennis Tournament

The Winchester Tennis Association plays host to outstanding New England tennis players Friday, July 31 in the second annual Mystic Valley Junior Veterans' Championships at William Packer Courts. Play in the Junior Veterans' classification is open to men of 35 years and over and competition in this division has been lively since its formation in 1957. Sponsored by the Winchester Tennis Association for the first time in 1958, the Mystic Valley proved to be a popular tournament and is expected to draw a strong field again this year.

Tournament chairman is Art Hills, assisted by Adolph Alla, Thomas Raleigh and Robert Joslin. The committee has already received inquiries or entries from all of the six New England states and well-balanced regional representation in the competition is assured. Defending champion in the singles is the doughty Bill Power of Worcester, possessor of a weighty forehead and fine drop shot, which have been employed to confound the opposition in tournaments throughout Bill's career. He will be opposed every step of the way by capable players, but remains the favorite on his past record and present season's form.

In the doubles, Art Hills and Bob Joslin, the holders, will be hard-pressed by a quality field with a battle royal in prospect.

Features of the tournament will be a cookout Saturday evening for participants and wives and a consolation doubles event which will be held this year for the first time. The latter event will be open to preliminary and first round losers and will provoke heated competition, particularly when the winners' prizes go on view.

Competition in the singles starts at 4 p.m. Friday afternoon with doubles to get under way at 9:30 Saturday morning, August 1.

Newsy Paragraphs

Mrs. Homer Davidson of Park avenue, returned home last Saturday from the Winchester Hospital where she had been undergoing treatment for head injuries and a broken collar bone sustained in a fall at her home. She was able to answer the Star's call this morning and report that she is much better and getting along nicely.

A slight case of mistaken identity occurred in the Star's picture of the blood giving at the Red Cross Chapter House for Tommy Lindberg. The donor we said was Henry Kiley turned out to be Richard Lawrence. Both gave blood. "We wasn't all our fault, gentlemen, but we are sorry!"

Mrs. Howard J. Chidley wife of the emeritus minister of the First Congregational Church, returned last Friday to her home, Grey Rocks on Myopia Hill, after five weeks at the Winchester Hospital, following a heart attack.

Mrs. Reginald Bradlee of Ledgewood is reported as recovering nicely from a major operation performed Monday at the Addison Gilbert Hospital in Gloucester. The many friends of "Jim" McGrath, Woburn travel agent and popular Rotarian, will be pleased to learn that he was reported Wednesday as resting comfortably after his operation of the previous week. It is expected that he can return home the end of this week or the first of next week.

Fruit and Flower Mission

Mrs. Bernard Hanley, 1 Lakeview road, has been Fruit and Flower chairman for St. Mary's Church these last two Tuesdays. She has been responsible for seeing that the hampers are well filled with all kinds of flowers, greens, homemade cookies, fruit and tea bags.

Rev. Charles Engvall, minister of the Methodist Unitarian Church, drives to the South End Settlement House in Boston with the flowers each week. There, a group of neighborhood women tie the flowers into bouquets, and sort the cookies and fruit for distribution to hospital patients and shut-ins. This is a social activity to which they all look forward.

If you have flowers to be collected, please call the chairman of the week, listed under the Coming Events column; Mrs. Joseph Puffer, PA 9-3683; or Mrs. James Joslin, PA 9-0088.

He wears the diamond-studded gold 50-year service pin of the B. & M. and he and his wife have lifetime passes on both the Boston & Maine and Maine Central Railroad.

10-Year-Old Vance Olson Falls from 75-ft. Cliff

Ten-year-old Vance Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Olson of 122 Wendell street, was badly injured Tuesday afternoon when he fell from a cliff at the Winchester Crushed Stone quarry on the Winchester-Woburn line. The boy was picking blueberries.

Evidently four children went out picking blueberries on Blueberry Mountain off Garfield avenue Woburn. With Vance were his 12-year-old sister, Edwina; Catherine Lord, age 12, of Sheridan Circle, and Joseph Droecker, age 10, of 112 Wendell street. The boys were separated from the girls and as they were coming back down the path near the brink of the cliff, Vance's pail fell from his hand and rolled over the cliff. He went to the edge to see where it was and either slipped or fell over, landing on rocks below. The cliff at this point was about 75 feet high.

The boy was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital by the Woburn police after a very difficult and delicate removal from the quarry floor. He was treated by Dr. Vincent DiRago and then sent to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where specialists were available.

He underwent two operations at Mass. General and his name was placed on the danger list there. He suffered a fractured skull and a depressed and fractured leg in addition to multiple and minor cuts and bruises, according to reports.

Winchester Hospital Engineer Retires

After thirty-four years as Chief Engineer at the Winchester Hospital, Edward F. Hart, of Woburn, is retiring.

Mr. Hart has been in charge of the power plant and the maintenance program since he was originally drafted for his job in 1925. On November 23 of that year he agreed to come to Winchester Hospital for six months to supervise the re-organization and installation of the new power plant in its present building. At that time the power plant was located in the hospital building itself. However, with the new expansion, it was necessary that a larger steam system be provided.

Mr. Hart's six-month period has stretched into thirty-four years, including a period of approximately five years that saw him working seven days a week, twelve hours a day, and without a vacation. This is indeed a testimonial to his loyalty and acceptance of responsibility for this important service in the hospital. This period also saw continued expansion of the hospital and the conversion of the boilers from coal to oil.

At the time Mr. Hart joined the hospital, there was just one other employee in the maintenance department, and he has seen this grow to its present staff of five firemen and five maintenance men who are responsible for the more than one hundred motors that have to be checked and serviced each month, as well as the overall maintenance and repairs of the building that comprise Winchester Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart make their home at 282 Montvale avenue in Woburn. They have three children, John, who is associated with the L. A. Donovan Company in Woburn, two daughters, Mrs. Bart McHugh of Willow street, Woburn, and Mrs. William Daugherty, of Hilltop Terrace, Woburn.

Though most Wedgemere commuters think of Mr. Cardinal as a Winchester man, because of his many years at the local station, he was born in Woburn and grew up on Fowle street in that city, attending Woburn High School.

As a youth he became interested in telegraphy and he and a neighbor on Fowle street, Edward Bolster, rigged lines between their homes and practiced sending and receiving in the Morse code. Incidentally Mr. Bolster also entered the employ of the Boston & Maine as a tinner man and remained with the road until his death in 1918.

Supplementing his home telegraph practice with actual experience in ticket offices with men he knew on the road, Mr. Cardinal became proficient enough with his instrument to go to work for the B. & M. as a telegrapher at the old Davis Square station in West Somerville.

This was in April of 1903, and from this date Mr. Cardinal continued with the Boston & Maine, going from West Somerville to Woburn in 1904 as assistant to the agent and operator, E. J. McDonald.

In 1908 Mr. Cardinal "bid in" the agent-operator's job at Wedgemere, being the third to work there after the opening of the station. Fred Turner was the first Wedgemere operator and Forest Field, the second, Mr. Cardinal taking the job when the latter went to Winter Hill.

From 1908 until the B. & M. closed Wedgemere May 18, 1958, Mr. Cardinal spent his working days at that station, though he occasionally substituted for the late Frank McGrath at Winchester. During his fifty years at Wedgemere Mr. Cardinal witnessed many changes, not only in the area of the town surrounding the station but in railroad operations. He literally served thousands of commuters in that time, knowing many of those he served by name and being popular with the commuters generally, though few tried twice to take advantage of his genial manner and willingness to serve.

In the old days the B. & M. ran a "marketman's train" from Wedgemere for Boston at 5:56 a.m. To have the station open and his window ready for business Mr. Cardinal had to leave his home in Woburn well before that hour. Coming to Winchester by trolley, he got off at Symmes Corner and walked to the station. Later when he moved to Winchester he walked from his home on Russell road to the station each morning, rain or shine, snow or high winds.

In the earlier days of the station the agent handled baggage there and also shovelled out the station platforms after snow storms. Things were rugged then.

"Call to Arms"

Need for blood to do every day's work, saving lives, continues to increase. Supplies of whole blood at local hospitals are reduced to "low."

Though our demands for blood are ever increasing there is not a corresponding increase in blood donors. Won't you help?

Car Damaged in Hospital Lot

A Woburn resident came to the police station Friday to report that while her car was parked in the parking lot at the Winchester Hospital during the afternoon it had been damaged.

The hood was raised and pennies had been placed across the battery which ruined it. The pennies came from the glove compartment. The car had been rifled too.

Avarad Longley Walker, Jr., Dies in Maine

Avarad Longley Walker, Jr., 51, a former widely known resident of Winchester, died Tuesday, July 14, in Owl's Head, Me., where he had been living for the past 16 years.

Mr. Walker was the son of Avarad Longley, and Jennie Elizabeth (Cushman) Walker. He was born in Boston in 1908, but came as a boy to Winchester, living first on Woodside road, later on Rangeley Ridge and last, on Main street.

Mr. Walker was a member of the class of 1926 at Winchester High School, but left school in his junior year, returning to graduate with the class of 1927. During his undergraduate days he was a member of the varsity football team, being a strong lineman despite the handicap of very poor sight. After high school he attended Boston University College of Business Administration.

His father had a well established memorial monument business, and Mr. Walker was for a time associated with him in the business. He left Winchester in 1941 and for two years lived in Braintree while engaging in the monument business in Quincy. He then bought the farm of the late Dr. Robert L. Emery in Owl's Head, Me., and had since made his home there.

On June 3, 1959, Mr. Walker married Mary Elisabeth Hayden of Norway, Me., who survives him with eight children and two brothers, Dr. Arnold C. Walker, a physician located near Owl's Head, and Lorimer Walker, a teacher in Syracuse, N. Y.

The funeral was held last Friday at the Owl's Head Baptist Church. Burial was in Owl's Head Cemetery.

Dear friends,

We are often asked, "What should I pay for a funeral?"

Our advice always is this: "You are the only one who can answer that question. Your tastes and your finances should decide. Don't spend beyond your means. On the other hand, don't deprive yourself of the life-long satisfaction of paying a loving tribute to the one who is gone."

We prefer, always, to leave the selection entirely in your hands.

Respectfully,

Miss Margaret Campbell Dies in 99th Year

Miss Margaret Campbell, who made her home with her nephew, Donald W. Campbell, at 15 Chisholm road, died suddenly Tuesday, July 21, at the Glynn Memorial Hospital in Haverhill. She was one of Winchester's oldest residents, having passed her 98th birthday June 26.

Miss Campbell was born June 26, 1861, at West Bay, Cape Breton Island, N. S. She spent her early life at West Bay and attended school there, coming to this country as a young woman and living first in Boston.

Most of Miss Campbell's life in this country was spent in Chelsea, where she was for 67 years employed by the Everlastik Company, formerly Martin Brothers, makers of webbing material and rubber fabrics.

While in Chelsea Miss Campbell attended the Mt. Bellingham Methodist Church. She retired from the Everlastik Company in 1946 at the age of 85 years and went to live in Haverhill, remaining there until 1953 when she came to make her home with her nephew in Winchester.

Enjoying excellent health right up to the time she went to the hospital last Friday, Miss Campbell was active around the house, aiding with the housework, working in the garden and delighting to visit with her neighbors and friends. At the time of her 98th birthday she was able to enjoy a party arranged by her nephew and his family in her honor.

Besides Mr. Campbell, the deceased leaves two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Wymouth of Haverhill and Mrs. Annie Macdonald of Allston; also several nieces and nephews, among them Mrs. Robert Turpin of Winchester.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Wendell Dykeman Funeral Home in Chelsea with the Rev. Joseph Stevenson of the Mt. Bellingham Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Auto Accident on West Side Hill

Perry of 30 Lantern road, Belmont, was operating a Dodge pick-up truck west on Arlington street and after stopping at the stop sign at the intersection of Emerson road collided with the left side of a Buick sedan, owned by Louise Welden of 41 Emerson road. The Buick was headed south on Emerson road.

No injuries were reported but both cars were damaged. The truck had a damaged right front fender and the Buick had a damaged left side and smashed windshield. Both cars were able to proceed under their own power.

Retires

After the B & M closed Wedgemere Mr. Cardinal stayed on with the road, doing spare work at Lynn, Wakefield, Woburn and Waltham, and finally bidding in the agent-operator's job at Marblehead.

He stayed at Marblehead until they closed the station November 13, 1958. It took a bit of doing to get to the station in time to open each morning, and Mrs. Cardinal should receive a special service pin for chaperoning her husband to his job each day, leaving home at 4 o'clock in the morning to do so.

With the closing of Marblehead Station Mr. Cardinal went on the inactive list, finally resigning on pension last February. He was highly praised by the railroad authorities when he left the road for his long years of faithful and efficient service.

Mr. Cardinal had his 80th birthday June 10, but you would never know it to look at him. He appears many years younger, his handclasp is strong and he leads an active life in retirement.

Refinishing furniture is one of his hobbies, and his beautiful gardens, another. He has a fine stamp collection, including many old stamps. "Ralph" no longer plays his old trombone, but he was for years a member of the Boston & Maine Band until it dissolved and he also played with the Reading Brass Band. He was one of the musicians in line in the big parade that marked Winchester's Tercentenary.

Mr. Cardinal comes from a railroad family. His brother, Frank A. Cardinal of Woburn, retired at age 70, was a trainman for the B & M for 45 years. Another brother, Rene, of Hudson, was a freight conductor 25 years with the same road.

Mr. Cardinal is married to Ethel Richardson, a member of one of Winchester's very old families. Mrs. Cardinal grew up in the railroad tradition, her grandfather, George, having been a section foreman for the B & M for 51 years, and her father, William, having served the B & M as a crossing tender for half a century. With Mr. Cardinal's 56 years and his brothers' 65 years, the Richardsons and Cardinals contributed 222 years to railroading, quite a record!

Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal like to travel. They have six trips to Florida behind them and hope to spend some time there next winter. They have also gone to Canada several times and got as far as Phoenix and Tucson, Arizona, on the way to the west coast when heavy snow and bad weather sent them back home.

Mr. Cardinal plans to keep busy now that he doesn't have to "make the station for the first train." Who knows, you may yet hear him tuning up on the old "Billboard March" any day now as you pass his Cambridge street home. Better stick to third trombone, Ralph, after all these years the old "high ones" will be tough!

Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Ketchum of Kennebunk, Me., announce the birth of a third child, third son, Peter Woolsey, on July 6 at the Wobber Hospital in Biddeford. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ketchum of Salisbury, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. Alger T. Buntin of 18 Hillside avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Sheehy, Jr., announce the birth of their seventh child, fourth son, Patrick Brian, on July 10, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Dr. Richard W. Sheehy of Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Nelligan of Cambridge.

To Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Williams (Diane W. Greer) of Baltimore, Md., a second daughter, Lauren Greer Williams, July 19. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don S. Greer of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Williams, Jr., of Needham.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris (Mary Baker) announce the birth of a son, Frank Lorenzo Morris, Jr., at the Winchester Hospital, on Monday, July 20. Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker, Jr., of Winchester are the maternal grandparents. The paternal grandparents are Mr. Lorenzo Morris of Springfield Gardens, L. I., and Mrs. Frankie Honesty of Washington, D. C.

Playground Notes

At the time of this writing, the weather played a big part in curtailing the activities on the playgrounds for the past week. A baseball game for the 10-12 and 12-15 year olds with Stoneham was postponed and a basketball game with Woburn had to take a back seat. However, on Tuesday afternoon several youngsters from all the fields, participated in a game of kickball and a close and most interesting time was had.

The group playing was mixed and ages went from 6-14. There are still many more youngsters that could have taken part and if your name is not listed below, you should make it a point to have it appear in next week's column.

Those participating in the kickball game were Bill and King Dunn, Billy and Charles Logan, Donald and David Covino, Claudia and Anna Rotondi, Brenda Murphy, John Newhall, Sally Platzeder, Arlene LaCount, Kathy Abbott, Donna Peterson, Peter Crowley, Doug Erico and Stephen Kane with many others substituting but slow in giving their names. Peter Crowley's "All Stars" defeated the Murphy "Go-Getters" in a closely played contest 15-14.

This afternoon the Stoneham 12-15 year olds are visiting Loring Field for a baseball game and the results will be given to you next week.

Playground supervisor, Frank Provinzano, still anticipates many more youngsters on the playgrounds. He is planning games for both sexes and for all ages up to 16. It is urgent that you report to the instructors at the various playgrounds and tell them that you are most interested in participating in this wholesome form of recreation.

If you are members of Little League (minors or majors) or of Babe Ruth teams you are most cordially invited to make use of our excellent facilities. Come on down to the fields and bring your friends! It is an excellent opportunity for each and every one of you to use the best of equipment under ideal leadership and situations.

There should be no need for "crying" for you to come to the playgrounds. We are waiting for you so the rest is entirely up to you.

At this writing it has been definitely arranged to go to Stoneham next Tuesday morning for a baseball game for the 10-12 year olds. No doubt there will be games also for the 8-10 group and 12-15 group. Do you wish to take part in these games? If so, let us know by reporting to us.

We are also having intra-playground contests in kickball, dodge ball and croquet for the "small fry." No one will be left out if we know you are interested.

About three weeks from now we are going to either Wingersheek or Crane's Beach and we are asking from now that all youngsters intending to go please bring a written note signed by a parent stating that "John may go to the beach."

The note must be accompanied with a dollar and the purpose of this dollar will be explained later. It is never too early to bring these notes. Start now!

About a week after beach day we will have our Winchester play day. Many contests will be had and many ribbons will be awarded plus free ice cream! Watch this column for further details.

The arts and crafts department under the leadership of Mary Garvey has been a busy and interesting one. Articles made this past week pot holders, lanyards, leather change purses, leather belts, bracelets, earrings, moccasins and key holders. Many of these items will be on display in one of our downtown stores in about two weeks so save these beautiful items until then. They will also be on exhibition on our Field Day.

Honorary Degree

to Whatmough

Professor Joshua Whatmough has returned from Dublin, Ireland, where he was the recipient of the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Letters, bestowed on him by the National University of Ireland.

Taking part in the impressive ceremony, in addition to the Faculty of the University, were the Lord Mayor of Dublin wearing his Chain of Office, the Archbishop of Ireland, and bestowing the degree was the Chancellor of the University and President of the Republic of Ireland, Mr. De Valera.

Prior to their stay in Dublin, Professor and Mrs. Whatmough spent a few weeks in Ireland, visiting Limerick, and the southern country, Galway and picturesque Connemara, and Athlone close to Clonmacnois with its famous ninth century church ruins.

Charles Wm. Paquette, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Paquette of 818 Main Street, leaves for Parris Island, South Carolina, on July 30 for his boot training in the Marines. He is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1959.

EDITORIALS

The showing of some of the Winchester Babe Ruth players and fans after last week's defeat by Woburn in the district playoffs left something to be desired. The players, or most of them, ran immediately from the field, leaving the coaches and managers to gather up their equipment. Woburn players looking for our boys to exchange greetings could not find them. Disgruntled fans, some of whom were undoubtedly parents, were openly critical of the local players, and the men who handle them, some even continuing their criticism to the players personally after the game.

Winchester has perhaps had too much success with its Little League and Babe Ruth teams. The fans have seen their sons win so often that they come to expect victory as a matter of course and feel that their kids have let them down when they lose, as lose every one must sometime!

Fortunately, we do not believe this win-or-die attitude is representative, either of players, fans or most parents, but managers are commencing to complain of parental interference and criticism, and it goes without saying that these fine men and sportsmen are not going to continue the hard work they have been contributing to our junior baseball if their only portion is to be abused and second guessed because their team loses a game.

Little League, Babe Ruth and Junior Legion baseball were not set up to win championships, pleasant as they are to win. They were inaugurated and are being supported to teach boys baseball and sportsmanship, and to give them a healthy outlet for youthful energies.

When we lose sight of the primary purpose of junior baseball as a wholesome activity and commence to evaluate it solely on a win-and-lost basis; when we start second guessing the managers, who incidentally know their players' strengths and weaknesses much better than the parents in the stands; and when we come to expect our boys to win, whether or not they deserve to win, then Little League baseball and Babe Ruth baseball and Junior Legion baseball are no longer worth the effort and expense that goes into them. In fact there are some thoughtful friends of youth who are commencing to wonder, especially about the all star teams and championship playoffs and world series. Some feel they should be discontinued because they are bad for the boys. It would be the height of something or other if they had to be discontinued because they are bad for the parents!

Let's win if we can, and glory in our victories! We have had our fair share of them through the years. Let's back our players and managers to the limit, but if they can't win, let's not sell them down the river. Sportsmanship and the ability to appreciate the other team are still important.

Town Softball

Last week this same column reminded you about the semi-finals to be played for the town's softball championship. As already mentioned, the surprising V.F.W. unit eliminated a fast Elks team by defeating them two straight in the best two-out-of-three games. The accounts of these two contests have already been read by you, but one of the surprising factors is that the fourth-place V.F.W. bested the second-place Elks. The same is also true of the Sons of Italy, who ended in the third position in the final standings of regular season play and defeated the aggressive Shamrocks in two straight; the Shamrocks finished on top in regular season play.

The S.O.I. won the second meeting by a score of 9-5. The Shamrocks batted first to start the game and went down in order with two infield outs and a fly. The challenging S.O.I. came back in the last of the first to cross the plate three times. Former high school football captain, Joe Flaherty, opened with a single and advanced to second when ex-footballer "Moose" Bellino reached on an error. Joe Berardi then singled Flaherty home and Brooks scored Bellino and Berardi with a double. The next two batters grounded out, and at the end of an inning of play, the S.O.I. led 3-0.

In the second, Quentin Roberts hit safely but did not get beyond second when the inning ended. The S.O.I. went down in order in their half of the second.

The Shamrocks flied out twice and grounded out in the third, but the S.O.I. scored once more in the third inning. Joe Berardi walked, stole second and advanced on Garcia's fly to center. He then tallied the fourth run when Bill Fiore reached on an error by the first baseman.

Dan Serieka, the high school baseball captain this past spring, opened the fourth for the Shamrocks with a safety and stretched it to a double. He then advanced to third on a fielder's choice and crossed pay dirt on Colgate athlete John Chapin's long fly to left. The score then read 4-1 in favor of the S.O.I., who were held hitless and scoreless for the next two frames. The Shamrocks crossed twice more in the fifth, at which point they trailed by only one run, 4-3. In the fifth, former high school baseball captain, Bob Gray, opened with a single; Mike Callahan, former high school basketball whiz and baseball player, walked. Then another high school baseballer, Jim McElholm, singled to score Gray. With first and second occupied, Serieka reached on a fielder's choice when Callahan was forced at third. Bucky Morgan then walked to lead the bases, and McElholm came in on Quentin Roberts' long fly to center.

The Shamrocks scored again in the sixth when pitcher Ben Hardy was walked and Jim Gibbons and Jim McElholm hit safely. The score was then tied at 4-4. But in the last half of this inning the S.O.I. pushed hard, and as a result tallied five runs. Garcia reached on an error, Cammarata singled, Angie Amico grounded out, Dick Tofuri fanned, and then there were three successive walks, to Flaherty, Bellino and Berardi. Brooks then hit a triple to put the game on ice after Hardy had walked in the fifth run for the S.O.I.

Morgan opened the final inning with a double for the Shamrocks and scored on Chapin's single to right center to end the scoring. The win for the S.O.I. put them in the championship finals.

Championship Finals Start
The first game of the championship finals was played at Leonard Field before a capacity crowd on Tuesday evening. The contest was a humdinger from the beginning to the final out. In this opener the V.F.W. defeated the S.O.I. by a close 5-4 score.

The Vets jumped off to a quick lead by scoring all of their five runs in the opening frame. The Sons got two runs in the second and two in the sixth.

To start it off for the Vets Nomy Cogan reached on a walk, Paul MacDonald reached on an error at second base, followed by consecutive singles by Tom Cogan and Joeko Serieka and a triple by John Dilorio. Patsy O'Brien got a single, Sonny Swymmer reached on an error, all of which accounted for N. Cogan, Paul MacDonald, T. Cogan, Joeko Serieka and Dilorio scoring the five runs.

In this same frame, Joe Flaherty started the inning for the Sons by hitting safely, but he did not advance on flies by Moose Bellino and Lester Brooks, and a ground-out by Angie Amico.

The Vets went down in order in the second with the S.O.I. scoring two runs in their half.

In the third Dilorio opened with a single for the V.F.W. but stayed there when McKenzie and Sonny Swymmer flied out and O'Brien hit to end the frame. The Sons got one man, Moose Bellino, on base in this inning but Flaherty, Brooks and Amico flied out to end the inning.

Nobody reached base for the

Promotion for Captain Tully

Navy Reservist

Commands First Naval District Destroyer Escort Division

Captain S. Kennedy Tully, USNR, of 556 South Border road has become the first and only naval officer in New England to command a division of ships while on inactive duty.

The captain assumed command of the First Naval District Destroyer Escort Division earlier this month. The division is comprised of the USS Raymond and the USS Tills, which are "manned" by selected reserve crews.

As assistant public relations manager of the New England Life Insurance Company, Captain Tully carries on a full-time civilian job. His naval activities are limited generally to one week end a month when his division "swings into action".

The Navy's selected reserves provide operational readiness and immediate response to urgent fleet requirements in the early stages of hostilities. Emphasis is placed on developing a smooth working, fighting team, ready to take the ship to sea in the event of an emergency, to play an important part in the defense of our coast.

Captain Tully has been in the Navy since 1933 when he was commissioned Ensign after graduation from Yale University in June of that year. He was called to active duty in November 1940 and remained on active duty for the duration of the war.

He took part in invasions of North Africa, Marshall Islands, Saipan, Guam and Tinian. He assumed command of USS Norman Scott when the Commanding Officer was killed at Tinian. Continuing in command, he was "commander screen" of a task unit until relieved as Commanding Officer of Norman Scott at Pearl Harbor in September, 1944.

Captain Tully was wounded during the battle of Tinian in 1944 and was sent to the U. S. Naval Hospital in Chelsea for hospitalization. After release from the hospital, he was attached to Harvard University as an instructor of NROTC until released to inactive duty in March, 1946.

Captain Tully has just completed two schools which qualify him for command of the Reserve Destroyer Division. These schools, the Fleet Sound School in Key West, Fla., and Global Strategy Course at the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., are both intensive training schools designed to the highly developed methods and principals of modern naval warfare.

A member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, Winchester County Club, Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, and secretary of the Wardroom Club, Captain Tully is very active in civilian life also.

Navy-Boston College Game

Tickets Available for Winchester Fans

Chairman Bob Livingstone of the committee in charge of local tickets for the Navy-Boston College football game in September has announced that a block of 600 tickets in the Navy stands has been made available for Winchester fans who want to see their former football aces, Joe Bellino and Frank Datilio, in action against the Eagles at University Heights.

More complete information about tickets will be announced later, but they will be good ones for what ought to be a good game, and they will be five dollars per copy, with no conflict with the high school football schedule.

Watch the Star for further announcements.

On vacation from the police force this week are Sgt. Edward Bowler, Sgt. John Dolan and Officers William Callahan and Joseph Quigley. Lt. Edward O'Connell and Officers John McHugh and Andrew Crawford returned to work this week.

Woburn Cashes in on Last-Inning Break

Tanner Babe Ruth Nationals

Eliminate Winchester, 4-2

Taking advantage of a big break in the seventh inning, the Woburn Nationals Babe Ruth team eliminated the Winchester Babe Ruth All Stars from the district playoffs at Manchester Field last Saturday afternoon, coming from behind to nip the locals, 4-2.

It was a great game for Woburn to win, and a heart-breaker for Winchester to lose, for the local boys had led all the way and might have had a better fate were it not for an unlucky throw that hit a Woburn runner with the bases jammed in the seventh.

Little Johnny Peckham started on the hill for Winchester and over the first six innings twirled superbly, allowing only two hits and no runs at all.

His teammates got him a run in the second when Franson reached safely on an error and rode all the way home on "Rod" Gay's sizzling triple.

Another Winchester run came over in the third when Paul Mulloy doubled and scored on Mike Bellino's single.

Winchester threatened in every inning but the last and there were several times when a hit could have broken the game wide open. However, "Billy" Lewis, big Woburn twirler, while wild, was generally able to pitch out of trouble with Winchester runners on base.

In the fifth Lewis walked the first two batters, who were advanced by Mooney's sacrifice. With men on second and third and one away, Lewis bore down sharply to fan Bellino and force George Neville to pop up, a real clutch performance.

Baseball is a game of inches, and they worked for Woburn in the 6th when Winchester loaded the sacks with only one out. Peckham tried hard to help himself, but Woburn shortstop, Jim Periera, was able to grab his hard line drive toward center and step on second for a twin killing that was the ball game as things turned out.

On Peckham's showing in the first six frames Woburn's chances didn't look too rosy as the Tanners came in for their last times at bat. Johnny, however, seemed to tire

With a two-run cushion to work on Lewis proved too good for the local boys in the bottom half of the seventh. He had previously looked to be tiring and with the top of the Winchester order coming to bat, local hopes ran high.

However, the big hurler came back to fan Mulloy after being behind him, three and nothing; and he needed just four pitches to strike out Mooney.

"Mikie" Bellino made a great bid to keep the Winchester chances alive with a line drive into center, but Dave Crowley came in fast and hard to contribute a real circus catch, diving for the ball and hanging onto it during a full roll.

The summary:

We have been closed this past week to complete alterations to our store.

If things go as planned we will be open for business by the middle of next week.

SMILES OF ANTICIPATION

DON'T WORRY, THEY'LL BE JUST RIGHT!"

Tommy Puzzo shows plenty of confidence in Dad. Al's ability as a chef at the Auxiliary Police cookout at the Puzzo home on Pond street last Saturday evening.

The Call Box

Terrific is the only word to describe the cook out that Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Puzzo of 172 Pond street gave the Auxiliary Police, their wives and invited guests of honor, Saturday, July 18. Over forty people enjoyed the wonderful hospitality of our host and hostess, not to mention the savory aroma of those charcoal-broiled steaks. Many of the women present will be seeking the recipe for the potato and tossed salads. Andy was not at a loss for helping hands as John Collins took over the nerve center of the Bar-B-Que and John Rotondi took command of charcoal grill number two. Our Auxiliary Police Chief Joe Moffett was a big help hustling back and forth anticipating the needs of all. Guests of honor were Chief of Police and Mrs. Harrold and Civil Defense Director and Mrs. Boecker. An impromptu series of speeches were made by everyone present and recorded on tape for posterity. It was a perfect night in every respect, weather, food and company. The event will be forever a memorable one; and from everyone present that evening we say again, "Thank you, Andy and Jean Puzzo, for having us."

For you auxiliaries who haven't as yet visited the range since it was put in shape, see it soon and you'll understand why it's the pride of Winchester.

Boat Club News

Although the wind was as close to nothing as possible, the Snipe fleet began the week with a race on Tuesday evening. Clarence Borggaard proved to be the best drifter with Dick Montminy and Dick Winkler in second and third places. Because the wind was again next to nothing on Thursday evening, failure to meet the time limit canceled the race.

A strong gusty wind prevailed on both Saturday and Sunday, resulting in a need for bailing cans and bathing suits. On Saturday, Norman Towle, a Medford skipper, was first. Jack Ivers was second and Rod Long third. Sunday morning Rod Long was first with John Day second and Norman Towle third.

Of particular interest to Winchester Snipers this week end was the North Atlantic Championship, held at Quassapaug, Conn., in which Ken Cook and Tom Legere competed. Both boats did exceptionally well. Ken Cook won first place and Tom Legere won fourth.

The Turnabouts began their week with a junior race on Tuesday afternoon. Rob, Carol, and Jean Dannenberg won the first three places. On Thursday afternoon the juniors raced their fourth inter-club race with Medford. Rob Dannenberg crossed the line first with Dick Patten (Med.) second and Carol Dannenberg third. Also Buzz Hall took a fourth place and Bruce Smith (Med.) fifth.

As with the juniors, the seniors raced Medford on Thursday evening. Bob Patten (Med.), Tom Raphael and Warren Dannenberg won the first three places, respectively. Saturday's race saw Rob Dannenberg first again, with Jean Dannenberg and Bill Bartel, second and third. The first three on Sunday were respectively, Jean Dannenberg, Walter Clark and Robert Grenzeback.

Besides the racing activities, the juniors held a dance on Friday evening, and a bean supper was held on Saturday night.

Both the Snipe and Turnabout fleets are eagerly awaiting Marblehead Race Week, which will begin next Saturday, July 25, and continue through Saturday, August 1.

Many of our sailors will be competing and many others will be en-

HE'S JEALOUS

Photo, the pup, is a wee bit jealous. Some of his stylish contemporaries have been invited to participate in a "Hairdos and Hemlines" show this fall. He really shouldn't care, though, because the proceeds of this hilarious heads-and-gowns-thru-the-ages performance will go to help him at the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital when he is rushed there for an emergency operation (Heaven forbid!). An ardent animal enthusiast and pet owner, Miss Cerena, versatile hair stylist of the Tawney Salon, is planning an evening's entertainment based on changing manners (and the styles that went with them) just to benefit the Winchester Auxiliary of the Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Mrs. Don S. Greer of 82 Arlington street, with the approval of Peppi the poodle and her two cats, is ways and means chairman of the September 30 affair.

Enthusiastic spectators. It is the wish of all that good weather will prevail and that the skippers of Winchester Boat Club will return with many trophies.

Taking French in Summer School

Miss Elizabeth Alt, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Alt of 7 Pine street, is attending the six weeks Summer School of French at Northampton School for Girls, Northampton. This Summer School, now in its twenty-fourth year, draws girls from public and private schools all over the country. Only French is spoken both inside and outside of the classrooms. Last year Miss Alt was a student at Winchester High School.

Former Local Boy on Albatross

Tim Jackson to Take Long Voyage on Brigantine

T. Merwin "Tim" Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merwin R. Jackson of Locust Lane, Kennett Square, Pa., formerly of Winchester, left July 1 for Lisbon, Portugal, to ship aboard the brigantine, "Albatross," which sailed July 15 from Lisbon on a 20,000 mile voyage through the Mediterranean, around Africa and back to the east coast of America.

The brigantine's crew is mainly composed of young people from 17 to 22 years old who are interested in adventure, travel and the sea. Only the cook and captain are professionals and everyone will be expected to help sail and maintain the vessel during the voyage.

The "Albatross" is under the command of Dr. and Mrs. Christopher B. Sheldon. Dr. Sheldon, with extensive experience in all types of sailing vessels, recently completed two years on the brigantine "Yankee" under Captain Irving Johnson, USNR, on his last voyage around the world. His wife, a doctor, made the same voyage as the ship's surgeon.

In the fall the "Albatross" will make a long stop at Mombasa, gateway to Kenya, Tanganyika and Mount Kilimanjaro. There the voyagers will take time for a safari to the big game areas of East Africa or a climb to the top of 19,000 ft. Kilimanjaro. After a tradewind passage across the Atlantic to the Caribbean and Bermuda, the brigantine will dock in the United States May 2, 1960.

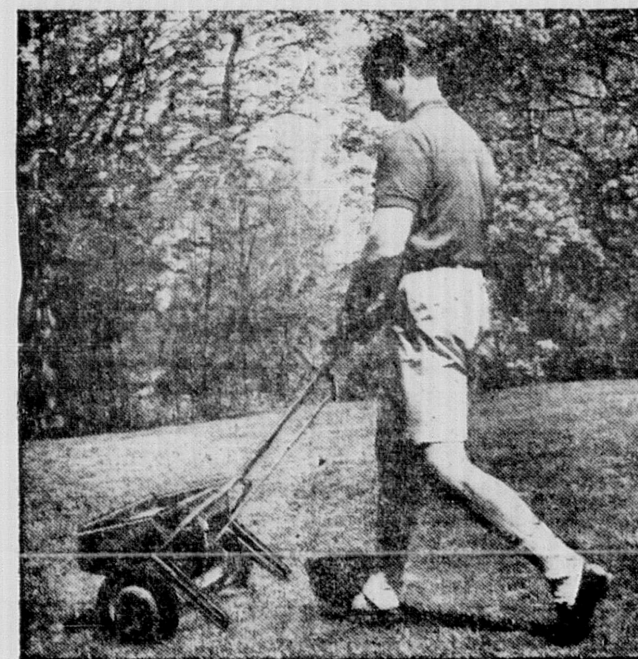

"Tim" Jackson was at Winchester High School as a freshman in 1955-56, playing freshman football, basketball and baseball, also playing Babe Ruth ball on Ted Freeman's squad.

He graduated from the Friends School in Wilmington, Pa., and plans to enter Tufts College in the fall of 1960. He used to sail a snipe at the Winchester Boat Club, and is looking forward to seeing his old WBC friends when he starts to sail Tufts "elephant boats" from the Medford side of Mystic. "Tim" will be remembered at the Winchester Country Club as having won the Father-Son golf tourney with Dr. Jackson in 1956.

And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking and leaping, and praising God" (Acts 3:6-8).
Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (185:26-29): "Truth casts out all evils and materialistic methods with the actual spiritual law—the law which gives sight to the dumb, feet to the lame."

Health for All

The Wonderful World of Vitamins

You don't usually expect to find news about health, and especially food, on the sports pages. But not long ago the Philadelphia Eagles, the professional football team, made some news that had nothing to do with touchdowns or goal-line stands.

The doctor of the football team reported that he has been feeding the boys special citrus fruit derivatives. One of them is Vitamin C. Another is called hesperidin. Taking these vitamins in three capsules every day, the doctor claims, has helped the players avoid the big bruises that usually trouble them after a rough, tough game. The doctor thinks the citrus derivatives strengthen the capillaries, preventing the wholesale breakage of tiny blood vessels that make up a bruise.

This is one instance when the taking of vitamins for a special purpose is probably a good idea. For the most part, though, medical scientists insist that you don't have to take special vitamin preparations, pills, liquids, or anything else, if you eat a normal balanced diet.

According to the Middlesex Health Association, it's possible to suffer deficiencies in the nutritive values you need, even when you eat what appears to be a full diet. Some children, for example, have been found to suffer from a lack of proteins because proteins are not found in generous amounts in sweet foods. And children reach for sweets more often than meats.

But if your diet is well-rounded, with a good selection from the three main food groups, you should never be vitamin-deficient. The three groups are milk, eggs, lean meat and fish; fruits and green and yellow vegetables; and enriched or whole grain bread and cereals. Three meals a day of these foods in reasonable amounts make any kind of supplementary feeding out of a bottle of pills quite unnecessary.

New England Lags in Medical Students

New England as a region is below the national average in the number of its residents entering medical schools.

This fact is revealed in a study recently conducted by the New England Board of Higher Education which compares the average ratio of students per 100,000 population from each state entering medical schools from 1948 to 1958. "It is apparent from this study," states Dr. Robert H. Kroepf, executive secretary of NEBE, "that the region is not contributing a large enough share of doctors to the national pool. With a rapidly increasing population it is essential for the region to provide opportunities for large numbers of students to enter medical schools." Of the six states in the region, only Vermont exceeds the national average of students entering medical schools and it ranks fourth in the nation. It is the only state in N. E. with a publicly supported medical school.

Connecticut, which ranks 19th in the country, at the national average, Massachusetts is 20th, Rhode Island 37th, New Hampshire 42nd, and Maine 47th.

The New England Board, located in Winchester and a public agency financed by the six states, has been interested in medical education since its founding in 1955. This study is part of its continuing effort to gather information on the subject and report to people of the region.

Summer School - Class Visits - Production of "Twelfth Night"

The students of the Creative Arts class in theatre were indeed fortunate to be able to view the second night's performance of a superb production of Shakespeare's rollicking comedy "Twelfth Night."

Mr. Morse, director of the summer school and the instructor in the theatre course, was able to secure special permission for the students to attend the play without charge. The members of the class were so enthusiastic that Mr. Morse contacted the English classes in the summer school to see if any of these students might be interested. As a result of the poll, nearly 50 members of Miss White's and Miss McPherson's classes will view the play on Friday, July 24.

The production of "Twelfth Night" was presented by the Cambridge Drama Festival in the new Arts Center Theatre in Brighton. The cast headed by Siobhan McKenna and Zachary Scott did an outstanding job. For most of the students this was their first experience at a Shakespearean production and it was rewarding to see the pleasure they derived from the play. It again proves that Shakespeare wrote to be played and seeing a production such as this one is worth many hours in the classroom merely reading.

The theatre class will be visiting the Arts Center Theatre again to see a rehearsal of "Macbeth" and to visit backstage. They also will take trips to a summer tent theatre, a rehearsal of a college arena play, and a technical rehearsal of a professional production. This course is proving to be a rewarding one for the students and is giving them a hard look at theatre arts through dramatic literature, acting, directing, technical, and production problems. In time such a course might well grow to a place of importance in providing an outlet for the talent and skills of the teen-ager interested in a summer program of creative work in the theatre.

A singular honor has been accorded to the Winchester High School faculty with the announcement of the selection of Mr. Thomas A. Morse, assistant principal of the high school as a member of the staff of the Cambridge Drama Festival Academy for the 1959 season. The academy is a part of the existing new Metropolitan Boston Arts Center. Its purpose is to provide a professional setting for the development and training of talented and interested people in the theatre arts.

The institute will be held, July 25 through Saturday, August 1, 1959. Aimed at a professional consideration of the aims, purposes, methods and problems of the professional, college and school theatre.

A series of conferences will highlight the program and these conferences will be supplemented with rehearsals, performances, backstage visits, and social events. The staff of the academy will include Herbert Bergoff, Sir John Gielgud, David Hays, Margaret Leighton, Siobhan McKenna, Jose Quintero, Jason Robards, Jr., Zachary Scott and Michael Wager.

The conferences will meet at the new Arts Center Theater and Harvard University. This new academy is being watched with great interest throughout the nation and it is hoped will help to return the once held prestige in theatre arts to the cultural center of Boston.

McLaughlin's Shoe Store Established 1880

In early March of 1930, McLaughlin's Shoe Store changed hands from James McLaughlin who founded it in 1880 to Morris L. Snyder who is the present owner. The business has survived through floods, earthquakes and depressions. From generation to generation the footwear needs of Winchester people and of our neighbors have been cared for by this store. McLaughlin's policy of correct fitting is well known, especially in the fitting of children's shoes. They take great pride in the confidence thousands of mothers have shown through the years in sending their children unaccompanied to McLaughlin's to select and be fitted for their footwear needs. This in itself is a tribute to the know-how and dependability of this institution. Priding themselves on customers in Germany, Japan, the Netherlands and elsewhere, McLAUGHLIN'S, cont. on page 12

New Camp Building Announced

A time capsule to be opened in the year 2006 will be encased in the cornerstone of the new central administration building at the Morgan Memorial Fresh Air Camp at South Athol during impressive cornerstone ceremonies on Sunday, July 26, at 2:30 p.m.

VINCENT P. CLARKE

President of Morgan Memorial

Representatives of business, civic, religious and political life will take part in the exercises at the 53-year-old camp, where over 400 children and youth are spending the summer.

Special guests will be trustees of the Charles Hayden Foundation of New York, which donated $62,500 toward the cost of the building on condition that Morgan Memorial friends raise an equal amount.

Henry E. Helms, executive secretary of Morgan Memorial, combined announcement of plans for the cornerstone ceremony with a statement that the camp had been successful in its financial drive and that construction of the building will go forward at once.

Two Luncheons

A luncheon for distinguished guests, including those taking part in the program, members of the Board of Directors and Corporate Members of Morgan Memorial, will be held at the historic Buss Goodwill Inn at the camp at 12:30.

A second luncheon for 250 handicapped workers from Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries, who will be brought to the camp in a cavalcade of buses, will be served by the Men's Club of the South Athol Parish.

Capsule Contents

Town Counsel Vincent P. Clarke of Winchester, president of Morgan Memorial, said that the time capsule would be opened in 2006 on the 100th anniversary celebration of the camp. The Goodwill Fresh Air Camp is one of the largest, with some 760 acres, and one of the oldest in the nation.

Among the items to be placed in the capsule will be a Holy Bible, a history of the camp, newspapers from Boston, Worcester, Orange, Gardner, Greenfield, and Athol areas; these will include Boston Herald-Traveler, Record-American, Christian Science Monitor, Globe, Worcester Telegram-Gazette, Athol News, Gardner News, Greenfield Record-Gazette, Orange Enterprise, and several others. The capsule will also contain a history of the Hayden Goodwill Inn for Boys at the camp, a rug and blanket produced from waste materials at Goodwill Industries, mineral spring water from the camp well, a combination of seeds to be planted in 2006, an early kerosene lamp used at the camp during its first year in 1906, the U. S. Flag with its 48 stars, a series of letters from the young campers today to the campers of 2006, and a radio tape and television film of the ceremony.

Ceremony Participants

Among other guests invited to take part in the cornerstone ceremonies are the heads of 40 social service agencies in Massachusetts who refer needy children to the camp.

Civic officials and heads of Boards of Selectmen in Athol, Orange, New Salem and Petersham will also participate.

JAMES L. JENKS, JR.

Chairman of Morgan's Fresh Air Appeal

Taking part will be President Clarke and James L. Jenks, Jr., of Winchester, president of the Sanborn Company of Waltham, who is chairman of the 1959 Morgan Memorial Fresh Air Appeal; Henry E. ### Cycle Shop of parts on hand for all makes of bikes.

William E. Richardson, he's "Bill" Richardson to patrons of the shop and the public generally, is proprietor of the Cycle Shop and he has had a long and varied experience as a machinist.

"Bill" was born in Winchester and came from one of the town's oldest families, the Richardsons having been among the earliest settlers of the town. "Bill's" particular family is well known, his father, William R. Richardson, having been for many years a railroad crossing tender in Winchester square in the days of the old manually operated gates.

Mr. Richardson learned the machinist's trade at the old Whitney Machine Company, a by-gone Winchester shop, manufacturing shoe machinery. He was with Whitney's for about five years, after which he went to work as a machinist at Pike's Garage, then situated on upper Main street, commencing a long connection with the automobile business.

After working as foreman in the service department of the Winchester Nash, Mr. Richardson established his own auto repair business on Park street. He then worked as service manager for Bonnell Motors for ten years, finally joining the former Luckenbach Motors, local Pontiac dealers, as service manager.

town "Bill" went to work as a first class machinist at the Boston Navy Yard, and after four years in that capacity opened his first cycle shop in Winchester in 1945, on what was then Common street. He moved his business to its present Main street location in June of 1950.

Mr. Richardson makes his home at 339 Cambridge street with his wife and family. Mrs. Richardson (Marguerite) is associated with her husband at the shop and is almost as well known as "Bill" himself.

Enters Wentworth

Two Winchester boys, John M. Looney of 20 Winthrop street and Kenneth J. Cataldo of 40 Squire road, have been admitted to Wentworth Institute for the fall term. ## Makes all curves feel banked...

...the curve-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

It's been a long time since the public took to an automobile with the verve and vigor of the current admiration for Pontiac. It's now first in sales in its price class. Sleek beauty is one reason. Wide-Track Wheel design is another. The wheels are five inches farther apart to increase stability on curves and corners. It's a very simple, basic innovation yet the improvement it makes in your control of the car is remarkable. You're more comfortable than you've ever been in narrow track cars.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Teams Tied 1-1 After Nine Innings

Watertown Finally Eliminates Winchester, 2-1, in District Little League Quarter-Final

Last Tuesday evening at Ginn Field our American League All Stars dropped a hard fought, excitement packed, eleven inning game to a fine team from Watertown West, by the score of 2-1.

The game started at the top of the tenth inning, the two teams having played a 1-1 tie in nine innings, the previous evening.

Winchester had scored one run in the first inning by some aggressive base running by Bobby Cuff and held on to that lead right up to the last of the sixth inning. Then with two out, and everything riding on the next batter, a questionable decision at first base went against Winchester, and this, followed by two hits, scored the tying run.

In the last of the eleventh after some fine Winchester defensive play, Watertown finally broke through for the winning run.

Well, we lost the game and it is all over till next year, but we certainly can be proud of our Winchester players and managers. They gave their all and no one can ask for more than that, and this item would not be complete without saying to all our parents and loyal fans:

"You have been wonderful all year, you have been patient, unselfish, in fact very generous, and cooperative at all times and you have been real good sports. In these ways you have set a fine example for your sons and your neighbors' sons."

"Thank you for helping us in the Little League program. We appreciate it."

The Watertown team personnel and fans before leaving the field expressed their appreciation for the treatment they received from Winchester people and said they certainly hope we will invite them again.

This, the writer expected, because they were gentlemen all through the game, and both groups of fans certainly proved themselves to be of real Little League calibre.

Busy Summer for Water Crews

Water Department crews, under Superintendent Jim Halvart, have been busy this summer laying mains and new services in anticipation of the resurfacing of several town streets during the late summer and early fall.

New mains have been laid in Lake street, Linden street and Fairfield street, this work having been let out by contract. The Water Department's men laid the mains in Pickering street and the extension on Willowdale road in the old Symmes Farm.

The Water Department is presently advertising for bids to lay new mains in Highland avenue and at the High School, the latter to run along the Parkway and enter the school property from the rear through the first gate at the rear of the school. This main will for the time being provide additional fire protection for the school, though in time an additional entrance will probably be made to the school to prevent any lack of water in the building as was the case when trouble originated in the entrance main last winter.

All house connections have been renewed along Main street in anticipation of reconstruction work to be done there, and the men are also working on connections on Florence street, Appalachian road, Reservoir street, Canal street and Richardson street. Added to this are the connections to new houses and an occasional broken hydrant, all making for a busy summer.

Hope to Occupy New Plant by Late August

The Diamond Antenna & Microwave Corporation, who chose Winchester as the site for their further business activity, hope to be able to occupy their new plant on River street, now in process of construction, by the last of August or the first of September. Much will depend upon the progress of the steel strike as to whether either of these dates can be met.

Albert S. Hovannesian, president of the corporation, told the Star this week that he is hopeful there will be no great delay as he and his associates are eagerly awaiting the superior production opportunities the new plant will afford them.

Prior to this spring the Diamond Antenna & Microwave Corporation, producers of antenna systems, microwave components, test equipment and accessories, had been located in Wakefield, and they are still occupying their plant there until they come to Winchester.

On May 15 Mr. Hovannesian, in a letter to the corporation's employees, announced the acquisition of land for a new factory in Winchester on River street, a private way off Cross street, and the beginning of construction.

Virtually all the outside work on the new plant has been done and work is progressing rapidly on the interior construction. Ducts for air conditioning are being put in place and the plumbing has been completed. Most of the face work is now completed.

The heavy steel roof beams for the factory are already in place but the truss-work and additional steel support for the poured gypsum fire-proof roof have not arrived, and this phase of construction is consequently delayed.

When completed the new plant will have a frontage of 100 feet by 150 feet in depth, with 15,000 feet of floor space. Two-thirds of the plant will be given over to factory area with the remaining third housing modern offices and laboratories. The factory will be located on a completely chain-link fenced area of over 1 1/2 acres, allowing considerable room for future expansion.

Mr. Hovannesian believes his corporation's new home to be very favorably placed and promises that the Diamond Antenna & Microwave Corporation will make every effort to be a proud and respectable asset to Winchester, which he characterizes as one of "the most desirable suburban towns in the Greater Boston area."

Several Injured in Auto Accident

Several people were injured in an automobile accident at the intersection of Main and Water streets Sunday at 5:10 p.m.

Raymond A. Smith of 142 Marlboro street, Chelsea, while operating a Plymouth convertible south on Main street, collided with the line of cars which were stopped for a red light at the intersection. Mr. Smith told police that his brakes failed.

Mr. Smith's car ran into the rear of a Ford sedan operated by Miss Helen G. Hannon of 83 Sheridan Circle. After the impact the Ford hit the rear of a Ford sedan operated by Herbert T. Wadsworth of 15 Norwood street.

Passengers in Miss Hannon's car were Dennis O'Donnell, age 5, Mary Alice O'Donnell, age 13, and Mrs. Alice O'Donnell, all of 114 Main street, Woburn; Edith Hackett of 84 Sheridan Circle and Donald Lynch of 4 Russell road.

Traders Day, Wednesday, August 5, to Be Observed by Most Merchants

Next Wednesday, August 5, is Traders Day in Winchester, and many of the town stores and offices will be closed all day on that date. Housewives will do well to plan no food or other shopping for that day.

Traders Day goes back a long way in Winchester, really back to the horse and buggy days. Then all the merchants and shopkeepers and their help and families joined in a big outing and departed for some resort like Salem Willows or Bass Rocks, there to spend the day, consuming quantities of food, soda, pop, ice cream and watermelon and participating in all sorts of races and contests, including a baseball game between the traders and clerks on the east and west sides of the center.

Those were the good old days. Traders were harder then, and

To Study in Denmark

A unique educational experience in Denmark is beginning for Richard R. Rimbach, son of Mrs. Bertha Rimbach of 131 Forest street and a junior at Springfield College.

The Scandinavian Seminar announced from its headquarters at 127 East 73rd street, New York, N. Y., that Rimbach sailed for Scandinavia July 25 aboard the M/S Stockholm. Along with some 75 others from all over the U. S., he will study abroad for several months as a member of the 1959-60 Scandinavian Seminar.

On arrival in Scandinavia, Rimbach will spend a month with each of two Danish families in different parts of the country, studying the language and the customs of the people, meet with the seminar staff and guest lecturers for intensive short courses in the language and on the culture and current affairs of Denmark and other Scandinavian countries, and then do resident study in a folkskole, or Scandinavian folk school. Other students in the group will go to Finland, Norway or Sweden, as well as Denmark, for their seminar program, following the same pattern as that of Rimbach.

For over 150 years, the folk schools have operated in Scandinavia to train young adults to understand their culture and their democratic traditions. In this time, these schools have had a great influence on the social, economic and political development of Scandinavia. As a folkskole student, Rimbach will gain intimate insights into Danish history and people which could not be gotten any other way.

The folk schools also afford seminar students unique opportunities to pursue their study specialties, which, in Rimbach's case, is physical education. The folk school he will attend will be selected in consultation with the seminar staff after his arrival in Denmark.

The Scandinavian Seminar, an outgrowth of a 1949 undertaking called the Experimental Group in the Danish Folkskole Movement, has been known under its present name since 1953, when the program was extended to other Scandinavian countries. Participants include college graduates, mature persons with experience, undergraduates desiring to spend their junior year of college in Scandinavia, and professional people with an interest in education. Applications for 1960-61 are already being accepted.

A novel part of the seminar is that the entire program is conducted in the language of the country of residence. Rimbach studied Danish at home for several months in preparation for his cultural adventure abroad.

Babe Ruth State Semi-Final Here Tomorrow

Though Winchester isn't involved, followers of Babe Ruth baseball can see the State Championship semi-final game tomorrow afternoon without leaving town.

Woburn, the team that eliminated Winchester, is playing Wellesley at 2 o'clock on Manchester Field in what should be a good game. Woburn, managed by Hugh O'Brien, has beaten Billerica, 3-0; Winchester, 4-2; Lowell, 4-3; and Watertown, 2-1. The Tanners, though not hitting up to their potential, have been getting good pitching and have been playing good steady ball.

Wellesley is managed by "Hank" Camilli, old Braves catcher, who has done a great job with a team, thought to be in the building stage this year, and definitely lacking stars. Wellesley has beaten Milton, 7-3; South Boston, 5-2; Randolph, 11-1; and Norwood, 4-2.

"Billy" Lewis, big colored boy who pitched Woburn's winning game against Winchester, will not work tomorrow. "Eddie" Foley, who chucked a no-hitter against Billerica and beat Lowell, will be on the hill. Game time 2 p.m.

Winchester Skippers Find Competition Tough at Marblehead

The 70th annual Marblehead Race Week began Saturday with plenty of wind to spare and a fine clear day, yet no first place for Winchester Boat Club! Competition in the Snipe Class is decidedly tougher this year, since so many new skippers are on the scene. Although the first three places were taken by ocean skippers, Herb Alderson in Dick Winkler's boat managed to cross the line fourth with "Windy" Freyer, fifth.

Winchester Officer in Naval Review

Navy Lt. (jg), Thomas Ordway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ordway of 95 High street, serving with Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 11, took part in a full-scale naval review and visit to San Francisco, Calif., July 17-20, after completing a major exercise held off the California coast.

The 15,000 men and 26 ships of the U. S. First Fleet were reviewed by Admiral Herbert G. Hopwood, USN, the Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Pacific Fleet, as they passed under the Golden Gate bridge.

The exercise which preceded the San Francisco visit involved fast-moving aggressive attack carrier teams which struck at simulated mainland targets as naval air patrol squadrons and submarines held the defensive roll.

Exercises of this type are designed to give advance training to personnel preparing to make cruises with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Car Stolen Monday P.M.

At 2 p.m. Monday, the police received a report that a car had been stolen near the Medford Boat Club on the Mystic Valley Parkway.

William Farrell of 78 Pearson avenue, Somerville, told police that his blue and cream Chevrolet sedan was stolen by two girls and a boy whom he thought were 16-17 years old.

Mr. Farrell had given the group a ride and when he stopped the car near the Medford Boat Club the passengers took off with the car.

The strong wind was the answer to many a skipper's prayer, but to John Day, who was doing well in third place when his mast broke, it was a hindrance rather than a help.

Sunday's race was confined to juniors, and was the usual one-race event sponsored by the Pleon Yacht Club. Norman Towle of Medford Boat Club brought home the Pleon Snipe trophy to the other end of Mystic Lake, with Sue Forrestall of Wintthrop, second and Rob Dannenberg, of Winchester, E.C. third.

Previously Rob Dannenberg won a sixth out of 34 in the Championship turnabout division and Jean Dannenberg took a seventh out of 19.

Monday's race saw brighter days for Winchester, as Clarence Borggaard crossed the line first, only three seconds before club mate John Day, who managed to repair his mast in time to race.

Commodore Ralph Swanson also did very well, taking sixth place, with Dan Coakley and Dick Winkler right behind in seventh and eighth positions. A catastrophe a race seems to be Winchester's portion, as a broken rudder took Windy Freyer out of the race. Seven-teen boats started.

Tuesday's race proved to be successful for Buzz Hall and Jean Dannenberg in the turnabouts, these Winchester skippers picking up a fourth and fifth, respectively, (both in different fleets).

The snipes were very late in on Tuesday, and Winchester's best was Commodore Swanson's seventh, with the other local skippers well back. Chuck Loomis of Cottage Park was first, Colby Kelly of North Cove second, and John Forrestall of Cottage Park, third.

Dr. Harry Mueller Cited in McCall's

The August issue of McCall's magazine reports under the "Medical News of the Month" section of the work of Dr. Harry L. Mueller of 64 Myopia road on sensitivity of people to insect stings.

A particularly timely subject in the outdoor season, the item states: "When a hypersensitive person is stung, the reaction may be slight, with itching, blistering, and a feeling of illness; or it may be severe, with wheezing, abdominal pain, dizziness, nausea, and vomiting, followed by shortness of breath, thickened speech, confusion, and a feeling of impending disaster." The magazine says that these persons with a history of allergy are more likely to have severe reactions.

Dr. Mueller has reported more than 80 cases of insect stings which were sensitive. Skin tests are used to tell whether there is a sensitivity present and the different responses to various insects.

Miss Barbato Married In St. Mary's Church

At a ten-o'clock ceremony Saturday morning, July 25, at St. Mary's Church in Winchester, Miss Annette Louise Barbato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Barbato of Winchester became the bride of Mr. Robert John Zirkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Zirkel of Winchester. The Nuptial Mass was said by the Rev. John Collins, S.J., of Boston College. A garden reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered silk organza with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves, both edged with embroidery. Her full skirt and train fell from an Elizabethan tapered waistline. Two cascading panniers on either side of the center-front panel, embroidered and appliqued with daisies, accented both the front of the dress and the chapel-length train. A matching crown of organza flowers held in place her several-tiered French silk illusion veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and daisies trimmed with ivy.

The maid of honor was Miss Doris Barbato of Winchester, sister of the bride. Mrs. Leonard Coppola of North Chelmsford and Miss Sandra Masi of Middleton were the bridesmaids.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed in white embroidered nylon over maize taffeta with square-cut necklines and short sleeves edged with daisy embroidery. They also wore matching crowns of maize and carried cascade bouquets of daisies and ivy.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Barbato wore a pink champagne dress of silk organza with matching accessories and a corsage of happiness roses. Mrs. Zirkel, mother of the bridegroom, chose a faille dress of cornflower blue with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

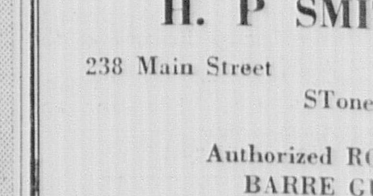

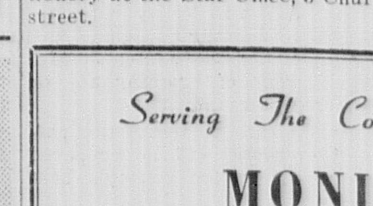

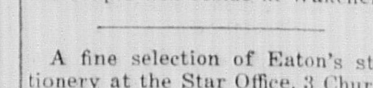

Mr. William H. Zirkel of Gotham, N. H., brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The others were Mr. John F. Zirkel of Winchester, Mr. John H. Rice of Manchester, N. H., and Mr. George A. Barbato, brother of the bride, of Manchester, N. H.

Kenneth M. Pratt

School Custodian Died Suddenly Tuesday

Kenneth Madison Pratt of 15 Wildwood street, a native of Winchester and custodian at the Mystic School for nearly twenty years, died suddenly shortly before 1:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 28, while on his way back to school after his lunch hour at home.

Mr. Pratt complained of not feeling well while at home and as he was driving his Ford sedan along Bacon street easterly toward the Parkway near Ravenscroft road, he seemed to lose control of the car which veered to the right, striking a tree with its right front fender. The car then crossed the street and went over the sidewalk, striking the stone wall in front of the home of Mr. George Vargis at 47 Bacon street and turning over. When the car was righted Mr. Pratt was unconscious and was ordered taken to the Winchester Hospital by Dr. George A. Marks who happened to be following the Pratt car along Bacon street.

Officers John Reardon and James Cogan took Mr. Pratt to the Winchester Hospital where he was examined by Dr. Marks and pronounced dead. The body was removed to the Bennett-Norris Funeral Home where it was viewed by Medical Examiner J. Vincent Di Rago, who found death due to a heart attack before the accident occurred.

Mr. Pratt had returned home only Monday evening from the Square Dance Camp at Pine Woods on the Cape. Previously he had attended the Unitarian conference at the Isles of Shoals, and he was planning to return to the dance camp later in the summer.

Born in Winchester July 31, 1891, Mr. Pratt was the son of George E. Pratt, a well-known plumber with a shop in the old Lyeum Building, and of Lizzie (Webster) Pratt. He attended the Wyman, Prince and Wadleigh schools and as a boy sang in the boys' choir of the Church of the Epiphany.

Mr. Pratt graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1910, and from Tufts College in the class of 1915. From college he entered the investment field and worked for the Boston investment house of Curtis & Sanger until the depression of 1929-31.

Like so many others, Mr. Pratt had to find work which was not easy in those days, especially for one trained only in the financial field.

He worked for the Winchester Park Department and Cemetery Department, and for a short time for the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company.

In October of 1940 he was appointed custodian of the Mystic School and he had served in this capacity ever since, being universally popular with the school children, teachers and parents.

Mr. Pratt took an active part in community affairs. A member of the Unitarian Church, he served the society as treasurer from 1917 to 1920, later teaching in the church school and serving as treasurer of the church School of Religion. In recent years he had taken care of the lights at the church services, missing few if actually any Sundays over the past 10 years. He was also active at the Unitarian Star Island conferences at the Isles of Shoals.

For many years Mr. Pratt was a member of the Winchester Boat Club. He served the club as treasurer from 1933 to 1938, later as director, and in the old days of competitive paddling at the club, he coached the various crews, as well as paddling himself, single and double blade, club fours and bow canoe. On several occasions he represented Winchester at the regattas of the American Canoe Association at Sugar Island in the Isles of Shoals, and for many years he acted as cook for the popular W.B.C. cook-outs.

Besides his Boat Club membership Mr. Pratt was a member of the old Calumet Club, rolling on the Boat Club team that won the bowling championship in the latter days of the club. He was also a member of the former Phi Delta Society of Winchester.

After his graduation from Tufts, Mr. Pratt continued his interest in the college as a member of the alumni players, being active back stage in several of their productions. He was also a regular attendant at his class reunions and at the Alumni Day activities. His hobby in recent years was, however, square dancing, and as a member of the Country Dance Society he participated in dances in many places throughout Greater Boston and out of state as well as going yearly to Square Dance Camp near Plymouth on the Cape.

Known affectionately to every one as "Weenie," Mr. Pratt was liked by every one wherever he went and held in the highest esteem by those who knew his sterling character. A good son, a devoted brother, a loyal friend and faithful servant, he was genuinely beloved by those who knew him intimately.

Mr. Pratt was the last of his family. He leaves three cousins, Mrs. Robert Symmes of Marblehead, Clifford Pratt and Malcolm Pratt.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the Bennett-Norris Chapel with the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Pratt family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

First Intra-Town Little League Tourney Playoff, 6-2

Last Saturday afternoon at West Side Field before a large and enthusiastic gathering of Winchester parents and friends the 1959 All-Star Tournament started off with a bang.

In the first meeting ever to occur between our two worthy Winchester teams, Neal Doherty's American League team defeated Art Johns' National League team by the score of 6-2.

The game was featured throughout by fine pitching, sparkling defensive play and best of all excellent sportsmanship on the part of all players, managers and fans.

This game truly represented Winchester at its best with no partisanship evident at any time, just natural enthusiasm, with everyone applauding good plays by either side. Our two managers certainly typify the highest character possible and it is largely due to them that such an exhibition was possible. It is unfortunate that we had to meet so early in the tournament for the boy's sake but we sincerely believe that this game has done more to help us all to a better understanding of the principles of Little League than anything in the past. Winning the game is not the most important issue, but playing the game is, and both teams did exactly that.

It is not the purpose of Little League to single out any individual for particular attention as this is a team affair and every boy whether or he plays in the game or not, contributes his share by attending practice sessions, doing what he is asked, and playing the position where he is needed most, even though it may be in the coach's box.

There will be times when we as parents or loyal fans, may not understand certain things that happen but rest assured that the boys have complete confidence in their manager and coach and know that what they do they believe to be in their best interests, and if they feel that way, then we must certainly share in that faith.

It was very pleasing to see the parents of many of our Babe Ruth players at the game, all these people having contributed to and built Little League from the start.

A wonderful dream come true would be that more of us, no matter what league affiliation, would support each other by attendance at each other's games because for one reason, the boys themselves respond and react to such encouragement.

Now that this game is history let us all get behind OUR team and support it the rest of the way. The second and third rounds of elimination at the district level will be over when this paper is issued but the final game for the District Title, no matter who the participants, will be played at our Ginn Field on Bacon street, Friday night, July 31 at 6:00 o'clock.

We are sure that you will enjoy the game. Come down and join us. Following is Saturday's box score:

Playground Notes

On last Thursday morning, a combined West Side and Ginn Field group of boys 10-12 called the "West Ginn" visited Leonard Field for a baseball game against the "Leon Lads," a team made up of boys from Leonard and Loring.

The "Leon Lads" won 5-3 with George Murphy on the mound for the victors and Kevin Crowley pitching for the losers. Bob Gilberti was the star for the winners with two doubles and three runs batted in. Dave Rowe and Joe Mawn were also in the hit column.

For the losers Bob Moran was the big stickler with a double and single, while Jim Logan and Paul Collins also hit safely. Others taking part in the game were John Cussen, Phil Gallagher, Arthur Gallagher, Peter Mawn, George Murphy and Michael Murray for the winners, while the "West Ginn" included John Moran, Henry Martens, Kevin Crowley, Ed Sabol, Jack Kasarian and Courtney West.

These same two teams had a return game on Monday and the "Leon Lads" bested the "West Ginn" 4-3. Scoring for the winners were John Cussen, Dave Rowe (2), Courtney West, Peter Mawn, Bob Gilberti, Arthur Gallagher and George Murphy (2). Those crossing yard dirt for the "West Ginn" were Henry Martens, Paul Collins and Mike Gilberti. The "Leon Lads" scored one in the first and third and had a big fifth inning with six runs.

The "West Ginn" crossed the plate for one in the first and two in the second. With bases loaded in the fifth Jimmy Logan grounded out to Joe Mawn at second, who made a beautiful pick-up, tagged Kevin Crowley on his way to second and then threw to Dave Rowe for a neat double play which ended the inning. Those playing in this game who did not play in the first contest were Bill Chase, Jack Burrows and Scott Barenwald for the "West Ginn," while the "Leon Lads" stuck to the original lineup.

The Stenham 12-to-15-year olds visited Loring Field for a baseball game last Friday afternoon and the Winchesterites were on the winning side 3-1. Taking the field for Winchester were Bob Donlon, George Neville, Richie Casalnuovo, Tom Mulloy, Frank Hession, Phil Doherty, Ben Benincasa, Richie Faietta, John Brenner, Bob Colough and Johnny Peckham. Johnny did a fine job on the mound, holding the visitors to three scratch hits in seven innings. Scoring the three runs were Benincasa and Casalnuovo, who scored twice. Neville crossed Casalnuovo with the first run with a timely double in the second, and Benincasa hit safely to score Casalnuovo in the fifth, and then he scored when Richie Faietta doubled to right center in the same frame.

On Tuesday morning, the Winchester 10-to-12-year-olds visited Stenham for a baseball game, and Winchester was on the long end of a 7-3 score. Playing for Winchester were Francis Mawn, Dave Rowe, John Cussen, Bob Gilberti, Richard Murray, Peter Mawn, Charles Tofuri, Arthur Gallagher, George Murphy, Mike Murray, and Jimmy Appleton. In the hit column were F. Mawn, D. Rowe, B. Gilberti, R. Murray, C. Tofuri and G. Murphy. Doing the scoring were R. Murray, C. Tofuri (2), Arthur Gallagher, D. Rowe (2), and F. Mawn.

This afternoon the 12-to-15-year olds visit Stenham for a game. In the first encounter between these two teams, Winchester was on the winning end 3-1 and hopes to repeat; but win or lose, it will be a lot of fun.

While the above boys were participating in baseball, others, along with the girls, were enjoying themselves playing kickball, dodgeball, whiffleball, basketball, croquet and quarts.

Still others were interestingly busy in the arts and crafts department making pot holders, costume jewelry, earrings, lanyards, leather belts, change purses, moccasins and bracelets.

A tentative date has been set aside for Beach Day, and that date is Wednesday, August 12. Last week this column informed youngsters interested in attending this summer day to have a written note signed by a parent stating that "Joan may go to the beach." It was also mentioned that $1.00 should accompany the note, the use of this dollar to be explained later. We are planning to go to Crane's Beach and the youngsters will be cared for by Supervisor Frank Provinziano and his instructors, Mary Doherty, Mary Garvey, Judy Dellicker and Jim Callahan. More details will be given later, but buses will leave at 9:30 a.m. and return at 4:00 p.m.

All planning to attend should make reservations as early as possible so that a bus or buses may be contracted for. Have the youngsters report to the instructors at the various fields with the written note. The reason for the note is to assure us that the parents have granted permission for the youngsters to come along.

Saturday, August 15, has also been set aside as Playground Day. Many events for youngsters and parents will be held, with several badges awarded to winners of various contests. Next week's column will inform you more, but there will definitely be races for all ages and both sexes, costume parade, doll carriage parade, bicycle parade, arts and crafts exhibit, and various activities during the day's program. Look in this column for further and more complete information in the weeks to come.

Next week Loring and Ginn Fields will be officially open on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, while Leonard and West Side Fields will be open on Tuesday and Thursday. Arts and crafts will be offered at Leonard and Loring in the mornings when these fields are supervised, and Ginn and West Side Fields will have arts and crafts in the afternoons on the days they are open.

There will be baseball, croquet and quarts in the mornings at the various fields, while in the afternoon there will be baseball, kickball, croquet, basketball and quarts in readiness for the youngsters.

In closing, don't forget the notes for Beach Day, and start preparing yourselves for Playground Day.

Town Softball

Since the Town Softball League was originated, thirty years ago, this is the first season the champions were declared with consecutive wins in the semi-finals and finals.

The new champions, the aggressive V.F.W., defeated the younger and strong Elks team two straight in the semi-finals and kept in the win column by defeating the challenging S.O.I. in three consecutive wins in the finals.

As they say in the baseball world, "that's baseball for you." The first two games in the finals were hum-dingers from beginning to end and then in the deciding game the new champs walloped the challengers 19-2 in a one-sided game. The Vets had a big day at bat in the final contest by reaching three S.O.I. pitchers for a total of twenty hits. How can a team lose getting hits like that!

You read about the first game in this column last week and in a very close second game the Vets won 2-1. This was the Vets' home game and the S.O.I. went down in order in the initial frame. For the Vets Tom Cogan reached on a walk and reached third on an error off Jocko Serieka's grounder. Cogan then trotted home on Ron McKenzie's single.

Pete Provinziano hit safely for the S.O.I. in the second but was left stranded on base as the result of a fly and two infield outs. The Vets went down in order as the S.O.I. did in the third inning. Nonny Cogan opened the Vets' third with a single and advanced on Archie MacDonald's hit but then the inning ended with three fly balls.

In the fourth frame, Joe Berardi walked for the S.O.I., advanced on Les Brooks' fielder's choice, went to third after Mel Fiore's fly to right center where he remained when Pete Provinziano grounded out for the last out. The Vets had three up and three down in their half of the fourth.

In the fifth for the S.O.I. first batter, Camarata grounded out. Sam Bellino singled but did not score when Dick Tofuri and Joe Flaherty flied out. The first two batters for the Vets flied out, Nonny Cogan got his second single and Archie MacDonald flied out.

Mel Fiore singled for the Sons in the sixth but did not advance when Joe Berardi grounded out and Brooks and Garcia flied out. For the Vets, Ron McKenzie tripled but then the next three batters went down on infield pop ups.

The Sons tied the score at 1-1 in the seventh when Provinziano flied to deep center, Bob Fiore, pinch-hitting for Camarata, singled to right and Sam Bellino connected for a three bagger to score B. Fiore with the tying run. The Vets got no hits or runs in the seventh and going into extra innings, Joe Berardi walked for the Sons, Brooks flied out to center, Mel Fiore walked and with a man on first and second Garcia hit a grounder to Nonny Cogan at third. Nonny tagged Joe Berardi on his way to third and threw to Tom Cogan at first for a beautiful double play to end the inning.

In the last of the final for the Vets, Tom Cogan singled to start things rolling, Jocko Serieka walked, Ron McKenzie grounded out with second and third now occupied, Paul MacDonald walked to lead the bases then John Dilorio flied to center when Cogan tagged up and drove for the plate, Flaherty threw to P. F. Amico at the plate and Paul got a bit confused. At the moment he thought because bases were loaded it would be a force out at the plate so he stepped on the plate just as T. Cogan crossed with the second and winning run. Had the runner been tagged the game would not have ended at that point. Again, "that's baseball."

The two teams went at it again last Thursday but after getting three innings the rains came and you never saw a field of players and spectators take cover so fast. When the game was called, the Vets were ahead 5-2.

Starting with a new game on Monday evening, the Vets really poured it on. This time it rained runs as the Vets walloped the S.O.I. 19-2.

This was the home game for the S.O.I. with the Vets batting first. Nonny Cogan started off with a single. Nonny, incidentally, got five for five in this contest and made some beautiful plays at third to go with those hits. Anyway, after his single Archie MacDonald, Sonny Swyer and John Dilorio went down in order. Nobody reached for the S.O.I. in its half of the first.

In the second stanza, McKenzie, P. MacDonald, O'Brien, Bond, Nonny Cogan, Sonny Swyer and John Dilorio all hit safely to account for seven big runs. Billy Bond's was a triple scoring three ahead of him. It should be mentioned, too, that strong arm Billy went undefeated on the mound for the Vets in the playoffs and pitched all but about five games in the complete schedule. This was his first year pitching and he did a tremendous job. At times it was difficult to see why he could not be hit.

The Sons in the bottom of the second got two hits by P. Provinziano and Joe Flaherty but they were left stranded. The Sons got another hit by Moose Bellino in the third, were held hitless and scoreless in the fourth, and fifth innings.

The Vets got one hit, Nonny Cogan's in the third. Ron McKenzie singled in the fifth to score Serieka after he walked and were held for nothing in the sixth.

In the Sons' half of the sixth, Joe Berardi opened with a single, Les Brooks flied out, Sam Bellino reached on an error, Mel Fiore singled to score Berardi and Pete Provinziano flied out to right with

Tourney Opens

Action in the second annual Mystic Valley Junior Veterans' Tennis Championship gets under way this afternoon at William Packer Courts with opening singles matches scheduled for 4 p.m. The well-balanced field has been strengthened by the entries of Master Sgts. Bill Millikan and Marty Jones of the U. S. Army.

Members of the All-Army tennis squad, which is now in training at West Point, N. Y. for the forthcoming All-Service competition, Sgts. Millikan and Jones are expected to give the assembled New England talent a good tussle for the laurels in both singles and doubles. Millikan is the holder of the All-Army singles title in the senior division and co-holder with Jones in doubles.

Pre-tournament predictions have further been scrambled by the eleventh hour withdrawal of defending champion Bill Power of Worcester, due to business commitments. Among the leading contenders for singles honors will be Dr. Don Manchester of Auburndale, Jim Coon, Jr., Art Hills and Bob Joslin of Winchester.

On view in the doubles will be a host of canny teams including the recent winners of the Mass. State Open, Dr. Manchester and Bill Powers of Newton. A good local representation is expected in the doubles with entries for the tournament remaining open until 9 p.m. tonight, when the draw will be made at the home of chairman Art Hills, 34 Cabot street. A consolation doubles event will also be held for the first time this year and will no doubt prove to be a popular innovation.

Of interest to local tennis buffs will be the appearance of Russ Ellis, Putney, Vermont, who will return to his home town for the tournament. Last year, Russ was a participant in one of the most memorable matches, as he and his partner waged a three-hour battle before yielding to the dreadnaughts of New England tennis, Bill Gifford and Jim Porterfield.

Also on hand will be the facile racket of Wayne Schell, perennial badminton champion, a terror over head and at close quarters with the volley. Another spectacular player, Paul Conway, of Melrose, also complete. Conway, former hockey star, has a particularly strong wrist and an affinity for the outright winner.

Winchester Basketball League

The attendance for participants and spectators has been on the increase at the Ginn Field basketball court for the Winchester Basketball League.

Remember that league games are played every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. There are two games per evening, with the first game starting at 6:30 and the second game at 7:45.

Friday evenings have been set aside for special games with one or two games being played over night if necessary. For example an outside team may find it difficult to appear on Friday evening so another playing time may be selected. With this in mind, for instance, a game has been arranged for Wednesday evening, August 5, at 7 p.m.

You will see several former Winchester High School stars in action such as Dave Bergquist, who now plays for Colby College, Jim Wright of Brown University, Bob Freeman, Paul White, Rod Long, now at Harvard, Phil Fox, Dave Schumacher and many more wearing the colors for the Winchester unit.

Raytheon will report with several former high school, college and semi-pro players and one new all star, Mike Callahan. Mike claims he has to be good to play for them so a promising and thrilling game is on tap. Remember these boys will play at Ginn Field, Wednesday, August 5, at 7 p.m.

Then two days later, Friday evening, under the leadership of Dave Bergquist, the Winchester children's basketball team will put on an interesting exhibition. Taking part in this contest will be Peter Ledger, Jim Devaney, Bill Christensen, Roger Schellpelt, John Donovan, Jay Parsons, B. Harris, Bruce Fitzgerald, Ambrose Devaney, Jeff Peckham, Bob Donlon, Dick Cass, George Snelling, Frank Frongillo, Ronnie Kane, Bill Thoms, and many others who will be returning from camp, etc.

These games promise to be thrillers so be there to see your favorites wishing them.

Next Week's Schedule
Tuesday, August 4 — Bears vs. Sachems, 6:30; Giants vs. Collegians, 7:45.
Wednesday, August 5 — Winchester All Stars vs. Raytheon, 7:00.
Thursday, August 6 — Giants vs. Sachems, 6:30; Bears vs. Collegians, 7:45.
Friday, August 7 — Future High School Stars, 7:00.

Many Drivers Have Restricted Vision Says ALA

A startling 49% of women drivers and 33% of male drivers cannot see over the steering wheel of the car they are driving. They either have the steering wheel directly in the line of their vision or they must look under it in order to see through the windshield. These figures were derived from a recent survey conducted by the Automobile Legal Association on the major highways of New England.

George L. Dunn of the A.L.A. Safety Department said that the poor vision factor, though not having received much attention in the past, could well be one of the major contributing factors in the annual highway slaughter of some 40,000 motorists. He pointed out that increased concern with this startling situation would perhaps bring forth results from the Detroit automotive engineers in the form of redesigned front seats, extensions of the floor pedals, elimination of the upper third of the steering wheel (airplane style) or even doing away with the steering wheel entirely in favor of a lever-bar device.

Of course there is always the alternative of using more vitamins and a strategically placed pillow.

Children's Own School Has Busy Season

On July 7, the Children's Own School opened its summer session with a three-day-a-week program. This marked the beginning of the school's seventeenth year of continuing service to Winchester and the surrounding communities.

An unusual feature of this summer session is the nature study class, conducted by Mrs. Hastings of Concord, a member of the Audubon Society's teaching staff. In connection with this class an especially happy morning is planned for Thursday, August 6, when they will visit Drummell Farm in Lincoln to study the various animals and birds, ending the excursion with a gay hayride.

The past school year, an extremely interesting one for all concerned, ended in a big closing party held on May 29. Parents, younger brothers and sisters, as well as other young friends, were entertained by English and French songs, the rhythm band and a short demonstration of work accomplished in the French classes during the past season, the whole school membership participating. Mme. Denis Noisieux conducted the French classes and will continue her teaching in the school during the coming year. Refreshments were served on one of the playgrounds after the entertainment. Winchester children participating in the closing party were: Elizabeth Andrews, Richard Baird, Penny Bower, John Goethals, Alan Greene, Bruce Lerch, Peter Meyer, Andrew Shannon, Nancy Shipman and Kimberly Thomas.

Recently Miss Dorothy Gove, director of the Children's Own School, entertained members of the parents' committee at a buffet supper at the close of a busy season of active support of the school. Those attending were: Mrs. William Baird, Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carlson, Woburn; Mr. Michael Duffy and Mrs. Paul Entress, Bedford; Mrs. Nathan Goldberg, Belmont; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maddock, Reading.

Former school parents will be interested to learn that Mrs. Martha Johnson of Lexington will be rejoining the school's teaching staff next fall. Mrs. Johnson, a graduate of Wheelock College, will be the teacher of the kindergarten group.

In June various examples of pupils' artwork, paintings, drawings, pasted wall panels, as well as pictures of Winchester, were flown to India by Dr. Balasundaram of Cambridge, who was returning for the summer to his home in Madras. The orphanage, Aravai Home and Ashram, with which the Children's Own School has been corresponding, is situated in Madras, also.

Dr. Balasundaram is to visit the orphanage on behalf of the Winchester school. Upon his arrival in Cambridge during the fall, he will bring messages from the Madras institution. This friendly relationship with the Indian school is another means by which the Children's Own School tries to bring to its pupils an interest in and awareness of the everyday lives of children in other countries.

Winchester's next match will be with a reportedly strong Lexington squad which is expected to test the local racket swingers thoroughly. Practice sessions for team candidates continue at William Packer Courts every Monday evening.

Tennis Team Wins

Winchester's New England Junior Tennis League team continued undefeated in league play as it journeyed to Lincoln, July 22 and scored a decisive 7-0 win. Once again the Winchester boys swept five singles matches and two doubles encounters without the loss of a set.

Making his initial appearance for Winchester was Kent Parrot, as he routed Ridge White of Lincoln 6-0, 6-3, at No. 3 singles. Other singles winners were Allan Buross, Jr., Bob Gowdy, Jeff Hills and Gerry Hills. In doubles, Jim Reid and Bill Keeton won handily as did the pairing of Buross and Gowdy.

Winchester's next match will be with a reportedly strong Lexington squad which is expected to test the local racket swingers thoroughly. Practice sessions for team candidates continue at William Packer Courts every Monday evening.

EDITORIALS

The tax bills are all out, and although the amount due is no more than it was last year, a casual glance through past check books will quickly remind you that it is costing a lot more to own real estate in Winchester than it did, say ten years ago. While this is generally so, that sage observation doesn't help the harassed Winchester taxpayer too much.

It is getting pretty expensive to live in Winchester and a quick glance into the future isn't particularly reassuring. With at least one, and possibly two school buildings to be constructed, the town's pressing disposal problem becoming more and more acute and many of the town's streets beginning to need attention, there isn't likely to be any lowering of the tax rate for a while.

The Star has already heard rumblings of a special town meeting to consider the rubbish disposal problem, and unofficially we understand the recommendation is going to be for an incinerator at a cost reported to be $350,000.

There can be little question that the need for a place to dispose of the town's refuse is pressing, and there is also little question that no section of the town wants a dump within its borders! That has been conclusively demonstrated. Cessation of burning at the present dump in response to complaints has just about finished the usefulness of that location, at least under existing conditions.

A citizen of the town suggested to the Star last week that one means of attacking the disposal problem would be to require approved home incinerators and refuse longer to take combustible refuse at the dump. If this were done, the citizen said, there are many locations about town that might be filled with non-combustible material and give the town several years before it becomes necessary to make a major refuse disposal move.

The town has twice rejected the proposal to build an apartment house building in town, thereby shutting the door on tax revenue from this source, and there has been no great rush on the part of "light clean" industry to locate here though there has been some slight industrial influx of late.

So any great bulge in the tax rate to pay for these proposed capital expenses is going to have to be met by the good old real estate taxpayers—another straw on the sagging camel's back. Bear this in mind, and if we have to spend, spend wisely! From now on the yardstick should be, not is it desirable, but is it necessary!

Every week-end, and often through the week, tragic drownings are announced as the result of persons who do not know how to swim, or are at best poor swimmers seeking to enjoy themselves in, or on the water.

There is scant excuse for any one so minded not knowing how to swim these days. At every hand instruction is available and generally free, as a public service. The many camps for boys and girls, both boarding and day camps, do a fine job of teaching their campers to care for themselves, and others in the water.

Here in Winchester the Red Cross offers a water safety program that includes teaching novices, child and adult, to swim; and aiding advanced swimmers to improve their mastery of the sport that is so popular in the summer.

Junior and advanced lifesaving is also taught, and no one who is going to do a lot of swimming at a lot of places should be without the knowledge and techniques acquired in this instruction. Skills acquired in lifesaving courses may enable you to save, either your own life or the life of a friend or loved one.

Parents of young children who can not swim should see to it that their kiddies take advantage of the opportunity provided by the Red Cross to learn to swim, and to learn to swim correctly. Like any sport correct procedures at the start make all the difference. And it might be a good idea for young active parents, who do not swim well, or at all, to enroll themselves in these Red Cross courses. What they learn may so easily avoid a family tragedy.

By all means take a trip to the beach during the Red Cross swimming programs. Talk to Mr. Shinnery, Miss Johnson or Miss Neville. You will find them all eager to help you and your youngsters be really safe around water.

The clipping about careless bicycle riding sent in this week by Mr. Ryerson has a message all youngsters and their parents may well ponder. It isn't hard to imagine how any youngster would feel after knocking down an elderly man with his bicycle and having him die of the injuries sustained. It could happen here just as it did in Worcester.

As a matter of fact the Star has often wondered why some pedestrian, leaving the Star building has not been struck and badly injured by one of the bikes whose riders zoom down grade from Vine street around McCormack's corner. We have had some near misses ourselves.

Mr. Ryerson complains of the danger inherent to pedestrians from carelessly ridden bicycles, and there is such danger undeniably. Many youngsters, probably because of the press of automobiles on the highways ride on sidewalks wherever possible, and when being ridden on sidewalks bicycles do conflict with those walking there. In such a case who has prior rights? There is no question about this! Sidewalks are for pedestrians, not bicycles!

Then, you say, what about the kids and their bikes? Where can they safely ride? The answer seems to be getting nearer and nearer to "nowhere!" The streets, with more and more automobiles being driven on them each year are becoming increasingly dangerous for bicycling, either adult or youthful.

If your kiddies are going to ride bikes, and bicycling is both fun and healthy exercise, impress it upon them that danger can be riding with them on the handle bars or bundle rack. Try to make them see that they have a duty to society when they ride their bikes, first to keep out of trouble themselves and second, not to cause trouble to others. Careful riding, with due care for the rules of the road, will go far toward guaranteeing safety all around.

And if your youngster is old enough to ride a bike on the highway, he is old enough to know the regulations made for his, and the public's protection.

Woburn Babe Ruth Prexy Thanks Winchester

Editor of the Star:

May I through your columns extend the sincere thanks of the Woburn Babe Ruth League to the Winchester Babe Ruth League and the Winchester Park Department for their kindness in making Manchester Field available to the Woburn Babe Ruth League for their championship play games.

In our first playoff game with Winchester we were delighted with Manchester Field, and decided to ask if we could use it for our succeeding games, July 19 and 25.

We did not learn until 10 o'clock Saturday night, July 18, that Woburn would play Lowell the next afternoon, yet when we called President Jim Fitzgerald of the Winchester Babe Ruth League and Bobby Callahan at that late hour they were most gracious.

Contacting the Park Department officials, Chairman Jim Coon and Superintendent "Babe" Mullen, the necessary arrangements were made and the Park Department, in a splendid example of good public relations and real neighborly spirit, lined the field, raked the diamond and put out the bases for us Sunday morning.

They did the same thing for us last Saturday when Woburn won the Area 4 championship by beating Watertown 2-1. Through the continued cooperation of the Park Department we will play the State semi-final game with the winner of the Norwood-Wellesley game tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on Manchester Field.

Woburn is most appreciative of the cooperation of the Winchester Babe Ruth and park authorities, and also of the courtesy extended to us by the Winchester fans. Thanks for everything.

Leo McElhinney,
President, Woburn Babe Ruth League

From a Babe Ruth Mother

Editor of the Star:

Where were you on the afternoon of July 18? You certainly were not at Manchester Field for the Babe Ruth game, or you wouldn't have written that editorial. You would have seen, as I did, that our boys conducted themselves very well, as did their parents, the "old regulars" who have followed these boys through Little League and Babe Ruth tournaments in other years.

Whether our boys have won or lost, we have backed them up and have done what we could to see that they were in proper physical and mental condition, on time for games, and attended practice regularly.

Had you attended the game, you would have seen, as I did, that our boys did shake hands with the victors, and at least one of our boys went over to the Woburn side to congratulate the pitcher.

As for our boys not helping to pick up equipment after the game, my baseball fan knows that is the "bat boy's" job. During the regular season there was also a team director, a father who was responsible for equipment, and if the managers felt the need for an "All Star" director, they had only to ask.

WHEREVER YOU ARE

Dear Boys and Girls:

We have a selection of back-to-school clothes and shoes already in stock.

These clothes and shoes are the newest styles and are all ready for your selection.

Come in and see us and make your selections early.

Ronel's
23-25 Thompson Street
Parkview 9-1708

You criticized the players, the parents and the fans, so it is too bad you didn't include our loyal coaches and managers, too. By omitting them, your editorial sounds as though they had complained to you, and that is not fair to them.

The Babe Ruth organization is grateful for their services and time, the parents are appreciative of their efforts, and the boys like them, so none of us are complaining.

Naturally, we have our "arm-chair" discussions, but that is part of the fun of baseball. When it comes to their conduct and language on the field, the managers and coaches are above reproach.

Before you sound off again, why don't you attend the next Little League All Star game? There you will see the parents and friends of the winning and losing Winchester teams, the Babe Ruth and even the Junior Legion parents, and you can judge for yourself.

Signed,

Bicycle Riding

Editor of the Star:

Wherever You Are

Worcester police are hopeful a young boy will be in to talk to them one of these days.

He's got a lot to learn, and they want him to learn now before his lack of knowledge destroys him and before he's old enough to get behind the wheel of an automobile.

James Healy, 76, started to cross Front street in Worcester, July 1 when he was struck down by a bicycle operated by a boy about 15. There were no witnesses. The boy never stopped, and the man was taken to Worcester City Hospital with a fractured left hip and internal injuries.

He died there July 15.

The above clipping, taken from the Boston Globe on the morning of July 16 would be well re-printed to re-emphasize the danger of careless bicycle riding.

The Dognapper

Dogs are not necessarily a put-in-place possession. They delight by nature to roam; they love the company of humans (unlike almost all other species of animal life); they can be too friendly.

The dog stealer of course is not a dog lover although there may be rare instances when a person steals a dog because he is desirous of having the ownership and companionship of a dog.

As the hunting season approaches, this kind of dog stealing is more common—and it is heartless. Alas, the faithful dog, true to his heritage, works zealously in the hunting field. Then after a short ten days or so, when no longer of use, is kicked out of the car and the human sportsman ride back to their homes. Hence at this time of the year, any dog that can be considered a field or hunting dog, is prey for this type of human.

The individual who steals dogs, usually strays, for transporting to hospitals, medical schools and laboratories, where the dogs are sold for a small price, is far less worthy of attention than the dog he steals.

The purchasers of these dogs also should be held to a requirement to show proof that the merchandise they buy, has not been stolen.

The "dognapper" presents still another type of human who is no credit to his species. Dogs disappear from their homes; they may have been let out for an airing; they do not return.

The saddened owner places an ad in the newspaper; soon his phone rings—"Are you the people who lost a dog? I saw the dog in my neighborhood. I think I can get the dog back for you; how much is the reward?"

The reward is paid to a sleazy-looking individual who brings the dog back, at the request of a "friend." He is the dognapper who puts house pets, steals them and waits the reward advertisement.

The following suggestions may lessen the probability that your dog may be a victim.

Try in your training to have the dog friendly but not too friendly; that is, going out of his way to wag his tail and wiggle his body for everyone he meets.

Certainly you punish him for asking food from strangers and from picking up anything eatable anywhere except out of his food dish.

Include the dog's name as part of your commands at all times. This lessens the probability that he will come to strangers, when they all him.

Keep an eye on your dog when off your premises. In most cases a dog should never be without his master or some member of the family and always on lead, when in public streets.

For each Community Drive or event,

In the Old Town Hall,
That's the place the town likes to go
Every year to the Winton Club Show.

In the Old Town Hall,
Who likes the show best of all?
Why, Callahan thinks the cabaret's slick.

He's right on hand when the numbers come thick,
He peeks 'round the curtain, not missing a trick,

Chorus

Summer Reading Club
in Full Swing

596 "bookworms" ranging from first through eighth grade have registered in the summer reading club since June 22. The purpose of the club is to read and report on ten books before the beginning of school in September. Miss Elizabeth Russell, children's librarian, has prepared reading lists for each grade level to help the boys and girls choose appropriate books.

Each person who registers is given a card with a drawing of a very intellectual worm who wears an academic cap and glasses. After each book is read, a segment of the "bookworm" becomes green by means of a green sticker. At this report forty-four boys and girls have completed the number of books required.

Police Entrance

Exam Set for

October 21, 1959

The next police entrance examination will be held on October 21, 1959. The last date for filing applications with the Massachusetts Division of Civil Service is on October 5, 1959.

Applicants shall be not less than 21 nor over 35 years of age at the time of filing application. A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application unless one has been filed with a previous application.

Any veteran who will have attained the age of 21 within six months of the date of any scheduled examination for police service shall not be deemed ineligible for examination and appointment because of established minimum age requirements to take such examination.

No honorably discharged Korean veteran shall be disqualified by reason of age from taking an examination if at the time of his entry into such service he was of a proper age to qualify.

Applicants must be not less than five feet seven inches in height and must meet minimum weight requirements which are available at the police station.

Out of 10 points total on the tests, 3 points are for training and experience and the remaining 7 points are for practical questions, including memory test, general information and police manual questions. Applicants must obtain at least 70% in each subject in order to qualify.

Physical fitness is determined by physical examination and a qualifying strength test. Here again applicants must obtain at least 70% in the strength test but the mark is not included in the general average mark.

The practical questions, other than the memory test and the general information questions, will be based on information contained in the current edition of the Police Manual which was prepared by the Director of Civil Service and is available at the Public Document Division, Room 116, State House, Boston. The manual costs 25 cents.

DR. ROBERT H. KROEPSCH

Addresses Conference in Puerto Rico

Dr. Robert H. Kroepsch of 45 Grove street, executive secretary of the New England Board of Higher Education, will address the National Governors' Conference on August 4 in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

This session of the conference dealing with regional education will be under the chairmanship of Governor Cecil Underwood of West Virginia, who is also chairman of the Southern Regional Education Board.

As director of one of the nation's three regional educational agencies, Dr. Kroepsch will discuss the role of these agencies in developing solutions to two of the major problems facing higher education within the next ten years.

According to Dr. Kroepsch, "The problems of providing programs of higher education for twice as many college students by 1970 as in 1955 as well as providing an adequate number of well-qualified faculty members to instruct these students are now and will continue to be crucial issues in higher education."

The directors of the two other agencies will emphasize the contributions of regional agencies in supplying the nation with professional manpower in specialized areas, of equalizing opportunities for higher education through interstate student exchange contracts, of financing expanded programs adequately and wisely, and of communicating educational issues to the public at large.

Not Record Rainfall, Yet!

You will find it hard to get an argument if you say July has been a rainy month, or that June before it was pretty rainy, too. In fact, most folks will agree we have had a doggone rainy spring.

Encountering many who have claimed a record rainfall in Winchester for July sent Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz, like "Al" Smith, to the records, and he found that while the current July has been moist all right, and even on the wet side, it is far from establishing any records, at least not yet!

The total rainfall for July up to July 28 has been 8.13in., a good precipitation (Mr. Halwartz is very pleased with it), but not up to some of the rainfalls of the past.

In 1876 there were 8.6in. for the entire month of July, and with some three days to go the current

July might equal that figure, or the 8.1in. in July, 1915.

In 1921, however, there was a rainfall of 9.1in., and in 1938, a whopping big 12.08in. It is most unlikely that either of these last two rainfalls will be reached this year, and the Star, personally, won't be disappointed if they aren't. We've had it!

Fires

July 27: At 2:15 p.m. smoke was reported coming from a dishwasher at 3 Madison avenue west. Engine 4 responded and firefighters found that there was a short circuit in the motor.

July 28: The Winchester Boston & Maine signal tower reported a flat car on fire near Swanton street at 7:20 a.m. Engine 4 responded and firefighters found the car on the siding near Calvary cemetery. Some machinery bound for Argentina was burned in the blaze. The B & M is investigating the incident.

Ever wonder if you can get those colorful old fashioned Japanese lanterns for decorating. You can, at the Star Office, 25c, 29c and 50c.

Artists Wanted for Design Competition

"A Call for Artists" in Winchester to submit designs for the 1961 Christmas Seal to fight tuberculosis is being asked for by the Middlesex Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Many eminent artists have contributed to the programs of the Christmas Seal over the years by designing seals which conveyed the spirit of this nation-wide endeavor to wipe out a tragic disease.

All artists are invited to submit ideas on designs for the 1961 Christmas Seal. An award of $500 is offered to the artist whose design is selected.

The Christmas Seal design selected last year to spearhead the annual campaign for funds was chosen by a committee composed of tuberculosis workers, representative of the country as a whole.

The artist and his career are publicized by all tuberculosis associations. Hundreds of newspapers in large cities and small towns carry news stories about the Christmas Seal and its designer.

The deadline to submit designs is September 15, 1959. All interested artists may contact the Middlesex Tuberculosis and Health Association, 385 Broadway, Somerville 45, Massachusetts. The telephone number is PRospect 6-3093.

On Coast Guard Cutter Humboldt

Husbands of two Winchester girls, Charles H. Sinclair and Gary N. Tuttle, are serving aboard the United States Coast Guard Cutter Humboldt, cruising in Bermuda. The Humboldt is assigned to training Coast Guard reservists and to the important function of search and rescue within a fifty mile radius of Bermuda.

It is not uncommon for the Humboldt to steam out to sea for days on an errand of mercy. Only recently an injured seaman aboard a merchantman was transported from a point 190 miles southeast of Bermuda to the island. Sinclair, whose parents live in Arlington, is a storekeeper, third class. He is acting as a crewmember-instructor on a series of two-week reserve training cruises. He is married to the former Marjorie J. Wallace of 47 Vine street.

Tuttle's parents live in Salt Lake City, Utah. He too is an instructor-crew member and is married to the former Carole Wallace of Winchester.

Guy A. LaMarea of 103 Church street has been accepted for admittance to Wentworth Institute, Boston, for the 1959-60 academic year. LaMarea, a graduate of Winchester High School, is enrolled in building construction.

"Oh, Captain!" Opens at North Shore

"Oh, Captain!" the famous film, "Captain's Paradise" set to the music of Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, comes to the North Shore Music Theater in Beverly this Monday evening, August 3. Frankly, a song and dance show, "Oh, Captain!" concerns the escapades and misadventures of a tiny English sea-captain with a wife in one port and a mistress in the other. Starring in the Alec Guinness role of the captain is Eric Berry, the celebrated British actor whom Americans will remember for his role of Dimitri in "The Red Shoes," as well as his Broadway appearance in "The Boy Friend" with Julie Andrews. Betty Oates, known to Broadway for leading roles in "The Most Happy Fella" (opposite Robert Weede), "Of Thee I Sing," and "Charley's Aunt," is playing the English wife, and beautiful Marilyn Bradley plays the tempestuous French mistress with a yen for domesticity.

The North Shore Music Theater is scheduling another special event next week, a children's concert on Thursday, August 6, at 1:30 p.m. An hour-length program, "The Art and Fun of Orchestration" is under the direction of Robert Mandell, Leonard Bernstein's assistant in the notable young people's concerts on "Omnibus."

Especially designed for children 5 to 13, it promises fun for all the family, highlighting audience participation with a parade, singing, painting and other trademarks of Mr. Mandell's highly original and successful musical entertainments.

The new North Shore Theater Terrace Restaurant, now serving buffet and complete dinners before and after performances, has planned a special box luncheon for the occasion, to be served on the lawn at 12:00 noon Thursday. Reserved tickets for both events are now on sale at the theater's box office or at Winchester Appliance Co. for the convenience of Winchester patrons.

Sleeping Beauty at Granada

Walt Disney's spectacular animated presentation of the "Sleeping Beauty" brings to the Granada Theatre in Malden through Tuesday, August 4, Princess Aurora, most gorgeous of legendary maids, against a backdrop of the fabled land and castle where she grew to her fateful 16th year.

Eyvind Earle, one of America's top illustrators produced the color scheme and magnificent landscapes for the "Sleeping Beauty" with the production design, including background and settings, by two Disney veterans, Don DaGradi and Ken Anderson. Music is from the "Sleeping Beauty Ballet" by Tchaikovsky.

It took six years and $6,000,000 to make the "Sleeping Beauty," which is released through Buena Vista as the supreme effort of Walt Disney's 35 years of showmanship.

ON YOUR MARK—SET—GO!

Dr. Ivar Hakanson snaps stop-watch at start of Massachusetts Corvette Club's sport-car rally last Sunday at the town hall.

Corvettes Hold Rally in Winchester

Sports Cars Start from Town Hall on Run to Winchester, N. H.

If you happened to be in the vicinity of the town hall last Sunday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock, you saw several of those small sports cars known as Corvettes converging on the hall and stopping in the parking lot at the rear of the building.

If your curiosity was piqued and you kept on watching, you saw the cars shortly before 1 o'clock getting into line beside the town hall on the Mill Pond side and also quite a bit of bustling about and checking of watches and maps on the part of the drivers and several official looking personages standing beside the line of cars. At the head of the line of sport cars, stop watch in hand stood Dr. Ivar R. Hakanson, Winchester dentist, and promptly at 1 o'clock, some sort of signal was given that sent the cars out of the parking lot onto Mt. Vernon street, where they headed for the center and thence north on Main street.

If you were still sufficiently interested about it all, you went to one of those standing near the hall after the departure of the cars, and from him, or her, you learned that what you had seen was the start of a "Rally" of the Corvette Club of Massachusetts. The cars you learned were headed for Winchester, N. H.

"Oh!" you say, "a race!" Well, yes of a sort, but a sport-car rally is really a lot more than a race! An automobile race between two points or around a speedway is usually decided by speed or elapsed time. Speed is a factor in a Corvette rally, but lots of times more important than fast driving, and no matter how quick you get to your destination, if you get there before the time set for arrival, you lose points.

And it isn't just the time when you arrive at your ultimate destination. In a Corvette rally there are check points all along the way, and you lose a point per second, early or late, at each of them. It cost you 600 points if you try to evade getting to a checkpoint too soon by stopping within sight of the point, or by approaching from the wrong direction. Routes are carefully mapped for the competitors, and are to be followed until the word is given that the racers are on their own.

For a rally you have to have an odometer. That's the part of your speedometer that tells you how many miles you have been. You also need a calculator, that is a slide rule or some other device for figuring, or you can for $1.95 get what is called speed tables that figure things out for you. Your reporter is all for this!

The rally that started for Winchester, N. H., from the town hall last Sunday wasn't just a race, if a race it can be called. There was more to it than that.

The second leg or latter part of the rally was a tour, with a map problem, to further complicate things. This second leg started when the cars got onto route 25 in Groton.

From then on to Winchester, N. H., each driver was on his own. He could take any route he wished at any speed he chose, PROVIDED he arrived at the town hall in the New Hampshire Winchester within five hours of his starting time in Winchester, Mass.

On a sheet provided for the purpose each team was obliged to give its odometer error at the 10 mile checkpoint, estimated time of arrival in Winchester, N. H.; mileage figured from maps and average speed maintained; all values figured from the start in Winchester, Mass., to Winchester, N. H.

It would seem this would be enough from anyone, but this wasn't all the rallyers had to do. In addition they had to provide proof that on the way to Winchester, N. H., they had passed through a New Hampshire town or city having the same name as one in Massachusetts. Failure to provide this proof set a team back a juicy 600 points.

After 10 miles on Route 25 each team had to be prepared to stop and hand in complete information asked for to personnel at this pickup point.

The scoring was: loss of 1 point per 1/10 mile error in distance, 1 point per 1/10 mile error in speed, 1 point per second early or late with a maximum of 600 for early or late arrival at Winchester, N. H., town hall; 600 points for failure to bring proof of passing through a town or city in New Hampshire with the same name as a Massachusetts city or town, 600 points for evasive action or stopping within sight of checkpoint, and 10 points for each question answered incorrectly.

These last named questions were given contestants when they stopped at the Winchester, N. H., town hall to have their odometer read and get instructions for getting to the Mt. Grace Picnic Area in New Hampshire, where Winchester's rally ended with a picnic and a swim.

These questions were easy enough! They just asked what color shirt the starter was wearing in Winchester, what was unusual about the horse trough in front of the Bedford Branch of the Lexington Trust Company, and what is the approximate difference in population between Winchester, Mass., and Winchester, N. H. Ten points off, remember, for every wrong answer.

Oh yes! The winner of the rally was Dr. George Whoriskey and his nephew, James T. Kenney. Carl Reid and Margie Sweetnam were second and Jim and Norman Rourke, third.

Arrangements for the rally were in the hands of two Winchester enthusiasts, Dr. Hakanson and John Eaton, who got the job because they won the last previous Corvette Club rally, that being one of the ways in which the club rewards its winners. There are of course good looking trophies for the winners, but here again complications arise, for there is but one trophy awarded and there are always two to each sport-car team. So if you aren't husband and wife, or brothers in the same house, or not interested in trophies, there are still settlements to be made.

Two by Fours in Jaffrey Center Concert

The Two-By-Fours, Winchester's male octet, is presenting a two-hour program of songs at Jaffrey Center, New Hampshire, on Saturday, August 1. The concert will be presented in the historic Old Meeting House on the Village Green and is sponsored by the Jaffrey Center Village Improvement Society.

The program includes songs popular with Winchester audiences for years and new numbers which will be performed here later this year. It is reported that all tables for the pop-style concert were sold out two weeks in advance and balcony seats are expected to be filled the night of the performance.

Two members of the octet who have summer homes in Jaffrey Center, Herbert E. Bixler and Edward M. Crabtree, will entertain the singers and their wives over the week end. They are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Worthen, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Rozelle, Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Cabot, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Downs. The Bixler family will also have as house guests for the week end Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Lord, formerly of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, 44 Ledyard road, who also have a summer home in Jaffrey, will be hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Allen O. Eaton of 34 Rangeley road, and plan to attend the concert.

Parents' Day at Robin Hood

A Parents' Day was held recently at the Robin Hood Day Camp in North Reading where an aquacade by the campers was the featured part of the program. In the shallow end of the 60-foot filtered pool the beginners demonstrated a typical lesson according to Red Cross swimming instruction. In the deep end of the pool the intermediate swimmers gave a demonstration of synchronized swimming and diving. The pool program was under the direction of Denny Rickaby, Red Cross Water Safety instructor, Marguerite Healey and Gail Dolben, senior life saver.

The arts and crafts program under the direction of Mrs. Lillian McGaffigan, had a display of arts and crafts work that the campers had completed.

Parents were especially pleased to see their children rowing in the many boats used on the water-front. Even the youngest campers are encouraged to learn to row.

Fishing has been of great interest to a large number of campers. In a recent fishing derby, the children caught a total of 53 fish. David Finnegan, the winner of the derby, caught 17 of these fish. The largest catch of the day was a 10-inch, 1-pound horn pout caught by Aileen Riley.

Riding lessons in the 100-foot horse ring have been an important part of the camp activity. Many campers have become very proficient in riding, which is under the direction of Mr. Ed Saul, assisted by Charlene Rhodes.

The camp has recently been awarded full membership in the American Camping Association. To qualify, a camp must be inspected while in session by a member of the standards committee of the New England section of that organization.

Campers participating in the program from the greater Winchester area were:

Andy Porter
John Beaton
Robert Hall
Robert Fortini
Kim Putnam
John McGuigan
Dick Blaisdell

H. J. Erskine Co. Is Local Mover Since 1891

H. J. Erskine & Son, local mover since 1891, is located at 4 Linden street with storage warehouses on Hill and Park streets. The business was started by Hugh J. Erskine and is carried on now by his son Hugh.

The Erskines were known as pioneer furniture movers in this district and were among the first in the area to realize the value of the motor truck as a means of transportation. The very first truck in Winchester was bought by Mr. Erskine in 1913.

H. J. Erskine & Son is equipped to handle both local and long distance moving as well as storage. The firm personally handles moving in the New England states, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania and makes arrangements for moving to other states.

Every article to be moved, whether it be the smallest piece of bric-a-brac or the most costly grand piano, is given the best treatment. The packing, crating, moving and storage is under the personal supervision of the management. Competent operators handle the well-padded moving vans and the customers can feel safe in the knowledge that their things will arrive on time and in good condition.

First known as the Erskine Brothers, the firm was run by Hugh J. and W. D. Erskine. The brothers moved pianos as well as furniture and they worked together until 1913 when Hugh Erskine received full control of the business and the

Marion's Beauty Salon Located at 881 Main Street

Marion's Beauty Salon is a successful beauty salon located upstairs at 881 Main street, near the intersection of Swanton street.

Run by Mrs. Marion Marrone of 23 Irving street, the salon was opened a little over two years ago.

Earlier this year Miss Louise was added to the staff of the shop which Mrs. Marrone formerly ran alone. Miss Louise was formerly with Jacques Pierre. She is a graduate of the Mansfield Beauty Academy in Boston where she studied under Mr. Leon and is a state certified hairdresser. Miss Louise works with Marion every day.

Featured in the Salon are Helene Curtis products. Marion's specializes in hair cutting and permanent waving and also provides all types of beauty culture. Scalp treatments, finger waves, eyebrow arching, manicures, shampoos and tints as well as other beauty treatments are available.

One of the new developments in hair dressing is the new quick-dry hair set which is available to Marion's customers. This new product enables the woman to have her hair set quicker, thereby reducing the amount of time she must spend in the beauty shop. This allows her to get more accomplished on the days she has her hair set.

The Salon is decorated in princess blue and a soft pink with wrought iron fixtures and automatic dryers. All of the equipment in Marion's Beauty Salon is of the most modern type.

Mrs. Marrone is the former Marie Carroll of Medford, whose Carroll's restaurant at 7-9 Winchester terrace. The restaurant was first located on Thompson street in the building which now houses Ward's Market. In those days a great part of its business was the sale of ice cream, candy and soda.

Carroll's

Eight years later the restaurant was moved to its present location at 7-9 Winchester terrace and the emphasis was placed on serving meals and the box and bulk candy was discontinued. In the operation of the restaurant, Mr. Ford was assisted by his uncle, Ben W. Hills. Natives of Medford, the Carroll brothers graduated from Medford High School and then joined their father in the restaurant, or dining car as they call it. The Carroll name has been associated with the Medford restaurant for forty years and in addition to serving food at the Winchester and Medford locations, the Carrolls have a catering business which can serve parties as large as 1,000 persons. The Carroll caterers were active in Winchester before they took over the restaurant here.

In contrast to the Winchester operation, which is limited because of the kitchen facilities, the Medford diner is open 20 hours a day and has a large volume of business, handling all types of food. Well established now, the diner was built up from a humble beginning.

Estates

The homes now being built range from $24,500 and up and the styles are varied, from ranches and split levels to two-story houses, with both Colonial and contemporary designs available. All houses are equipped with either General Electric or Hotpoint appliances and name brands are used throughout the homes. Heating is all forced hot water by oil.

The last section now being developed is about the highest elevation in Winchester and many of the lots will offer a tremendous view and all of them in the new section are wooded. They range in size from 15,000 square feet up to 40,000 square feet. Some of these new lots have already been sold and the builder anticipates that, as soon as the new road is surfaced, the sales will far exceed the building program.

For any information concerning the final section of Winchester Estates, call Parkview 9-4240 or stop by the Model House, open daily from 10 to 6, located off Ridge street.

Former Winchester Boy Heads New Corporation

Itak Doing Well with Problem of Data Storing for Business

Richard S. Leghorn of Weston, a former Winchester boy, at 40 is heading the new Itak Corporation of Waltham, a firm working on the problem of storing vast quantities of business and scientific data in such a way as to make any part of it available in a matter of seconds.

"Memex," as Dr. Bush called his predicted device, would retrieve information, not by searching cumbersome alphabetical or numerical indexes, but by associating logically connected facts as does the human brain. "Memex" isn't available yet, but several companies and research laboratories are working hard to make it a reality and Mr. Leghorn of Itak says it is really uncanny "how close what we are working on is to 'Memex'."

Itak equipment has shown experimentally it can reduce and store an issue of a 200-page 8x11in. magazine on a "micro-card," which is a single square, or "chip" of film. It can search through these micro-cards at the rate of 1,000 a second to come up with the one wanted, though finding a specific page or article would take a fraction more time, according to the indexing method. Mr. Leghorn, in commenting on Itak's achievement, compares it with presently available punchcard equipment, which searches at the rate of 20 a second.

Thomas R. Aldrich, Jr., commercial programs manager of Itak, and like the president of the corporation a native of Winchester, believes they have now done enough development work to know that "what we're trying to do can be done." We're ready, says Mr. Aldrich, to undertake a development contract with a customer who has a sizeable information storage and retrieval problem with repetitive characteristics.

Incidentally Mr. Aldrich, a Harvard graduate, is married to a Winchester girl, the former Evelyn McGill. The Itak Corporation won't be two years old until September, but unlike many companies identified with the more profound side of science, it has made money from the start, showing a net of $169,000 in its first fiscal year and having high hopes for a significantly better showing this year. It has also acquired three organizations, all in the red, and not only meshed them together into a profitable whole, but has put each separately into the black.

In doing these things Itak jumped in two years from nothing to a current sales volume at the rate of $30,000,000 a year. Starting business with four second-hand pieces of furniture and a telephone, the corporation now employs nearly 700 persons. It specializes in information technology. Its name is derived from this fact. It believes that most business and scientific information today occurs in graphic form, consisting in large part of words and drawings that cannot easily be put into computer language. Its special field is concerned with the problem of storing and rapidly retrieving such graphic

On January 1, 1958, Itak was able to take over Boston University's Physical Research Lab and all its people. The lab was tops in optical research and development, the very field needed by Itak, but had no sales activity and was in the red with not a contract to its name.

Itak supplied the needed sales activity and the lab, which had been losing money, went into the black.

Next acquired was Vectron, a firm with manufacturing capabilities needed by Itak and engaged in selling subcontracting manufacturing services to prime government suppliers, its specialty being electronic and photographic apparatus and subassemblies.

Itak acquired Vectron May 20, 1958, and its manufacturing capabilities meshed well with the Boston lab's research. Spreading necessary management functions over both units effected economies, and as in the case of the Boston lab, Itak took Vectron out of the red.

Itak still lacked a marketing organization, and to fill this need it again bought a ready-made sales organization, the big Photostat Corp., which joined Itak last January with annual sales of about $19,000,000. An old line company in the duplicating field, Photostat had almost no research and development facilities and did little manufacturing. Also it was losing money.

Itak stopped the losses by cutting out non-productive personnel and instituting competitive buying. The corporation has also acquired Vidya, Inc., a small group of senior scientists in Palo Alto, Calif., specializing in sciences "affecting vehicles moving in upper atmosphere and outer space."

In its acquisitions Itak has put together a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts, and it is this feat that has replaced red ink with black. Mr. Leghorn also believes that the spectacular success of his young corporation is based on working out a basic strategy and sticking to it, instead of wandering into the "tempting little alleys" that lead off the research road.

Winchester C. C.'s Father-Son

Tourney Started Tuesday

With virtually perfect weather conditions Winchester's 41st annual Father-and-Son Golf Tournament, one of the biggest events on the local Country Club's entire schedule, got under way Tuesday. Succeeding rounds were played Wednesday and Thursday.

A total of 115 father-son teams turned out for Tuesday's opening date and the best scores posted, 74's by both John and John Tosca, Jr., of Thorny Lea, and Dick and Dixie Chapman of Oyster Harbors, were thought capable of standing up through the tourney.

The junior Tosca is the State Amateur Golf Champion. His, and his dad's card read 36-38-74, while the Chapmans, one of the teams to beat carded 37 to the turn and the same number of strokes getting home. Competition is on a selected-drive, alternate swing basis, medal play.

The Chapmans won the 1956 Father-Son with a 71. Monday they bettered par twice and were in trouble only on the 11th where they had a two-over-par five. The Toscas had their only birdie on the fifth where dad's approach left only a three-foot putt for his State Champion son. The Toscas might have posted an even better score had it not been for a couple of three-putts.

Close behind the co-leaders on Tuesday was the Winchester team of Dave and Jim Wilcox with a very respectable 35-40-75. Out-of-bounds on the 13th, they had bogeys on the 15th and 17th to up their total.

Defending Champions, Judge J. W., and Joe Monahan, Jr., had a 76, 37 out, 39 back, and found the par-three trouble some. Tuesday's best net was the 65 of Payson Lowell, Jr., and Payson Lowell, III, of Brae Burn.

Charles, and Charles Mendel, Jr., had the best gross for fathers with sons 12-15, carding a 67. Best net went to William and Billy Thompson of Sagamore who had a 66. Playing out of Wachusett, Charlie O'Rourke of Boston College football fame, now grid coach at University of Massachusetts, teamed with his son, Pat, to turn in an 85 for best gross in the division for fathers with sons under 12. Best net in this class went to Guy and Jimmy Tedesco of Charles River, with a 62.

Following are the Winchester scores:

John and John Tosca, Jr., Thorny Lea, 74-72
Dick and Dixie Chapman, Oyster Harbors, 74-72

Dave and Jim Wilcox, 75-79
Judge J. W., and Joe Monahan, Jr., 76-70
Earl, Jr., and Earl Adams, III, 80-70

Fred and F. Wade Greer, 81-67
John and John O'Donoghue, Jr., 85-72
Forrest and Michael Cook, 86-73
Archie and John Bullock, 87-74
William and Elliott Speers, 88-80

E. H. and John Kenerson, 88-71
Charles and Robert Eaton, 89-79
William and William Morton, Jr., 91-74

Russ and Roger Symmes, 92-80
Larry and David Burke, 94-79
(Fathers with Sons 12-15)

(Fathers with Sons 12-15)
Charles and Charles Mendel, Jr., Foxboro, 76-67
Arthur and Peter Dexter, 83-68
John and Tom Koslowski, 92-74

Guy and Jimmy Tedesco, Charles River, 88-59
Joe, Jr., and Tom Monahan, 98-66

Bruce and Marada Lead Second Day Father-Son With 76's

Ray and Dave Marad of Wollaston and Ed and Laurie Bruce of Wenham carded 76's to lead the field of 113 teams competing in Wednesday's second day of the annual Father and Son Golf Tournament at the Winchester Country Club. Their scores were not low enough to set aside the 74's turned in Tuesday by John and John Tosca, Jr., of Thorny Lea and Dick and Dixie Chapman of Oyster Harbors.

About 100 teams were expected to participate in yesterday's final day of the three-day tourney, bringing the total to 328 pairs. If none of yesterday's teams was able to get under the 74's posted on opening day by the Chapmans and Toscas the awarding of the coveted championship bowl will have to await a playoff at a date to be announced.

Strong contenders expected to play yesterday were Ed and Laurie Bruce of Wenham, who carded a 71 in 1957 to tie John E., and Kent Graham of Weston, and then went on to win the playoff. Bob Magee, British amateur semi-finalist, and his father, William E. Magee of Norfolk, were also listed to compete.

Both the Marads and Bruces had chances to equal the opening-day 74's, but couldn't quite make it on the heavy course. Joe Monahan, Jr., and Joe Monahan, III, turned in the best second day Winchester card with an 81-69.

Following are the leading, and Winchester scores:

Ed and Laurie Bruce, Wenham, 78-67
Ray and David Marad, Wollaston, 76-70
Joe, Jr., and Joe Monahan, III, 81-69

Dave and Walter Wilcox, 83-76
Dan and Doug Barnard, 84-71
Jay and Bob Willing, 86-73

Tennis Tournament

The U. S. Army conducted a peaceful invasion of Winchester last week end and earned a good share of honors in the second annual Mystic Valley Junior Veterans' Tennis Championships, sponsored by the Winchester Tennis Association.

M Sgts. Bill Millikan, Blacky Jones, Emil Johnson, and Major Robert MacHugh, members of the All-Army tennis squad which has been training at West Point in preparation of the All-Service championships, captivated Winchester fans and players by their fine play and real sportsmanship.

Sgt. Millikan won the singles title handily as he defeated Bill Powers of Newton 6-3, 6-3, in the final. Powers, a brilliant shot-maker, who had been in full cry in earlier matches with his fine serve and touch with the volley, was checkmated by the sound tactics and forehand of Millikan. The latter maintained good depth on his groundstrokes and yielded very few unearned points. He attacked well off the forehand and made judicious use of the lob and drop shot to keep Powers off balance throughout.

In the doubles, Powers gained solace as he and his partner, Dr. Don Manchester, edged the Army tandem of Millikan and Blacky Jones, 8-6, 6-4, in the final. Manchester, with his whiplash service and booming volleys, was a stand-out in this match, although all four men maintained a high level of tennis throughout. Millikan and Jones fully exploited the lob as an offensive and defensive weapon and also demonstrated the value of the return of service in the face of their opponents' weighty deliveries.

The last Winchester survivors in the competition were Dwight Bellows, popular treasurer of the Winchester Tennis Association, and his partner, Bob Keeton. They gave a good account of themselves before going down in the final of the consolation doubles to the Maj. MacHugh-Sgt. Johnson combine, 6-4, 6-1. All four participants in this match pummeled the ball unmercifully on the forehand and engaged in spirited rallies all over the court.

Prizes in all events were awarded to the winners by Art Hills, chairman of the tournament committee, and Bob Joslin, president of the W. T. A. Adolph Alla and Tom Ragland also served on the committee and handled the numerous details connected with the tournament in excellent fashion.

Favored by the weather and a well-balanced field, the committee was able to present a lively display of hard-fought tennis, featured by the play of the Army entries, all of whom were urged to return again to Winchester.

Schaefer Honored

Mr. Otto E. Schaefer of Winchester was honored at a luncheon recently at the Pillar House, Newton Lower Falls, by Sanborn Company, Waltham, for his five years of service with the company. Presentation of a gold service pin was made by James L. Jenks, Jr., president. Mr. Schaefer is marketing manager of the Medical Division of Sanborn Company.

Mr. Schaefer received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Rochester in 1936. He is a native of Chicago.

Active in the First Congregational Church of Winchester, he is a director of the Winchester Community Chest and also a member of the New England Export Club.

Mr. Schaefer and his wife, Charlotte Egbert, have four children: Richard E., age 20, a student at University of Rochester; Betsy E., age 16; Eric H., age 13; and David N., age 9. They live at 79 Pond street.

Fine Camera Studies by Griffin

Two magazines that came to the Star last week showed striking color photographs by Winchester's Arthur Griffin of Euclid avenue.

"Holiday" shows a birdseye view of the beach at Nazare, Portugal, and the surrounding countryside. The scope of the view, the middle distance buildings and back-drop of hills and mountains make this study unusual and very beautiful.

Lovers of the Yankee scene, however, will probably prefer Mr. Griffin's study of Pemaquid Light on the Maine Coast, which appears in the current "Yankee" Magazine. Truly this is a striking picture in blues and stark white, with shadows and the cloud formation adding to its appeal. For those interested Mr. Griffin is offering large dye-transfer color prints of the lighthouse at a greatly reduced rate for such artistic reproductions.

OFFICER ROBERT BAIRD ATTENDS ACCIDENT VICTIM

Walter Strow of Wilmington awaits ambulance after automobile accident at Bacon, Church, and Fletcher streets Wednesday. He sustained severe head injuries. Standing just under Mr. Strow is the bumperette which was torn from the car involved in the collision with the Strow machine.

Two Persons Badly Injured in Accident at Fletcher and Church Street Intersection

Two people were badly injured and a third shaken up as a result of an automobile accident at the intersection of Church and Fletcher streets Wednesday afternoon. The police and firefighters both responded to the crash, which occurred at 1:25 p.m.

When firefighters arrived at the scene they found a blue Hudson driven by Walter V. Strow of Bart road, Wilmington, had been in collision with a Ford sedan driven by George Waldman of 2 Glen road, who was in the process of moving here from Providence, R. I. With Mr. Waldman was his mother, Mrs. Lucy G. Waldman.

Mr. Strow was lying on the sidewalk, bleeding profusely from a head wound and Mrs. Waldman was on the sidewalk near Fletcher street with a bad cut on her right knee. Mrs. Waldman and her son were taken to the Winchester Hospital by the fire rescue truck. Mr. Strow was taken by the police ambulance driven by Sgt. John Dolan.

According to Officer Robert Baird who investigated the accident, Mr. Waldman was driving west on Church street and failed to stop at the red light at the intersection. The Ford car was hit on the left side as it went southerly across the intersection into Bacon street.

Dr. Joseph Lynch treated the victims at the hospital. Mr. Strow had severe lacerations on his scalp and a possible skull fracture, and abrasions of the arm and shoulder. Mrs. Waldman was treated for lacerations of the knee and for a twisted ankle.

Both cars were towed to Hagerty's Garage and sand was put on the bloody sidewalk.

Rotary Again to Sponsor

Accelerated Reading Course

The result of the Accelerated Reading Course sponsored by the Winchester Rotary Club was so tremendous that the course will be offered again in the fall.

Town Employees Hold Party for Miss Jane Porter

A group of town employees held a party Friday afternoon for Miss Jane Porter of Hemingway street, an employee of the Town Accountant's office, in honor of her forthcoming marriage.

The party was held in the Assessor's office and ice cream and cake were served. Miss Porter was presented with an electric toaster.

Miss Jane Porter and Richard Schwartz of Burlington will be married on Saturday at the Immaculate Conception Church.

Statistically speaking, for every 100 words a minute increase in speed, 100 hours of reading time will be saved for other work in a four-year college course. Obviously, this will be an enormous help to the young people just starting college careers this fall.

Of the 55 people who registered for the course, 29 were of the graduating class. Without exception, all students doubled, tripled, or more than tripled their reading time, maintaining or increasing their percentage in comprehension. The college students participating were more than pleased with their rate increase, but they obviously were aware of the need, and advantage, before enrolling.

Adults who took it, including some of our professional people, were tremendously enthusiastic. Already, so many people have requested that this course be repeated, that starting early in October, on Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 for eight weeks, the Winchester Rotary Club will again sponsor the "Accelerated Reading Course," this time for adults.

Colver Dyer Dies in Annisquam

Colver Payson Dyer of 11 Grove street, a lifelong and widely known resident of Winchester, died Wednesday, August 5, at his summer home, 30 River road, Annisquam, where he had been since May 20. His death was attributed to a heart attack, and though he had previously been bothered with a heart ailment, he had recently been particularly well, his sudden passing coming as a severe shock.

Mr. Dyer was the son of Harry P., and Mabel (Colver) Dyer. He was born March 25, 1900, in Winchester, was graduated from Winchester High School in 1918, and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1922. While at the Institute he was a member of the Students' Army Training Corps of World War I.

For 36 years Mr. Dyer was a research engineer for the Monsanto Chemical Company, in Everett, retiring April 1, 1959, because of poor health. In 1945-47 he was one of four Monsanto scientists awarded paid leaves of absence for study at colleges of their choice. He chose Leland Stanford in California and while there he was elected to Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society. He was a life member of the Stanford Alumni Association.

Mr. Dyer was active in Masonic circles. He was a past master of Mystic Valley Lodge, A.F. & A.M., past high priest of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, and a member of Hugh de Payens Commandery, Knights Templar; Massachusetts Convention of High Priests and National Sojourners. He was also a member of Sigma Xi, a society devoted to the promotion of research in science; American Institute of Chemical Engineers; American Chemical Society; Institute of Technology Alumni and the Heroes of '76. He was a life member of the Monsanto Quarter Century Club.

From the time he left college until 1936 Mr. Dyer served in the United States Coast Artillery Reserve, with the rank of lieutenant. A boating enthusiast, he was a member of the Annisquam Yacht Club and was looking forward to going to Florida on his new boat. He was a member of the First Congregational Church, a town meeting member for Precinct 3 and a member of the Civil Defense Committee for both Winchester and Everett.

Mr. Dyer married Marjorie Davidson of Winchester, June 9, 1933. She survives, with two daughters, Mrs. Peter Cobb Doran of Carbondale, Ill., and Miss Martha Dyer of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the First Congregational Church at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Crotty Mows 'em Down

In a recent Little League game at Falmouth Heights on Cape Cod, Winchester's Bob Crotty helped pitch the White Sox to a 17-0 win over the Red Sox. It was the closing game of the regular schedule for the second half for both teams and the White Sox pitchers, Pagant and Crotty, held the Reds hitless while their support was playing errorless ball and bunting out 13 hits in their 17-0 victory.

During his turn on the hill Crotty turned in a brilliant performance, fanning 14.

Coming Events

August 11, Tuesday, Fruit and Flower Mission, Mrs. Rony Snyder, 59 Highland avenue, PA 5-2353, in charge for Second Congregational Church.

Union Summer Service at First Church

The Summer Union Service will be held Sunday, August 9, at the First Congregational Church at 10 a.m., with the Rev. Wesley A. Mallory, associate minister of the host church, preaching. Music for the service will be provided by Mrs. Philip Cabot, organist, and Mr. Keith Phinney, soloist.

The series of union services is sponsored by the First Baptist Church, First Congregational Church, Second Congregational Church, Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, and the Unitarian Church. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

MRS. JOHN ALLMOND SHANE

Miss Megowen Bride of Mr. Shane

At a candlelight ceremony Saturday afternoon, August 1, Miss Nancy Lee Megowen became the bride of John Allmond Shane at Saint John's Episcopal Church in Beverly Farms.

The Reverend Frederick Phinney performed the ceremony in a setting of white gladioli and lilies, and a reception followed at "Shore, cliff," the summer home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Lee Megowen.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Lee Megowen of Magnolia, and the late Mr. Megowen. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Shane of 2 Canterbury road.

Miss Megowen was given in marriage by her brother, William John Megowen. She wore a gown of white Swiss organza over bluish tulle, fashioned with a circle neckline of pin-tucked pleats edged in Valenciennes lace, tucked short sleeves, and a gored princess skirt with a deep pleated flounce hemline terminating in a chapel train. Her veil of pale bluish French illusion was attached to a crown of tiny seed pearls and she carried a white Bible with stephanotis and orchids.

Mrs. Philip Erickson, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, the bridesmaids were Mrs. William John Megowen, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. David Dickerman of Marblehead, Miss Gail Hitchcock of New York City and Miss Susan Erickson of Chevy Chase, Md., niece of the bridegroom. They wore matching gowns of white organza over green tulle, fashioned with circle necklines, fitted bodices and trimmed at the waists with pink silk ribbon. Their tulip-shaped skirts were accented at the back with a pink bow and hem-length streamers, and their headpieces were bows of organza.

Miss Gretchen Lee Megowen, niece of the bride, and Miss Lisa Erickson, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore gowns like those of the bridesmaids, and all the attendants carried bouquets of pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Megowen, mother of the bride, wore a Swiss DeJalain afternoon dress of sea green outlined in navy and French rose point lace. Her accessories were of sea aqua.

The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Shane, wore a batiste French print dress with green accessories. Mr. Paul Tucker of Winchester was Mr. Shane's best man, and ushering were Philip M. Erickson of Chevy Chase, Maryland; Dixon S. Pike of Rochester, New York; John K. P. Stone, 3rd of Cambridge, New York; John A. Pike of Cambridge, New York; John A. Pike of Cambridge, New York; and Frank E. McGinity of Garden City, Long Island.

The bride, a debutante of the '51-'52 season, graduated from Miss Hall's School and attended Stephens College. She will graduate from the Leland Powers School in January.

Mr. Shane graduated from Belmont Hill School and Princeton University, class of 1954, and is presently attending the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He served from April 1955 until September 1958 as an officer with the U. S. Naval Security Forces in Japan. Mr. Shane's clubs include the Princeton Charter Club, the Princeton Club of New York and the Pacific Club of Japan.

After a wedding trip to the Virgin Islands, Mr. Shane and his bride will make their home in Winchester.

Miss Mardy Sanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Sanger of 6 Town Way, was tendered bridal showers on Tuesday afternoon and again on Sunday afternoon of last week.

She received many lovely gifts and also had a chance to meet old friends and acquaintances again. Refreshments were served out of doors on both occasions and the weather behaved beautifully, making both parties a complete success.

Miss Sanger has been visiting her parents for a few weeks and left Tuesday evening for Cleveland in order to prepare for her coming marriage in September.

The practice golfers have begun again to use Manchester Field as a base for their activity, not in any great numbers as yet, but any golfing is bad for the surface of a field used for athletics.

Golfers, especially those who would be knocking a ball around on Manchester Field, dig up patches of turf, and even if they replace these "divots," which they generally do not, these gouges make for an uneven surface which can easily result in ankle or knee injuries to athletes running and turning at top speed.

No one would want to think a chunk of turf he dug out of Manchester Field with a golf club was responsible for Winchester being without the services of a football or baseball star in a crucial game because of a twisted knee or ankle.

We know the Park Department and school athletic authorities frown on the use of Manchester Field for golf. There are practice ranges and public links handy enough to make it unnecessary to use the town's only athletic field for practice golf. Such use is nearly as bad for an athletic field as it would be if a football player decided to take a few practice starts and cuts on the tailored surface of a golf course.

Charles G. Mortimer, president of General Foods Corporation, at the recent annual meeting of the corporation in New York, devoted a large part of his talk to the stockholders to the reasons for the $96 million General Foods spent on consumer advertising in the fiscal year of 1959, and the results of this extensive campaign.

Briefly, Mr. Mortimer said that 1959 was the best year General Foods ever had and he credited advertising with helping to make possible lower unit costs through high volume created by increased demand for products. In other words, the more units of merchandise you sell, bottles of ink, suits of clothes, automobiles, bars of soap, the less you have to get for each one. Every large scale business is predicated on this theory.

Advertising leads to more sales by helping to create a desire for the product to be sold, also by telling people where they can get the goods they want. That is the reason General Foods spent $96 million for advertising this year.

Occasionally the Star encounters an individual who firmly believes advertising does him no good. Mr. Mortimer of General Foods does not agree, and even goes to the extent of crediting the millions spent on consumer advertising and promotion with making 1959 the best year his company has ever had.

His opinion should be worth considering, and in support of his reasoning, take a look at the businesses you know, the successful businesses. You will find, what we have long known, that they are consistent advertisers. The chap who said, "It Pays to Advertise," spoke wisely.

If you have noticed the contagious disease reports in Winchester of late, you have seen few in which there has not been at least one case of dog bite. This does not mean that the dog was to blame in all, or even most instances. Often a dog is provoked into biting by the unwanted attentions of children, who do not, of course, realize that dogs are not playthings.

On the whole the dogs of Winchester have little restraint, their owners apparently feeling that when they feed their animals and pay license fees they have fulfilled their obligations both to the dogs and society. Many dogs roam the streets all day and at this time of year can become dangerous, due to the heat and lack of water.

Parents would do well to instruct their youngsters to have nothing to do with strange dogs, and to be careful about playing even with dogs they know during the hot weather. This is also good advice for grown-ups. The dog you think is cute and friendly may not want, or even tolerate your attentions.

And for owners of dogs, licensing your animal, feeding him and providing him with a place to sleep does not absolve you from responsibility for his acts, as a reading of the dog laws will quickly convince you.

This week a boy was badly bitten by a dog in Winchester, and apparently the dog was chained when he attacked the youngster. His owner had tried to keep him from running at large. A chained dog is never a good risk, but unfortunately few youngsters are cautioned to be wary and leave such a dog alone. Rather parents encourage their youngsters not to be afraid of dogs.

Dog owners have the obligation to see to it that their pets do not attack others. Parents are obligated to teach their children to respect dogs and especially strange dogs.

As dogs increase in Winchester, as they seem to be doing, the time will come when something will have to be done to control them properly. Non-owners and those who dislike dogs are also entitled to consideration.

We had another bad accident at the intersection of Bacon, Fletcher and Church streets on Wednesday, and more and more this location is becoming one of the danger spots of the town.

We have heard several reasons advanced for the prevalence of accidents there. One is that the lights are small and hooded, making them hard to distinguish under certain conditions. Another is that sometimes the lights are automatic and sometimes manually operated, making the operators uncertain what to expect; also the cycle from green to red and vice-versa changes without sufficient warning.

The vision of drivers coming out of Fletcher street is obstructed, and if you leave that street on a green light and a driver is coming on Church street trying to get through the intersection before the green light he had as he approached changes, anything can happen.

It would seem that the number of accidents that occur at this intersection would indicate that some sort of study should be made of conditions there to decrease the danger factor. Possibly a different type of light would be more effective. Perhaps some removal of shrubbery would help. There is no question that greater care on the part of automobile operators will pay off.

And while we are on the subject of lights, when are those controlling the intersection of Washington and Mt. Vernon streets with Skillings road going to be put in working order? This intersection is a potential death trap. It badly needs to be controlled by lights, yet those there have not been functioning for a great part of the time.

Traffic conditions at this intersection, especially at peak periods are bad, with few drivers willing to yield right of way if there is any chance of making the other fellow pull up.

It ought not to be necessary to have a fatal accident at the intersection before something is done to provide the protection the traffic lights at that point are supposed to be giving.

The fence is gone from the traffic circle in the center and already more and more people are cutting through the circle under the overhead to get across the square. Aside from the damage which will in time be done to the appearance of the circle by such promiscuous crossing, there is the danger, both to pedestrians who make the short cut and operators of cars who should not be required to look out for people on foot crossing the circle.

The traffic circle, by and large, has worked well. Its functioning should not be impaired by its careless use as a short cut by people on foot. A new fence, of sufficient height and at least fairly pleasing appearance would seem to be the answer.

A Thaw
in the Cold War

Editor of the Star:

Vice-President Nixon and his charming wife Pat deserve the plaudits of the entire world for momentarily at least, effecting some thaw in the "cold war."

Soviet Russia has been described by Sir Winston Churchill as "an enigma wrapped in a riddle," but the Nixons may have partially solved the riddle on their visit to Moscow, by stating the facts, chapter and verse, in language the man in the street could understand for what it was,—the truth, and a desire for peace, which has been obstructed, impeded and thwarted by their own leaders.

It is true, this is no time for glorying in what seems to be a victory of sorts for the West, it is rather a time to maintain what initiative has been secured. It is no time to criticize President Eisenhower for inviting Khrushchev to visit the United States "because the imperialistic policies of Communist Russia have led, through direct and indirect aggression, to the subjugation" of millions of people, or for any other reason.

It is time to realize that we are not discussing the usual disagreements between nations, boundary lines, trade agreements, etc. We are, in effect, asking Communism to commit suicide. When we suggest granting the right of self determination to the satellite states we reveal the fallacy of this union of "peoples republics."

The Bolshevik government proclaimed the right of national self-determination back in 1918 and the Russian Empire fell apart. Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, the Ukraine, Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan, and other territories became independent. However, Lenin's subsequent actions have once again enslaved these people as well as those of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and East Germany.

Russian determination to dominate Europe is nothing new, it began with the czars and became intensified with the Communists. Eugene Lyons, long an authority on Russia, describes the situation thusly, "What's involved is the 'permanent revolution,' unleashed by Lenin, promoted with increasing zeal and increased success by all his successors. And we're doomed to defeat as long as we subsist on political tranquilizers."

Perhaps we are about to dispense with the "political tranquilizers" and Khrushchev is being given the opportunity to see for himself the productive capacity of American industry. He will see for himself what free enterprise can do at his bidding, for the choice is his, to improve the standard of living for the peoples of the world, or destroy mankind.

His visit should not dampen the hopes of those long suffering suppressed peoples, whose only salvation lies in the United States, as the leader in the free world, these people are not forgotten, nor will they be forsaken.

The visit could be to convince the Russian Autocrat that we as a people do not seek "peace at any price," that the people, the Congress and the President are as one on this vital issue. In short the visit should serve to minimize the possibility of war by error or ignorance.

Perhaps too much emphasis is being placed on the Russian's visit to the United States; equal emphasis should be given the fact that President Eisenhower will visit Russia. He will have the opportunity to talk to the Russian people and again place before them the record, the true facts as they pertain to war and peace.

Ernest Bevin, speaking in the House of Commons in November of 1945, stated, "There has never been a war yet which, if the facts had been put calmly before the ordinary folk, could not have been prevented. The common man is the greatest protection against war."

For the first time since the start of the "cold war" there has been provided a means of reaching the common man directly and with the truth.

Vice-President Nixon has shown the way, it may be he has "cut the Gordian knot."

Yes, Mr. Editor, the poem about the old town hall did stir up memories, and even set me thinking back to the day when I sat on the stone wall of the Skillings estate and watched the laying of the cornerstone.

I wonder how many of those present on that day are now living in the town!

Now getting to Mr. Eaton. It wasn't such a bad bull getting his name into the story, because, he, too, is a sportscar rallyist, and a most enthusiastic one. He is not, however, a member of the Corvette Club of Massachusetts, because he owns a Volkswagen. Come to think of it, Mr. Allen isn't a Massachusetts Corvette, either, he drives an Alfa Romeo.

Several winchester girls have received recognition at camp for outstanding personal qualities. At our campfire ceremonies, Marilyn Hall and Jeanne Chase were selected by the staff to preside as Princess for the weeks ending July 25 and August 1, respectively. They were chosen for their thoughtful, co-operative attitudes, and for their enthusiasm for camp activities.

The instructor of this course is Norma Jean Cushman, of 5 Cottage Avenue. She is a graduate of the elite Pearson School, who is now on the school's regular faculty and a student in the Tufts Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Ingenious indeed is her ability in the handicraft she teaches. She has a sound educational philosophy and is anxious to help the child's development is fostered by participating in creative activities.

Winning Farm Camp Entertains Officers and Members at Dinner

The annual dinner given to the officers and members of Winning Home by the Winning Farm Camp was held at the farm Wednesday evening at the height of the camp season.

The second group of sixty campers was at the farm for the event, another sixty having preceded this group, with still a third sixty due to arrive later this month. The three groups comprise 180 children from the South End Settlement House in Boston who enjoy three weeks of outdoor living at the camp.

A delicious dinner was prepared in the farm kitchen and served to the officers and guests by the campers, acting as waitresses. The dinner was held in the W. Allan Wilde Memorial dining room and lounge, one of the many improvements effected at the farm by Winchester Rotary.

Preceding dinner the campers sang grace, an effective substitution for the usual invocation. John J. Black, president of Winning Home, acted as master of ceremonies for the short speaking program which followed the meal. Principal speaker was Charles Liddell.

Living with Your Heart

By G. Douglas Talbott, M.D.
Space Travel Consultant,
U. S. Air Force

("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

How will man's heart stand the strain of travel into outer space and re-entry into the earth's atmosphere? Dr. Talbott analyzes some of the problems scientists expect to encounter in mankind's frontier of the future.

Man is on the brink of exploration of outer space. This he will accomplish. The vehicle in which the future exploration of space will be made is designated the X-15; its performance, its missions, and its capabilities are all classified.

We anticipate tremendous insights of various types upon the cardiovascular system in space travel, and in crew selection, we seek the premium man for the premium job. The philosophy behind such a crew selection has been to test subjects in as many simulated conditions as possible, after having first determined their basic physiologic responses.

Potential space crewmen first are thoroughly evaluated by careful medical examination, with special attention being paid to the heart and circulation. One of the methods used for this evaluation is the so-called "coronary profile" initiated at the Air Development Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. We are not deceiving ourselves that this detects all the problems of coronary atherosclerosis (degeneration of the coronary arteries) and the other pitfalls of an inefficient and impeded circulation.

However, we feel it is a step in the right direction.

This survey is integrated into a total and careful flight-physical evaluation.

Our special interest in the cardiovascular system has a solid foundation. In a classical study on soldiers in Korea, there was pointed out the appalling amount of deposits in the arteries to the heart, of an advanced nature, in our young soldiers killed in action. A recent and well-controlled survey on jet pilots killed in accidents again demonstrated this phenomenon.

Every available approach is being used by the armed forces in an attempt to evaluate this state in an early phase, particularly on those individuals subjected to some unusual stress during the course of their flights. I sincerely wish that lack of knowledge did not limit concrete predictions of the stresses, and most particularly of the response of the heart and cardiovascular system, that our pilots will experience on leaving the earth's atmosphere.

We do feel that no serious effects will develop during the period of O-G gravity, at least so far as preliminary studies over short periods of time have shown.

But we have had some difficulty with our longer pressure-chamber runs where flight personnel have been subjected to high altitudes in partial-pressure suits. Here electrocardiographic changes and a multiplicity of irregular heart rhythms have occurred.

Twelve per cent of our chamber terminations on personnel dressed in partial-pressure suits have been made because of electrocardiographic changes in persons previously unsuspected and with normal electrocardiograms under ordinary circumstances.

Every available means should be used not only to predict individuals with arterial disease but to prevent further insults which might aggravate this condition.

Therefore our pilots are given physiological stress tests to determine their basic response and then are placed in conditions simulating space flight. These include heat chambers where the temperature may run to 150 degrees, simulating problems of re-entry into the earth's atmosphere; a vertical accelerator, simulating take-off conditions; vibrator-chairs; air platforms; sound rooms; an altitude chamber; and an isolation chamber.

In our centrifuge, space pilots receive tremendous lateral-G gravity forces. Here, at rates of high speed, the heart and all of the component parts of the chest are shifted far to the left, leaving a clear air space in the right lung. The mechanical interference with heart output and the potentialities for production of irregular heart rhythms have been a great concern to us. Should this state exist for long, we probably would expect our space crews to experience severe physiological and pathological changes. A fundamental solution of this problem appears to lie in the design of our space vehicle so that passengers are not subject to such lateral-G forces.

These are formidable problems, and they explain in part why our progress in space travel may appear slow. In our way of life, human beings are not expendable. We intend to bring them back alive.

Wheaton's Texaco Station Is Busy Place

Bob Wheaton's Texaco Station at the corner of Cambridge and Pond streets on route 3 is a beehive of activity. There is always someone stopping for gas or service and a friendly chat.

To better handle the constantly increasing telephone calls, Mr. Wheaton has installed a new phone, and the station can now be reached through the old number, PA 9-9890, or by calling PA 9-5151.

Formerly run by Charles Murphy, well-known Pond street resident, the Texaco station changed hands in July 1957 and is now run by Bob Wheaton of Woburn. Mr. Murphy had run the station for ten years before giving it up.

Mr. Wheaton has been in the service station business since June 1936 and has been a Texaco dealer in Woburn for 14 years and a Jenny dealer for seven years before coming to Winchester. Born and educated in Woburn, Mr. Wheaton is married and the father of four children.

Besides gasoline, Wheaton's Texaco Station handles Firestone tires, including the famous town and country snow tires, and accessories. The station features road service and has one of the largest stocks of tires in town.

Always ready to give prompt and efficient service, Wheaton's has two lubrication men on hand all day and one mechanic. Foreign cars will fit on the lifts and Wheaton's can lubricate them. There is also a battery charging service available, both fast and slow.

Working with Bob Wheaton are several men who have been in the service station business for a long time. Andy Endeole of Woburn is a lubrication man, who was formerly with Charlie Murphy; he has been at the station for

Converse Market Is "On the Grow" Again!

The sound of hammer, saw and drill is no surprise to steady customers of CONVERSE MARKET! They have long since ceased asking, "When are you going to stop expanding?" Instead, they ask, "What new services and conveniences do you have in store for us now?" They have learned, along with Converse Market, that a successful store just naturally "grows" and that each stage of growth results in getting "bigger and better."

The reason for the amazingly rapid and successful growth of Converse Market is not based on a secret or planned design, but is governed entirely by the CUSTOMERS. Constantly increasing customer demands for greater variety of goods, which, in turn, requires more space. Therefore, Converse Market has no answer to the question "How big do you intend to get?" The only concern they have is to continue to meet the requirements of its ever-increasing clientele who find it to their advantage to depend on Converse standards of "Top Quality at Reasonable Prices" for the best returns for their grocery and household needs.

This new expansion, due to be in operation by the end of the month, will add 1300 square feet to the present floor space. This sizeable addition, requiring skilled engineering technique of major proportions, has been accomplished so skillfully that customers are scarcely aware of the actual extent of the operation. Business has been going on as usual, with a minimum of inconvenience.

Benrimo Studio One of N.E.'s Best Equipped

The Benrimo Studio at 38 Church street is one of the best equipped photographic studios of its size in New England. Owned by Norman Benrimo, the studio was moved to its present location a year ago.

On the first floor of the modern building is the office, the studio and the dressing room, while the lower floor houses the finishing rooms and dark rooms for processing black and white films and color films.

This is Mr. Benrimo's fifth year in Winchester; he was formerly located on Main street before moving to his new store. The lighting equipment in the new building is of the most modern type and there is no bright light on the subjects being photographed, which eliminates the heat which was such an unpleasant feature of the old-style sittings.

The Benrimo Studio has worked with direct color since the inception of this increasing popular form of art work. The studio now ranks high in its ability to make quality color prints on its own premises.

A special service for amateur photographers is the making of quality color prints of their favorite Kodachrome negatives in the popular 5x7in. size, or larger.

In business for 20 years before coming to Winchester, Mr. Benrimo is well known in the area for his

Behind the scenes market forecasts and advertising releases predict that this mushrooming business is just beginning to grow and we can look forward to a staggering variety of new products. Because of this forward knowledge and preparation, you can depend on Converse, again, to be the first with the most and the best.

The Halls' Odyssey

Those Halls down on Winslow road, Ken and Polly, really get around. They have just gotten back from a jaunt around this country and Canada totalling 15,342.2 miles, during which they visited family and friends scattered all over the land.

The Halls left Winchester April 23 in their Olds. Ken figured the little sportscar he uses for puddle-jumping around town was a bit too small for what they had in mind this time, and we are sure Polly concurred!

They first headed south for New York and there visited their daughter, Margaret, before going on to Philadelphia where they planned to visit Mr. Hall's step-brother, Howard Stewart.

Mr. Stewart didn't happen to be at home, but the Halls could not linger. They had places to go and things to see.

Pushing on to Washington, D. C., they looked up some old friends of Ken's earlier days in Worcester, and then charted a course for Orlando, Fla., where they spent two pleasant days with their old friends and neighbors, Johnny and "Chub" Rutherford.

Their next stop was at Lake Worth, Fla., where they dropped in on that old Legionnaire, Jack McCarthy, and his wife. They are happy to announce that they found Jack's health somewhat improved.

From Lake Worth the Halls went to Miami and then across the Tamiami Trail to Clearwater, where more old Winchester friends, Walter and Eleanor Clafin and former Police Officer Johnny Murray were awaiting them.

Crossing the Gulf States, the Halls next stopped in Beaumont, Texas, for a visit with their daughter, Nancy, (Mrs. Donald F. Gifford), and her children, Deborah, Stephen and Bruce.

Then to the road again and across Texas to the Carlsbad Caverns, from there to El Paso and then in to Arizona where at Tucson they had dinner with the Harry Goodwin's daughter, Mrs. Nancy Archambault.

From Tucson Ken and Polly pushed on through Yuma to San Diego, California, thence to La Jolla and a visit with Mary and Catherine Spaulding, formerly of Mary Spaulding's Bookshop.

Back again to Arizona, the Halls visited the Grand Canyon and Zion National Park before going to Las Vegas and the Hoover Dam in Nevada.

Los Angeles, Calif., was the next port of call and there Ken and Polly were entertained by more old neighbors, Brad and Ann (Marsers) Darling. From there the itinerary was San Francisco, Sequoia, Yosemite Falls and Crater Lake.

The Halls got to Portland, Ore., in time for the celebration of the Oregon Centennial, and from Portland they went to visit Bonneville Dam and Mt. Hood.

Then back to the coast went the voyagers, and up the coast of Oregon and Washington State to take the ferry to Victoria, B.C. Ken found Victoria a most beautiful and charming city, very appealing in its leisurely way of life. Ferrying over to Vancouver, the Halls found this city more nearly like its American counterparts with hurrying much more in evidence than it was in Victoria.

From Vancouver the Halls went on to Seattle, Wash., where they spent 10 days with Mr. Hall's step-brother, Stanley Stewart; then on again, to Mt. Ranier, National Park, Spokane, Washington, and up through Idaho to Banff and Lake Louise.

More beauty awaited the Halls at Glacier National Park and Yellowstone National Park, then on they went straight across Wyoming, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Northern Michigan to Sault Ste. Marie.

From there they entered Canada again, making visits to Ottawa and Montreal, then into Vermont State to Rutland and Pittsfield, where the Halls visited their grandsons, Kenny and Tommy Holton, who are at summer camp there.

Well on their homeward way now, Ken and Polly headed for East Greenwich, N. Y., and their last visit, with old friends of Ken's World War I days at Plattsburgh.

Once on the New York-Massachusetts thruway, the family chariot lengthened out for the home stretch and chugged into Winchester to complete the 15-thousand-mile trip in fine fettle. Incidentally the Halls had no flats on their trip and were only tied up over night once with transmission trouble in Mobile, Ala.

Ken told the Star he doesn't plan to take another motor trip like the one he just took. He regrets, however, not having seen Colorado and plans to fly out there and back "one of these days."

He also said in all the ground he and Polly covered he didn't see anything he liked as well as Winchester!

"Oh, Captain!" Held Over

"Oh, Captain!" won opening night ovations for actors Eric Berry and Betty Oakes at the North Shore Music Theater, Beverly, on Monday, and is being held over a second week.

A gay song and dance show, which moves dizzily from London suburbs to Paris night clubs to the S. S. Paradise at sea, it features the music of Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, three-time Oscar award winners for such songs as "Tummy," "Que Sera Sera," and "Buttons and Bows."

Alec Guinness originally created the role of a sea captain living in blissful bigamy in the highly popular film, "Captain's Paradise"; and Tony Randall played it during its hit Broadway run when Jose Ferrer and Al Morgan turned it into a musical comedy. Now Eric Berry, the distinguished British star, well known for leading roles in the West End and his part of Dimitri in the movie "Red Shoes," is recreating the role with great success at the North Shore Music Theater.

"Oh, Captain!" plays all next week, with two final performances on Saturday, August 15, and will be followed by the great Rogers and Hammerstein hit, "Carousel."

Living with Your Heart

("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

One of the most persistent pieces of misinformation widely circulated about your heart is the story that heart attacks usually are fatal. Not only are most first heart attacks not fatal, but a large number of them go totally unsuspected, dismissed, perhaps, as indigestion.

In a project at Mallory Institute of Pathology, Boston, which confirms earlier findings, the hearts of 200 persons dying of a wide variety of causes were studied at autopsy. The Heart Fund study showed that 63 per cent had suffered moderately severe to total occlusion of the coronary artery, and 22.5 per cent were totally occluded.

Fifty-six patients had suffered heart muscle damage of substantial size and in all but four of these hearts, earlier, healed damage was discovered. One patient with total coronary artery occlusion showed no damage whatever to the heart muscle, undoubtedly because his system had built up magnificent collateral circulation in the heart.

Case histories showed that many of the patients never knew they had heart attacks.

The researchers, Dr. Stanley L. Robbins, associate director of the Institute, professor of pathology at Boston University and lecturer at Harvard and Tufts Medical Schools; and Dr. Felix L. Rodriguez, made still another significant discovery.

They found that the vessel which closed most often was not that which is commonly believed to be usually involved. Instead of the descending branch of the left coronary artery considered most susceptible to closure, the right coronary artery was most often affected.

A Heart Association study in New York also has established that serious heart disease may go unsuspected for long periods of time. In more than 100 cases of persons dying suddenly, apparently healthy persons were found to have died of progressive atherosclerosis of the coronary arteries. (Atherosclerosis is the narrowing and hardening of the artery to the point when the circulation through the heart is blocked, either by closure or by a blood clot.)

In the New York study the finding of a fresh blood clot was uncommon, however; death was attributed in most cases to the gradual advance of atherosclerosis with eventual shutdown of vital arteries. The damage had existed in growing degree long before death, and while the person affected, in all probability, never felt better.

The Boston project shows that the heart is truly a wondrous muscle, capable of surviving terrible physical abuse. The New York study points up the silent, asymptomatic nature of atherosclerosis, a major cause of death in your city, state and nation.

Both point to the need for increased research in the effort to find a way to identify atherosclerosis, or the tendency to atherosclerosis, are enough in advance of its explosive eventual effects so that more lives may be saved.

Boat Club News

While many of the Winchester skippers were participating in Marblehead race week events, many others were racing on the lake last week end.

Saturday, July 25, Dick Montminy led the line with Charles Brown second, and Dick Patrick, third. Tom Legere took the honors, Sunday, while Rod Long finished second and John Montminy, third.

The turnabouts were active on Tuesday, the juniors racing in the afternoon and the seniors in the evening. Luck seemed to be with the "Cindy-Gay," as Ronny Bartell took the junior honors and Bill Bartell won the seniors. Lance Gronzback and John Berger finished second and third in the juniors.

Saturday's race saw Rod Long up front with Charles Brown, second and Dick Montminy, third. Sunday proved to have a strong, fine breeze, blowing Norman Towle across the line first. Tom Legere was second and John Montminy, third.

Robert Jones found victory Sunday in the turnabout fleet competition. Tom Raphael was second with Barbara Dannenberg, third.

What better way to finish a fine day than a cook-out supper on the lawn? Many Winchester skippers and spectators alike, seemed to appreciate the idea, as plenty of grills, coals, and food were on the scene Saturday evening.

The competition is being held for the benefit of the Joseph T. The "Immaes" making a fine reputation for their excellent music and intricate marching maneuvers in local drum corps circles will be facing stiff competition in its class. ## Living with Your Heart

A light case of angina pectoris could be the best friend a heart patient ever had. In fact, it could save his life.

The pain of angina, like any other pain, is one of Nature's danger signals. It tells the patient his heart muscle is suffering from fleeting starvation. Nitroglycerine can control the pains of ordinary angina; modified living habits and the body's wonderful capacity to rebuild around a damaged area of the circulation may prevent severe or fatal heart attacks.

Angina pectoris usually starts as an oppressive pain under the breastbone, which may spread to one or sometimes both arms. It is frightening, but if it is angina, it subsides. It may return again in minutes, days or months.

What has happened to the person who suffers angina pectoris?

His heart muscle is aching because not enough blood has reached some area to keep it adequately fueled with the oxygen which gives it nourishment. The pain represents the heart's quick and indignant clamor.

The heart is suffering this momentary starvation simply because the blood vessels have narrowed and thickened to the point where they cannot carry enough blood to the heart, which demands a rich and continuous supply to do its work.

The first thing angina patients do is to take nitroglycerine pills. Placed under the tongue, they act quickly to dilate the narrowed vessels and bring relief. Some take it in advance of demanding or highly emotional occasions.

An initial angina attack is followed by the doctor's advice to take it easy, but not necessarily in bed. Meanwhile, the body is at work to drive additional "roads" in the form of collateral circulation bypassing the affected area and bringing a more adequate blood supply to the heart; this is one of Nature's most miraculous manifestations within the human body. There have been many instances of major bloodstreams being closed and such a superb collateral circulation set up that the victim, who may have died of other causes many years later, never knew his condition.

Gradually, the angina patient learns how much he can safely do. Winter is his worst season, for cold weather contracts the small vessels at the body's surface and makes the heart work harder, setting up a demand for more oxygen. Angina patients are advised to avoid really severe weather, to eat small meals, to take the business of living in moderation and to keep their weight under control.

Commissioner William J. Dray, International Chief of Staff of The Salvation Army, will speak on the opening week end of the army's Camp Meetings at Old Orchard, Maine, on Saturday, August 8, and Sunday, August 9. Commissioner Dray is second only to General Wilfred Kitching, in command of the world-wide forces of The Salvation Army, and comes to New England after visiting many of the trouble spots of the "Cold War" world.

Patent to Manning and Foote

Ralph M. Manning of 11 Yale street and Harold B. Foote, Lynn, Mass., were the recipients on July 21, of U. S. patent No. 2,896,053, entitled "Electrical Switch Blade Assembly."

Electrical switches are available in many types depending upon the circuits or apparatus with which they are to be associated. In the case of automatic time switches, which operate to turn an electric circuit on and off at predetermined intervals, provision is made for a number of contact spring blades which are actuated simultaneously to perform the desired switching function. In designing these spring blade switching assemblies, it is desirable to keep the number of parts small and to avoid close fits and tolerances in their design such as would make it difficult to manufacture them on a mass production basis. It is also desirable that the switch be capable of quick assembly and disassembly for repairs and replacement.

In the use switches for controlling electric circuits in which relatively high current flows, it is not unusual for the switch, at the moment of closure, to receive an inrush of current which is eight or ten times the normal load current carried in the circuit. This sometimes causes the switch contacts to become welded together, with the result that problems are encountered in opening them when required and especially so in the case of automatic time switches which are normally unattended.

To provide an improvement over the prior constructions, Messrs. Manning and Foote have devised an electrical switch blade assembly of the kind that is used in automatic time switches and which may perhaps be best described by citing some of the advantages attributed to it. Thus the switch of their invention is of relatively simple construction and its parts are a minimum in number and do not require close fits and tolerances. It may readily be assembled and disassembled and it operates positively and effectively as required. As an additional advantageous feature, an improved means, utilizing the timing motor of the switch, is provided for separating the contacts that may have become welded during closing of the switch.

Messrs. Manning and Foote have assigned this patent to General Electric Company.

Rutland Training Center Helps Handicapped

Leonard F. James, managing director of the Rutland Training Center, today announced plans for major alterations in the vocational school's enrollment policy.

During the past 38 years the Training Center, located in Rutland, Mass., has enrolled primarily persons recovering from tuberculosis into its training program. But, as Mr. James pointed out, "Although the need for rehabilitation among the tuberculosis has slackened somewhat in the past two decades, rehabilitation for other types of handicapped persons is of maximum importance today."

Already represented at the Rutland vocational school are cardiacs, arthritics, orthopedics and mental retardates.

"It stands to reason," concluded Director James, "the more people we can train in specialized fields and place within industry, the more sound our economic and social stability will be in Massachusetts."

The Rutland Training Center

now offers courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, computer, woodwork, printing, and hand sewing, as well as other allied subjects. Additional courses are being considered for the near future.

Dr. Sullivan is married to the former Claire Nelligan of Cambridge and they have four children. Living now in Somerville, they plan to come to Winchester as soon as they can find a home here.

Local Reservist on Duty at Fort Devens

Captain Arthur Carr of 40 Pickering street, a member of the 1170th ARSU commanded by Col. Waldo Nelson of Westwood, is now on two weeks of active duty in the 1959 Annual Summer Training of this unit at Fort Devens, Mass.

The 1170th ARSU is a United States Army Reserve Complement with a primary mission of aiding the 1170th Army Service Unit at Fort Devens, and as such handles all staff and organizational functions of this post. Each summer, for a period of 15 days, the 1170th ARSU supplements its active or parent unit, and in case of a National emergency, this reserve unit would, in fact, take over the actual administrative operation of Fort Devens, releasing the 1170th ARSU for other duties.

Captain Carr was educated at Boston College and became a member of the Armed Forces on March 21, 1943. He is employed by John Hancock Ins. Co., and is a member of R.O.A., Massachusetts Bar Association. With the 1170th ARSU he acts in the capacity of Asst. Maintenance and Inspection Officer.

Trees Make News

How much wood did you use last year? The answer might surprise you, according to Nathan Tufts, chairman of the Massachusetts Forest Industries Committee.

Quoting figures from American Forest Products Industries, he listed the per capita consumption of paper as 412 pounds and lumber as 256 board feet for the 12-month period.

"This means that Massachusetts, with a population of 4.8 million, had a total consumption of paper in excess of 1 million tons and over 1.2 billion board feet of lumber," Tufts said.

"These impressive totals, repeated throughout New England and the nation according to the population, point up the importance of wood, our great renewable natural resource, he said.

"Taking the lead in assuring a continuous supply of wood for the nation's multiple needs is the American Tree Farm program," Tufts declared.

Active in Massachusetts since 1948, the program now has 147 Tree Farms in the Bay State totaling 65,675 acres. Nationally nearly 50 million acres under 15,000 private ownerships are enrolled.

With uses of wood almost unlimited and the consumption predicted to increase dramatically in the years ahead, Tufts urged all Massachusetts woodlot owners to consider the improvement of their areas as the first step in earning extra dividends.

He suggested that woodlot own-

Warns of Danger in Plastic Bags and Wraps

(Ed. Note—The following letter from the State Department of Public Health is self-explanatory and deserves a careful reading.)

Board of Health
Winchester, Mass.

The number of accidental deaths, particularly among children, caused by the misuse of thin plastic bags or plastic wraps has received a great deal of national publicity in the past few months. Many government agencies, business organizations, and safety groups are working cooperatively in a program of education to acquaint the general public with the dangers of these plastic bags and wraps if misused and particularly if given to children as playthings.

Here in Massachusetts the Department of Public Health and representatives of the Massachusetts Laundry-Owners Association, Retail Trade Board, Cleaning Plant Owners of Massachusetts, and Plastic Manufacturers Association have been working on such a program of education. We earnestly solicit your cooperation in this endeavor by bringing the plastic bag or wrap dangers to the attention of the general public in your area. You may also wish to work with your local cleaning and laundry establishments, plastic wrap dealers, and users of these materials on a mass scale in a similar program of education.

Many laundry and cleaning establishments are handing cards or pamphlets to their customers informing them about the misuse of plastic bags or wraps. Other establishments offer their customers a choice between plastic bags or paper bags as coverings for their clothing. Still others are affixing warning labels to the plastic bags being used.

We feel that a voluntary educational program rather than a legislative program of action will best serve the interests of the public and the cooperating establishments and dealers.

Local radio and television stations and newspapers are cooperating in bringing short special reminders and features to the attention of their audience and readers. A follow-up statement or reminder from your board of health to these agencies will aid us considerably in covering all areas of the state.

A supply of pamphlets such as the enclosed may be obtained without cost by writing to Society of Plastics Industry, Inc., 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, New York. These pamphlets have been expertly prepared in cooperation with the Academy of Pediatrics, Academy of General Practice, National Institute of Dyeing, National Safety Council and the National Health Service. These pamphlets are excellent as handout materials and contain helpful hints to parents regarding the correct use and misuse of plastic bags and wraps.

The department and the cooperating groups urgently request your cooperation in this important undertaking.

Sincerely,
Alfred L. Frechette, M.D.,
Commissioner

Police Round up "Snow" Pills in Local Stores

The so-called "Miracle Snow Drop" pills have again come on the market and police have been warned to look out for them. The pills are, according to police reports, potentially lethal.

Reported to be made by a New Jersey firm, the pills are sold to be placed on the tip of a cigarette and then they create what appears to be a snow storm when they are lighted. However, this joke gimmick has been submitted to the state for chemical analysis and it was found to contain a deadly poison which if taken in any quantity could prove fatal.

Officer James E. Farrell visited the local stores which were thought to have the pills and reported that only seven were found in town, all in one store. The store owners, like everyone else, buy the product thinking it to be a harmless joke.

The problem was brought home to Winchester two years ago when a youngster swallowed a pill and became very ill. After emergency procedures at the Winchester Hospital, the boy's life was saved.

"In maintaining perfect safe driving records you men of the postal department have gained the respect of your community as well as your superintendents and myself as postmaster."

Parents Petition School Committee on Noonan School Redistricting

In a letter sent Wednesday by the School Committee and signed by Mrs. Barbara Clark Bailey, the petitioners in the Vine street-Elmwood avenue area were told that the decision made last spring to send the children from this area to the Noonan School would hold. The distances to Lantern Lane and Willow street were measured and found to be further than the .8-of-a-mile distance from the Cullen Block. In addition there are no sidewalks on Palmer street, which means that the School Committee would not recommend having any children walk on that street to school.

A group of parents appeared before the School Committee Monday night to protest a recent decision which would change the Noonan School district to include the children in the Elmwood avenue-Vine street area who now go to the Wyman School.

A third fire was reported at 6:22 p.m. at the end of Tufts road where there were some leaves on fire.

Truck Hits Traffic Signal on Main Street

The police received a telephone call Monday morning that a truck had hit the traffic signal at the intersection of Main and Water streets.

Officers Andrew Crawford and Thomas Parsons went to the area where they found that Warren T. Crawford of Beacon street, Burlington, while operating a truck belonging to the Woburn Wholesale Produce Company on High street, Woburn, had hit the signal after making a delivery to the Royal Spa.

There was no damage to the truck but the traffic signal was broken at the top.

Winchester Officer Made Historic Trip with Macon

Lt. Dolph Jaeger of 9 Cutting street, missile officer of the U. S. S. Macon, made the historic trip with the ship when it served as flagship of the Navy task force of 28 vessels that steamed through the new St. Lawrence seaway into the Great Lakes.

Taking a 73-foot-beam vessel through an 80-foot lock is ticklish business, yet the Macon did it without a scratch and the skipper, Capt. Joseph C. Wylie of Beacon street, Boston, has received two letters of commendation from Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations. Even after removing part of her radar equipment, the Macon had little more than six inches clearance as she edged under the bridge across the Straits of Mackinac at the top of Lake Michigan.

The Tallmans' Fiftieth

Over 50 friends helped Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Tallman celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, August 9, at an "Open House" held at the home of their son, Professor Gerald B. Tallman, 17 Cambridge street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Tallman were married at Indianapolis, Iowa, on August 11, 1909. Mr. Tallman was associated for many years with the Y.M.C.A., retiring from the position of State Boys' Work Secretary of Michigan in 1947 to come to New England. Until recently he has served as advisor to the Foreign Students at Boston University.

Mr. and Mrs. Tallman were the recipients of many lovely gifts and the hope that they would enjoy another 50 years of wedded bliss.

Noonan School (11 rooms)

Now back in Boston for six or seven weeks of routine maintenance, the Macon won't need her bottom scraped, the fresh water through which she steamed on her trip having cleaned her of all barnacles and other marine growth.

Visiting the Macon at the Navy pier recently were Lt. Jaeger's wife and five-year-old daughter, Susan, the latter on hand to inspect "her" missile. The Macon serves as the only cruiser of the Atlantic Fleet capable of launching the surface-to-surface Regulus missile, a miniature jet-plane type of missile that moves with supersonic speed to smash a warhead against a target. The ship's practice missile is called the "Miss SuSu" and is named for little Susan Jaeger. On its how it bears her portrait, larger than life size. During her trip to the ship the missile crew hauled "Miss SuSu" up from the depths of the ship to let Susan take an appraising look at it and her likeness.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH FRANCIS CROWLEY

Miss Sarah Sears Dotten Dies at 85

Miss Sarah Sears Dotten of 10 Allen street, a native and well-known resident of Winchester, died Thursday afternoon, August 6, at the Hall Avenue Nursing Home in Medford after several months of failing health. Impaired eyesight had, however, prevented her getting about for the past two years.

Miss Dotten came from one of Winchester's well-known families. Daughter of William T. and Allen (Oute) Dotten, her father was for many years superintendent of the Winchester Water Department, a position later held by her brother, the late Harry W. Dotten. Another brother, the late Walter H. Dotten, was for several terms a selectman and for many years a successful automobile dealer in Winchester.

Miss Dotten was born September 22, 1874, in Winchester, and grew up in the town. During her more active years she served as an accomodator for families in Winchester and neighboring communities.

She was a loyal member of the Auxiliary to Post 97, the American Legion, and there never was a Memorial Day or other civic occasion in which the military participated that Miss Dotten did not turn out with her Legion overseas cap and flag, of which she was so proud.

She was well versed in town history, having much information about the town's water system, with which her family was so long associated. She was a member of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Miss Dotten leaves two brothers, George C. Dotten of Richmond Corners, Me., and Paul I. Dotten, retired member of the Signal Division of the Detroit, Mich., Police Department.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at the Kimball Chapel with the Rev. H. Newton Clay, pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Crowley - Dutelle

In a setting of white gladioli at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, August 1, Miss Grace Joanne Dutelle, daughter of Mrs. Elvira Dutelle of 361 Main street, became the bride of Joseph Francis Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crowley of 12 Garfield avenue. The Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, officiated at the 12 o'clock ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial Mass which followed.

Miss Dutelle was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Richard J. Dealy of Timonium, Md. She wore a paneled floor length gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves, both the neck line and panels being embroidered with white silk. Her chapel length veil fell from a tiara of pearls and she carried a white prayer book with a matching orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Sandra Dealy of Timonium, Md., was her cousin's maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of pale yellow polished cotton with a matching over-skirt of nylon tulle, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Her headpiece was a tiny veil caught with small velvet ribbons and she carried an old fashioned bouquet tied with yellow satin streamers.

Mrs. Dutelle, mother of the bride, wore a gown of lace over dusty rose taffeta with matching hat of velvet and tiny pearls and rose accessories. She wore a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Crowley, also wore a white orchid with her blue flowered chiffon dress and matching accessories.

A reception was held at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn, and at its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Crowley left on a wedding journey to New York and Washington. Upon their return they will make their home in Westford.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Notre Dame in Roxbury. Mr. Crowley, who is associated with the Murray Printing Company at Forge Village, is attending Boston University.

MRS. ROBERT FRANCIS LUCY

Lucy - Biase

Miss Carolyn Marie Biase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Biase of 44 Allen road, was married to Robert Francis Lucy, son of Mrs. John J. Lucy of 85 Alba road, Wellesley, and the late Dr. Lucy, at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, August 1. The pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. John M. Manion, performed the 10 o'clock marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial Mass which followed. Bouquets of white gladioli decorated the altar and the pews along the center aisle of the church were tied with white bows. A reception was held after the ceremony at the Bear Hill Country Club in Stoneham.

Miss Biase was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white silk organza with an underskirt of satin and a bodice of Chantilly lace. Tiny sequins edged the Sabrina neckline and her skirt was trimmed with a flounce of Chantilly lace culminating in an organza bow and a sweep train. Her waist-length veil of French illusion was caught to a crown of Chantilly lace and pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white stephanotis tied with streamers of the same flowers.

Miss Mary Lou Molinaro of Winchester was maid of honor and Miss Louise Simmons of Malden, small cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Boutwell and Miss Anne Powers of Medford and Mrs. Angela Toomajian of Malden, cousin of the bride.

All the bridal attendants wore ballroom-length dresses of white organza with scoop necklines and short sleeves. Both the bodices and deep hemlines of the skirts were embroidered with green scrolls and green appliques matching their Empire style cummerbunds. They wore halo veils of imported mulline caught to willow green headresses of sculptured leaves covered with tiny pearls, and they carried colonial bouquets of mixed daisies.

Mrs. Biase, mother of the bride, wore a Dior blue silk chiffon sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lucy, also wore cymbidium orchids with her Renoir green lace sheath and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucy went to Canada and upper New York State for their wedding journey.

Winchester Field Day

As mentioned in this column last week, the Winchester Park Department is sponsoring a Winchester Field Day, climaxing the summer playground program, to be held at Ginn Field all day tomorrow, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

It has been suggested that those attending have a picnic lunch on the grounds from 12:00-1:00 in order that the afternoon program can get the green light at 1:00 without delay.

There are many events for boys and girls of all ages, and also for moms and dads! And it is anticipated that all will join in when the various events are run off. As for the girls and women, it is strongly suggested that they wear shorts, pedal pushers, slacks, etc., because we certainly are looking forward to having them participate in some of the events.

Such apparel is suggested because the girls will feel much more comfortable doing the wheelbarrow race in slacks, or similar attire! So please do come prepared to enter! You definitely will have a lot of fun during the day, but much more fun if you plan to be a part of the program.

Playground supervisor, Frank Provizano, has a fine program arranged and is to be ably assisted by his playground instructors, Mary Doherty, Mary Garvey, Judy Dellicker, and Jim Callahan.

Don't forget that the morning activities will include baseball accuracy throws for boys and softball accuracy throws for girls, basketball foul shooting contests for boys and the Arts and Crafts exhibit.

This exhibit will show the items the little girls and boys made on the playgrounds under the supervision of Mary Garvey. These mentioned events will not be held in the afternoon, so if you wish to enter them, you must report in the morning.

The complete list of events is as follows and it certainly should be a day long remembered. But we need you, you and you, to come down and be a big part of the fun! Please do join in!

Free ice cream will be distributed in the afternoon!

The program follows:

Woburn Babe Ruths Toured Winchester

That racket you heard Tuesday night, the blaring of sirens, the honking of automobile horns, the happy shouting, was just the returning triumphant Woburn Babe Ruth baseball team on its way home from a 7-1 victory in the Massachusetts State Final over Worcester at Fraser Field in Lynn.

The Woburn boys were met at the junction of 128 and Washington street by a Police Cruiser, Engine 4 of East Woburn and the Fire Chief's car, and by individual supporters and fans. The cavalcade came noisily down Washington street all the way to Winchester Center, then north to Woburn and the Wilmington line, then back to Woburn where ranks were broken. Twenty-five private cars that started the tour increased to over 100 at the end of things.

Woburn's win over Worcester sent the Tanners to the New England Championship at Brewster, Maine, where this afternoon at 1 o'clock at Doyle Field they will play the winner of Thursday's game between a Babe Ruth team from Puerto Rico and Warwick, R. I.

Should the Tanners win this one, and they have been going great guns since eliminating Winchester in the second round, they will meet the winner of the Maine, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont series in the final round of the New England's Saturday at 3 o'clock.

While in Maine the Woburn boys will stay at the State of Maine National Guard Barracks at Bangor and have their meals at the mess hall of the Dow Air Force Base in Bangor.

Winchester Basketball League

Last Wednesday evening at Ginn Field, a fast Raytheon unit visited the local courts to play the Winchester All-Stars with Winchester winning a close 72-65 game.

The entire Winchester All-Star lineup hit the scoring column with Jim Wright getting 20, Lou Farrell 14, Dave Bergquist and Johnny Farrell 12 each, Rod Long 6, Jim and Nick Fitzgerald three apiece, and Jack Forrester 2.

The game was a see-saw battle for the first three periods, with the locals finally getting ahead and staying in front until the final whistle.

On Thursday evening, two league games were played with the Giants defeating the Sachems in the opener and the Collegians outscoring the Bears in the nightcap.

The Collegian unit is a fast-moving outfit and is composed of such former Winchester High School grads (now attending college) as Dave Bergquist of Colby, Rod Long of Harvard, Anchor Murphy of Boston U., Nick Fitzgerald of Tufts, Warren Goodrow of M.I.T., Jim Wright of Brown, Peter Gove of Middlebury, and Lou Ackerman of Mass. State. This group is something to see, so make it a point to witness some of the contests.

On Tuesday of this week, the Raytheon unit came back for another game against the All-Stars and Winchester again was on the winning end, 86-69.

High scorer in the game was Raytheon's former Winchester High captain and whiz, Mike Callahan, who hit the nets for 28 points. He was red hot, making some beautiful hook shots and drives, and he was a thorn in Winchester's side at various points in the game.

For the local aggregation Lou Farrell and Jim Wright teamed up to score 27 and 20 points respectively. Dave Bergquist found the going good for 15 points, as did Jim Fitzgerald with 8. Bill Nichols and Jim Carroll had 6 each, and Rod Long 4.

Remember, there are two games each night on Tuesday and Thursday, with outside games being played on Friday nights. All games are at the Ginn Field courts with the first game getting under way at 6:30 and the second game at 7:45.

Next Week's Schedule
Tuesday, August 18—Sachems vs. Giants, 6:30
Collegians vs. Bears, 7:45
Thursday, August 20—Collegians vs. Sachems, 6:30
Giants vs. Bears, 7:45
Friday, August 21—Freshmen vs. Junior High

Playground Notes

The weather man blocked the way for two baseball games this past week, between the "West Ginn" and "Leon-Lors," combined teams of the West Side and Ginn Field areas and the Leonard and Loring Field areas.

We got back in the groove on Tuesday morning, however, with the local 10-12-year olds visiting Winchester, but we returned with a 12-5 loss marked against us.

The game went fine for the first five innings, with both teams taking turns with the most runs, and the sixth inning found the score tied at 5-5.

In this inning Stoneham led 5-3 and Paul Grady came through with

EDITORIALS

Licenses to transport ashes and other refuse in Winchester expire August 31, and must be renewed by all who plan such activity after that date. New identification stickers for trucks and automobiles must also be secured before entering the dump September 1, or thereafter.

Both licenses and stickers are obtainable at the office of the Board of Health in the White Building and you will be doing the personnel at the town disposal area a big favor as well as saving yourself time by displaying a new sticker when you go to the dump after August 31. If you have a sticker displayed, you won't have to show your license, and if you don't happen to have a license, you won't be permitted in the dump.

What was listed last week in the contagious disease report of the Winchester Board of Health as a case of suspected polio, has turned out to be that dread disease which in this instance has stricken a mother of several children, all of whom have been protected by polio shots.

So often this is the case. Parents see to it that their youngsters have the protection of preventive vaccine, but neglect to take the shots themselves, being either too busy to take them, or mistakenly of the opinion that polio is strictly a disease of children.

This is not the case. Local health authorities tell us that a number of adults in the age brackets between 20 and 40 are being stricken with polio. In some cases they are the parents of children protected by polio shots, who may be carrying the germ but are immunized by the vaccine. Their father, or mother, without such protection, can easily fall a victim.

Winchester's Board of Health has not been happy with the response on the part of local people to its appeals to have polio shots for their children and to take them themselves. Taking a chance can be costly, much more so in time and money than visiting their family physicians and having them administer the vaccine.

As a matter of fact local doctors have publicly offered to administer the shots at the cost of the vaccine to those who can not afford to pay more.

There isn't any real excuse for not securing the protection the vaccine provides. Polio strikes quickly and can be very tragic for the victim and his family and friends.

The Star learns that the traffic lights at the intersection of Washington and Mt. Vernon streets, long out of order and giving trouble ever since their installation, are expected back in operation this week.

The unit controlling the lights has been at the manufacturer's plant in Springfield, and according to report has been operating perfectly on a test board for several days.

It is to be hoped that it will function equally well when returned to the system it controls. This intersection is a dangerous one, and needs some sort of positive control if we are to avoid a serious accident there.

The Star was surprised to learn this week that the Selectmen have had requests to let the intersection stay as it is without lights. How any one who has worked his way through the whizzing cars at the intersection during peak times could suggest such a thing is hard to understand.

One of the town's business men who has occasion to drive through the intersection often believes that, if and when the actual stop and go lights are not in operation that all lights should be on flashing red to make all traffic come to a stop before entering the intersection. Such lights might slow down some of the speedy drivers who zoom down the grade from the Parkway into Skillings road. Under present conditions the driver attempting to cross Washington street on to Mt. Vernon street has to look and act sharply.

There is probably no question that many of the accidents in this and other cities and towns result from blind corners, caused by trees, shrubs, or in rare cases, buildings. Many plant shrubs, without considering their growth through the years and others, quite frankly plant them to deaden the noise and confusion of traffic and to provide privacy for their grounds. People living at traffic intersections have plenty of noise and little privacy.

These property owners are not going to be happy about removing the screens they have erected and carefully tended, but the Zoning By-Laws provide certain restrictions to vision by trees and shrubs and can be invoked if such trees and shrubbery are threatening the safety of the public.

We have heard those versed in traffic matters say that clear visibility outweighs all other provisions for traffic safety, even lights. If you see what is coming you at least have an even chance, provided the other fellow is looking too!

Don't take valuables with you when you go to swim at the town beaches, Palmer Beach or Leonard Field Pool. Each year we issue this same warning, and each year, a glance at the Police Blotter indicates that few profit by it.

Every few days it seems some one reports a watch, handbag, sun of money, camera or some other personal effect missing when they prepare to go home after their swim. The police do their best to recover these stolen items, and sometimes they are able to locate them and the person who took them. Often however, the articles are lost for good and all to their owners.

Few people need to take valuables with them when they go for a swim. Since the Winchester beaches are restricted to local residents there is no excuse for visitors to town losing things there.

If you have valuable personal effects with you when you arrive at the beach for a swim, lock them in your car, or ask one of the lifeguards where they can safely be put; the same with money or jewelry. It is much better not to take money or jewelry with you when you go swimming, best for you and best for the one who may be tempted to steal it.

School Committee Opposed to 6-2-1-3 Plan

Editor of the Star:

In a recent editorial the editor of the Star suggested that consideration be given a plan for housing ninth-grade students together with School Department offices in the present junior high school. This plan envisions construction of a single two-year junior high school serving all seventh and eighth-grade pupils in town.

This proposal is described as a 6-2-4 plan of school organization, which it is not. Rather, it is a 6-2-1-3 plan since the ninth-grade program would be completely housed and operated in a separate building with a separate faculty. This is a pattern of school organization rarely ever seen or recommended for American public schools. At the request of the Building Committee the proposal was given consideration by the School Committee and rejected as impractical for several reasons.

In the first place it would involve maintaining a separate secondary school of only three or four hundred pupils, which authorities agree is too small for efficient operation. It would require for this limited enrollment the use of facilities including a gymnasium, cafeteria, administration offices, shop and homelike facilities designed and equipped to accommodate six hundred pupils. Other classroom facilities only recently renovated would have to be converted at considerable cost for use as School Department offices.

Furthermore, a single two-year junior high school would require a larger annual expenditure for the transportation of seventh, eighth and ninth-grade pupils than would be necessary were the town to build a three-year junior high school on the Well Field site.

Assuming that the two-year junior high school proposed in this plan were built to accommodate seven hundred pupils, the town would then have accommodations in the two schools for about one thousand and fifty pupils in grades seven through nine as compared with a total of one thousand three hundred which could be housed if a three-year junior high school of the same size were constructed. In other words, the town would be sacrificing, and at considerable cost, housing for some two hundred fifty secondary school pupils in order to provide facilities for School Department offices which shortly might have to be reconverted to house a growing school population. To the School Committee this hardly seemed an economical solution to Winchester's school housing problems.

Barbara Clark Bailey
Chairman, School Committee

"Fairness"

Editor of the Star:

On talking with some of my friends who go out each day caring for children and doing household chores, and listening to their complaints, I often wonder about these employers, who are supposed to be fair.

These same ladies expect these women to care for their children and do all the housework, including washing and ironing, and then walk to the bus stop, or home if they lose the bus.

They also balk at paying $1.25 an hour, and for baby sitting during the day, $1.00 per hour; when all the surrounding towns are getting this, including transportation to and from work. These same people think nothing of going out and spending any amount on themselves.

The women who do this work, of course, have to put up with this sort of thing because they have to make a day's pay to exist. The woman who hires her knows all this, and should act accordingly.

It does no harm to be kind and who knows, maybe make employees happier.

Sincerely
Mrs. L. E. Chase
Town

P.S.: May I also say lots of these families who employ help go away in June and leave these helpers on their own, with no work!

Our Apologies, "Shel"

There was a mistake in the caption of one of the cuts published last week in connection with the opening of Chitel's new apparel shop. In the cut of the smiling proprietor and his assistant and brother-in-law, we designated the latter as Sherman Allman. In two words we made two mistakes, two for two in the error league. You can't do better, or worse!

The gentleman's name is Sheldon Allman, one "I" if you don't mind, and Sheldon, not Sherman. There is nothing wrong with the name. Sherman, Mr. Allman says, but he has been carrying around the name Sheldon for so long he has become attached to it. Then, too, there is the old Allman custom of calling folks by their right names. "Shel" likes to observe these old customs, and the Star pledges itself to help him in the future.

The tough part of it all is that we have long known his correct name. Why we didn't use it beats us. 'Twon't happen again, "Shel,"—we hope!

Don't take dogs needlessly into strange kennels as there is danger of disease.

Don't allow the dog to roam by himself; he should always be within sight of his master.

Don't beat a dog; a light stroke with a few loosely rolled sheets of newspaper plus shaming with the voice generally are sufficient.

Don't believe that eating of meat by the dog will make it "go mad."

Don't give castor oil for all forms of constipation.

Don't neglect paying (and promptly too) for damages your dog may have done.

Don't pour kerosene on a dog's skin for killing fleas.

Don't neglect calling a veterinarian promptly for your sick dog, since both dogs and doctor want to live.

Don't feed any small bones.

Don't let your dog sleep in a draft or in a damp place.

Don't let everybody pet your dog if he is to be a watchdog.

Don't shout commands to your dog in an excited tone of voice.

Don't kill your dog by overfeeding.

Don't run the risk of losing your dog by not having your name and address on his collar plate.

Don't try to avoid paying a dog license fee.

Don't let your dog cross the street without being by you, if well trained or on a lead.

Don't believe everything poorly informed people tell you about dogs.

Health For All

What's Your Comfort Index?

Sometimes it's a good idea to put off until tomorrow what better not be done today, like during the dog days of August, when the "Discomfort Index" may be high.

Since June 1, the U. S. Weather Bureau has been helpfully announcing what it calls "the comfort index" in its weather forecasts. As most of us have learned by now, this figure combines the air's temperature and the amount of moisture in it. A comfort figure of 75 may mean 80 degrees temperature and 60% humidity, or 85 degrees temperature and 30% humidity, or 75 degrees temperature and 100% humidity.

People do not all react to such situations in the same way. When the index is 75, the Weather Bureau thinks, about half of the population feels uncomfortable. When it is down to 70, only 10 percent of us feel put out. At 80, everybody is miserable.

By now you have a pretty good idea what your comfort index is. The Middlesex Tuberculosis and Health Association suggests planning your day accordingly. If the morning forecast is poor and you're able to get away with it, do as little as possible. The less motion, the less misery.

At home do only what has to be done, dishes, beds, straightening up. Find a nice cool spot to sit, indoors is generally better than outdoors on hot and humid days. Read, listen to music, write letters, do some mending. Wear as little as you need to be presentable, and eat simple, wholesome food.

The same applies on the job. Where planning is possible, do lighter tasks, put off heavy work for a cooler day. Dress lightly in cottons (women) or the new washable synthetics (men and women). Eat simply.

When it snows, you usually call off meetings, keep the kids home from school and try to get home early yourself, mostly because of driving hazards. The same thinking should apply to the worst summer days, too. When the comfort index hits 80 or more it's equally a hazard. Besides, let's face it: nothing much gets done anyway!

Ravishing Rose as Rare Door Prize

Who ever heard of a lavender-colored rose? Mrs. Gordon Fisher of Woburn has, and no wonder, for she is the developer of rose-dom's first lavender hybrid tea rose. Called "Sterling Silver," its petals are blue with a silvery sheen of grey.

This "Sterling Silver Rose" has been chosen as the symbol for the Sterling Silversmiths Guild of America. It also served most effectively as the decorating theme of a Walte Evening, the Winchester Friends of the Hospital's annual gala.

Greatly prized and jealously guarded, the Silver Rose plants cannot be purchased for love nor money! But Mrs. Fisher has most graciously consented to donate one as a door prize at the September 30 "Haidros and Haidnes" fashion show coordinated by well-known stylist Miss Cereba.

Mrs. Don S. Greer of 82 Arlington street is chairman of the affair to be held at the Winchester Jr. High School Auditorium. Proceeds go to the Winchester Auxiliary of the Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Red Cross Given Hurricane Safety Tips

The hurricane season is under way! Three times this year these devastating storms already have threatened to boil up in the Gulf of Mexico and along the Atlantic seaboard to spread catastrophe through wide areas of the United States and Mexico.

With this fact in mind, the Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross today issued ten tips that might save the lives of persons who find themselves in the path of full-blown hurricanes which may hit the mainland during the next few months.

Declaring that the Atlantic and Gulf coastal areas will be vulnerable to hurricanes from now until the end of October, Mr. Robert M. Edgar said, "When a storm threatens, the Red Cross advises that certain steps be taken by residents to minimize the loss of life and property."

The safety tips are:

1. Follow official Weather Bureau reports closely in your newspaper and on radio and TV.
2. Store such articles as garden furniture, tools, awnings, and other such objects in a safe place. Such items could become lethal weapons in a storm.
3. Board up windows and put storm shutters in place.
4. If you're told to evacuate, don't delay. Just get out and follow instructions—a minute could save your life.
5. Don't run the risk of being marooned. Get away and stay away from low-lying areas, beaches, or other places likely to be swept by ocean winds and high tides.
6. Don't go outside during the storm. Stay indoors, preferably in a brick or concrete building.
7. Stay away from windows.
8. If the center or "eye" of the storm passes directly overhead, there will be a deceptive lull, lasting as long as 30 minutes. Stay where you are during this calm period. The wind will return from the opposite direction—with perhaps greater force.
9. Fill bathtub, bottles and cooking utensils with water. Keep extra food, which does not require cooking, handy. Be sure to have a flashlight or candle to use in the event of a power failure.
10. Don't touch fallen wires. Report such damage to police or power companies.

Mr. Edgar said Red Cross chapters along Gulf and Atlantic coastal areas have established a "Hurricane Watch"—a concentrated training program with emphasis on mass care and sheltering. These chapters are reviewing their disaster procedures and going over plans with government officials and other agencies.

Month-to-Mouth Replaces Older Techniques

American Red Cross Adopts New Lifesaving Method

The "mouth-to-mouth" technique of artificial respiration for adults as well as children has been officially adopted by the American Red Cross, Mr. Robert M. Edgar, chairman of the Winchester Chapter, has announced.

The organization will begin immediately to teach the method in its first-aid and water-safety courses throughout the nation, Mr. Edgar said.

The "mouth-to-mouth" technique was declared the most practical in a unanimous verdict of a committee of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council after a thorough review of artificial respiration data.

In a report to the local chapter, A. W. Cantwell, national director of Red Cross Safety Services, explained that the Red Cross delayed announcement of its adoption of the method only long enough to prepare and have published an instruction manual for use of its volunteer class instructors. Distribution of copies of this manual to the 3,700 Red Cross chapters has been completed. It was issued as a supplement to the most recent edition of the Red Cross First Aid Textbook, published in 1957.

The technique, also called "mouth-to-nose" respiration, dates back to Biblical times.

Instructions on performing this type of resuscitation, to be started immediately on discovery of the unconscious person, are as follows:

1. Tilt the head back so the chin is pointing upward. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position. These maneuvers should relieve obstruction of the airway by moving the base of the tongue away from the back of the throat.

Rescuers who do not wish to come in contact with the victim may hold a cloth over the latter's mouth or nose, and breathe through that. The cloth does not greatly affect the change of air.

The Red Cross still considers manual methods of artificial respiration acceptable for rescuers who cannot or will not use the mouth-to-mouth or mouth-to-nose technique, Mr. Cantwell said. The two methods it recommends are the Nielsen back pressure-arm lift method and the Silvester chest pressure-arm lift method.

Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for infants and small children was adopted by the Red Cross two years ago. But the method is referred to in the Bible, to Elshah's exploit of reviving the Shunammite woman's child. It is in verses 34-35, Chapter IV of Second Kings:

"And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and he stretched himself upon him; and the child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes."

The Red Cross began teaching artificial respiration in its first-aid classes in 1910 and in water safety courses in 1914, Mr. Cant-

OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS

Unprecedented Three-Way Tie to be Resolved

Bruces of Wenham

Equal 74's of Opening Day in Father-Son Golf Tourney

Edgar and Barrie Bruce of Wenham knocked the 41st annual Father-and-Son Golf Tournament at the Winchester Country Club into an unprecedented three-way tie late Thursday afternoon, on the concluding day of the tourney, when they turned in a card of 74 to equal the scores posted Tuesday's opening day by John and John Tosca, Jr., of Thorny Lea, and Dick and Dixie Chapman of Oyster Harbors.

Buick Coupe Stolen In Woburn Found Here

Officer Andrew Crawford recovered a Buick coupe, which was reported stolen in Woburn on Thursday, while he was patrolling Friday morning.

The car was on Johnson road extension. The spare wheel, tire, radio, battery and fuel pump were missing. The Woburn police were notified and the car was towed away by the Colonial Garage in Lexington.

A total of 105 pairs toured the exacting Winchester course Thursday to bring the total to a respectable 333 teams, which pleased the tournament committee, even though there was natural disappointment that no Winchester pair finished in the money in any class.

The three-way tie among the Toscas, Chapmans and Bruces will probably be played off the week of August 16, and should result in some great competition. The Bruces won the tourney in 1957, John Tosca is the current state amateur king, and Dick Chapman is an international campaigner of proven class.

Highest in the tourney since 1954, this year's low 74 may be linked to the new watering system which many good judges believe makes the local course, not too easy at any time, play longer than ever.

The Bruces looked good to break the Tuesday low when they finished 16 holes in one over par, even though they had but one birdie. However, they missed pars on the 17th and 18th, and then had to take a bogey five at the home hole when Barrie's lofty approach dug in at the edge of the green.

There was much interest in the appearance of Bob Magee, British Amateur semi-finalist, who played Thursday with his father, William Magee of Norfolk. They posted an 81, which may have been contributed to by Bob's extended tour of military duty in Germany.

Ralph Bonnell, former Winchester club prexy, and his son, Ralph, Jr., posted the best Winchester card on Thursday, a 79-68. Their 68 was best Winchester gross, 75, being carded Tuesday by Dave and Jim Wilcox. Following are the leading, and Winchester scores:

Edgar and Barrie Bruce, Wenham, 74-68

Ralph and Ralph Bonnell, Jr., 79-68

Jim and Bill Mason, 85-78

Forrest and James Cook, 89-77

(Fathers with Sons 12-15)

Arthur and Stephen Dexter, 88-73

Dr. Ivar and Mark Hakanson, 101-77

(Fathers with Sons under 12)

John and Jim Kodowski, 92-63

Donald and Rick Birchall, 136-97

Winchester Assigned 600 Tickets for Navy-Boston College Game

"Bob" Livingstone, chairman of the local committee in charge of arrangements for Winchester's attendance at the Navy-Boston College football game Saturday, September 19, in the Boston College Stadium at University Heights on Chestnut Hill, has been notified that a block of 600 seats in the Navy stands has been made available for Winchester fans who are eager for the opportunity to see their former gridiron stars, Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo, perform for Annapolis.

Tickets are $5 each and applications for them must be in the committee's hands by September 1. An application form is printed below and should be filled out immediately. When completed send, or take it, with the money to "Charles" Koch at the Winchester Sports Shop, 43 Church street. Please note, money must accompany applications since the tickets have to be paid for by the committee before they will be released for distribution. Make checks payable to Vincent Ambrose, president of the Winchester Trust Co., who is the ticket committee treasurer.

This Navy-B.C. football game is one most real football followers want to see, because of the football and competition in store. Boston College, if all reports are true, will field a big versatile team this fall, and nothing like the Navy route of the Eagles two falls ago is in prospect. In fact Navy may well be hard pressed to win at all.

Aside from seeing a good football game at top flight college level, Winchester fans will be looking for their former gridiron darlings, Joe Bellino, and Frank Dattilo.

A year ago as a sophomore, Bellino, was perhaps Navy's best back, and this year he is expected to be even better. Potentially he ranks with Navy's very best, but last year a knee injury sustained at the start of the season, handicapped him and almost hobbled him completely in the Navy's game here with B. U.

Joe had a great spring in baseball as a catcher for the Navy, his hitting, receiving and all around play winning him several flattering offers to play big league ball. These he turned down to complete his education at Annapolis, and he will be the big gun in the Navy backfield this fall, bar injury.

Dattilo, played sparingly a year ago as an end and guard, primarily because his size did not permit him to fit into the Navy scheme of things. He played lacrosse in the spring and sustained a leg injury which it was feared might keep him out of football this fall.

The committee, however, has been assured that Frank will be playing this fall, that he is running with the second team, and will undoubtedly see action against B.C.

All in all the whole business looks like a good "take" for Winchester, but there is just one warning. Get these applications AND money in right away. September 1 will be here before you know it.

Superior Laundry Warns of Plastic Bag Danger

Superior Laundry and Dry Cleaning is conducting a cooperative program along with health and safety officials to acquaint the general public with the dangers of thin plastic bags, wrap, and film when improperly used.

Since the first of this year over 63 cases of suffocation due to plastic bags or film misuse have been reported throughout the country. Of these deaths more than 40 were in children one year old and less.

A national survey by the United States Public Health Service revealed that the misuse of plastic dry cleaning bags on bedding for small children and infants is the principal cause of plastic suffocation deaths.

Boat Club News

The sailing activities for this week began with a race on Tuesday evening. Dawson Blamire took top honors in the Snipe fleet. Clarence Borggaard followed in second and Walter Josephson in third. Thursday's race saw Clarence Borggaard cross the line first, with Dawson Blamire and Walter Josephson, second and third.

The turnabout juniors sailed on Tuesday afternoon and again on Thursday with Medford. Carol Dannenberg crossed the line first in both. John Berger finished second and Linda Chase third in Tuesday's race. Also Dick Patten (Med.) and David Greaves (Med.) were second and third on Thursday.

The seniors also raced on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Tom Raphael took the honors with Dick Chase second and Alton Jones third. A second race was held in which the first place went to Tom Raphael. Winchester wasn't very successful on Thursday, as the first three boats, L. Doyle, Paul Planchet, and Lou Rossi, were all Medford boats.

Although a dead calm made even the best sailors hesitate to go out, a good stiff breeze blew up in time to make Saturday's race a good one. Tom Logere sailed the first Snipe across the line, with Dawson Blamire and Rod Long second and third.

The turnabouts held two races, Rob Dannenberg, Linda Chase, and Alton Jones, placing first, second, and third in the first race. Linda Chase won the second, with Alton Jones and Carol Dannenberg finishing second and third.

Again the weather looked doubtful on Sunday morning. Luck didn't seem to hold, though, as those who chanced it, sailed home soaking wet. Clarence Borggaard finished first in the Snipe fleet. Also, Dawson Blamire was second and Dick Patrick third.

A make-up race for the senior turnabout fleet with Medford was held Sunday afternoon. Warren Dannenberg led the line, with Paul Planchet (Med.) second and Bob Patten (Med.) third.

Flash Cards for extra learning experience at home now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

MARGOT MOSER

"Carousel" Opens Monday, Aug. 17

"Carousel," the great Rodgers and Hammerstein classic, one of the North Shore Music Theater's all-time big hits, is being returned for a special one-week engagement opening Monday, August 17.

Engaged in the stellar cast are Margot Moser, the popular "Rosa-bella" of last year's "Most Happy Fella," as Julie Jordan, and Bill Meigs as Billy Bigelow, the blustering amusement park barker with whom she falls in love.

Marie Santella, just out of the Broadway cast of "The Music Man" sings the role of Carrie, and Tony Gardell, who is currently one of the top favorites in "Oh, Captain!" at the North Shore Theater, will play Jigger.

The story of "Carousel," by now familiar to millions, is based on Moynar's poignant fantasy, "Lilium," and the famous team of Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II set it to music.

Bears Present Mammoth Lineup in Charity Game

Every high school and college coach in Manning Bowl (Lynn, Mass.) on the night of August 22 will positively "drool" when the mighty Chicago Bears come charging on the field to battle the Philadelphia Eagles in the Cardinal Cushing Charity Fund clash.

These awesome Bears will range in size from Doug Atkins (6-9, 255 pound defensive end) to speedy Johnny Morris (5-9, 180 pound halfback). They will present massive linemen such as Bill George, 235; Stan Jones, 250; Willie Lee, 247; Bill Bishop, 248 and Abe Gibron, 248 to name a few.

The Bears have just about everything, size, speed, power, finesse, great runners, top receivers and three brilliant passers. It's a squad that every high school and college coach dreams about. It's an outfit every football fan will enjoy viewing.

This impressive group, though, won't have matters its own way on the night of August 22. Actually, the Eagles aren't overwhelmed. They have ideas of their own and the Bears would give them a big lift. So, look for Norm Van Brocklin & Co. to give the Bears a very busy evening.

Police Stop Stolen Car; Boys Escape

A stolen car was stopped Sunday night by Officer Richard Beaton and Sgt. John Elliott as it sped through the area near Palmer Beach.

At 9:35 p.m. the police noticed the car heading toward Lake street from Middlesex street and were particularly attracted when they saw that it had a 1957 license plate on the back.

They pursued the car which slowed down on Palmer street near the beach and two boys jumped from the car and ran into the woods toward Wedge Pond. Officer

Beaton ran after them into the woods and fired a warning shot. Sgt. Elliott radioed for assistance and the route officers were alerted for two boys who might be thumbing a ride to get out of town. The car belonged to Len-Ed Motors on Main street and the owner of the business was contacted to get the car. There was slight damage to the car where it ran into the wire fence bordering Palmer street and Wildwood Cemetery. There was a 1959 license plate on the front of the car.

Two-for-one offer while they last. An Addiator, world's smallest adding machine, plus five multi-color ball point pens and 15 refills, all for $3.98. Addiator alone sells for $3.98. See them at the Winchester Star Office.

Empire, Bouffant Continue to Be Hair Styles

According to Mr. Ross of Ross Hair Styling which is located on the second floor at 33 Thompson street, the Empire and Bouffant hair styles will continue to be popular this fall. Each of these styles is featured by the high styling experts at Ross'.

However, Ross Hair Styling also specializes in lamp cuts and other types of styling. A special feature of the salon is the individual attention which makes the hair style fit the person. Each woman who goes to the salon can be assured of getting an individual hair style which is suited to her.

Located in Winchester for several years, Ross Hair Styling has added a branch in Belmont. This branch, which was opened in February, has required quite a bit of time on Mr. Ross' part but he promises that he will be back in Winchester in the fall when he expects the Belmont shop to be running smoothly.

Working with him in the Winchester shop are Miss Dorothy, who is well experienced in high style work, and Mr. John, who came to Mr. Ross from Naples, Italy.

Woodrow Ross of Watertown is the man who is responsible for the shop. He attended school in Cambridge and then took up hairdressing at La May Academy. A graduate of the American Hair Styling School in New York, he has also attended several styling classes in that city.

After completing school, Mr. Ross worked in shops in Ohio, New York and in leading department stores in Boston. He holds an advanced hair styling instructor's license to teach and has been doing make-up for the last ten years. He is particularly well known in town for doing the Winton Club show make-up. He is also available for lecturing to women's clubs.

The Winchester shop closed last Monday for a two weeks' vacation. It will open again on August 24 and appointments may be made by calling Ivanhoe 4-4366.

Human Element Makes All the Difference

In every product there is something extra that makes it differ from all other products of its kind. Even though the materials used are the same and the tools and methods are similar there is still a most evident and glowing difference in products.

This difference comes from the human element of every product. The craftsmanship employed by the craftsman is a most important factor of the job. But even more important than this is the man himself.

Northern Floors, Inc. of 17 Church street has constantly tried to make its product fit the needs of Winchester residents. Our men are among the best known craftsmen in town.

They are not only well established in their trade, but also in Winchester. They know you and the type of work you expect. They are men who are not only willing to have work in your home, but in whom you have confidence in their ability.

All the men work together as a team. The object of Northern Floors, Inc. is not just to make a living but to make our customers our friends at the same time.

It is most gratifying when arranging to do work for someone in town to have the customer ask: "Will Al be doing the work?" or "Will Bob be on this job?"

Yes, our men are established with us and with Winchester. You get more when you buy quality all the way. Personnel is a part of your finished job; it gives the craftsmanship finish that you are proud to talk about.

Shop and buy in Winchester. You have the best. Keep it here.

Randall's Is Popular with All Social Sets

Where do shoppers stop for a break in their shopping? Where do the "daters" go after the dance or the show? Where does the crowd gather after the games and after school?

Where else but at Randall's For Randall's is the place which Winchester folks have been visiting for generations when they wanted a coke, an ice cream, a box of candy for that special person and for lunch or dinner.

And Randall's has never let them down; any of them. The home cooked meals are out-of-this-world as home cooked meals should be; the ice cream is homemade and is so far above other kinds that there is really no comparison; the candy is imported or homemade and can be best summed up "delicious." And in addition to these, Mrs. Anna Price arranges to have special novelties and candies at the different seasons.

But most of all, Randall's is a place which never forgets. While other stores may have forgotten the barley and horchound candy, Randall's will carry it especially for the person who wants to reminisce. Believing that all the past is not outlived, Randall's carries such items along with, for instance, the almost never found cake decorations which were popular "then."

The High School crowd has made it theirs, too, which proves that Randall's is progressive as well as nostalgic. And the store has seen

Child-Labor Law No Bar to Jobs For Students

Leo A. Gleason, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, pointed out that the Federal child-labor law does not prevent students from earning money in part-time jobs.

Stressing the importance of finishing high school, Gleason said that earnings from part-time jobs may enable some students to return to school who, otherwise, might not be able to do so. "Teenagers can earn while they learn, if they observe the guide-lines set by the Federal child-labor law," he emphasized.

Most jobs under the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Federal child-labor law, may be done by 16-year-old students. Students who are 14 and 15 years old may be employed in some jobs, including sales, office and custodial work, outside school hours. "There are hours restrictions on the employment of 14- and 15-year olds," Gleason said; "they may work no more than three hours a day on school days and 18 hours a week in school weeks." On Saturdays and other days when there is no school, they may work up to eight hours a day. All their work must be done between the hours of seven in the morning and seven in the evening.

Mr. Gleason reminds employers, parents and youngsters that Massachusetts has its own child-labor law. He said that in cases where a job comes under both the Federal and the State law, the standards set by both laws must be observed and the higher prevail if there are differences.

Mr. Gleason cautioned that some occupations, such as truck driver or helper, have been declared hazardous and require an 18-year age minimum under the Act.

The Act applies to employees engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce, unless specifically exempt. "A very important exemption from the child-labor law is one for newspaper delivery boys," Gleason said.

Teen-agers, their parents, and employers are urged to inquire for further information about the Federal child-labor law at the Division's local office, 18 Oliver street, Boston.

Polio Shots at Boston Evening Clinic

The Boston Evening Clinic is continuing its program of polio shots every evening, except Saturday and Sunday, between 6 and 8 p.m. This continuing service is in response to a large number of inquiries, and is being carried on in cooperation with the Public Health Service.

There is no age limit on this service; infants and adults are included. Booster shots for polio are also being given for children who did not receive them in school.

It is not necessary to make an appointment or call.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this citation will be read (120:4): "Soul, or Spirit, is God, interchangeable and eternal, and man coexists with and reflects Soul, God, for man is God's image."

A Warning on Cats and Red Tuna

During the past two weeks four cats have been admitted to the Angell Memorial Hospital with a serious disease, Stomatitis, due to the feeding of red tuna. Dr. Gerry B. Schnelle, chief of staff of the hospital, stated that a previous warning has been given on the dangers of this food, but the problem has arisen again.

A canned food for cats, a large part of which is "red" or so-called dark meat tuna, and now bearing a notation on the label that vitamin E has been added, is not safe to feed to cats as a major portion of the diet. It will produce a serious illness manifest by loss of appetite, soreness over the body, and fever. Cats so afflicted will sometimes eat nothing but the dark meat tuna, and thus intensify their illness and increase its seriousness. This food is safe if fed as a treat or as a very small portion of the diet; but otherwise it is not.

Kent Parrot Wins Cape Cod Tennis Tourney

Kent Parrot of Hilltop road and Charles Orr, formerly of Winchester and presently of Hingham, met in the finals of the Cape Cod Tennis Championships at Marion last week. Kent won in two straight sets.

Parrot had reached the finals by putting out Karl Rosenberger of Wellesley in three sets and Jim Nichols of Weston in two sets.

"Winky" Bacon of Winchester combined with Parrot to beat Rosenberger and Nichols in the semifinals of the boys' doubles, but lost the finals to Orr and Michelle Schiemann of New Bedford in three sets after eight match points.

Winchester therefore was pretty well represented with Parrot winning singles, Bacon and Parrot, doubles finalists; and Charles Orr, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Orr, formerly of Westland avenue, winning the doubles with Schiemann.

McKinley Graduated from Kings Point

Cadet Harold H. McKinley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. McKinley of 11 Elmwood avenue, was graduated Friday, August 7, from the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

The U. S. Merchant Marine Academy is one of the five Federal Academies. It is to the Merchant Marine as Annapolis is to the Navy.

At the Academy, Cadet McKinley completed a four-year college course covering subjects directly related to the marine field. He entered the United States Merchant Marine Academy in August, 1955, and his second year was spent in studying and receiving practical experience aboard various American merchant vessels actively engaged in the foreign commerce of the world.

Upon completion of the year of sea duty, Cadet McKinley returned to the Academy for advanced training in academic and technical subjects related to his specific field. He was also actively engaged in the Academy's extensive extra-curricular program and sports including basketball, the Debate Council, and The Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers.

At graduation, Cadet McKinley received his license to sail as third mate aboard vessels of the American merchant marine, a Bachelor of Science degree, and a commission as ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.

Retires After Forty Years

Geoffrey C. Neiley of Yale street, a lifelong and widely known resident of Winchester, retired August 1 from the insurance firm of Field & Cowles of 40 Broad street, in Boston, after 40 years' service.

"Geof," as he is known to his many friends, graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1912, and from Amherst College in 1916. He first worked for the Underwriters Bureau of New England, leaving this firm to serve in the Navy during World War I.

After the war Mr. Neiley entered the employ of Field & Cowles, remaining there until his retirement. He has no plans for the future, but when the Star saw him Thursday he was headed for Fenway Park and the Red Sox-Kansas City game.

Doubtless curling figures largely in any future activity, for "Geof" has been one of the Country Club's pioneer curlers, one who has always played the game for the game's sake, observing all the little amenities and niceties of the sport. Good hunting, "Geof," and don't be a stranger!

More Damage To Park Property

The Winchester Park Department's Superintendent H. Stanley Mullen reported that there had been further damage to his department's property last week.

On Thursday morning of last week the department's employees reported that someone had damaged the concession building on the West Side Playground, by tearing off the shingles.

Previously that week there was damage to the metal bleachers and a picnic table was missing from Ginn Field.

This is a continuation of the damage which started this spring with the burning of the bath house at Leonard Pool.

First Book by "Dick" Fenno

Winchester Boy, U. of Rochester Teacher of Government, Authors "The President's Cabinet."

Dr. Richard F. Fenno, Jr., a former Winchester boy now teaching government at University of Rochester, has written a book, "The President's Cabinet, an analysis of the period from Wilson to Eisenhower," which has aroused much favorable comment since its recent publication by the Harvard University Press.

The way in which the book was published is proof of its stature. Briefly, it is a "subsidized" book, being one of the books in the Harvard Political Studies series, a series published under the direction of the Department of Government at Harvard and paid for in part by money which the department has available for this purpose.

American politics in general. Case studies of individual cabinet members, such as Andrew Mellon, Cordell Hull, William Jennings Bryan, and Jesse Jones, provide concrete examples to illustrate the analytical treatment of the modern cabinet.

The book evaluates various reform proposals affecting the cabinet, that is, those involving the improvement of legislative-executive relations and those involving the reorganization of the Presidency.

The discussion highlights the decentralization of power and the competitive pluralism that are characteristic of American politics. The cabinet as an institution is weak and especially vulnerable to those disruptive centrifugal forces which play upon it.

The President is faced with a formidable set of limitations in attempting to select his advisory group, unify it, and use it effectively.

The individual cabinet member is subject to conflicts of loyalty, group cross-pressures, and institutional rivalries that limit the amount of assistance he can bring to the chief executive.

Writing of the book in the New York Times Book Review Wilfred E. Binkley said, "At long last we have in this study a searching, comprehensive and scientific interpretation of the President's cabinet."

"The Reporter" for June 11, 1959, said, "Richard Fenno is a young professor at the University of Rochester. This is his first book. It is the more remarkable for that. For Fenno, writing without government experience, has managed to develop and display a sensitivity to government-in-action worthy of a senior bureaucrat; his perspective, and detachment, meanwhile, remain greater than most bureaucrats can muster on the job, and his research appears as careful as it certainly has been extensive."

"His book is timely, relevant and valuable. It fills a gap in the scholarly literature almost as large as that in the public understanding."

The Harvard University Press, in its announcement of Dr. Fenno's book, said, "What the cabinet was at its inception, what it developed into, and what it might be has been brilliantly analyzed here in what is the first full-length political analysis of the cabinet ever written. Rather than being historical, the book is fully descriptive and often critical, with cases constantly brought in to illustrate each important point."

Most of those with any length of residence in Winchester know, or knew of "Dick" Fenno, his father, Richard F. "Dick" Fenno of the Country Club curlers, and his mother, the late Mary Tredennick. The Fenno family long made their home here, and the Tredennicks were also residents for several years.

Young "Dick" was born in Winchester, grew up here, and graduated from Winchester High School in 1944 with a fine scholastic record and such extra-curricular activities as president of the Athletic Association and sports editor of the student newspaper "Red and Black."

At Amherst, from which he graduated with an A.B. degree in 1948, he was Phi Beta Kappa, Chi Phi and one of the "Bond 15," the fifteen top-ranking students in his class. He got his Master's from Harvard in 1949 and his Doctorate in 1956.

Dr. Fenno has taught at Wheaton College, at Amherst, and for the past two years at University of Rochester. He married Nancy Davidson of Winchester September 10, 1948, and they have two sons, Mark, 9, and Craig, 3.

Group Discusses Use of Upper Mystic Lake Launching Area

A group of officials from towns surrounding the Mystic Lake area and from the Metropolitan District Commission, in whose province the lake falls, met last Thursday, August 13, to discuss the boat-launching facilities.

An unofficial meeting, the group included a selectman from Arlington; Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., Winchester selectman; Oscar Morrow, Winchester executive secretary to the Board of Selectmen; George Redding of the local Planning Board; John McGlynn of Medford, who is a representative of the General Court and also a Medford councilman; Chief Smallidge of the Medford Fire Department; Chief Kirwin of the Medford police; and Representatives Thomas Donohue of Woburn, John Backley of Arlington, Harrison Chadwick of Winchester, Michael Catino of Medford, and Capt. James J. Ward of the M.D.C.

The group discussed the location of the launching site in the upper lake. The present launching area which is in Winchester is closed off by a curbing which was installed as part of the general development and improvement of the upper lake on the Parkway side by the M.D.C.

Mason Condon, who is a Selectman in Lynnfield and an engineer explained the present construction which is taking place at the site.

All the representatives from towns abutting the lake were against having a launching site anywhere on the upper lake. This group felt that the upper lake is too small to be used for motor boats, which are the boats that are using the launching area. Also, the motor boats interfere with the activities, such as sailboating, which has been carried on for years on the lake. Representative Donohue from Woburn felt that the lake could be used for motor boating.

The M. D. C. report of the meeting was sent immediately to the Commissioner, who will decide what, if anything, will be done about the lake. Unless there is a decision made, there will be no launching area and no motor boats on the Upper Mystic Lake.

Chester L. Fox
Died August 13

Chester L. Fox of 8 Dartmouth street, president and treasurer of the Crane Service and Equipment Corporation and long identified with the trucking business in New England, died suddenly Thursday evening, August 13, not long after arriving home from his office in Somerville. He had been in his usual health but had complained of feeling tired when he got home.

Mr. Fox was the son of George and Lizzie (Hart) Fox. He was born September 9, 1895, in Acton, Me., and remained on the family farm at Fox Ridge in Maine until completing Nute High School at Milton, N. H.

He first worked firing steam boilers in lumber mills in Southern Maine, coming to Boston prior to World War I and going to work for Alden Spears Co., road contractors, in Gloucester, driving asphalt trucks and running a steam roller.

During World War I Mr. Fox entered the service and served 18 months in France with the 46th Company of the 20th Engineers, having the rank of corporal.

After his discharge he went to work driving a truck for C. E. Hall & Sons, Inc., of Somerville, working his way up through truck mechanic and shop foreman to general superintendent of the firm.

In 1931 when the Crane Service and Equipment Co. of New England was organized as an outgrowth of C. E. Hall & Sons, Mr. Fox became manager of the new company as well as of the trucking company. In 1949 he bought the new company which he renamed the Crane Service & Equipment Corporation, becoming president and treasurer of the firm. He later left the Hall Co. to found his own trucking company, known as the Wellington Service Corporation, of which he was treasurer and vice president. Headquarters for both companies are at 70 Cross street in Somerville, and Mr. Fox was active in both up to the time of his death.

In March of 1945 Mr. Fox came to Winchester from Arlington. He was a 32nd Degree Mason, a member of King Solomon Lodge of Somerville and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He was also a member of the Board of Managers of the Middlesex County National Bank, Somerville, and of the Council, New England, of the Smaller Business Association of New England, Engineers' Club of Boston, New England Equipment Distributors Association and New England Road Builders Association.

On June 14, 1924, Mr. Fox married June Moody of Somerville, who survives, with a son, Chester L., Jr., of Winchester; a daughter, Mrs. Peter Beale of Reading; four grandchildren, Peter, Christopher and Stephanie Beale; and Cheryl Fox; a brother, Arthur, of Union, N. H.; a sister, Mrs. Louis Burpee of Fresno, Calif., and a half-brother, Chandler Fox of Acton, Me.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

The residents of Lockeland road petitioned the Board of Selectmen for a much needed drainage system in the area. This section is quite swampy in places and the water has caused home owners trouble there for some time.

This week the Selectmen came to their aid and agreed to help solve the problem with a drainage system which will be installed to take the water down to the brook on the Winchester Country Club land.

Easements have already been obtained and work is scheduled to start this fall.

Charles K. McArthur, Technical Director of the Winchester Laboratory, National Lead Company, Inc., on Holton street received the Treasury's official citation from Lawrence F. The certificate of award read as follows: "In appreciation of patriotic service to the Nation in the United States Savings Bonds Program." It was signed by Treasury Secretary Robert R. Anderson and Henry J. Nichols, chairman of the Massachusetts Savings Bonds Advisory Committee.

The Winchester ceremony was part of a nation-wide tribute to the employees of the National Lead Company and its affiliate companies following the highly successful company campaign. 16,960 National Lead Company employees are now buying savings bonds regularly each pay day. Mr. Hardy praised Mr. McArthur and Mr. R. Chevalier, Bond Campaign Chairman, and the employees for their excellent savings bond record.

The company and its employees have established an especially high record through their voluntary enrollment and participation in the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of Series E Savings Bonds. Mr. Hardy said: "Not only is the buying of savings bonds good business for individuals but their purchases help to stabilize our country's economy. It is more vital than ever before to back our dollar by saving systematically in U.S. Savings Bonds. The company and its employees are to be congratulated for their wonderful achievement which is also so beneficial to the nation."

While in the Banff area, Greg, age 8, spent a week at Camp Chief Hector, a boy's camp ideally located on a lake in an Indian Reservation at the foot of the Canadian Rockies.

He was a Mason and a member of the First Congregational Church.

In 1933 he was named a trustee of the Boston Evening Clinic and in 1954 he served as general chairman of the clinic's annual maintenance campaign. Since his retirement he had been a member of the faculty of the evening division of Northeastern University.

Mr. Lybeck had summered in Kennebunkport for the past 11 years, and he had furnished his home there with authentic antiques, most of which he had himself expertly restored.

Parents Ask Police Protection

The group of parents who recently protested the action of the School Committee in re-districting pupils in the Wyman and Noonan school districts to have their children living in the vicinity of Vine street, Elmwood avenue and Wedge Pond road, attend the Noonan School in the fall instead of the Wyman School as formerly, have petitioned the Selectmen for an officer to get the youngsters safely through the Lake and Main street intersection.

Parents attending the hearing granted by the School Committee voiced no objection to the change in schools, but did express concern over the early morning traffic at Lake and Main streets, and also questioned sending their children nearly a mile to the Noonan School when other children in the Wyman district live nearer to the Noonan than that distance.

Miss Katherine T. Lynch Hospital Purchasing Agent Retires

The retirement of Miss Katherine T. Lynch, purchasing agent at the Winchester Hospital, was announced this week by Mr. Reese E. James, Administrator.

Thirty years ago Miss Lynch joined the housekeeping staff to take charge of the linen supply, and in her early years she was responsible for most of the mending that was required to keep the linen in serviceable condition. During this period she has worked closely with the Winton Club in the purchase of the hospital linen. She has watched the hospital grow from a yearly admission of 1200 patients in 1929 to approximately 6000 in 1959.

At the time of the establishment of a central storeroom Miss Lynch was selected to take charge, and with it the responsibility for the purchasing of supplies. In 1952, when the latest addition was built, Miss Lynch was appointed purchasing agent, in addition to being in charge of the stock room with its over 500 different items.

Miss Lynch resides in the family home at 314 Montvale avenue in Woburn. Built by her grandfather in 1870, it is considered one of the oldest homes in that area.

Gunnar A. Ekman

Former Winchester Violinist
Dies in Brookline

Gunnar A. Ekman, 76, of 15 Fairbanks street, Brookline, a former resident of Winchester and for many years a concert violinist and teacher of the violin, died Thursday, August 13.

Mr. Ekman was the son of Anders P. and Sofia (Swenson) Ekman. He was born in County Sweden, Sweden, but came with his parents to this country at the age of six. His father had been a leather manufacturer in Sweden, and the family settled in this country in Woburn, then well known as a leather manufacturing city.

As a boy Mr. Ekman sang in the choir of Trinity Church in Woburn and commenced the study of the violin, showing marked ability. He was graduated from Woburn High School in the class of 1903 and later graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music, where he won six scholarships for excellence in the violin.

For many years Mr. Ekman's life was music. He taught music at several colleges, including Mt. Allison College in New Brunswick and the College of Emporia in Kansas. He also made concert appearances as a violinist in many leading summer resorts and during the winter musical seasons.

His family moved to Winchester from Woburn 40 years ago, and he spent his time between engagements here. When he returned to town permanently he continued to busy himself musically with an orchestra which he organized and conducted. He was a familiar figure on the streets of the town with his double violin case habitually under his arm.

On June 20, 1945, Mr. Ekman married his classmate at Woburn High School, Helen I. Deland, and they went to make their home in Brookline. Mrs. Ekman survives with two sisters, Miss Ingrid Elizabeth Ekman and Miss Louise U. Ekman, the latter being proprietor of Miss Ekman's hat shop in the National Bank Building established by her sister, the late Anna M. Ekman.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at All Saints Church in Brookline, where Mr. and Mrs. Ekman were married. The Rev. Myron B. Bloy, Jr., assistant rector of the church and chaplain of M.I.T., officiated. Burial was in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn.

Dear friends,

We have seen so many misunderstandings and hardships brought about because the deceased had made no will that we feel justified in mentioning it. Making a will is very simple and inexpensive. It so often saves a family from endless worry and uncertainty.

We know little about legal matters, but we do know that much trouble could be avoided if every person made a will.

Respectfully,

Fenton H. Norris

EDITORIALS

It is heartening to see the Metropolitan District Commission apparently sticking to its original idea of improving the area around Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake in accordance with the previously accepted Elliott Plan.

Work is progressing on that plan which calls for the construction of a wading pool and a picnic area with tables and benches on the filled-in cove of Bacon's Pond, or Little Mystic, adjacent to the beach.

This improvement carries with it discontinuing the use of this land as a ramp from which to launch motor boats, and residents of Winchester, especially those adjacent to the pond, will heartily applaud this decision.

For some years now motor boats on Bacon's Pond have been a nuisance to householders on Everett avenue in a district of fine homes, and indeed, to all living within earshot of the lake. As the number of boats have increased this nuisance has grown and even the policing of the lake by the MDC has helped only to a degree.

The simple fact is, Bacon's Pond, or Little Mystic as the editor knew it as a boy, just is not large enough for general motor boating, while the zooming of the boats through the narrow gut at the old aqueduct between Bacon's Pond and the upper lake carries a danger potential, especially when the boats get around the corner and start maneuvering in the vicinity of Sandy Beach with its many bathers.

Many of those who have been operating motor boats on Mystic give evidence of knowing little or nothing about such craft and show little concern for the rights, or safety of others on, or in the lake. It ought not take the bad accident that would seem sure to happen as boats increase in numbers and horse power to make those concerned with improving Mystic as a recreational area see the potential danger involved.

There are on Mystic Lake, upper Mystic Lake that is, above the dam at the Medford Boat Club, three fleets of sailboats operated by the Winchester and Medford Boat Clubs, long established on the lake, and the relative newcomer, the Tufts College Boat Club.

The sailboats antedated the motor boats by a good many years, yet their future is being jeopardized by the increasing numbers of motor boats, which are making the handling of the sailboats, and what few canoes are in use, doubly difficult, if not actually dangerous. Add water skiing to the motor boating activity, and you intensify the danger potential.

The sailboat owners are surely deserving of consideration by the MDC. Boat club members have property on the lake and a real stake in its proper development. They bother no one, make no noise and, especially in their racing events, present an attractive sight for the many who come to Mystic Lakes for restful relaxation along the shores.

The MDC has already spent money to establish picnic areas on the peninsula that carries the bed of the old Middlesex Canal. They plan more picnic areas on Bacon's Pond, they have constructed parking places and they have further plans for the improvement of bathing facilities at Sandy Beach. Substantial sums of money are involved in these improvements and it doesn't seem good judgment to have these various improvements made less desirable by the indiscriminate zooming of motor boats about a small and larger lake not adapted for their use.

As we understand it the MDC plans call for a launching ramp for motor boats somewhere below the dam at the Medford Boat Club. Representatives of the motor boat operators would like to have the ramp instead adjacent to the Tufts Boat Club, a place which surely the Tufts sailors will oppose and which does seem not too suitable.

Residents of Arlington and Medford in the vicinity of the lakes oppose launching the boats in the lower lake below the dam. This is natural enough. No one who is not a motor boat enthusiast wants them near him. Possibly a launching area could be constructed on the Mystic River near the pumping station, which we are told is an industrial district.

At all events there would seem to be good reason for barring motor boats from Upper Mystic Lake and Bacon's Pond. A representative of the MDC told the Star after a recent informal meeting of representatives of Winchester, Medford, Arlington and Woburn, he found almost no sentiment favoring the use of motor boats above the Medford dam.

He said that his report of the meeting to the Metropolitan District Commissioners would be to this effect. Such a report, the Star feels should weigh heavily with the Commissioners.

Middlesex County Chapter of the MARCH OF DIMES

This Is An Urgent Appeal To You For Help!

For more than twenty years, The March of Dimes has been providing medical aid and care for polio victims. In Middlesex County during the past three years, we have raised $973,000 while our expenditures for Polio Patient Aid in Middlesex County has been $1,114,000.

OUR GENEROSITY HAS EXCEEDED OUR INCOME!

The National Foundation is no longer able to make up our patient aid deficit. Patient aid for 1100 Middlesex County polio victims is costing our chapter $4500 a week. Unless we can enlist your help, we must withdraw assistance that has made life liveable for some who cannot even leave their beds. Our patient care and all other expenses have been reduced to the bare minimum.

For this reason, we are appealing to you now for financial help. Every cent that you give will be used in Middlesex County, for the continued care of Middlesex County polio patients.

PLEASE SEND US A DOLLAR! A dollar from every family would assure the continued care of polio patients in this County. Send your check in the enclosed envelope today!

Gratefully, David Stewart, Fund Chairman

Named To Sylvania's Marketing Post

Richard M. Ross of Winchester has been named to the newly created post of manager of marketing services for the Semi-conductor Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., it has been announced by Ernest H. Uhl, division general sales manager. Sylvania is a subsidiary of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation.

In his new assignment Mr. Ross will have over-all responsibility for the division's sales budgets, pricing, advertising, merchandising, sales training, sales service, marketing research, finishing and shipping. He will continue to be located at division headquarters in Woburn.

One of the largest manufacturers of transistors, crystal diodes, microwave diodes and other semi-conductor devices, Sylvania's Semi-conductor Division has a headquarters plant at Woburn, a manufacturing plant at Hillsboro, N. H., and a development laboratory at Northlake, Ill.

Mr. Ross joined Sylvania in 1948 as a test engineer for semi-conductor devices. In 1951 he was named a sales engineer in the division's New York City sales office. The following year he was appointed sales manager, semi-conductors for the Eastern Region. In 1957 he was named product sales manager, semi-conductors at Woburn.

A native of Lexington, Mass., Mr. Ross attended the University of Maine, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering. During World War II, he served with the U. S. Navy in the Atlantic Theatre. He is a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers. He is married and makes his home at 61 Sargent road.

TOP TV STAR BILL MEIGS, currently winning applause as Billy Bigelow in "Carousel," is in rehearsal now for "Bells are Ringing," the happy new musical comedy hit upcoming at the North Shore Musical Theatre on Monday, August 25. He will be starred as Jeff Moss, the "beat" playwright who finds his life rescued by a telephone answering service girl with the traditional "heart of gold" — plus a few feminine wiles. Among his numbers are the hit-parade popular "Long Before I Knew You" and "The Party's Over."

Winchester football fans planning to attend the Navy-Boston College football game at University Heights in Chestnut Hill on Saturday, September 19, had better be getting their ticket applications in right away. None will be accepted after September 1, and that is not too far distant.

Tickets are $5 and applications for them, accompanied by cash or check, should be sent at once to "Charlie" Koch at the Winchester Sport Shop, 43 Church street. Checks should be made payable to Vincent C. Ambrose, treasurer.

Chairman "Bob" Livingstone of the committee in charge of arrangements has announced that a block of 600 tickets has been made available to Winchester fans in the Navy stands, just as they were a year ago when Navy came to Boston to play B. U.

Naturally the Winchester interest stems from the fact that two former Winchester football stars, Joe Bellino, halfback, and Frank Dattilo, lineman, will be with the Navy team at University Heights.

Bellino is expected to pace the Navy backfield this year, and Dattilo, running with the second squad, is practically sure to see action against the Eagles.

There are 10 days left before September 1, final date for receipt of applications. Remember, no applications will be honored if not accompanied by cash or check.

Bargains In Billauer's Closing Out Sale

Those in need of watches, jewelry or gift items will do well to visit the Henry Billauer jewelry store on Main street in Woburn during the closing out sale in progress there.

Billauer's, founded by Henry Billauer, "the square deal jeweler," and continued after his death several years ago by his wife, Alice, is going out of business, its long occupied store being included in the plans of the new Woburn Bank & Trust Company, which has leased the entire Zimbel Building for its banking rooms.

All Billauer's merchandise, and the store has always had a reputation for quality, is included in the sale at most attractive prices.

Persons having watches or clocks at Billauer's are urged to pick them up as soon as possible, for everything must be cleared from the premises at once. As far as possible merchandise to be sold is on display, but so large are Billauer's stocks that there is insufficient room to show everything.

If you are looking for a special jewelry or gift item and do not see it, ask for it. It is more than likely Billauer's has what you want.

Summer Time Study Time at Unique Jazz School

Vacation fun is the thing on the minds of most visitors to the Berkshires in August. For 43 men and two girls, the students at the unique international School of Jazz, which opened its third annual session in Lenox, last week, the story is work, work, work!

The students have come from twelve states, and the Persian Gulf, via Bengal, India, to learn the art of music from a faculty of modern masters that is headed by John Lewis, musical director of the Modern Jazz Quartet. Among the other musicians taking a busman's holiday to pass jazz tones and traditions along to a new generation are Jimmy Giuffre, Bob Brookmeyer, Max Roach, Herb Pomeroy, and jazz historian Marshall Stearns.

They'll be teaching jazz to a group of students as varied as they are numerous. Several are up-and-coming young professionals who are favorites in their hometown areas. Margo Guryan, one of the two girls entered, is still a college student, but she's had a song she composed recorded by Chris Connor. Also in the college group are seven boys who make up the Schaefer Intercollegiate Jazz Combo.

These Ivy Leaguers, who include "Herb" Gardner of Harvard and Dix street, are the winners of the school's first intercollegiate jazz scholarship competition, conducted this spring at twelve East Coast colleges and universities under a grant from the F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Co. Jazz is the thing they have in common; at college they're studying everything from German to behavioral sciences, history, and music.

At the other end of the spectrum is their fellow student, Dizzy Sal. A native of the Persian Gulf kingdom of Kuwait, he's one of the most popular jazz pianists in Bengal, India, at the opposite end of the world from jazz's home base.

The young music-makers attending the school, which has been called the most unique institution in the individualistic world of jazz, will spend three weeks of working, studying, and learning-by-doing. On Saturday, August 29, they'll make their public debut at the Berkshire Music Barn, at a benefit concert presented annually by the faculty and students of the School.

Thomas A. Drohan of 6 Fenwick road has been appointed assistant to the director in charge of sports publicity at the Northeastern University Press Bureau.

Necessitated by Northeastern's expanding athletic program, Mr. Drohan's position is the first full-time sports publicity appointment at the University.

Mr. Drohan is the son of Edward W. Drohan, former night city editor of the Boston Post. He is a former member of the Post sports staff and the public relations department of the Revere Racing Association.

Former police reporter for the Fitchburg Sentinel, he recently completed a two-year tour of active duty in the United States Army.

Two Injured In Main St. Crash

Two persons were injured in an automobile accident Saturday night on Main street.

William T. Merin of 5 Richmond park, Woburn, driving a Buick sedan south on Main street, was stopped about 22 feet south of Russell road to make a left turn into the road when the car was hit.

Nicholas A. Girardi of 96 Main street, Woburn was the driver of the other car. Mr. Girardi also was headed south on Main street and his car collided into the left rear of the Buick.

Injured were Elizabeth McDonough of 69 Prospect street, Woburn who was riding in the Girardi car and Mrs. Jean Merin of 5 Richmond park who was riding with her husband.

Both women were taken to the Winchester Hospital. The cars were both damaged but the Merin car left under its own power.

Vandals Damage Park Department Beaches this Week

Several reports were received over the weekend by the police about vandalism to the town's beaches.

Sometime Saturday night vandals cut all the ropes on the marker floats. The rest of the damage was done at Palmer Beach.

On Sunday the chain was broken at the eastern entrance to the Beach, evidently by a car. The police evicted a group of boys from Medford who were swimming but they did not have a car.

On Monday the lifeguard called to report that someone had broken some beer bottles and put the glass into the water. The police believe that this was done Sunday night.

Mercury Sedan Found Friday

A Mercury sedan which was stolen last Thursday from in front of the Immaculate Conception Church on Sheridan Circle was found Friday morning by Officer Mario Buzzotta.

The car belonged to Joseph B. Sullivan of 122 Garfield avenue, Woburn. It had a flat tire when it was found.

Hillside Home Improvement Co. Offers Residents Complete Service

The Hillside Home Improvement Company at 885 Main street, located near the intersection of Swanton street, offers the residents of Winchester the same home improvement services which they formerly had to go out of town to obtain.

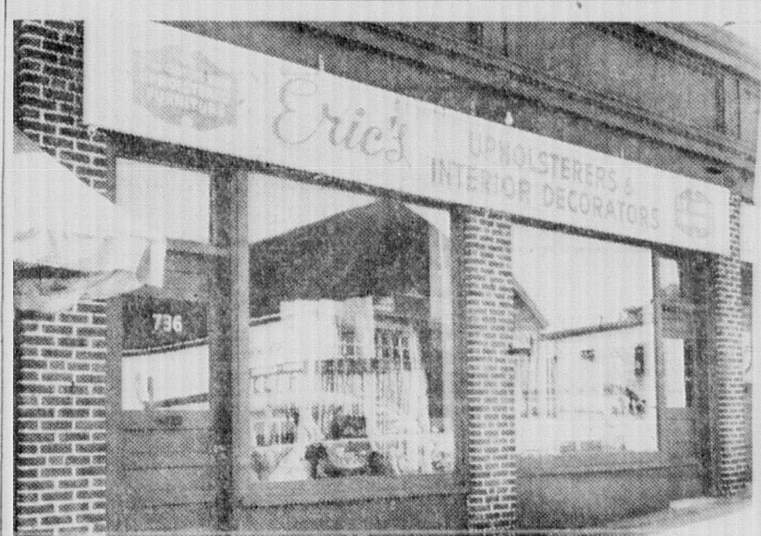

Featured by the store are American combination windows, aluminum sidings, aluminum awnings and roofings.
Insulium aluminum sidings insulate your house and at the same time offer all the easy maintenance of aluminum. With Insulium all exterior wall maintenance is eliminated along with reduced fuel bills and the added advantage of having a cooler home in the summer. Insulium also helps keep the home quieter.

Ruth C. Porter Company Started in 1920's

The Ruth C. Porter Company, Real Estate Agency, which is located in the charming old red colonial house at 33 Thompson Street, has been an integral part of Winchester since it was started in the early 1920's. Mrs. Gertrude H. Murphy is now the present owner of this office.
Mrs. Ruth C. Porter opened the agency which bears her name and, although retired in 1954 when Mrs. Murphy took over, still has a vital interest in the business.

In 1937 Mrs. Murphy joined the office as secretary and in 1946 became a sales representative until she attained the ownership. The agency specializes in the selling of homes and land in Winchester and surrounding towns.
Salesladies for the firm are Mrs. Muriel R. Johnston, Mrs. Ann E. Durant, Mrs. Florence M. Salyer and Mrs. Helen Connors. Mrs. Isabel H. Mercer is the secretary.

For 3 Years Eric's Interior Decorating Firm Located Here

Eric's Upholstering and Interior Decorating Shop which is located at 736 Main street, near the intersection of Skillings road, Main and Lake streets, has been serving Winchester customers with decorating advice and needs for over three years.

Featured at the shop, of course, are upholstery, draperies, slip covers and specialized articles such as bedspreads, dressing table covers, headboard covers and other fabric covered pieces. Eric also makes up furniture and can copy articles for people who want a pair of chairs, etc. This has become a regular feature of the shop and Eric copies the article, draws up plans and then has it manufactured by a cabinet maker. The final covering and finishing is done at the shop.

However, besides the upholstery and drapery making, Eric sells fabric and other supplies needed by people who want to do their own work. Among the fabrics are drapery and slip cover cloth which sells for $2.00 a yard. The upholstery fabric for sale sells for $3.00 a yard and up. Eric can get any fabric at all, from any of the fabric houses.
And the fabrics are fabulous! In the collection are many different styles from Colonial prints to the most modern. Among them are fabrics by such famous mills as Schumacker, Jofa, Arthur Lee and Stroheim.

Neno's Market Employees Put Service Above All

Neno's Market employees are noted for their excellent service to the customer and for the pleasant way in which they greet people entering the store. This is undoubtedly why the market at 32 Swanton street has become so popular.
Run by Anthony Marchesi of 95 Irving street, the market specializes in Italian foods, both imported and domestic, and in American foods. Working with Mr. Marchesi is his wife, Gladys, who is a familiar figure to shoppers at the store.
Working in the meat department are Anthony Gigliotti of Harvard street and Randy Kazazian of Lincoln street. Mr. Gigliotti has been with Neno's for eight years and is well liked for his pleasant personality by all who trade there. Born and brought up in Winchester, he is widely known in the town and attended the schools here.
Mr. Kazazian is also well known in town. A former chain store manager and a store owner on Washington street for a number of years, he sold the store to Neno's Market five years ago and went to work for Mr. Marchesi. Formerly from Somerville, he has been a resident here since 1938.
John Mangano of Irving street is the tall employee in the vegetable department. He is appreciated by all the customers for his pleasant personality and smiling face.
The delivery department is run by Peter Picopolis of Spruce street.

Robin Hood Campers Get Swimming Awards

To date 26 campers out of the season's enrollment have successfully completed the Red Cross Beginner's Swimming Test in the 60-foot filtered pool at Robin Hood Day Camp, 12 El street, North Reading.

The skills which must be mastered to receive the award are: rhythmic breathing, floating and gliding on back and stomach, beginners arm stroke, elementary backstroke, leveling off, jumping into shallow and deep water, and a plain front dive.

The swimming test requires that the campers dive into the deep end of the pool, swim fifteen yards, turn about, float for 15 seconds, and swim back to the starting point.

Swimmers who have not yet passed the beginner's test but are swimming in the deep end of the pool are: John Beaton, Pauline Beaulieu, William Berkson, Linda Bucko, Janet Curley, Norma Fleury, Robert Fortini, Penny Goodwin, Bill Griffiths, Robert Hall, Lynne Jones, Steve Keane, Debbie Martel, Henry Michelski, Joe Neuner, Tom O'Hare, Steve Prince, Linda Sparks, and Theresa Vasey.

One camper and two counselors have completed the requirements for the Red Cross Intermediate Certificate. They are John Penneck, Jean Dunklee, and Claudia Higgins. Carol Graf and Claudia Higgins, counselors at Robin Hood, have passed the Red Cross Swimmers' Test, and Gail Dolben, another counselor, has passed the Advanced Swimmers.

Carol Graf and Claudia Higgins are learning Red Cross lifesaving. Anyone who is a Red Cross intermediate swimmer is qualified to learn Red Cross lifesaving and water safety.

The camp owns six boats in which the counselors give daily rowing lessons. When a camper passes the beginner's swimming test, he is entitled to take out a boat alone, wearing a life jacket. After swimming 30 yards wearing a shirt, dungarees and sneakers, a camper may take out a boat without a life jacket.

The pool program is under the direction of Mr. Denny Rickarby, a certified Red Cross water safety instructor. Mr. Rickarby is a teacher in the Springfield Public School system.

The camp is owned and operated by Martin and Marguerite Healey of Wyman street in Lynn. Mr. Healey is a teacher in the Lynn Public School system.

Winchester Basketball League

Last Thursday evening there were two exciting League games at Ginn Field with the first game finding the Bears defeating the Sachems by a 68-54 score and the pace-setting Collegians winning a close one from the Giants, 72-67.

Warren Goodnow drove nicely a few times when it was a see-saw battle to put the Collegians ahead. Then Rodney Long, Dave Bergquist and Peter Gove teamed up and with some beautiful play making, the collegians took the lead and maintained it over the last period and a half. The Giants have come along in good fashion in recent games and will no doubt offer stiff competition in the closing games of the season.

The Sachems have shown improvement but lack the experience of other teams in the League. The Sachems are boys of high school age and are looking to improve themselves for competition next winter.

Despite the fact that they are so much younger than other teams in the League they are in the game all the way and all their opponents have known they were in a ball game.

The Junior High and Freshman teams have also been coming along fast. Boys you see in these groups are Pete Ledger, Jim Devaney, Bill Christensen, Rog Schipellite, John Donovan, Jay Parsons, Bill Harris, Bruce Fitzgerald, Ambrose Devaney, Jeff Peckham, Bob Donlon, Dick Cass, George Snelling, Frank Fungillo, Ronnie Keane, and Bill Thoms.

These League games are played every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Ginn Field. The first game is on its way at 6:30 with the second game in full swing at 7:45. Friday evenings are set aside for "out-side games" and Junior High and Freshman games.

Make it a point to see these boys in action! There is plenty of excitement and some good ball handling. The season will be ending soon so don't delay seeing some action.

Next week's schedule is as follows:
Tuesday, Aug. 25 - Bears vs Sachems, 6:30, Giants vs Collegians, 7:45.

Thursday, Aug. 27 - Giants vs Sachems, 6:30, Bears vs Collegians, 7:45.

Friday, Aug. 28 - Junior High and Freshman vs Woburn (pending).

Playground Notes

Today marks the final day of the present playground program and on behalf of the Park Department, supervisor Frank Provinzano extends his sincere thanks to all who availed themselves of the privilege of using the facilities during the summer.

The attendance was on the encouraging side but it is still strongly felt that there are many more girls and boys who could have spent many good times in the wholesome form of recreation provided by the Winchester Park Department.

We in this town rate second to none as far as playing sites, the upkeep of these sites, the equipment on hand and the type of leadership provided. It should be an excellent opportunity for the youngsters in the town to report to the playgrounds and use the equipment.

Supervisor Frank Provinzano and his playground assistants, Mary Doherty, Mary Garvey, Judy Dellicker and Jim Callahan, worked extremely hard to make all youngsters happy and we feel certain they enjoyed themselves when they came to the various fields. We certainly tried our utmost, as many of you parents stated to us during the Field Day, and we certainly appreciate hearing these things from you.

This past week Arts and Crafts instructor, Mary Garvey, kept the youngsters busy in finishing some of the articles started with gimp and leather.

If you were at the Field Day, you saw some beautiful articles such as bracelets, costume jewelry, ash trays, pot holders, moosekins, leather belts, wallets, purses, lanyards, necklaces, ear rings, pins, slippers and many other items made by the youngsters while on the playgrounds. The exhibit was excellent and should be an inspiration for summers to come.

While Miss Garvey had her groups, other youngsters were kept on the move by the playground instructors Mary Doherty, Judy Dellicker and Jim Callahan. They had the boys and girls interested in playing baseball, softball, basketball, croquet, magic ball, dodge ball and whistle ball besides story telling and other quiet games.

On Tuesday of this week our boys up to 12 years visited Woburn for a baseball game and the contest was called with the score tied at 8-8. On Wednesday the same age group played at Stoneham and Winchester won 6-3.

In the Woburn game Paul Grady was the big man with the stick getting a double and homer. He also did a fine job behind the plate. Phil Gallagher got two doubles and Francis Mawn hit for a homer in school!

AS SCHOOL OF JAZZ GETS UNDERWAY

"Herb" Gardner (right) of 14 Dix street plays a jazz-style salute to R. J. Schaefer III. "Herb" is one of seven winners of the school's intercollegiate scholarship competition, conducted under a grant from The F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Co.

For a mute, "Herb" is using a silver beer stein, presented to him by Mr. Schaefer and signifying that he is a member in good standing of the all-star intercollegiate Schaefer Cambo.

A Senior at Harvard, where he is majoring in Music, "Herb" commenced his musical career at Winchester High School by playing in the band and orchestra, and organizing and leading a 10-piece string orchestra, for which he also arranged.

A regular member of the trombone section of the famed Harvard University Band, Gardner plays string bass, piano, drums and all brass instruments. He also leads the Dixieland Intercollegiate Band, "The Royal Garden Six," playing Dennisport-on-the-Cape this summer, and previous engagements at Yellowstone Park and Lake George.

The final stanza to tie the game.

Others doing well with the bat were Charlie Tofuri, George Murphy, who got two singles; Henry Martens connected for a single and double and Coley Gray got a single.

Others not mentioned but who took a big part in the game were Peter Mawn, Arthur Gallagher and Jack Burrows who did a fine job on the mound. Jack is a southpaw and has been improving from game to game.

Scoring against Woburn were Tofuri, Murphy, Grady 2, Phil Gallagher 2, and Martens 2.

Against Stoneham the big boys at the plate were Jack Burrows, Charlie Tofuri, Paul Grady, Peter Mawn and Henry Martens. Doing the scoring were Joe Mawn 2, Francis Mawn 2, Paul Grady and Jack Burrows.

This winds up our play for this summer but remember we'll be looking for more of you youngsters to be with us on the playgrounds next summer. Best of luck in school!

Charity Football Game Tomorrow

Football moves into the Bay State Saturday night, August 22, with the mighty Chicago Bears meeting the colorful Philadelphia Eagles in the Cardinal Cushing Charity Fund clash at Manning Bowl, Lynn, Mass.

The up and coming Philadelphia Eagles have a roster chock full of All America greats plus a decided local touch. The Eagles have a pair of pass catching wizards who are most certainly known in these parts, Ken MacAfee, former New York Giants ace who lives in North Easton which is near Taunton and John Bredee who shattered all B. U. records as a pass catcher. Then add Alan Miller, one of all time B. C. backfield greats to complete the local picture.

Both clubs are power laden. Both clubs will have played one game prior to this clash. It's a must game for every football fan.

Trophy Awards
Also at this meet, the Thomas P. McGowan Park Department Trophy will be awarded to the outstanding boy, and to the outstanding girl swimmer for their cooperation, sportsmanship, personality, attendance and character throughout the 1959 summer season. Last year's winners were Patricia Murphy and Robert Carroll.

The Red Cross trophies will be awarded to the outstanding girl and outstanding boy swimmer for the season. Last year's winners were Julie Devaney and Joseph Kane.

The Gladys Dutton award is a fairly new trophy, having been awarded for only a few years in memory of Gladys Dutton, who was formerly executive secretary of the Winchester Red Cross. This trophy is awarded to the boy or girl showing the most improvement in swimming throughout the season. This winner does not have to be a competitive swimmer. Last year's winner was Barbara Devaney.

March of Dimes Faces Deficit

A growing deficit in the treasury of the Middlesex County Chapter of the National Foundation has made necessary an emergency appeal in August, according to Mr. David Stewart, fund chairman.

The National Foundation Emergency Chapter Patient Aid fund has been drained by current epidemics in Kansas City, Mo., Des Moines, Iowa, and other stricken areas. The Middlesex County Chapter funds have been depleted because of "The burden of Polio from previous years" according to Mr. Stewart. "Every day we go deeper into debt" the local polio leader said, "and there seems to be no way out except to have a brief emergency appeal this summer."

"We have some 1,100 patients on chapter rolls. We are now $112,000 in debt. By the end of the year we will be at least $150,000 in debt. We cannot ask local hospitals and medical services to wait any longer."

"We are grateful to all the county residents who contributed to last January's March of Dimes, but the financial burden here in Middlesex County has been tremendously increased in recent years, especially since the 1955 epidemic. Now we must go to the people again and ask for additional funds to pay hospital and medical care bills for patients," Mr. Stewart added.

"The letter printed in the Winchester Star today is a duplicate of one which will be received in the next few days by every family in Middlesex County," Mr. Stewart said. "Without everyone's cooperation, our polio-stricken neighbors will not be able to receive the care which will help them on the road to recovery."

A pleasant reunion took place at Camp Drum recently when Major General Ralph A. Palladino, formerly of Winchester, and Chief of Reserve and ROTC Affairs for the U. S. Army, met his brother, M-Sgt. Raymond Palladino, who was at Camp Drum on a tour of duty with the General's old unit, Massachusetts' 34th Infantry Reserve Division. The brothers met at the airport when General Palladino arrived at the Camp from Washington for an inspection tour of the 94th.

Mystery Shrouds Deaths of Quine and Tullberg

Bodies Of Winchester Boys Found On Car Of Boston Bound Freight

The bodies of two well known Winchester boys, Peter M. Quine, 20, of 26 Lawson road, and Sten L. Tullberg, 23, of 20 Leslie road, were discovered early last Saturday morning, August 22, on top of one of the cars of an in-bound freight train some time after the train had stopped in the Cambridge yard of the Boston & Maine Railroad, at the rear of the Genoa Meat Packing Company off Third street. Both bodies showed severe injuries about the heads and Dr. Peter A. Delmonico, Middlesex County medical examiner, said that the young men died instantly of skull fractures and broken necks.

Police believe that Quine and Tullberg were killed while riding on the freight car when they failed to avoid the North Street bridge that spans the B & M tracks in Medford. Evidence of their contact with the bridge was found by the Medford Police. How they got on the freight train, and why, have so far not been established beyond question.

A member of the family of one of the young men told the Star that Quine and Tullberg had gone to Boston Friday night with two local girls for the purpose of assisting one of them to bring some of her effects to Winchester from an apartment she and the other girl had occupied in Boston. The girl whose things they were moving returned with them to her home in Winchester, the trio arriving about 3 o'clock Saturday morning.

The trip to Boston and back was made in a 1953 Chevrolet Belaire which Quine had been given for the summer by his father. The girl who had returned with the two young men to Winchester said that they had told her they were going home after leaving her.

What they did, or where they went after leaving the girl is not known, nor has any of the investigations, thus far instituted, been successful in arriving at a solution.

The Star learned that the train on which the bodies were found was Boston bound from White River Junction, New Hampshire, and its last stop according to railroad men was in Montvale, a section of East Woburn, where it stopped to pick up several freight cars on a spur track.

It was at first believed Quine and Tullberg had climbed aboard the train in Montvale, substance to this reasoning being lent by the fact that the automobile in which the two were riding could not be immediately found after the accident was discovered.

At 2 o'clock Sunday morning, however, the Winchester Police recovered the missing car off Swanston street near the entrance to the town disposal area. This posed another problem and made much less likely the theory that Quine and Tullberg had gotten on the train in Montvale.

It then seemed more likely that they had gotten on the train in Winchester, possibly as a lark or one of the dare's so popular now with young people. The car keys were found on the seat of the car, with the wallet of one of the young men, nearby. Also in the car was a Hi-Fi phonograph, owned by Tullberg. One of the doors of the car was unlocked.

Railroad authorities told relatives that the train from White River Junction went through Winchester near where the automobile was found about 3:33 Saturday morning, and so soon after its stop in Montvale, would in all probability be going slowly.

How Quine and Tullberg actually sustained their fatal injuries is not known. They had been under approach the North Street bridge, which has a clearance of only 14½ ft. The car on which they were riding was a big Canadian Pacific car, considerably higher than most.

Some wonder if possibly Quine and Tullberg had been involved in an altercation with other motorists and had been chased to the town disposal area, abandoning the car and getting on the freight to avoid further pursuit, with the idea of dropping from the train at the center.

The hard, cold facts are that for some reason they got on the train, apparently at Winchester, and their bodies were found later in Cambridge. The Winchester Police were first notified of the accident by the tower man who did not identify the victims and asked merely that the local authorities check and see if any other riders had possibly fallen from the train in Winchester.

It wasn't until about 8:30 Saturday morning that the police were notified that the accident victims were Winchester young men, and their aid enlisted to contact the families.

An incorrect description of the automobile in which the boys were riding handicapped the police in their efforts to locate the car.

Peter Mark Quine was the son of Frank M. and the late Margaret L. (Shaw) Quine. Born in Winchester January 24, 1939, he grew up in town, attending the George Washington and Junior High Schools and being graduated from Winchester High School in the Class of 1958.

He attended Junior High School and had completed his sophomore year at Winchester High School when he enlisted in the Army Corps of Engineers, serving for three years, two of which were spent in Kitzingen, Germany.

Following the army he enrolled at Newman Preparatory School from which he was graduated in May. While waiting to enter University of Massachusetts this fall he had been working for his father, who is a contractor and builder.

Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers, Owen, and Ralph Tullberg, both of Winchester; and two sisters, Mrs. Sumner Hopkins of Quincy and Miss Ina Tullberg of Winchester.

Assumption Society Held Annual Procession Last Sunday

The Feast of the Assumption Society of Winchester held its annual procession in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary on last Sunday afternoon, starting from St. Mary's Church at 2 o'clock.

Into a cheerful setting of young children, dressed in white, with many of their parents present, the statue of the Madonna was taken from the church with the Napoli Band of Boston playing the "Ave Maria."

The procession started with an escort of Auxiliary Police at its head. Next came two candle-bearers in red cassocks, and following were the children dressed in white, some with small bouquets of flowers.

The statue was placed on a decorated cart, with boys at the sides and streamers of ribbon, held by teen age girls, all in white. Many bouquets of flowers were draped at the base of the statue.

Directly behind the statue marched the Napoli Band, playing appropriate music. After the band many members of the Christopher Columbus Society paraded with their color flags and banner.

The procession proceeded to the Italian section of the town, and at various homes the participants were served refreshments.

This year the processional was well attended. At its conclusion refreshments were served the band and children who marched at the Christopher Columbus Club.

Proceeds from the affair are deposited for charitable purposes, or possibly some day, when the Italian community can realize their wish to pay for a chapel to permanently house the Madonna statue.

The Feast of the Assumption Society wish to thank the police escort, the auxiliary police, and all those who helped to make this annual affair the success it was.

Children Will Soon Start To School

His Excellency Governor Foster Furcolo and Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley caution our two and one-quarter million licensed drivers that highway hazards increase Labor Day week when a million two hundred thousand children return to classrooms.

Tiny toddlers will be taught safe routes to school. Classroom teachers, community police, school safety officers, Registry Inspectors, and safety patrols must assist parents in preparing their children to walk safely in this motorized age.

Registrar Riley has dedicated his administration to the reduction of traffic accidents in the school-age group.

Drivers reported to the Registrar for violation of the School Bus Law, unreasonable speed in school zones, or for disregarding warning signs, lights, or markings which are placed on the highways for the protection of school children will be drastically dealt with. They will lose their driving privilege.

Winchester Boy In Coming Movie

Barry F. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newman of 8 Fenwick road, has started work on location for the film, "Pretty Boy Floyd," in which he has one of the featured roles.

Barry has been in New York for five years doing free lance TV work. He recently completed the religious series, "Look Up and Live" on Channel 4 of NBC, and he has appeared in two Broadway Shows, one of which was "Nature's Way" by the author and playwright, Herman Wouk. His role in "Pretty Boy Floyd" is his first motion picture part.

A graduate of Boston Latin and Brandeis University, class of 1952, the 28-year old Newman had planned for a career in teaching. During college, however, he studied with the famous dramatic coach, Lee Strasburg, whose praise of his work started him thinking about the stage.

While in the army Barry produced, directed and acted, and when he returned to civilian life, it was goodby teaching! He went on to New York and has been there for the past five years, doing all sorts of things in show business and gradually assembling the experience and know-how so essential to success. He is naturally hoping his role in the coming movie will be a big step upward.

Mrs. Sericka Hit By Auto Tuesday

Mrs. Mary V. Sericka of 3 Mid-diesex street was struck by a car Tuesday afternoon while she was walking in back of the New England Laundry garage on Converse place.

The car was driven by Joseph McCullough of 38 Jefferson road who was backing from a parking space near the Commander Cleaners. He told the police that he did not see Mrs. Sericka as she approached the left rear fender.

Mrs. Sericka was taken to the Winchester Hospital where she was treated for a bruised left shoulder and for a wrenched hip.

Hoping For Community Pool

Editor of the Star:

In behalf of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, Mr. William Shinnery, Miss Ann Neville, and myself, I would like to extend to you and your staff our sincere thanks for the outstanding co-operation you have given to our swimming program this season. It has been our aim to build young boys and girls into competent swimmers, and we feel we are off to a good start.

The various articles in your paper each week, have helped to inspire boys and girls to come to our classes and even get into competition, which is good wholesome fun for boys and girls at a time like this when teen agers are so often criticized.

Some of our competitor swimmers entered N.E.A.A.U. events during the latter part of the season and deserve to be commended for their spirit and ambition because they were competing against boys and girls from all over New England who are swimming and training six days a week, winter and summer.

It is our hope that some day Winchester will have an indoor swimming pool so our boys and girls can be given an opportunity to build themselves into real top competitors and can participate in swimming meets the year 'round. Winchester can then say that it has its own recreation hall or pool, and a registered swimming club in the N.E.A.A.U. (New England Association of the Amateur Athletic Union).

Two Cars Involved In Cambridge St. Intersection Mishap

Two cars were involved in an accident Wednesday at 8:52 a.m. at the intersection of Church and Cambridge streets. Both cars had the green light.

Manuel W. Medeiros of 30 Melrose street, Arlington, was driving his Pontiac sedan north on Cambridge street when his car was in collision with a car making a left turn in front of him. The other car, a Kaiser Darrin sports car, was driven by Edward B. Bean of 40 Hillcrest parkway. Mr. Bean was headed south on Cambridge street and was making a left turn into Church street.

With Medeiros were his wife Brenda who suffered a cut left knee and his son Paul, age 21 months, who had a bump on his forehead from striking the windshield, and his daughter, Cynthia age 5 months who was in a car bed in the rear seat. Mr. Bean was taken to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated for a lacerated forehead which required stitches.

Both cars were damaged.

Winchester Swimmers In MDC Meet

A group of Winchester swimmers will join with Stoneham swimmers to represent Stoneham in the big Metropolitan District Commission Swimming Meet at the Charlesbank Pool, on Saturday, September 5, in which teams from each of the nine MDC Pools will compete.

Water Safety Director this summer, will coach the Winchester swimmers, who include Valerie Kelley, Winifred Kelley, Linda Colliander, Johnny Cussen, Sylvia Pirrotta, Jean Peterson, Debbie Nichols, Patricia Shinnery, Joe Kane, Richard Rowe and Arthur Cunningham.

The last MDC inter-pool meet was in 1952 when Winchester swimmers assisted Stoneham in winning the Championship Trophy. Noreen Johnson, who is coaching the Winchester team this year, was the top scorer in the '52 meet.

Student notebooks, paper and dividers at the Star Office, 3 Church street.

Winchester Boy Pitches

Falmouth To Cape Cod

Little League Crown

Winchester's Bob Crotty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Crotty of 225 Mystic Valley Parkway, pitched Falmouth to a 3-2 win over the Mid-Cape All Stars last week Wednesday evening, August 19, at Hyannis Little League Field in the game that decided the Cape Cod Little League Championship.

The game went thirteen innings in all and spread over two nights. It began last week Monday night at Otis Air Force Base, but had to be called after seven innings because of darkness. Action was at that time postponed to Wednesday night at Hyannis.

Crotty started at third base for Falmouth, but took over the pitching duties in the 6th with the score tied 2-2. Over eight full innings he blanked the Mid-Capers, giving up only three hits, striking out nine and allowing three bases on balls. He received the fine new team trophy emblematic of the Cape Cod Championship which will be held by Falmouth for a year. Paul Stiles, manager of Radio Stations WOCE-WOCE-FM presented the trophy.

Falmouth won the game in the 13th. Andrade singled along the third base line and stole second. Stan Robesa struck out and Pete Maloy popped up to the catcher. Dick Anthony beat out a slow roller on which Andrade advanced to third, and when he saw the plate unprotected he kept right on in to score the tie-breaking run.

Mid-Cape had its chance in the lower half of the 13th, but Crotty held them safely and Falmouth won, 3-2.

Children's Theatre To See Cambridge Drama Festival

Plans for the Fall Term of the Children's Theatre School are shaping up with a rare opportunity for the children to see the beautiful production of "Much Ado About Nothing." This romantic comedy is the last of the three Shakespearean plays presented by the Cambridge Drama Festival this summer.

John Gielgud, the famous English actor, has directed and stars with Margaret Leighton in this production. The wonderfully skilled acting and speech of the performers, and the artistic beauty of the scenery and costumes, makes this a truly educational experience.

Arrangements have been made through the Festival Committee for a special student price for the children at the matinee, Wednesday, September 9, which starts at 5:30 p.m. Those interested to take advantage of this plan may contact Mrs. Carlene Samoiloff, director of the Children's Theatre School, at PA 9-2033 or Mrs. Barbara Paulson at PA 9-3886.

The Fall Term of the Children's Theatre School starts the week of September 14, and registrations are being taken by Mrs. Hiram Smith, PA 9-0376. The first play will be presented at the Winchester High School, December 4 and 5, so that work must commence early. Boys and girls, as usual, from 5-14 years of age are welcome.

Nokomis Award To Jeanne Chase

A number of Winchester girls received recognition for outstanding achievement at Camp Nokomis at the final banquet on August 20. Foremost among these honors was the Leadership Award, second highest honor in camp, which was given to Jeanne Chase. This award indicates outstanding leadership ability and willingness to participate in camp activities.

Several other Winchester girls earned special awards at the banquet. Gail Towner was selected as the Best Sailor in camp, and therefore had her name inscribed on the beautiful trophy. She also won the Senior Tennis Tournament, defeating Carol Kingston, also of Winchester.

Marilyn Kingston was the champion of the Junior Tennis Tournament. In addition, Jeanne Chase earned Sky Awards in canoeing, sailing, and water skiing. Gail Towner earned her Sky Award in sailing. Carol Ann Kingston earned her Sky Award in tennis.

This Sky Award is the highest award at Camp Nokomis, indicating top-level proficiency.

Two Winchester girls, Jeanne Chase and Marilyn Hall, also earned their Lake Awards, denoting basic ability in many activities including water skiing, tennis, archery, badminton, camp craft, first aid, sailing, crafts, dramatics, and swimming.

Little League Directors

The first post season meeting of the Winchester Little League Board of Directors was held in the Unitarian Church Hall, Thursday, August 20, with President Koch.

A nominating committee of Arthur Johns, chairman, and George Peckham and Ed Williams was appointed to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

Secretary, Dana Kelly read the minutes of the previous meeting. How he manages to take down all the discussions that go on during the meetings is a mystery to many of us, yet he always comes up with the facts. We little realize the work and time that he puts in to do his job well.

The Treasurer's Report was read and accepted.

The date for our second annual cook-out for the players and families etc., was set for Saturday, September 12, 2:00 p.m., at Ginn Field.

Program chairman will be Joe Curran, treasurer, assisted by Pat Cosgrove and Jack Stumcke.

The events at the cook-out, games, races, etc., will be headed up by Walter Cuff and Bill Gastin.

Last year's cook-out was quite successful and we look forward to a swell time again this year.

Winchester Basketball League

There were four fast and exciting games played in the Winchester Basketball League last week. On last Tuesday the Sachems and Giants played with the lead changing hands in the opening period but then the Giants found the range and came out on top.

In the nightcap of Tuesday's schedule the Collegians and Bears fought it out with each team settling up some excellent executions.

On Thursday evening, the Collegians and Sachems opened the night's play with the Giants and Bears playing the final game.

Next Tuesday will provide some real excitement and good basketball when the "old-timers," a team made up of former high school players who graduated at least two years ago will oppose the recent graduates who feel that they will easily win the contest. It will be a fine take in so it is urged that you be at Ginn Field next Tuesday evening. Cheer for the team of your choice.

One week from today, the Junior High and Freshman teams will put on another hard-playing game. These teams have already met and members of both units are eager to beat the other.

Remember that these games of the Winchester Basketball League are played every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Ginn Field. There are two games per night with the first one on at 6:30 and second at 7:30.

An "outside" game is pending for next Thursday between Winchester's All Stars and another strong aggregation. So be at the Ginn Field courts for this game.

Next Week's Schedule
Tuesday, September 1—"Old-Timers" vs. Recent Graduates
Thursday, September 3—All Stars vs. Outside Team
Friday, September 4—Junior High vs. Freshmen

Fruit And Flower Baskets Stolen

One of the women who work on the Winchester Fruit and Flower Mission notified the police Tuesday that two clothes baskets were stolen from outside the Winchester railroad station.

Miss Wittet Touring Europe

Miss Sandra Wittet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Wittet of 251 Forest street, is making an extensive tour of Europe. She left New York on June 22 by S.A.S. Airlines.

Sandra, having a flair for the different, is traveling all by herself. So far her itinerary has included Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland and Holland.

In many instances, Sandra has lived in small villages getting to know the people. She thinks that Copenhagen is the most cosmopolitan city she has visited and that Monaco, Grace Kelly's kingdom, is a fairy book setting.

Sandra is winding up her grand tour by being a bridesmaid for a former college roommate, who was an exchange student. The wedding is to take place in Beverwijk, Netherlands.

Immediately after the wedding, Sandra is returning by K.L.M. Dutch Airlines to resume her teaching position in the Concord public schools.

Deadline Nears For Navy Nurses

The Navy Recruiting Station has announced that the deadline date is fast approaching for Nursing School senior students to apply for the Navy Nurse Corps Candidate Program.

Now, nursing students in or entering their final year of training can plan a career as an officer under the Navy Nurse Corps Candidate Program. Qualified students are enlisted as Navy Hospitalmen during their final school year and commissioned Ensigns in the Navy Nurse Corps immediately upon graduation. All tuition and fees are paid by the Navy, and in addition Nurse Candidates receive $99.00 per month during the final school year.

In order to qualify students must be unmarried, between 20 and 33½ years of age, be entering final year of nurse training, and agree to serve two years active duty after commissioning.

Nursing School students interested in receiving more information on this program are urged to visit the U. S. Navy Recruiting Sub-Station, Medford City Hall, Room 9, for complete details.

MR. IRVING T. F. RING

Senior Vice President of State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America, has accepted the post of Vice Chairman of The Salvation Army State Plan Conference. Mr. Ring will be second only to Dr. Daniel Marsh, who is chairman of the Conference. Together they will play a most important part in the modernization campaign of The Salvation Army.

Last Chance For Navy-B.C. Tickets

This week end presents the last opportunity for Winchester football fans to get tickets for the big Navy-Boston College football game at University Heights, in which two former Winchester football stars, Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo, will be playing for the Navy.

Navy has again this year made available to Winchester a big block of seats in the Navy stands. The tickets are $5 and cash must accompany applications. Applications may be sent or taken to Charlie Koch at the Winchester Sport Shop. Checks should be made payable to Vincent Ambrose, treasurer. No applications will be considered without cash, or if received after September 1. The game is scheduled for Saturday, September 19, and should be one of the best around Boston this year.

Did Well In Ski Show

Eleven-year-old Rick Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Riley, of 45 Fells road, gave a successful exhibition of water skiing on one ski in the recently held first water ski show sponsored by the young Wolfeboro Water Ski Club in Wolfeboro Bay.

Club member Ted Kramer gave a demonstration of how new non-skiing members are taught to ski with Miss Alice Robinson of Los Angeles, Calif., as his beginner. This has Winchester interest since the 11-year-old California girl is spending five weeks in the east as the guest of Leslie Dalrymple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dalrymple of 35 Town Way.

Miss Robinson, who had never been on water skis before, made an exceptionally good pupil inasmuch as she "got up" on her very first try.

'59 Registration Plates

to Be Used in 1960

1959 registration plates will be used again in 1960. The use of these plates will be validated by a windshield sticker.

New registration application blanks are absolutely necessary and are being distributed early in August. Please note definite change in number of stubs on blank. The new forms must be used and all stubs properly filled out. Changes in fees are always a possibility while the Legislature is in session. Watch for any news announcements.

To those registrants for 1960 who are not in possession of registration plates, a separate series will be issued. Use of plates in this series ("U"), however, is not legal until January 1, 1960.

Only in those instances where registrants have one or more plates in these reserved series in sequence is a single check or money order covering the fees for these plates in sequence acceptable. This detail is necessary to expedite the handling and the proper reassignment of these reserved numbers.

Mail Registration
Registration applications, in general, from owners of motor vehicles holding number plates other than those mentioned previously will be received through the mail in the Boston office only beginning Monday, October 5. No advantage is to be gained by filing such applications before October 5.

Registration certificates, windshield stickers, and plates, if required, which are applied for by mail, will be mailed during the latter part of November and in early December. Early registration will make more certain that a registrant will be legally on the road by January 1.

Counter Registration
The branch offices throughout the state and the Boston counter will accept registration applications beginning Monday, November 2. Insurance companies, their agents, and the public in general should take advantage of this early service and secure their certificates, windshield stickers, and plates, if required, at the nearest branch office as soon as possible to avoid last-minute uncertainty and confusion.

Branch offices of the Registry are not equipped and personnelled for the mailing of registration certificates, windshield stickers or plates.

Excise Tax
The responsibility is on the owner to see that the information contained in the application is correct and that he personally signs the blank. If the owner wishes to avoid the possibility of difficulty with his excise tax collector later on, he will insist on filling out the answers to Questions Nos. 1, 1A and 9 personally.

Low Numbers
Plates numbered 1 to 10,000, K1 to K1,000, H1 to H1,000, E1 to E1,000, F1 to F1,000, and X1 to X1,000.

Blanks for the reserved low-numbered plates only will be mailed.

ed directly to the registrants concerned as soon as possible, together with special instructions. These applications, properly filled out and accompanied by the required fee, must be returned to the Registry during the month of September in the envelopes provided, and preferably by mail.

Reserved Numbers
Plates numbered 10,001 to 100,000, K1,001 to K10,000, H1,001 to H10,000, E1,001 to E10,000, F1,001 to F10,000, and X1,001 to X10,000.

Plates with five-figure numbers and those in the "K," "H," "E," "F" and "X" series from 1,001 to 10,000 will be reassigned to present holders, provided the applications for them, properly filled out and accompanied by the required fee, are received on or before Tuesday, October 13. Further requests, written or oral, for the reassignment of these numbers are not necessary. Please note date.

To insure reassignments of the same five-figure number plates to present holders, those registrants concerned should pay particular attention in answering Question No. 5 on the application blank. This question is of special importance to persons holding plates in reserved series. Failure to prefix the letter "K," "H," "E," "F," or "X" or the insertion of the wrong number will undoubtedly mean the loss of the number for 1960 to present holders of same.

Dealers
November 9 has been set as the last date for the acceptance of applications from those dealers having low number plates.

Separate Checks Required
Inasmuch as the Registry extends the courtesy of reserving the registration plates numbered under 100,000 and those in the various series under 10,000 for those persons now holding these numbers, the cooperation of those registrants is requested to the end that a separate check or money order covering the registration fee accompanies each application for plates in these series.

Boat Club News

This week end proved to be a big one for the snipe fleet, both those at home and away. Even though several snipers packed their gear Friday night and headed south for the Westport regatta, their absence drew more contestants for the home race than it turned away.

Dick Winkler won on Saturday afternoon, while second and third places went to Rod Long and Rob Dannenberg. Sunday's wind was stronger than Saturday's and this time it was victory for Rod Long, Warren Dannenberg and John Montminy finished second and third.

Linda Chase took the honors in the first turnabout Saturday with Tom Raphael and Buzz Hall, second and third. Buzz Hall won the second race, with second and third places going to Linda Chase and Carol Dannenberg. Sunday, Rob Dannenberg crossed the line first with Linda Chase, second, and Bill Bartell, third.

The turnabout junior and senior fleets also raced. Tuesday afternoon Rob, Jean, and Carol Dannenberg took the top three places. Bruce Smith (Med.) won the interclub on Thursday. Dick Patten (Med.) finished second and Ronny Bartell, third.

No inter-club was held for the seniors, but they did race their own series on Tuesday evening. Tom Raphael, Walter Clark, and Alton Jones finished in that order.

Meanwhile at Westport, Long Island, Winchester snipers had their hands full. As in our own regatta three races were held, in which Tom Legere won the first race, while Arnie Karff and Joe Romlin (neither of Winchester) wrapped up second and third place. Harry Allen (Quas., Conn.) crossed the line first in the second race; and also of Quas., Hy Upton won the third race, while Ken Cook was third.

Luck seemed to be against the Cook brothers. Ken was second in the first race, but disqualified; and Dick tipped over in the third race, during which a twenty m.p.h. wind prevailed. Also participating from Winchester were Dawson Blamire, John Day, and Windy Freyer.

Harry Allen took the first place honors back to Quassapaug, while Tom Legere brought second place home to Winchester Boat Club. Joe Romlin (not of Winchester) was third.

Mass. Scholarship Foundation Awards Announced

No one from Winchester was among the 154 Massachusetts students about to enter the freshman year of college who will receive scholarship awards totalling $75,900.00 from the Massachusetts Scholarship Foundation, according to the announcement made Wednesday by Governor Foster Furcolo and former Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court Stanley E. Qua of Lowell, president of the Foundation. Governor Furcolo is the founder of the group and a trustee.

The Massachusetts Scholarship Foundation is a private, non-governmental, non-profit charitable foundation, supported by private funds. A group headed by Governor Furcolo and Paul F. Clark, chairman of the Board of John Hancock Life Insurance Co., is now conducting the Foundation's annual fund-raising campaign. No state or public funds are used by the Foundation.

Each of the scholarship recipients will enter the freshman year of a Massachusetts college of his or her choice. Scholarships range from $200 to $800, with the average, $480. Only Massachusetts students about to enter freshman year of college are considered.

Among those receiving scholarships were one from Arlington, two from Medford, one from Stoneham and one from Woburn.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a.m.
Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Christ Jesus' triumph over material laws of limitation established the supremacy of God's unchangeable law.

This is a theme to be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus—Included in the Bible references to be read is the account in John (6) of Jesus' feeding of five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (273:21-26): "God never ordained a material law to annul the spiritual law. If there were such a material law, it would oppose the supremacy of Spirit, God, and impugn the wisdom of the creator. Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws."

The Golden Text is from John (3:16): "God so loved the world, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Stevenson is one of 21 Massachusetts high school graduates entering Northeastern this September who have been awarded similar scholarships by the shipyard.

The scholarships, which finance freshman and senior year expenses at Northeastern, are awarded for "academic excellence in high school, outstanding leadership and personal qualities and successful completion of a civil service examination."

Under the scholarship program at the Boston Naval Shipyard, Stevenson will be employed in a regular paying civilian job at the shipyard in conjunction with Northeastern's Co-operative Plan of Education.

Under the Co-operative Plan of Education at Northeastern, upper-class students alternate ten-week periods in the University with periods of equal length on regular paying jobs in business and industry.

Living With Your Heart

("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

Medical researchers are continually finding new evidence that ailments which once seemed to be isolated are actually linked with others.

For this reason, heart research today is no more limited to the heart and blood vessels, it extends from top to toe. Scientists are looking to such organs as the lungs, liver and kidneys to crack riddles of the heart.

In a Heart Fund study here and in Ohio, for instance, it has been found that many persons with cirrhosis of the liver may also have unsuspected kidney disease, and kidney disease is related to such disorders as high blood pressure, a major cause of death in Massachusetts and the nation.

The discovery came to light in the course of analysis of 50 cirrhotics here by Dr. Sheldon Sommers of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital; and another 50 by Dr. J. M. B. Bloodworth of Ohio State University.

Three-quarters of the persons with cirrhosis of the liver whose organs were analyzed in both centers were found to have kidney lesions as well, lesions which went undetected in standard tests of blood and urine.

The new kind of kidney injury, which differs from other forms of kidney disease, occurred regardless of the type of liver cirrhosis with which the patients were afflicted.

Dr. Sommers now is studying chemical properties of the abnormal kidney tissue in an effort to determine the factors responsible.

Preliminary investigation indicates the possibility that hormones from the adrenal cortex and gonads may be involved. The abnormalities in some respects resemble those occurring in diabetes.

Dr. Sommers also is seeking to find out why an atrophied, non-functioning kidney appears to cause high blood pressure. Removal of the atrophied kidney in most cases lowers the blood pressure. Special staining of all functioning units of the kidney and a painstaking mapping of the organ to find the percentage of weight of different areas are now under way.

Youth Can Provide

"New Dimension"

Of Volunteer Service

Youth needs to be given more meaningful and useful ways to participate in community affairs and should be encouraged to provide a "new dimension" in community agencies, Robert B. McCreech of Greater Boston's United Community Services School Bureau said today in New York's Coliseum.

Speaking at a session on "The Value of a Teen-Age Volunteer Program," of the 61st annual convention of the American Hospital Association, the Boston educator held that "hospital service dramatizes the needs of people perhaps more sharply than similar service in any other kind of voluntary institution."

It provides ample opportunity for teen-agers to demonstrate real care and concern for others—an ingredient so frequently missing in today's American scene," he said. Mr. McCreech, who has worked with 200 schools and 75 community agencies in setting up pilot volunteer service projects for over 4,000 pupils, feels that youth is sufficient competent to evaluate and self-direct its own school and community work as demonstrated in Health and Science Fair projects; that youth is needed and feeling needed; can do many more things to realize its own capacity and gain status; and that youth can intelligently participate in volunteer service.

"One of our most pressing challenges," he said, "is the problem of finding competent adult leadership to work with youth. This should be a high priority item that might well be explored by the coming 1960 White House Conference on Youth."

Mr. McCreech suggested three guide lines for a partnership between youth and adults working together on community programs: work within the range of teen-age interests and abilities; work with rather than for teen-agers; and mutually decide on projects whenever possible.

He singled out the work of the Massachusetts Division of Civic Education, directed by Dr. Thomas J. Curtin, along with the Tufts University Civic Education Center, as providing today's blueprint for one of the country's most significant civic education programs.

The UCS School Bureau director held that Greater Boston's towns and cities have had a long and rich tradition of civic and social responsibility as evidenced in its parks and community agencies, but suggested that unless community leaders continue to effectively challenge youth to play a successful role in community affairs "we will create a community vacuum far more dangerous to American life than a single Russian atomic blast."

"How do you learn about citizenship?" Mr. McCreech asked. "It is the experience of citizenship by youth themselves that is important now, not for some future time."

At the same session of the American Hospital Association, Mrs. Edgar W. Anderson of Cambridge's Mount Auburn Hospital, declared that high school volunteers were truly "ambassadors of good will" and through volunteer service they begin to realize the problems which have to be solved by community agencies.

"One of the most important facts that young volunteers learn is that work can be satisfying to oneself, and useful without receiving pay for it. It puts giving ahead of getting. This has just amazed Europeans," Mrs. Anderson said.

Quoting one of the students who participated in the UCS School Bureau program at Mount Auburn, Mrs. Anderson cited the need to join "the important team of helping mankind."

Over 5,000 people are in attendance at the AHA convention, many of them representing area hospitals, the UCS Hospital Council, and the Massachusetts Hospital Association. This is the first time that the subject of the junior volunteer has been brought before such a convention and it represents an increased interest in youth participation in community programs.

to insure that all are fresh. Only the best quality ingredients are used which is why the doughnuts at Ann's are so different and so good. The coffee served is Arabian and it is made in the automatic Cory way which is why it is said to be some of the best in town.

Ann's Donut Shop prepares coffee and doughnuts for churches and other groups which want a quantity. Special prices for large orders are available on request. Orders have been taken from Woburn, Winchester and Stoneham as well as from Burlington and Wilmington.

As a special service whenever there is a local emergency or bad storm Ann's Donut Shop makes a practice of staying open to supply coffee to the town, electric, gas and telephone crews. Ann's has become a favorite stopping off place for many who are on a coffee break. Mr. Brabant and his wife operate and manage the shop which is open Monday through Friday from 6 a.m. to 11:30 p.m., Saturdays from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Sundays from 6 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Working with them are a baker and seven girls.

Born and brought up in Wilmington, Mr. Brabant lives in Woburn. Not new to Winchester, he formerly worked at Beggs and Cobb and just prior to opening the Donut Shop was General Foreman at the Birdseye Division of General Foods in North Woburn.

Fabric Centre

For couch covers and draperies see the new Madras and paisley throws which will be arriving shortly. These are very suitable for college rooms as well as homes.

Also in the winter fabrics are the heavier cottons such as oxford cloth which has long been used for men's shirts but is new to the dress field, and Simpson's Old Loyalty cotton satin prints. There is also an unusually large selection of plaids which are very popular this year.

For skirts and blouses and for pajamas and housecoats see the selection of combination quilted and plain prints. Each print comes in both quilted and plain cloth.

There is a full line of washable braids available at the Fabric Centre for the new old-fashioned-type dresses for children. These are necessary for the "Little Women" look which is featured this year.

Winchester Hospital Nurse Refresher Course

Reception For Mr. Hart

On Thursday afternoon, August 20, an informal reception was held at the Winchester Hospital for Mr. Edward E. Hart, who retired after thirty-four years as chief engineer of the hospital.

At this time the members of the hospital family with whom he had worked for these many years joined in presenting Mr. Hart with a watch and a gift of money. Members of the Board of Directors and the Medical staff also attended to extend their appreciation for his many years of loyal and conscientious service.

A Nurse Refresher Course for graduate professional nurses will commence on September 15 at the Winchester Hospital. This course will be given with no charge or stipulations to registered nurses presently active or inactive in the profession. Massachusetts registration is not required. A series of lectures and demonstrations will be conducted one evening weekly for eight weeks. The course content will include major areas of Modern Medicine and Nursing with the lectures being given by specialists in these fields. Mrs. Doris M. Cayer, R. N., B. S., is co-ordinator of the program.

To register for the course, or for further information, contact Miss Marjorie Snyder, Director of Nursing, Winchester Hospital.

in Medford and for two years managed the Winchester Drug store for Samuel Stahler, a former member of the board of pharmacy and former owner of the Winchester Drug, before he started the Aberjona.

Prescriptions are number one on the list for the pharmacy. They are compounded accurately and just as your doctor prescribes them. The Aberjona Pharmacy also carries a complete line of drugs, vitamins, hospital supplies, cosmetics and many other things too numerous to mention.

Prompt courteous service is a must at the Aberjona Pharmacy and as John DiCristoforo says: "If it wasn't for our patrons we wouldn't be in business! Therefore we will continue to bend over backwards to obtain any item our patrons require."

One of the newer additions to the staff is Michael J. Concannon who is a registered pharmacist. In the drug business for over 50 years, Mr. Concannon is well qualified to handle all prescriptions.

Other members of the staff include the ever courteous postal clerk William Guilian and his son Dick of Winchester, Robert Walsh of Woburn, who is now in his second year at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Carl Bruno of Winchester, who is now in his second year at the New England School of Pharmacy.

Face Loss Of Licenses

Registrar Clement A. Riley today ordered motor vehicle inspectors to book drivers who insist on driving with one hand on the steering wheel.

Serious accidents to pedestrians, other motorists and themselves have been the direct result of this unsafe driving habit.

One hand drivers are improper persons and I will suspend the license of anyone reported to me for this violation.

Accident-free driving requires the use of both hands on the steering wheel unless the operator is specially licensed because of an infirmity.

We receive many complaints about drivers with one arm dangling out the window, and with one hand holding down the roof, which would indicate an increase in this hazardous driving practice.

There is no room on our crowded highways for show-offs. Avoid suspension of your license. Keep both hands on the steering wheel.

Dear friends,

It is generally believed that the art of embalming saw its highest perfection in ancient Egypt. We can assure you that there was nothing in their method which cannot now be duplicated. Equipment comparable to that in a modern hospital is used.

Our state requirements on embalming are very rigid.

Respectfully,

100,000 Buried in Arlington National Cemetery

The 100,000th person was laid to rest recently in Arlington National Cemetery, an expanse of tree-shaded Virginia hills overlooking Washington, D. C. He was a World War I veteran.

Established of grim necessity during the Civil War, the cemetery will be filled by 1970 if the present average of 90 burials a week continues. The Army Quartermaster General's Office is studying ways to make more efficient use of Arlington's 420 acres. Space may be gained by closing some roadways and walks.

The cemetery land, often called the most hallowed ground in the United States, originally was part of a grant made to a ship captain, Robert Howson, for bringing colonists to the New World, the National Geographic Society recalls. The patch of wilderness inhabited by Indians and wild animals meant little to the seafaring man. Howson sold the property for six hog-heads of Virginia tobacco.

Mansion Atop Hill

About 1,100 acres eventually were acquired in the Arlington area by John Parke Custis, stepson of George Washington. Custis's son, George Washington Parke Custis, built a white-columned mansion atop a hill in the tract. Robert E. Lee married Custis's daughter and became master of the estate, which he abandoned after the outbreak of the Civil War.

On May 24, 1961, the Union Army took possession of the house and surrounding hills to prevent Confederate cannon from being planted there to menace the Capital.

After the first Battle of Bull Run thousands of Union troops bivouacked on Arlington's hills, turning the peaceful slopes into an armed camp. Field hospitals were hastily built.

Three years later, wounded and sick soldiers crowded Washington's military hospitals. Many died. Others were brought from near-by cemeteries for burial at the Capital. Soon military cemeteries at Soldiers' Home and in neighboring Alexandria, Virginia, were filled.

General Montgomery Meigs, Quartermaster General of the Army, persuaded President Lincoln to use Arlington as a military cemetery. Lincoln gave his permission after a visit to the field hospitals.

Private Was First
An order of June 15, 1864, established 200 of Arlington's acres as a national cemetery. The first recorded burial, however, occurred May 13 when Private William Chrisman, Company G, 67th Pennsylvania Infantry, was interred beneath a cedar tree.

Private Chrisman today lies with such military heroes as Generals John J. Pershing, Philip H. Sheridan, and Henry H. Arnold; explorers like Admiral Robert E. Peary, first to reach the North Pole, and Admiral Charles Wilkes, discoverer of the Antarctic continent. One President, William Howard Taft, is buried there. The cemetery contains the graves of 230 men who went down with the battleship "Maine" in Havana Harbor.

On Memorial Day, 1958, Two Unknown Soldiers of World War II and the Korean War were placed alongside the Unknown Soldier of World War I in honored crypts. These nameless heroes represent 4,724 other unknown soldiers buried in Arlington and 151,804 unidentified war casualties who rest in United States military cemeteries throughout the world.

The American Foundation for the Blind, and the President John F. Kennedy Library, recently presented a silver record of Helen Keller's book, "The Open Door," to L. Quincy Mumford, Librarian of Congress, in honor of the 25th anniversary of the Talking Book, long-playing recordings made exclusively for the use of the blind.

Wedding in California of Local Interest

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the First Congregational Church in Glendale, Calif., recently, when Miss Betsy Grey Lathrop, formerly of Winchester, became the bride of Donald Lee Wells.

The bride, a direct descendant of John Lathrop, who landed in Massachusetts in 1634 and founded the First Congregational Church in North America at Barnstable, Mass., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bouse Lathrop, 2705 Hollister Terrace, Glendale. She and her parents formerly made their home at 7 Sheffield West and Betsy was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1955.

Her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Reese Wells, of Ontario.

The Rev. Joseph Acorn officiated, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her white chiffon and Chantilly lace gown featured a fitted bodice with buttons down the back, and a full gathered skirt. Her elbow veil was held in place by a cap of heirloom lace highlighted with pearls. She carried an heirloom handkerchief which had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother.

Bridal flowers were a white orchid surrounded by white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Martha Lathrop attended her sister as maid of honor. Her pink silk organza princess gown was accented with tiny back bows.

Bridesmaids, Miss Cynthia Leighton, Miss Kathleen McCoy of Neenah, Wis., and Miss Carolyn Whistler, were attired in coral silk organza dresses fashioned like that of the bride.

The bridegroom wore a white carnation and pink roses. Arthur Sherwood was best man and ushering were Douglas Lathrop, brother of the bride; Albert Maxted and Eric Wahrbrook.

For her daughter's wedding and to receive guests after the ceremony in the gardens at her home.

Mrs. Lathrop chose an azure chiffon sheath with draped front and flaring panels in back. Her feather hat matched her gown, and her flowers were gardenias and pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue dress overlaid with white, matching accessories and red roses.

Mrs. Douglas Lathrop, sister-in-law of the bride, held the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells will make their home in San Francisco. Both are graduates of Pomona College, and the bridegroom is a student at University of California Medical School.

Miss Mary T. McCarthy Dies at the Age of 80

Miss Mary T. McCarthy of 49 Swanton street, a lifelong resident of Winchester, died Sunday morning, August 30, after a long illness at the age of 80.

Miss McCarthy was the daughter of Andrew and Ellen (Curry) McCarthy. She was born July 15, 1879, in Winchester and grew up in the town, attending the Winchester schools. For half a century she was, until her retirement in 1953, in the employ of the Women's Educational and Industrial Exchange in Boston. She was the last of her family.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

MR. AND MRS. IAN RAESIDE McLAUCHLAN

Miss Nelson, Mr. McLauchlan Wed

White gladioli and snapdragons decorated the First Congregational Church on Saturday afternoon, August 29, when Miss Sandra Merrill Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niles Herbert E. Nelson of 44 Water street, was married there to Ian Raeside McLauchlan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLauchlan of 21 Gould avenue, East Walpole. Dr. Dwight L. Carr, pastor of the church, read the 3 o'clock service, which was followed by a reception in Chidley Hall. Mrs. Niles H. E. Nelson, Jr., of Orono, Me., was in charge of the guest book.

Miss Nelson was given in marriage by her father. She wore an heirloom gown of ivory satin with a duchess lace bertha, worn by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Raymond Merrill, in 1906, and later by the bride's mother. Her full-length veil and wreath of orange blossoms were also worn by her mother and grandmother, and instead of the conventional bouquet she carried her Rainbow bible with streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Arnall of St. Petersburg, Fla., was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Morse of Medford, cousin of the bride; Miss Barbara Hickey of Winchester, Mrs. Robert Ramsay McLauchlan of Auburndale, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; and Miss Carol Parker of Winchester, cousin of the bride. Miss Linda Nelson of Winchester, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The honor maid wore a dress of frosted white net over aqua taffeta with an aqua picture hat and carried an old fashioned bouquet of stephanotis and pink roses. The bridesmaids and junior bridesmaid wore frosted white net over pink taffeta dresses with matching picture hats. They also carried old fashioned bouquets of pink roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Nelson, mother of the bride, wore a pale blue lace sheath with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. McLauchlan, wore teal green silk with matching accessories.

Robert Ramsay McLauchlan of Auburndale was his brother's best man, and ushering were Niles H. E. Nelson, Jr., of Orono, Me., brother of the bride; Paul Freeman Stign of Middleboro, Harold Hestness of Cambridge and Frank A. Vitzke of East Walpole.

Mr. and Mrs. McLauchlan went to New Hampshire for their wedding journey, and upon their return they will make their home in Bangor, Me.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. McLauchlan graduated from Walpole High School and from Tufts University, class of 1958. He is now studying at Bangor Theological Seminary.

Correction

An unfortunate error occurred in the obituary of Mrs. Clara Dolben, published in last week's Star. The private services for Mrs. Dolben at the Kimball Chapel were not conducted by the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church but by the Rev. Wesley A. Mallory, associate minister of the First Congregational Church. We regret the error and offer our apology to the Dolben family and Mr. Mallory.

Winchester Basketball League Drawing to Close

With many of the boys who have been participating in the Winchester Basketball League returning to school or preparing to return, these final two weeks of the league will be on an informal basis.

The games will still be taking place on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Ginn Field courts with the first game getting under way at 6:30 and the final game getting the green light at 7:30.

There have been several very exciting games played and these remaining ones will be no exception. To see such former high school stars as Mike Callahan, Dave Bergquist, Jim Wright, Peter Gove, Nick Fitzgerald, Jim Fitzgerald, Anchor Murphy, Rodney Long, Mark Apsey, Warren Goodnow and Lou Ackerman is a good take. These boys are all attending college and represent such institutions of learning as Harvard, Boston University, M.I.T., Brown, Colby and Tufts.

Jim Wright leaves for military service with the Marines this week and upon his return to civilian life plans to go back to Brown to study for the teaching profession. Anchor Murphy has been attending B. U. during the summer and is to continue studying for a teaching career. A third member of the league with his aim set on teaching is Niles Nelson who attended and graduated from the University of Maine. Niles at present is working for his Master's Degree.

We will, no doubt, see some of the names of the boys mentioned in a previous paragraph in the lineups of the various colleges they are attending when the basketball season rolls around.

So make it a point to visit Ginn Field on Tuesday and Thursday evenings for the next two weeks and see these boys in action. It is well worth it, but remember that these last few remaining games will be mixed groups and not regular scheduled games. They will still be extremely interesting and exciting.

Hilltop Notes

Plans are practically complete for the big annual outing of Winchester Lodge of Elks to be held this year at Dover, N. H., on Sunday, September 13. Buses will leave the Elks Home at 9:30.

Ed Rogers, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, has announced a program of sports and games, featuring a softball game between Winchester and the Dover Lodge of Elks. The local lineup is being kept a dark secret by Manager Jack Donaghey, so there will be no tampering with players.

A big outdoor cook out will feature chowder, lobster, clams, corn-on-the-cob and chicken. Reservations are necessary to attend the outing and none will be received after September 10. Make reservations to Ed Rogers.

Parents of eligible boys are reminded that Winchester Lodge is sponsoring a new Boy Scout Troop this year and is seeking members for the troop. Any one interested should contact Alton D. Cushman, Jr., 33 Lebanon street, Tel. Parkview 9-1755.

Now the youngsters can play Scrabble too. The Scrabble for juniors, ages 6-12, is $2.00 at the Winchester Star, 3 Church street.

Softball for the Jimmy Fund

"King" Feigner to Show
Pitching Wizardry
at Dilboy Field

On Thursday, September 10, at Dilboy Stadium, Somerville, the House of Representatives will play the Metropolitan Police softball team for the benefit of the Jimmy Fund. General chairman of the affair will be Supt. of Police, Metropolitan District Comm. Edward L. Connolly. The game will start at 6:15 p.m. and will be the first game of a double-header.

The second game will be played under the lights between the Macarelli Club and "The King and His Court," one of the finest pitching showmen of our time in Eddie "King" Feigner of Walla Walla, Washington, who with only three teammates to back him up, challenges any and all nine-man softball teams to action.

Feigner has won more than 1800 out of 2000 games, 705 of his wins being shutouts. Once, in a 34-inning game, he struck out 73 batters. He is backed only by a shortstop, first baseman and catcher.

He uses the windmill-style wind-up and also trick pitches, fires from behind his back and from under his legs. He has amazing control while pitching blindfolded, having struck out 2500 batters while wearing blindfolds.

About 3,500 different books have been made into Talking Books, long-playing records exclusively for the use of America's estimated 350,000 blind people, according to the American Foundation for the Blind. The Talking Book is 25 years old this year.

EDITORIAL

All Winchester was shocked by the recent tragic deaths of two of its young men, and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved families of the youthful victims. Much detail in connection with their deaths is still shrouded in mystery. Thus far there have been no answers to what caused them to ride a Boston-bound freight train, how or where they got aboard the car on which their bodies were found and why after passing under one bridge they did not avoid being struck by a big timber of a second bridge at which their deaths are believed to have occurred.

It is entirely possible, even probable, that the young men hopped the freight for a thrill, or on a dare, though they were a bit by the age for such things. Few young people nowadays, however, will take a dare. Being "chicken" is about the worst stigma in the lexicon of youth.

Does proving you are not afraid to do some suggested foolhardy thing require real courage; as much real courage, for instance, as resisting the dare to perhaps risk one's own life and possibly the lives of friends? Perhaps some sort of a case can be made for a certain amount of physical courage being involved in some of the actions of today's youngsters, though daring is probably the better word for such tests as seeing which operator of cars approaching each other will stop first.

When it comes to moral courage, there is no comparison between the youngster who refuses to be dared into some crazy stunt and the one who accepts the trial of nerve rather than be considered "chicken." Few young people, however, are fortunate enough to realize, let alone accept this reasoning.

We, of course, do not know that any daring on the part of either of the train ride victims was involved in the accident that took their lives. They may have had what seemed to them good reason for attempting the dangerous practice of "hopping a freight." Their untimely deaths, however, should have a sobering influence on their friends and all other young people; and particularly on the parents of boys and girls who make their own codes and who get little or no help in establishing the correct standards of courage, either moral or physical. There are times when daring in the right cause is one of the most prized of human attributes. There are other times when it can only be characterized as foolhardy.

Daring the dangerous, just for the sake of daring, or to avoid being called "chicken," carries with it a high price tag, much too high for any satisfaction that may be involved. There always comes a time when the piper has to be paid!

Something should be done to stop the increasing practice of motorists stopping their cars at McCormack's corner to chat with other occupants or to carry on lengthy conversations with persons on the sidewalk in front of the store. They are not all young people who do this, though a great many are in the younger brackets.

Stopping cars for any time at all at this corner, and double parking there create a real hazard at a corner already sufficiently dangerous. The driver of the car forced to skirt the parker can not see sufficiently far ahead to avoid the possibility of striking some one crossing the street, while the pedestrian of course can not see what is coming around the parked car until it is too late for him to do much about it.

There is a lot of double parking in the general area of Church street at the Common to which, with many motorists returning to town from vacation resorts, the police might well give some attention.

Monday is Labor Day, signalling the end of the summer vacation season, and many will get out of town to take advantage of the long week-end it provides. Most of those on this last fling of the summer will be in automobiles, highways will be crowded, progress will be slow and the possibilities for accidents greatly increased.

Police and highway officials have been warning of the danger involved in being on the road over the Labor Day week-end, and have urged motorists to drive carefully on pain of losing licenses or being locked up.

Further warning by the Star would seem superfluous, but we will venture just this bit of simple advice. Drive as you would like to have the others on the road drive, and keep in mind this fact,—it is no good getting where you are going an hour sooner if your final destination turns out to be a hospital or a morgue!

Geographic Oddities and Briefs

The flight of Tibet's Dalai Lama to India recalls a centuries-old Tibetan prophecy that his predecessor, who died in 1933, would be the last of the line, the National Geographic Magazine says. Curiously, Chinese Communist troops had already marched across the border in 1950 when Tibetan authority was shifted from an aging regent to the 15-year-old Dalai Lama. The young king has not enjoyed a single day of independent, untroubled rule.

The military ceremony tattoo, which marks the heating of retreat shortly before taps, comes from the Dutch doe den tap toe, meaning "Put the tap to." It originated years ago when drummers patrolled a town at night, warning the troops to return to their billets from the local tap rooms.

Your Health in the Space Age

If the recent past is any augury of the immediate future, Americans can look forward to strides in health during the next forty years equally as spectacular as those which have made the last four decades the wonder age of medicine.

The Health News Institute calls our attention to an inventory, of things past and things to come which was read to the Section on Pediatrics at the recent meeting of the American Medical Association in Atlantic City.

The speaker was Dr. Wyman C. Cole, Sr., of Detroit. A prophet in 1919, he said, would have taxed the credulity of a young physician if he had told him:

"If you are still practicing in 1959:

You will not have seen a clinical case of diphtheria or tetanus for 25 years.

A suitable formula for 99 out of 100 babies will be obtainable at any drug store or super market.

Rickets, scurvy, and infantile tetany will be textbook diseases that you will have rarely, if ever, seen in private practice.

It will be at least 15 years since you have seen a patient with surgical mastoiditis.

Most cases of pneumonia and scarlet fever will be treated in your office and will be essentially cured in 24 hours.

Very few babies will die of diarrhea because of what you have learned about electrolyte and water metabolism."

And what about 40 years from now?

The accomplishments of the health team in the refinement of techniques of treatment, development and mass distribution of new drugs and immunizing agents and measures of public health, said Dr. Cole, would lead the same prophet to say to the physician who will still be practicing in 1999:

Cancer and leukemia will have been relegated to medical history.

The common cold will have been forgotten.

Babies will rarely be born prematurely.

A single explanation and method of control will have been found for allergy.

A single injection or tablet will immunize children against all of the communicable diseases.

Many congenital defects will be avoided by a better understanding of genetics.

Such metabolic diseases as diabetes, arthritis, and cystic fibrosis will be easily controlled by improved knowledge of the enzyme system.

"I am sure," Dr. Cole concluded, "this is only a small fraction of what will actually transpire."

In short, says the Health News Institute, despite cold wars and H-bombs and fall-out, on the medical front at least the future is not all doom and gloom.

Living With Your Heart

"Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Rigidly-controlled diet and chemical research involving a group of patients with acidosis has resulted in the tracking of this disease to a starting point in the tubules of the kidney.

Acidosis is a major and often fatal complication of kidney failure, and Heart Fund research has been focused with increasing intensity in recent years upon this organ, a vital link in this cardiovascular chain.

The project, at New England Center and Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals in Boston, was the first in which tubular defects in conversation of alkali, which offsets acid, were given recognition in patients with acidosis due to kidney failure.

It showed that all kidney acidosis is tubular, and points the way to more efficient management of patients with this disease.

The investigating team responsible for this discovery was jointly headed by Drs. William B. Schwartz of the Pratt Diagnostic Clinic, New England Center Hospital, and Dr. Arnold Reiman of Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, in association with Drs. Philip W. Hall III and Richard M. Hays.

A generous amount of acid is normally manufactured in normal tissue function. Most of it must be discharged from the body, for an excess of acid in body fluids leads to serious illness.

Preserving a proper acid-alkaline balance is a function of the kidney, whose mechanisms choose the fluids the body retains and rejects.

The patients were placed on a controlled diet then were given enough alkali to correct their acidosis. When the balance was corrected, the extra alkali supply was cut off. As the patients grew more acidotic, chemical determinations were made on blood and urine. It was found that persons with damaged kidneys not only could not clear out acid properly but that their failure originated in the tubules, through which needed substances in the blood are returned from the kidneys to the circulation.

Some of the patients leaked alkali from the blood into the urine, showing the tubular walls had lost their full capacity to pull back into the bloodstream the alkali needed by the system. Normally, virtually all of the alkali is saved.

Defects also were found in tubular excretion of acid. This may be the result of specific tubular dysfunction, loss of tubular mass or a critical loss of tubular blood supply.

Impairment of alkali absorption retains alkaline fluid in an area of the kidney where ammonium and titratable acid, both of which carry excess acid into the urine, normally appear. As a result, the output of these substances is limited and the kidney's ability to excrete acid is impaired. The major defect was found to be in ammonium excretion.

A small number of states have passed laws granting special exemptions for blindness on their state income tax, according to the American Foundation for the Blind. The exemptions permitted vary from $400 to $1,000.

Town Tennis
Championships Set

Draw a circle around the date: Saturday, September 12, the annual Winchester town tennis championships tournament starts at 9 a.m. sharp at the Palmer Street Courts. There are five events: men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles, and an always unpredictable mixed doubles. Since this tournament conflicts with the Nationals at Forest Hills, seeding is reduced and entries are limited to Winchester residents. But we hope to see Blair Hawley back from the Alaskan circuit.

If you'd have coached the Davis cup matches differently, you're a strategist; if you can make line calls as Whit Gray does you're a born umpire; but if you think you've got a couple of good strokes and can stand up for three sets you have a chance to upset a local luminary or even add your name to the trophy. A better opportunity for tennis fun or recognition would be hard to find. Since the defending male champion has spent so much time diving in Cape waters for sunken treasure lately, Tournament Chairman Bob Mulford refuses to predict the outcome.

Entries accompanied by correct fees must be delivered by 6 p.m. Thursday, September 10, to Robert A. Nichols of 35 Cabot street. Blanks may be obtained from Bob or from Whit Gray or Dave Rush. If you have to count backward to eighteen, the fee is 50 cents per event; for participating juniors the cost is 25 cents per event. Players provide their own balls, an item that makes membership in the Winchester Tennis Association advantageous. Don't put off that entry; your intended doubles partner won't!

If you pass the courts any evening you'll find a host of ambitious players sharpening their games. In the Suburban Twilight League play earlier this year the Winchester A team tied with Waban with top place still to be decided in a play-off. The unofficial win-loss records for the B and C teams are this year 18-9 and 13-8 respectively. That's the competition. See you at the courts?

Three weeks of aviation indoctrination and training was completed August 7 at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., by Naval Academy Midshipman Second Class Alfred C. During the three week period, each midshipman received a well rounded flight training program that gives him more than 10 hours in the various aircraft assigned to the Naval Air Basic Training Command, including an indoctrination flight in the Navy's T-34 training plane.

Boat Club News

The turnabout juniors ended their series this week on Tuesday afternoon. With a clear sky and a fine breeze, Ronny Bartell sailed home first, with Rob and Jean Dannenberg second and third. Thursday's interclub, however, was not the concluding race for that series. Dick Patten (Med.), Rob Dannenberg, and Bruce Smith (Med.) took the top three places.

Again this week end was full of excitement, as some of the Winchester snipers went to Quassapaug, Conn., for its regatta. Although luck in the weather was quite poor, luck for Winchester was good. Tommy St. John managed to hold first place for Quassapaug, but Tom Legore was second, not only did second place go to Winchester, but also Herb Alderson finished third, and Ken Cook fourth.

Just to show the poorness of sailing conditions; on Sunday spectators only 100 feet from the judges' boat could hear the motor and voices, but could not see the boats at the finish through the fog—on a lake.

Saturday the snipes at home didn't have a clear sky; yet the wind and visibility were fine. Rod Long crossed the line first, while second went to Dick Winkler and third to Warren Dannenberg.

As for the social events, a pot luck supper was held on Saturday evening. Because of the rain, it was held inside instead of on the lawn.

Coming up is the yearly "shipwreck" party, sponsored by the motorboat division. On the 18th of September, Winchester Boat Club will be invaded by all kinds of shipwrecked sailors, which inevitably will mean plenty of fun and excitement for all.

Oil today lures more prospectors to Alaska than gold, the National Geographic Magazine says. Neither sub-zero cold nor the seemingly endless night of Alaskan winters halts exploration and drilling. Construction crews thaw the rock-hard soil with steam hoses. Some isolated camps receive supplies by helicopter.

One species of caddis fly, using fine sand grains and its own spun silk, builds a house in the exact shape of a snail shell. The replica is so perfect that specimens have deceived the most experienced shell collectors.

An outboard motor helped guide the nuclear submarine Skate to an opening in the ice over the Arctic Ocean, the National Geographic Magazine says. The motorboat, from an international Geophysical Year research station, circled in the open water. The submarine picked up its out-pump on sonar equipment and surfaced in the small, ice-free lake.

About 16 million thunderstorms rumble over the surface of the earth each year.

In Warsaw, capital of Poland, some postwar buildings perch 10 feet above the level of sidewalks.
World War II rubble was too thick to be carted away, so the Poles leveled it and built on top, the National Geographic Magazine says.

When the volcano Kilauea erupted in Hawaii in 1955, incandescent rock spurted 400 feet into the air, the National Geographic Magazine says. The column of lava lasted 12 miles and fed a molten river three miles long and 15 to 20 feet thick.

The metal nickel was named for the devil. The tough, heat-resistant metal clogged copper smelters in 18th-century Saxony. Exasperated miners called it "Old Nick's Copper."

The world's largest ant, Dinos-ponera gigantea, inhabits the rain forest of Brazil, says the National Geographic Magazine. There are no queens, no soldier or worker castes in a Dinoponera colony. The females, which are more than an inch long, capture the food, do all the work, and fight the colony's battles.

The famed Dead Sea Scrolls owe their discovery to shepherds' accident, the National Geographic Magazine says. In 1947 a Bedouin boy, searching for a stray goat in the desolate Wilderness of Judea, idly cast a stone into a small opening among the cliffs bordering the Dead Sea. He heard the shattering of pottery, investigated, and found several large earthen jars. In them were aged scrolls wrapped in foul-smelling linen. His discovery set off a concentrated search that yielded many priceless documents.

Winchester
Father-Son
Trophy to Toscas

The three-way tie existing in this year's Father and Son golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club was resolved Wednesday when the John Toscas of Thorin Lea posted a 34-38-72 card to win the coveted trophy, defeating two outstanding teams in Dick and Dixie Chapman of Oyster Harbor and Ed and Barrie Bruce of Wenham.

The Toscas led from the seventh hole and finished with a slim one-stroke margin over their rivals, both of which teams had 74s. The summary:

Tribeswomen along the Zambezi front teeth, smear themselves with red clay, and put sticks through their noses, customs dating from slaving days, when the least attractive women were safest, the National Geographic Society says.

Geneva Recalls Century of Historic Events

Though the United Nations Building in New York has become the hub of world politics, mountain, and lake-framed Geneva is still a mecca for international conferences.

Leaders travel from all over the world to the medium-size Swiss city to discuss problems in fields ranging from child health and telecommunications to the peaceful uses of nuclear energy and the East-West struggle in Europe.

Latest high-level consultation scheduled for Geneva is the May meeting of the "Big Four" foreign ministers. The agenda recalls that of the Summit Conference of July, 1955, when the city played host to four chiefs of government, American, British, French, and Russian. Then, as now, divided Germany and European security loomed over other issues.

A Humanitarian Start Geneva got its start as a meeting place for international exchange and cooperation in 1863, says the National Geographic Society.

A native son, Jean Henri Dunant, who later received the first Nobel Peace Prize, brought together representatives of different countries to devise ways to help the sick and wounded in war. The result was the International Red Cross.

In 1872, another famous conference arbitrated United States claims against the British for Civil War damage. The case involved the British-built Alabama and other ships engaged by the Confederate Navy to destroy Union shipping. A commission comprised of members from Brazil, Italy, and Switzerland awarded the United States $15,000,000.

Geneva's Golden Age in international politics came after World War I, as the home of the League of Nations, it echoed the pronouncements and decisions of Europe's leading statesmen.

During most of the League's lifetime, meetings were held in a former Genevese hotel renamed the Palais Wilson in honor of the American President whose greatest hope was to create an effective league of nations, but whose own country refused to participate.

An imposing new marble-and-granite Palais des Nations was opened in 1936 as the League's permanent seat. Already, however, disputes and withdrawals had fatally weakened the organization. Though not formally dissolved until 1946, the League of Nations was moribund at the onset of World War II. Its expensive building seemed destined to become an international white elephant.

United Nations Moved In Today, the enlarged Palace of Nations, containing hundreds of rooms and huge assembly halls, pulses with activity as the European headquarters of the United Nations. On special occasions, such as the current Big Four meeting, part of the building is reserved for visiting delegations' use.

Besides the U.N. and other inter-governmental agencies permanently headquartered in Geneva, scores of international organizations, business, religious, and humanitarian, also maintain offices there.

Geneve have long been accustomed to the comings and goings of history-making personages. John Calvin preached the Protestant Reformation in Geneva during the 16th century. Jean Jacques Rousseau was born there. The poets Byron and Shelley enjoyed its French-resort atmosphere and the mental stimulation of its cosmopolitan salons.

Now and then, a modern visitor wins special notice from the base Geneveuse. During the 1955 Summit gathering, the townspeople were delighted when President Eisenhower took time out to buy typical Swiss toys for his grandchildren. As for the First Lady, who accompanied her husband, the Geneva press noted happily that her middle name is Geneva.

Check-up Time for the Kids
"Go Slow, School's Open!"

Such posters will soon be cautioning drivers. Soon the kids will be trooping back to nursery school, elementary school, junior and senior high schools and college.

There ought to be a sign that says "Go Fast — to Your Doctor for a Check-up." This is a good time to take your children for their yearly examination. Eyes should be examined and hearing should be tested. Often a child doing poorly in school needs corrected vision or hearing. The dentist should be visited too.

Ask your doctor to include in his general check-up the tuberculin test for tuberculosis. This test shows only the presence of TB infections, not the disease.

One of every three Americans are known to have live TB germs in their bodies. This doesn't mean that they're sick. A healthy body is so well able to fight off an attack by TB and other germs that their presence may not have symptoms.

Don't be alarmed if the tuberculin test shows TB infection in your chest. Have a chest X-ray made, to assure the germs haven't done any damage, it's to your protection.

Children of all ages can be infected with TB. But school-age children can fight off infection faster.

After the fifteenth year there's a dramatic rise in the number of persons with active tuberculosis. They may have been infected as children without ever knowing it. Teen age carelessness in health habits may bring TB into the open.

When the children are off to school, you'll have time for a check-up for yourself. The Middlesex Tuberculosis and Health Association asks you to remember that TB respects no age. But good health respects no germs!

Carroll Has Fine Swim Record

When Bobby Carroll received the replacement trophy for winning the McGowan trophy in 1958, it was the third time he received this coveted award. He is the only boy to have won the McGowan award for three successive years.

Previous to winning the McGowan trophy he received the Red Cross swimming trophy for two years, so that Bob won such awards for each of the five years he worked under the coaching of popular Joseph Burns. This is an excellent record for a fourteen-year-old boy.

This year Bob took part in the local swimming program, entering in various meets, including the meet with Stoneham. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Carroll of 207 Highland avenue.

March of Dimes Asks for Funds

Eighteen Polio Cases Reported in Middlesex County

According to a report from Don Guiler, Middlesex County chairman of the March of Dimes, eighteen new cases of polio have been reported to date, one of which is from Winchester. Two persons in Middlesex County have died as a result of polio virus infection. "Although we have not as yet reached the epidemic stage, I'd like to point out that only one case was reported in Middlesex County last year," Guiler said, "and in the overall picture, 2957 cases have been reported across the country, as against 1593 cases in all of last year, or an increase of 100 percent."

Winchester Officer Appointed

Captain William T. Alexander, USNR-R, director of the Naval Reserve Officers' School, Boston, today announced the appointment of Lieutenant Commander William H. Varley, USNR-R, of 46 Hillcrest parkway to the staff of the Boston Naval Reserve Officers' School as instructor in guided missiles.

Lieutenant Commander Varley is a graduate of Syracuse University, College of Applied Sciences. He served as an ordnance expert during World War II and is now employed by Arthur D. Little Inc., of Cambridge.

Boston Naval Reserve Officers' School meets Thursday evenings from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. at building 48, Boston Naval Shipyard Annex, Summer street, South Boston. The school offers college level instruction in naval subjects and provides a means for a naval reserve officer to fulfill the professional requirements for retention, promotion and retirement in the naval reserve. Classes in guided missiles and military law are conducted at Harvard University on Tuesday evenings.

Naval Reserve Officers in the Winchester area may call Lieutenant Commander Varley at Parkview 9-3154 evenings for information concerning enrollment in the school.

Mr. Guiler referred to the current outbreak in Des Moines, Iowa, where a polio epidemic is raging in full force. "Those of us who recall the 1955 epidemic in Massachusetts know full well the agony and heartbreak the people of Des Moines are now experiencing," he said, and this is also presently true of Kansas City, Mo., Dallas, Fort Worth, and other stricken areas. As long as people refuse to avail themselves of the protection of the Salk Vaccine, there isn't anyone who can say that Polio is licked."

Asks For Aid
"Unfortunately," he added, the epidemics in various other areas of the country have drawn heavily on the March of Dimes funds, and as a result, here in Middlesex County, as elsewhere, the March of Dimes is conducting a limited appeal for emergency relief funds. Mr. Guiler stated that "An Emergency Appeal Letter asking for a donation of one dollar per family has been sent to all residents of Middlesex County. If everyone complies with our request for one dollar," he said, the Middlesex County Chapter will be able to carry on its current aid program for some 1,100 past polio patients, and to provide for the inevitable new polio cases that will be coming."

Desperately Need Funds
"We desperately need funds," said the polio leader, so that our less fortunate neighbors and friends will not be let down. Nearly all are totally dependant on those of us in a position to help, and I'm sure that as responsible citizens, we all recognize our duty to them. Please give what you can, in the return envelope included with our Emergency Appeal Letter."

"I'd like to point out," he added, that the March of Dimes has long been noted for its extensive Patient Aid Program. No other health agency has provided so much aid for the helpless residents of Middlesex County who could not hope to pay for their own necessary hospitalization and treatment."

$112,000 In Debt
"Middlesex County Chapter is currently $112,000 in debt, and is incurring further indebtedness at the rate of $4,500 per week. This figure will increase sharply with the influx of these eighteen new cases," Mr. Guiler said. We cannot expect hospitals and other medical services to wait much longer for their money. I'm sure I speak for our 1,100 polio patients when I urgently ask the citizens of Middlesex County to donate whatever they can so that these people will be given every chance to recover from the horrors of polio.

Experienced staff members of the Winchester schools, working in cooperation with the faculty of the Harvard School of Education, will supervise their work in the Winchester schools. ED. SERIEKA

Winchester Grid Star Reports at Xavier

Fullback Ed Serieka of Winchester was one of 44 football candidates on hand as Xavier University opened its fall football practice September 1 at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Co-Capt. Serieka, a graduate of Winchester high school and former star outside runner for the Sachems, will be playing his third year of varsity football with the Musketeers, who open their season on Sunday, September 13, hosting St. Ambrose College of Davenport, Iowa.

Big "Joekie" a 200-pound speedster, has had several offers to play professional football after graduation, including one from the crack Cleveland Browns. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Serieka of 3 Middlesex street.

Writing in "Sports Comment" in the Cape Cod "Standard Times" for August 22, Sports Editor Robert Sheridan says some nice things about a Winchester boy, Bob Crotty, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Crotty, make their home at 225 Mystic Valley Parkway.

Bob was one of the heroes of Falmouth's victory over Mid-Cape in the deciding game of the Cape Cod Little League Championship Tournament. Believing Mr. Sheridan's comment will be of interest to the Crotty family's many friends in Winchester, it is printed here-with.

"This corner's vote for the most valuable player in the Cape Little League tournament completed Wednesday night is split between Falmouth outfielder Lynn Andrade and pitcher-infielder Bob Crotty. Both played in excellent fashion throughout the five tournament games and each was a deciding factor in at least two of the champions' victories."

"Crotty's contributions came in two departments, and in two separate games. With Falmouth down 5-3 against Bourne in the fifth inning, he hit the home run that tied the game and provided the spark that alternately broke the spirit of the Bourne team and raised that of the Falmouth squad enough for the team to rally for the winning marker in the next inning."

"And against the Mid-Cape in that final game that stretched over three days and 13 innings, it was Crotty who pitched eight full innings of shutout ball, who struck out nine batters and who quelled every Mid-Cape rally until Andrade could come through with his fancy work on the bases. Both boys and their Falmouth teammates deserve congratulations."

Penner Completes Science Course

David Penner of 329 Highland avenue, a junior at Winchester High School, was one of 15 high school juniors and seniors from eight states who on August 29 completed a four-week special summer science training program at Norwich University at Northfield, Vt.

Selected as outstanding students from the nation's secondary schools, the young men, who want to specialize in chemistry, physics, or biology in their college careers, were brought to Norwich under a special grant from the National Science Foundation.

Purpose of the special school, according to Dr. James R. Brennan, its director and assistant professor of biology at Norwich, was "to acquaint gifted pre-college students with the procedures involved in scientific research, and to provide opportunity to experience the satisfaction of scientific investigation for its own sake."

The program carried no academic credits for high school or college.

Win Scholarships

David C. McLean and John A. McLean of 29 Seneeca road are among the 169 members of the three upper classes at Bowdoin College who have been awarded a total of $143,200 in scholarship aid for the academic year 1959-60.

Members of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Bowdoin, the McLeans are sons of Dr. and Mrs. John D. McLean. They prepared at Winchester High School and the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn.

Free Lecture on Speech

Wednesday evening, September 16, will mark the beginning of the fourth year of the Bob Ferullo Course in Effective Speaking. On that evening Mr. Ferullo will present a free lecture on Speech in Moose Hall, Woburn. Also, some of his recent graduates will speak briefly.

Mr. Ferullo is a certified Speech and Hearing Therapist, Instructor in Speech at Northeastern University, and producer of a private course in effective speaking. He is a member of the American Speech and Hearing Association, Speech Association of America, and Phi Delta Kappa, the national honorary fraternity for men in education.

Patent to Grant

Nicholas J. Grant of 10 Leslie road was the co-recipient on August 11, of U. S. patent No. 2,899,338, entitled "Thermal Element."

The advent of modern jet engines, rockets and the like, which are designed to operate at temperatures of about 1800 degrees Fahrenheit and higher, has resulted in intensive research efforts to develop high temperature materials that may be used for turbine blades, buckets, nozzles, etc., which are exposed to corrosive gases. The use of special fuels containing lead compounds and the like has been particularly troublesome because of the harmful vapors that are given off during combustion of the fuel and which chemically attack and corrode unprotected parts of heat engines at high temperatures.

Various attempts have been made to solve this problem by the use of specially developed heat-resistant and corrosion-resistant alloys for the engine parts, but according to Mr. Grant and his co-inventors, they have not been satisfactory because of their inability to withstand the burdens placed on them during operation of the newer types of more powerful jet engines. In other words, these materials tended to fail during prolonged use as proved resistance to oxidation and thermal and mechanical impact and shock at high temperatures and are capable of prolonged use under high stresses in corrosive gaseous atmosphere.

This patent has been assigned to Sintercast Corporation of America, Yonkers, N. Y.

Living With Your Heart

By Samuel Proger, M. D.
Past President

Massachusetts Heart Association ("Living With Your Heart" is a public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

For many years, researchers have hoped to find the preventive for atherosclerosis in our daily diet.

But present knowledge of the influence of diet upon atherosclerosis is far from adequate. In little more than a decade we have passed rapidly through several dietary eras. First plain obesity seemed to be the villain. Then the intake of cholesterol (a fat) was thought to be directly associated with atherosclerosis. Next, emphasis was placed upon the intake of all kinds of fats; then the theory that whether the fats were of animal or vegetable origin (animal fat increases and vegetable fat lowers serum cholesterol). Soon it developed that vegetable fats needed to be separated into those containing saturated and unsaturated fatty acids, since the degree of unsaturation determined its power to lower serum cholesterol. Then the researchers began investigating to see if the degree of unsaturation mattered as much as whether the acids were "essential" (inherent) or not.

The heart attacks and strokes to which atherosclerosis can lead are caused, however, not only by artery degeneration. There is increasing evidence that blood coagulation or clotting is important in this picture.

And it leads to the suggestion that serum cholesterol may not be the only chemical troublemaker affected by diet. The serum content of other fats, for instance, ethanolic phosphatide and indeed the possible connection between any phosphorus-containing fat and atherosclerosis, need careful study since these other fats are more directly related to blood clotting.

However, the evidence of any relationship between dietary fats and blood coagulation is contradictory at the moment.

Undoubtedly, one would feel more comfortable in the knowledge that the serum cholesterol level is not high, for high levels are associated with an increased risk of heart attacks and strokes. But high-cholesterol foods themselves normally don't effect the serum cholesterol level; your body handles the matter metabolically.

Dietary fats, as against high-cholesterol foods, may influence these levels. Serum cholesterol can be lowered, with varying degrees of effectiveness by taking polyunsaturated fatty acids. It is possible that simple restriction of animal fats would do it just as effectively.

The complexity of the entire problem, plus the fact that medical science knows a great many things about it without being sure just what these things mean, makes it vital to discover the unfound meanings.

The American Foundation for the Blind has awarded its Certificate of Merit to the Association of American Railroads and the National Bus Traffic Association for making it possible for blind persons to take along a sighted companion free of charge on most railroads and buses.

Man's God-given dominion over disease and enslavement will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Accounts of spiritual dominion to be read from the Bible include Christ Jesus' healing of the "woman having an issue of blood" twelve years' (Luke 8) and Paul's healing of Eutychus who "fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead"
(Acts 20). The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Man."

From "Science and Health" with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will be read this passage: "The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses" (228:11-13).

The Golden Text is from Genesis (1:26):
"God said: Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

Pets Deserve A Break!

Most people like animals, and most families have pets. But the Animal Rescue League of Boston reminds you that as a pet owner, you have a definite responsibility for the animal's care. And, if for any reason it becomes necessary for you to give up your pet, do make sure that it has a good home.

This may sound like a small thing, but it's important to keep in mind. Abandoned pets, strays, are a real nuisance to the community.
They are potential disease carriers.
And to leave an animal without food or shelter is not humane.

There is an answer, however, at Arlington and Tremont Street in Boston. It's the Animal Rescue League where you may take unwanted pets. At the same time, if you are seeking a dog or a cat for a pet, remember that they also place animals in good homes.

"HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A BIGGER ONE?"

Mrs. Howard Bennett of Ardley road displays a big yellow jacket's nest taken from a forsythia bush at her home.

Mrs. Bennett, who is 80 years old, discovered the nest by being stung by the yellow jackets six times while working around the shrubbery.

The yellow jackets were gassed by an exterminator company, and Mrs. Bennett cut the huge nest from her bush to show her friends and neighbors.

Auxiliary Fire Department Notes

The members of the Auxiliary Fire Department will resume their weekly drills on Monday, September 14, at 7:15 p.m. Meetings are held each Monday night at Fire
Headquarters and are conducted under the capable supervision of Capt. I. Frank Amico of the regular department.

Because of the varying vacation plans of the members which would contribute to irregular attendance, drills were suspended for July and August.

Capt. Amico plans instruction in various elements of rescue work, including the recently approved method of mouth resuscitation.

Civil Defense has proved its worth in various emergencies throughout the country and the Auxiliary Fire Department is one of its trained components.

We are desirous of increasing our membership and will welcome suitable applicants. Men interested should contact Capt. Amico or Chief James E. Callahan at Fire Headquarters.

All Violators Of Motor Vehicles Will Be Booked Over Labor Day

His Excellency, Governor Foster
Furcolo, Honorary Chairman, and Registrar Clement A. Riley, Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, warn the motoring public that a state-wide enforcement program will be in effect this Labor Day week end.

Registrar Riley and Lt. Col.
Blake will direct the activities of state and community police officers and Registry Inspectors in a concentrated effort to regulate and control traffic movement and prevent accidents.

Electronic speed control teams, officers in unmarked patrol cars, and photographic speed control units will supplement the efforts of 10,000 men stationed on our highways. This enforcement team will remove drinking drivers.
Speeders will be booked. All violators of the motor vehicle laws and rules of the road will be reported to Registrar Riley. They will lose their license to drive.

Chitel's Holds Open House in New Shop

Knowing how Winchester loves a party, Jack Chitel, proprietor of Chitel's apparel shop, on Mt. Vernon street, recently enlarged and completely remodeled and redecorated, is holding open house in his new establishment Wednesday and Thursday evenings, September 3 and 10, to give his home-coming patrons and the public generally an opportunity to inspect his shop's new home under the most favorable of circumstances.

Mr. Chitel and his enlarged staff are proud of their new shop and want every one to see what they have done toward providing the community with a top flight, strictly modern clothing store. There will be no business done on the two evenings of the open house. "The cash-registers," says Mr. Chitel, "will be locked. We want every one to be our guests socially, to inspect our store, to ask questions and to tell us how they like what we have done." Refreshments will be served and the entire Chitel's staff will be on hand to see that every one has a good time. Chitel's floor space has been doubled for the new shop, by including the former Edison Shop. CHITEL, cont. on page 14

Redyeing Clothes Can Add New Life

Have you seen this truck lately? If not, you certainly will. For this truck tours the town daily picking up clothing for either cleaning or dyeing or for any of the various services offered by Russo's Cleaners and Dyers, the Washington street firm. One of the lesser known parts of Russo's business is the dyeing section. Strangely enough, there are millions of articles in homes which are stored in closets, items too good to discard and still not quite good enough to use as they are. Because of a partial loss of color, these articles have become unattractive. According to a recent survey these millions of items can be rejuvenated to give a fresh appearance and add a useful life.

Typical items which can be redyed are wearing apparel, draperies which are faded or streaked, couch cover sets, blankets and shag rugs. The redyeing process can save many dollars in replacement costs to householders. Russo's can supply the important cog which can change a useless article into a useful article and help you realize these savings. For Russo's can advise you which of the articles now lying idle in your home can be rejuvenated by redyeing when the ordinary cleaning processes fail to give a satisfactory appearance. For Cleaning and for dyeing see Russo's. A call to Parkview 9-1770 will bring the little red truck to your house for pick up and delivery service. And remember, Dyeing Saves. Buying.

Boodakian's New Rug Plant Starts Cleaning Operations

The cleaning plant of the Koko Boodakian & Sons rug firm at 14 Lochwan street is now back in operation after the disastrous fire which closed the cleaning as well as the sales operations at the local plant.

The showroom will still remain in the temporary quarters on the second floor of the Lyceum Building. Already the cleaning services have been resumed in the new building and shortly the drying facilities will be completed. The new building is one of the largest and most modern rug cleaning facilities in New England. Made as fireproof as possible, the new plant's equipment was designed to Boodakian's specifications. All rug cleaning will still be supervised personally by one of the Boodakian brothers.

The specially designed equipment, which was made by Palace Brothers in Woburn, has caused much comment in the industry. So much, in fact, that several similar machines have been made for other rug firms. The rugs come from the washing machine and then are hung from a steel pole on the second floor drying room. The drying room measures 85x25x30 and can take nearly 200 rugs at a time. The rest of the building houses the repair department and storage facilities.

Boodakian's still maintain one of New England's largest selections of Oriental rugs as well as broadlooms from many leading mills. Among the famous names represented are Magee, Gullistan, Holms, Roxbury, Firth, Whittall and Beattie, as well as imports from England and Scotland, hooked rugs and many types of stair carpets.

within its walls. This gained much needed room for larger stocks and the means of keeping the various departments of the shop separate.

Now the men's and boys' departments are entirely separate, enabling shoppers better to make their selections in unhurried fashion and without interruption.

The enlarged shop has also enabled Chitel's to add a ladies' sportswear department to its other stocks, and great care has been taken to select items pleasing to women, college and high school girls. Women's apparel will be limited to sportswear for the present, and the best brands obtainable have been chosen for this new venture.

Chitel's new shop has been done in a rustic decor that features rough hewn beams and soft lighting. Skillful use has been made of antiques and unusual furniture pieces to complement the style of the shop, and everything has been planned and executed to make for leisurely, restful shopping.

New lines of merchandise have been added in all departments, and Mr. Chitel has called upon his long experience with Winchester shoppers to help him choose the types of clothing and haberdashery they will want.

Chitel's is one of the older stores in Winchester. It was established in 1911 by Mr. Chitel's father, Philip Chitel, a merchant tailor, who learned his trade in Russia and was for some years head fitter for the old line Boston tailoring house of McCullar, Parker & Williams, now Rogers Peet.

For a time Chitel's was strictly a merchant tailoring shop, featuring men's suits and coats made to measure. In the late twenties Philip Chitel added ready-to-wear men's clothing and later when his son, Jack, the shop's present proprietor, joined him in the business, haberdashery was included.

Since then the shop has enlarged, both its size and scope, three times to care for its increasing business. Its latest enlarging, remodeling and redecorating has provided Winchester with an apparel shop second to none in the Greater Boston area, a business establishment of which the entire community may well be proud.

Overcrowding and Standing in Moving Vehicles

Registrar, Clement A. Riley, chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, today calls public attention to the many reports which have been received about automobiles in vacation areas dangerously overcrowded with young people.

Convertibles have been observed with several youngsters sitting on top of the back seat and in other cases with as many as twelve young people jammed into the car. In a recent accident, a young girl was thrown from a convertible and so seriously injured that she required extensive hospitalization.

Other complaints tell of parents permitting their babies to stand on the front seat and allowing very young children to stand where they could be thrown against the windshield in case of a sudden stop.

The Registrar sincerely hopes that drivers and parents will immediately correct this hazardous practice.

The Registrar reminds drivers that they could have their license suspended if they are reported.

The average monthly aid payments in the United States are $61.72 for the aged, $66.15 for the blind, $60.35 for the disabled and $27.14 for dependent children, according to the Bureau of Public Assistance. In many states payments are barely sufficient, according to the American Foundation for the Blind.

EMARC Summer Camp Closes

August brought to a close a very successful Summer Camp for the retarded children six and over in nine communities served by EMARC. This Day Camp was sponsored and made possible by the town of Stoneham who underwrote the cost of this project, half of which will be reimbursed by the state.

The camp was in session Monday, Wednesday and Friday for eight weeks and leaves many happy memories for these children who for centuries were deprived of activities such as these. A mere decade ago such a project would have been unheard of.

The children enjoyed two field trips, one to the Middlesex Fells Zoo and another a cook out at the home of Mrs. Warren Dawe in Wilmington. The children learned simple arts and crafts and made among other things sun visors and candy baskets.

Mrs. Warren Dawe of 112 Butters Row, Wilmington, directed this camp assisted by Mr. David Levin of Newton, Miss Barbara Showstack of Wakefield, Miss Carol Woodward of Stoneham and Miss Elizabeth Osborne of Winchester.

This project proved so successful for these children both from the educational and entertainment standpoint and Stoneham was so generous in accepting children from all the other communities that the members of EMARC hope other towns will take their place by Stoneham in future years.

Dr. Gilson Met Teachers Tuesday

Many Pre-School Opening

Activities in Winchester

Before the opening of the Winchester schools yesterday, a great deal of activity took place behind the scenes in preparation for this annual event. On Tuesday afternoon in the Wyman School Auditorium Dr. Harry V. Gilson, superintendent of schools, met with the teaching staff to discuss general plans for the coming year.

In his address to the teachers he stressed the importance of continued effort to ensure that each child derive the maximum benefit from his educational experience in the terms of his own interests and abilities. "To do this," he said, "we must know the child and his problems." He also pointed out the fact that teaching and administrative problems in certain schools would be greater this year because of enrollments even larger than anticipated.

Dr. Gilson spoke of the staff's responsibility in planning for the educational program to be offered in the proposed reorganization of the secondary schools (the 6-3-3 system). A new building plus the release of space in the present schools would offer the staff an opportunity to effect changes for the improvement of teaching and curriculum.

The convocation of teachers was preceded by special group meetings Tuesday morning. The administrative staff and supervisory personnel met with Dr. Gilson to consider the most effective means of carrying out school policies during the year. This was followed by meetings in each school of the teachers and their principals.

In a special orientation program on Wednesday morning, the elementary school teachers, new to the system, were introduced to the services provided by the supervisors in the fields of reading, speech, art and music. The objectives of the physical education program and of the guidance staff were also presented to give these new faculty members a good start on their teaching careers in Winchester.

The attitude of the teachers could be summed up in a remark by one of the kindergarten teachers: "No matter how many years you've taught, you're always thrilled and excited on the first day of school. It's a new challenge—to meet your students and to help them in their school life."

MISS ANN C. NEVILLE

Ann C. Neville, daughter of George M. Neville of 70 Forest street, has been awarded one of the forty-seven college educational grants made by the J. W. Van Dyke Scholarship Foundation to winners of the 1959 Summer Competition. With it she will attend Connecticut College, New London, Conn.

The Foundation was created in 1946 under the will of the late J. W. Van Dyke, former chairman of the Atlantic Refining Company, and grants are made available semi-annually to children of Atlantic employees with ten or more years of service.

Farrell New Post Commander

Winchester Legion to Install Officers September 18

Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, will hold its annual installation of officers at a colorful ceremonial Friday evening, September 18, at the Post headquarters on Vine street. Middlesex County Commander William F. Hogan will be the installing officer and will be accompanied by a distinguished suite.

Eugene Farnam of Medford, Governor's Councilor Joseph R. Crimmins of Winchester and Assistant Registrar Frederick McDermott of Medford. Music, dancing and refreshments will round out a pleasant evening.

Tickets for Navy-B.C. Game Here Saturday

Those who have ordered tickets for the Navy-Boston College football game on Saturday, September 19, at the new Boston College stadium, can pick them up this Saturday at the Winchester Sport Shop.

Bob Livingston, chairman of the local ticket committee, urges all who have ordered tickets to pick them up Saturday, as those which are not claimed must be returned to Navy.

The seats local fans will occupy are choice ones and those who have been to Boston College say the Eagles' new stadium is a great place to see a football game. Parking facilities, however, are somewhat limited, and those who arrive shortly before kickoff time are not going to find places just outside the field.

Winchester's interest, aside from a potentially fine football game, lies in the fact that two former high school football stars, Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo, third classmen at Annapolis, are on the Navy team. A year ago a big delegation of local fans went in to see these boys play for Navy against Boston University at old Braves Field.

Urgently Needed

Star Photographer Wins

Press Association Award

The Star has been notified that its photographer, Bill Ryerson, was among the first-prize winners in the recently concluded photographic contest sponsored by the New England Weekly Press Association, held at University of Maine.

There were four main classes in the contest and Bill was the top winner in one of them. More complete details will be available later, but by being one of the four class winners Bill's work will be judged this week end with the others for top contest honors.

This is only the second year that "Bill" has been entered in the New England Weekly Newspaper Photographic Contest. Winning a top classification in competition with newspaper photographers all over New England is a real achievement, though those familiar with the Ryerson work in the Star are not surprised. Many have praised his groups and candid in the paper.

Bill has been taking pictures for the Star for nearly five years, commencing as a schoolboy at Winchester High when our previous photographer, Bernie Marvin, entered the Marines.

Most of the Ryerson newspaper pictures are taken with a Speed Graphic, but he has several other cameras available for special uses, including a Keystone movie camera, Retina 35mm, Kodak Medalist and a Commercial View camera. Wide angle and telephoto lenses are included in his special lens equipment and he has the latest in electronic speed and flash equipment.

Perhaps the outstanding assignment for the Star to date was his coverage of Winchester's appearance in the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa., a few years back, when he left Winchester at 1 o'clock in the morning, covered the game that same afternoon and then drove back home, arriving at 12:30 the next morning. Snatching a couple of hours sleep after his 1000-mile drive, Bill had the pictures developed and in the Star's hands for publication that same day.

All the twelve-year olds graduate and receive their Little League jackets. Trophies will be awarded to the Dodgers and Reds, champions of their respective leagues. For the first time the minor league champions will be awarded a trophy, to hold for one year. This year's champions are the Ponies and Buffaloes.

All players and umpires of both major and minor leagues are invited free. All others will be charged for eats. Let's all pray for good weather. See you there at 2 o'clock Saturday.

Apartment House Hearing Held

Local Opposition to Construction Expressed

The Board of Appeal held a hearing Tuesday evening on the petition of George W. Olson of Lynnfield, who seeks a permit to erect a 28-family apartment house on Cardinal street in the Highlands District. Cardinal street is off Marlborough street between Cross and Forest streets and is in a district designated as general residence on the Zoning Map.

Zoning by-laws forbid the Building Commissioner to issue a permit for the erection of an apartment house in the general residence district without the consent of the Board of Appeal. As a consequence Mr. Olson was referred to the board, the members of which called Tuesday's hearing.

The hearing was largely attended and considerable opposition to the erection of the proposed apartment house was voiced by Winchester residents present.

Beaches Closed for Summer

The Park Department announced that both Leonard Pool and Palmer Beach are now closed for the year. The two swimming areas closed Labor Day. The playgrounds had closed earlier in August.

Heart Association Sponsors Institute

Outstanding authorities in the public health field in Massachusetts and the nation will discuss "Current Trends in Public Health" at a five-day institute sponsored by the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Opening Monday, September 14, at Heart Headquarters, 650 Beacon street, Boston, the public health institute will be conducted by members of the faculty of the Harvard University School of Public Health. Attendance will include the entire staff of the Massachusetts Heart Association including directors of all 13 chapters in the state.

Led by Dr. Hugh R. Leavell, professor of public health practice, Harvard University, School of Public Health, speakers will include: Miss Margaret E. Droleite, associate in biostatistics; Miss Elizabeth P. Rice, associate professor of social work in public health; Sol Levine, assistant professor of social psychology; John G. McCormick, instructor in health education; and Frances H. Pitts, research associate in health education.

In addition to faculty members of the Harvard University School of Public Health, Miss Alice Davis, nursing consultant to the division of cancer and chronic diseases, Massachusetts Department of Public Health; and Frederick A. Whitthouse, director of rehabilitation for the American Heart Association, will conduct sessions.

Charles A. Gates, executive director of the Massachusetts Heart Association, and Dr. Marjorie A. C. Young, of the Harvard University School of Public Health, will serve as coordinators of the course.

Miss McCue, Mr. Marchesi Wed

Miss Carol McCue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCue of Spring Court Extension, Woburn, and Salvatore Marchesi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Marchesi of 97 Swanston street, were married Saturday afternoon, September 5, at St. Dorothy's Church in Wilmington. The ceremony took place at 5:30 o'clock and was followed by a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Miss McCue was given in marriage by Michael Scello, uncle of the bridegroom. She wore a gown of ice blue chiffon with a bustle back and a fingertip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and baby carnations. Miss Patricia Lavechia was maid of honor. She wore a pink chiffon dress with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of finger chrysanthemums.

Joseph Lavechia was best man for Mr. Marchesi.

After a wedding journey through Canada and to Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Marchesi will live in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Woburn High School. Mr. Marchesi, who is manager of the Cott Beverage Company in Woburn, graduated from Winchester High School.

Boys Roll Pipe on Highland Ave.

A Highland avenue resident called the police late Saturday night to report some boys had rolled a large water pipe down the hill onto Highland avenue. The pipe is piled along the sides of the road.

Sgt. Irving Reardon went to the area and had the pipe replaced back on to the side of the road out of the way of traffic. The boys were not located.

Boy Found Sleeping Near By-Pass

A nine-year-old boy who was reported missing from his home at 9 p.m. Wednesday night was found Thursday morning, sleeping behind a tree off Skillings road, near the Washington street intersection. The boy was sleeping in a burlap bag and was found by his parents who took him home.

Adult Education Classes

Start September 28

Classes in Winchester's adult education fall program will begin on Monday evening, September 28. A variety of courses is being offered to meet varying tastes.

For the first time here, a course will be given in the increasingly popular medium of silk screening. The instructor, Mr. Wilfred Walsh of Woburn, holds a master of education degree from Calvin Coolidge College, and has had vocational training with the State Department of Education.

In addition to his teaching experiences in silk screening in the Woburn and Lexington evening classes, Mr. Walsh has appeared on television for the Department of Education, where he demonstrated methods of silk screening for their "Do It Yourself Program."

The class in elementary mineralogy with Mr. Joseph Giacalone as instructor was so successful last fall that it is again being offered for those people with an interest in minerals, but who have not had any formal training in mineralogy. Mr. Giacalone, with two degrees from Boston University, is presently an instructor in the science department of his Alma Mater, and is a member of the American Institute of Metals.

For women there will be two classes in sewing. Sewing I is a course for the beginner who wishes to learn how to make attractive, economical clothing from simple patterns. The instructor is Mrs. Clifford Mathews, a graduate of the Regional College of Art, Manchester, England, where she majored in dress design. She has taught pattern making at the County Council Evening classes in London, and she has done freelance fashion illustrations in the United States.

Winchester Man

Gets Atlantic Gelatin Post

Keith Baldwin of Winchester has joined the Atlantic Gelatin (Atgel) Division of General Foods in Woburn as assistant sales manager. It was announced today by Clement H. Watson, general manager. He reports to Dr. J. Avery Dunn, sales manager.

The appointment of Mr. Baldwin to the executive sales staff is part of Atgel's new product expansion program, Mr. Watson said. In addition to edible, photographic, pharmaceutical, and technical gelatins, Atgel produces citrus pectins and for industrial uses.

Mr. Baldwin was formerly assistant sales manager of the Stervin Chemical Division of Sterling Drug Company, where for the past ten years, he worked primarily with customers in the food and pharmaceutical industries. He was graduated from Hamilton College in 1940 with a B.S. degree and received his master's degree in food chemistry from Cornell University in 1942.

He is a member of the Institute of Food Technologists and the American Oil Chemists' Society. During World War II he served with the Quartermaster Corps, U. S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, their 16-year-old daughter, Sharon, and their 13-year-old son, Charles, have moved into their new home at 27 Canterbury road, Winchester, from their former home in Closter, New Jersey.

The class in elementary mineralogy with Mr. Joseph Giacalone as instructor was so successful last fall that it is again being offered for those people with an interest in minerals, but who have not had any formal training in mineralogy. Mr. Giacalone, with two degrees from Boston University, is presently an instructor in the science department of his Alma Mater, and is a member of the American Institute of Metals.

For women there will be two classes in sewing. Sewing I is a course for the beginner who wishes to learn how to make attractive, economical clothing from simple patterns. The instructor is Mrs. Clifford Mathews, a graduate of the Regional College of Art, Manchester, England, where she majored in dress design. She has taught pattern making at the County Council Evening classes in London, and she has done freelance fashion illustrations in the United States.

Mr. James Loftus will teach the advanced course in sewing, which will be valuable for those who wish to add "the professional touch" to their wardrobe. Mrs. Loftus, a resident of Winchester, is a graduate of Simmons College, and has taught at Dean Academy and in the public schools.

The fascinating hobby of rug braiding will be taught again by Mrs. Frank Gallagher. She is a member of the Woburn Arts and Crafts Guild, and has had several years' experience in adult classes. Her course is open to beginners and those who have had previous instruction.

Mr. Raymond Allen returns for his sixth term to teach the techniques of upholstery, a useful skill for "do-it-yourself fans." For those who plan to replace a large chair, it would be advisable to enroll for two successive terms. Mr. Allen conducts his own upholstery business. His special training was done at the Roberts Technical School in New York.

The course in typing offers an opportunity to learn the touch system, to type letters, and to make simple tabulations. It can also be considered a refresher course for those who feel the need. This class will be taught for the second year by Mrs. Andrew Kehoe, who is a graduate of St. Mary College. As usual, students must enroll for both the fall and winter terms.

The advertisement in this issue of the Star lists the fourteen courses available through this program.

Registration in person will be held on Monday evening in the Winchester Senior High School from 7 to 8:30, so that you may stop here first at the main lounge on your way to town meeting. You may also register by mail after the distribution of pamphlets next week. Checks for the proper fee, made payable to the Town of Winchester, should be sent along with the registration to the assistant superintendent of schools at 426 Main street.

Dear friends,

We believe every reader will agree with us that poor service in the funeral directing profession is dear at any price. You want, above all, service of the highest type. Cost is secondary.

On the other hand, you want the price to be fair. And in that connection, we are perfectly willing that our prices be compared with any other establishment giving the same type of service.

Respectfully,

Call Box

There was a good turnout of auxiliary police this past Labor Day week end. For four successive nights these men were placed strategically on the heavily traveled main roads of Winchester.

It was a pleasant tribute to the Town of Winchester having these men give up their holiday to aid in the reduction of highway accidents.

Brad Johnson, a new man in the auxiliaries, made a two-hour trip from New Hampshire just to take his tour of duty, after which he returned to New Hampshire. This sort of spirit deserves a pat on the back not only from the auxies, but all the people of Winchester.

The record is our only reward. There were no accidents in Winchester over the long Labor Day week end.

Football Jamboree Here Sept. 19

Winchester will have its first football jamboree on Saturday afternoon, September 19, when the Sachems, Stoneham, Wellesley, Lexington, Dedham, Reading, Natick and Milton will play in one half of a two-field Bay State-Middlesex League Jamboree at Manchester Field. The other half, played at Framingham, Walpole, Concord, Belmont, Needham, Wakefield, Braintree and Melrose.

Play at both fields commences at 1 p.m. At Manchester Field, Stoneham opens with Wellesley, playing 15 minutes, after which Lexington and Dedham go on for an equal length of time, taking the field where it is left on the field by the preceding teams.

Following a 10-minute intermission Stoneham plays Dedham and Lexington takes on Wellesley. Reading and Natick follow Lexington and Wellesley, after which Winchester goes on with Milton, both for 15 minutes. After a 10-minute break Reading plays Milton and Winchester closes the jamboree with Natick.

Winchester has never appeared in a jamboree before, nor has there ever been one, so far as our memory serves, on Manchester Field. Many local fans are interested in the event and a good crowd is expected.

W.H.S. Gridders Scrimmaged Watertown

Winchester High School's football reached the scrimmage stage this week Wednesday when Coach Henry Knowlton took his squad to Watertown to scrimmage the Indians' old rival, Watertown High.

The Sachems were without a couple of key players who were ill with minor ailments, but Coach Knowlton was pleased with his squad's showing, the local boys showing up well while the first two teams were on the field.

Coach Knowlton used pretty much his whole squad against the Scariet, while Watertown stuck closely to its first group. Naturally while the tag end of the local squad was in action Winchester did not appear to advantage, but the purpose of the scrimmage was to indicate the potential of new boys while under fire, and Coach Knowlton was much more interested in seeing how his replacements worked out than he was in scoring.

Somerville comes to Winchester for a scrimmage this afternoon and next week Tuesday Winchester will scrimmage Class A Arlington. The following Saturday Winchester plays Natick and Milton in a football jamboree at Manchester Field. Following is a complete list of candidates:

"Quality Is Our Most Precious Asset"

EDITORIAL

We have met no one who has not strongly condemned the tampering with the clock in the steeple of the First Congregational Church. Many depend upon this clock for the time when they are in the center and are upset when it fails to function. The Star is well aware of this by the number and frequency of the calls we get when the clock has been occasionally out of order in the past.

Tuesday of this week, after the holiday week-end, it was discovered that vandals had climbed the staging erected around the steeple by men at work there and had changed to a different time the clock faces on three of the four sides of the steeple, smashing the hands from the face on the fourth side, facing Wedge Pond.

The town is responsible for the upkeep of the clock, and it will not be an inexpensive job to get it back into correct running order. The taxpayers must pay this bill, just as they must pay for a new bath house to replace the one burned at Leonard Field Beach and for other damage to town property constantly being reported to the Police. Only recently it was discovered that several expensive flood lights had been broken at the Park Headquarters near the town yard.

There seems to be a growing tendency on the part of the young idea of the town to smash, destroy, put out of commission, or spoil it for somebody else; even to the extent of depriving themselves of community assets for the sake of the pure cussedness involved in destroying them. What do we do about it?

Some of the more old fashioned feel strongly that Gilbert & Sullivan's Mikado in his dedication to the principal of making "the punishment fit the crime" had the right idea. Others feel that such actions by young people against the public well being are the result of society's failure to understand the needs of modern youth. In chatting with a recent high school graduate we were told that a YMCA or recreation building would soon have the boys and girls hanging around the center out of the square and engaged in wholesome activities. We wonder! It might just do it!

Meanwhile, what do we do now? We recall reading where a Police Chief in a relatively small town cured a group of boys of breaking milk bottles in the street by providing them with heavy street-sweepers' brooms and making them sweep the entire Main street of the town to the town line. An officer was detailed to keep the boys zeal from flagging, and an interested audience was in attendance. If the proof of the pudding was in the eating in that case, the Police Chief had the solution of the problem. None of the youthful broom-wielders wanted any part of an encore and none of the young idea looking on hankered to try the sweeping!

We imagine some years ago, if the boys who broke a lot of glass at a local greenhouse had been detailed each day after school and Saturdays to work out the cost of replacement at the greenhouse, weeding, digging, fertilizing, or doing other chores, much of the urge to break more glass would have been dissipated for them and their pals.

As we remember it, their dads paid the bills, and had the incident occurred in what is sometimes called the "good old days," the boys would very probably have had good cause to regret the glass breakage with, or without invoking the police and courts. Their parents would have seen to that!

Many believe the return of a much stricter parental control of young people is what is needed. Certainly we see many instances of parental indifference to what their youngsters are doing. Driving automobiles before reaching the licensing age is a case in point. It is pretty hard to plead parental ignorance of this defiance of the law!

But getting back to the Congregational clock! The Police are trying to locate the culprits, and the Police are quite successful on the whole in locating the authors of youthful depredations. If and when they do locate those responsible, no mistaken idea of "letting it go this time" should apply. Even if we didn't care about such cavalier treatment of a town time-piece in a church steeple, we should be concerned with bringing home to those who did it the danger to life and limb that was a big part of this senseless stunt.

The Star was pleased to learn that there is to be an official probe of the prompt return of licenses to hit-and-run drivers. Many would like to see the probe widened to include those driving under the influence of liquor, driving so as to endanger and those driving at speeds in excess of what is reasonable and proper. Loss of license seems to be the best way to cope with anti-social driving, but it will never be effective until it is really made to stick, and for long enough to make the guilty driver see the error of his way.

The O'Donnells Write Home

With a "hoot mon" and a bit skirrri o' th' pipes, a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Dannie O'Donnell arrived at the Star Office last week, Friday, date-lined from Renfrew, Scotland.

Dannie is of course the recently retired head custodian of Winchester High School, who with Mrs. O'Donnell, is enjoying a well earned vacation in his native Scotland, with visits to England, Ireland and the continent.

The card to the Star was written just after the O'Donnells returned from the "land o' Bobbie Burns," the immortal Scottish bard, whose works Dan reads so superbly, and has read to high school senior classes for so many years.

Dan writes that the weather has been wonderful and the temperature for what he calls a "heat wave," has been 78 degrees.

The old pro saw his first soccer game in many years and during a rugged bit of work one of the players got knocked out. Dan said he sort of expected to see Coach Knowlton and Trainer Lou Goddu run out on the field, but instead a doctor responded and called the Red Cross men with a stretcher to carry the injured player from the pitch.

Dan said he saw by the next morning's paper that the player's name was on the danger list, but as he was being carried to the clubhouse, a supporter of the rival team yelled, "Kick him! He's living yet!" They really take sides for soccer in Scotland.

Dan and the Mrs. are having a "grrrand" time in the land "o' the heather and th' kilts" though Dannie "does na say" whether he has been wearing them. If so Freddie Morris would be interested! He sends his best to all his friends in Winchester and says he will be seeing them when his money runs out!

Answer to Maiden's Prayer

Prominent make-up artist Jack Stein of Boston is practically "the answer to a maiden's prayer" (or a matron's either, for that matter) because of the way he can transform and beautify faces.

The Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A. is proud to have secured the services of Mr. Stein for its September 30th benefit show, "Hairsdos and Homines," at the junior high school.

Highly skilled Mr. Stein will glamorize with make-up the lovely local and professional models clad in bizarre or beautiful old-time gowns or awkward sacks of the '20's (commentary by stylist Miss Cerena of the Tawney Salon); and, lastly, the girls wearing ultra-smart newest-of-the-new styles from Cyreld of Rome, Paris and Coolidge Corner (commentary by TV's Jack Chase).

Emerson College has honored Mr. Stein with a degree of master of science. Presently, he is an instructor in make-up there. Winchester remembers him for his excellent work in a couple of Winton Club shows. Since that time, he has gone on to groom many stage, screen and TV celebrities, including Ralph Edwards of "This Is Your Life," Jerry Vale, and Anna Marie Alberghetti.

NEW HOME OF DEAN JOHN U. MONRO

Harvard Building New Home for Dean

A new house for the dean of Harvard College in the midst of the residence halls of upperclassmen will be named in honor of the man who, 56 years ago, helped effect the land purchases along the Charles River on which the Harvard houses now stand.

To be known as Forbes House, after Edward Waldo Forbes, long director of the Fogg Art Museum, the contemporary-style building will serve both as a home for Dean John U. Monro and his family, who now live in Winchester, and as another focal point of undergraduate activity close to the residence centers of upperclass students.

Forbes House, a two-story wood and brick structure, will be built at the corner of DeWolfe and Grant streets, across from Harvard's new Quincy House and back from the new Leverett House towers. It will be a short block from Memorial Drive along the Charles River. Ample yards, sheltered by fencing, will provide space for outdoor entertaining.

An entrance court, bearing an inscription in honor of Mr. Forbes, will open on the L-shaped house, with a long living room along Grant street; and the dean's study, dining room, kitchen, utilities and garage on DeWolfe street. The second floor contains the family room and bedrooms. The house is arranged to provide, in addition, a private apartment for a visiting scholar. The design is by The Architects Collaborative, with Benjamin F. Thompson in charge.

"It is surely fitting that the new house for the dean of Harvard College should be named in honor of Edward Waldo Forbes," President Nathan M. Pusey said. "Among his many enduring contributions to the life of this university, Edward Forbes was the man with the foresight and energy to organize the group which quietly purchased, parcel by parcel, much of the land along the Cambridge side of the Charles on which a number of the Harvard residential houses now are located. Forbes House, as the new home of the dean of Harvard College, will now stand nearby, in the midst of undergraduate life, a lasting tribute to a beloved Harvard figure."

Mr. Pusey pointed out that the dean's house will become an important center of undergraduate life, one more place where teachers and students can meet, form friendships and share the experience of college. It can be used for receptions or for smaller meetings between staff and students.

Dean and Mrs. Monro, who now live in Winchester at 24 Park road, have two daughters: Ann, a student at Colby College, and Janet, a freshman at Mt. Holyoke College.

Fires

September 8. Mrs. Fred Stock, well of 2 Cabot street called at 12:35 p.m. to report that there was a fire in her garage. Box 58 was put on from the station and Engines 1 and 3, the ladder and rescue trucks responded. Firefighters found that the fire, which was in a lawn mower, was out on arrival.

At 9:43 p.m. several reports were received of a fire at the old Berge and Cobb plant on Swanton street. Box 42 was sounded from the station and Engines 1 and 3, Aerial Ladder 1 and the rescue truck responded, as did several auxiliary firefighters. There were three separate fires in debris in the basement of the building caused by cutting and burning equipment which has been used to dismantle the factory.

Cosmetics Dealers Find New Markets in Jungles

In the universal arts of beauty, today's jungle matron is becoming as discriminating as a Fifth Avenue shopper.

So at least reports the manager of an Australian cosmetics firm who recently returned from a visit to customers in the New Guinea wilderness.

Many South Seas tribesmen, he said, now prefer chemical dyes and synthetic perfumes for ceremonial decoration and "sing-sing" war paint. Abandoning traditional clay-re and pig-fat preparations, they call for sweet-scented brilliantine, hydrogen peroxide, and talcum powders.

Some even have special colors made up, as Western women order individual face-powder blends. One New Guinea customer gave the traveling salesman a local red flower to take home and copy in sing-sing paint.

Nature's Paints Still Used

Cosmetics dealers in the Pacific's highly specialized jungle trade already complain of growing competition. But the industry is young. Before it lies a world of untapped backland markets.

A survey of National Geographic Magazine articles discloses any number of little-traveled regions where primitive peoples still mix, pound, and roll their own makeup from nature's bounty.

In the upriver wilds of South America's British Guiana, for instance, exploring archeologists found the Wai Wai, a tribe of bow-and-arrow Indians who paint their shaved eyebrows, faces, and bodies with a red liquid made from the coating of the urucu seed. They use red because they believe evil spirits cannot see anything so colored, giving them immunity from harmful spells.

The Wai Wai, especially the men, are inveterate primers. They start the day with an elaborate toilet, combing and anointing their long black hair with palm-nut oil before binding it into tight pigtails.

No less interested in appearance are the Choco Indians of the remote highlands of Panama. They wear a short, straight bob, well brushed and oiled, and splash their bodies with nature's red and black pigments extracted from fruits and seeds.

Anything Handy Goes

In out-of-the-way spots around the globe, almost anything handy is likely to turn up in beautifying or ritual-serving cosmetics.

Solomon Islanders of the South Pacific bleach their hair and eyebrows white with convenient coral-ine paste. Tribespeople in the Transvaal Territory of the Union of South Africa daub themselves with the abundant yellow and red ochre pigments found in the soil. Villagers in India brush their teeth with twigs dipped in toothpowders of ground almond shells, cloves, black pepper, charcoal, and bone.

A popular beauty treatment practiced by women in India's Himalayan region of Ladakh is to rub their cheeks with the juice of a small berry, similar to a gooseberry. The covering not only serves as an anti-sunburn cream, but allegedly tightens the skin and smooths out wrinkles. For added effect a pattern in the fruit's tiny seeds is traced on the cheeks.

In many Middle East lands, women still follow the ancient custom of staining their hands with dye from the henna shrub, and darkening their eyelashes and shadowing their eyes with kohl, or powdered antimony.

In fact, both the homemade cosmetics and the highly-refined and glamorous products turned out by modern chemical factories often are compounded from aromatic gums, oils, and fats in use for thousands of years.

Today's expensive lotions, creams, and lipsticks contain mineral and vegetable oils and natural fragrances of flowers and spices gathered from the ends of the earth. The Biblical frankincense and myrrh, carried by Wise Men as precious gifts to Bethlehem, still stand on perfume-makers shelves, along with the latest synthetic scents from the laboratory.

"WELL, THAT ABOUT DOES IT"

Firefighters mop up at fire in basement of the big shop at Berge & Cobb tannery. The shop is being torn down and three fires were found in debris in the basement. With two floors above the basement, the fire had real potential. Box 42 came in at 9:43 p.m. and the men had a fight of nearly three hours before finally subduing the fire.

Local Swimmers Aided Stoneham in MDC Meet

Largely through the ability of Winchester swimmers the Stoneham Pool team finished second to Somerville in the Metropolitan District Commission inter-pool meet at the Charlesbank Pool last Friday morning, September 4. Only pools in the MDC system were eligible to compete and there were seven entered.

Finishing behind Winchester were Watertown, Waltham, Charlesbank, Cambridge and Brighton.

The Winchester boys and girls acquitted themselves well in the strong competition, taking six first places and four seconds in the 24 events. Individual medals will be sent the winners, and the team trophy will go to Somerville.

Starring for Winchester in the junior division for boys 12 to 15 years was 14-year-old Barry Littleton. Barry picked up three first places, winning the breast stroke, with teammate, Joe Kane, third; the back stroke and the free style.

The Kelsey sisters, Winifred, 10; and Valerie, 8; did well in the midget class for girls 8 to 10 years. Winifred won the free style and placed third in the breast stroke, Valerie won the back stroke.

In the cadet division for girls 10 to 12, Jeanne Peterson, 12, placed first and Linda Colliander, 11, second. Linda also finished second in the back stroke and third in the free style.

In the girls junior division, 12 to 15, Silvia Pirrotta, 14, placed second in the breast stroke, and in the senior open for boys, David Govoni, a Winchester boy, who coached Stoneham, placed third in the individual medley.

Paul Timmerman of Stoneham finished second in the free style for cadet boys, 10 to 12.

Each pool was permitted two entries for each event, totalling 14 competitors in each class. Noreen Johnson, Red Cross water safety director for Winchester, coached the Winchester swimmers, who competed with the Stoneham team, coached by David Govoni of Robinson Park, a qualified water safety instructor who teaches at the Stoneham pool.

Winchester Basketball League

Despite the fact that many participants in the summer basketball program have already returned to school, there are still several college boys reporting to the Ginn Field courts for this wholesome form of recreation. These college boys will be playing next week on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, starting at 7:00 p.m. on an informal basis.

The games of the regular season have ended for the summer, but informal games will be enjoyed for the next two final weeks. After these two weeks, the boys will then hit the road leading to their respective institutions of higher learning and we certainly wish them all the best.

Boys still showing interest in playing until the last possible hour are Jim Wright, Mark Apsey, Nick Fitzgerald, Anchor Murphy, Rodney Long, Mike Callahan, Jim Fitzgerald, Dave Bergquist, Lou Ackerman, Dave and Hank Schumacher, and Jim Phillips.

Remember, these boys will be in action on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Ginn Field at 7:00. Come down and see them in their final contests. Cheer them on and wish them luck!

Wyanoke Awards to Winchester Boys

Camp Wyanoke announces that at the Farewell Banquet of the 51st season the following Winchester boys received awards:

Stuart A. Davis, a gold Activity Award symbolic of qualifying for an Activity Award in each of the three sections of the camp. In fifty-one years fewer than one hundred boys have earned this medal, a real honor. Stuart also won the Senior Manual of Arms Prize Drill, and named with his partner to win the Senior Canoe Race.

Harold J. Mugford, Jr., won the Junior Camp Swim Meet.

J. Paul Sheeran, Jr., with his partner, won the Midget Doubles Tennis Tournament, and Paul, Kevin Lynch, George O'Brien, and Ricky Grenzbeck, won Midget Baseball Medals. Paul also won the Midget Wrestling award in his weight class and was judged an outstanding Midget wrestler.

Paul C. Keleher, Jr., and his partner, won the Junior Canoe Race, and Paul earned his Red Cross Junior Life Saving badge. Paul and Chip Lewis and Joe Lynch won Junior Baseball Medals.

Jim Allen, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, won the Senior Sailing trophy and was, of course, a Senior Skipper along with Stuart Davis. Harold Mugford was a Junior Skipper.

The Gould Position Trophy for Rifery, donated by former Winchester resident, George D. Gould, was won by Barry Morse, of Needham.

In the activity award system Jim Allen was the leading Senior Gray. Laurie Connor, Ricky Grenzbeck, and Paul Sheeran won awards in the Midget Camp.

In the Junior Camp, Kevin Connor, Paul Keleher, Chris Townner, and Russ Hatch won activity awards, while in the Senior Camp, in addition to Stuart Davis, medals were won by Jim Allen and Ricky Connor.

Brad Bentley, of Winchester, director of Wyanoke, acted as Master of Ceremonies at the banquet.

Tennis Tournament Starts

Tomorrow, September 12, at 9 a.m., tournament chairman, Bob Mulford will assign combat zones at the Palmer courts to all the big cannon and lesser pop guns lined up in the annual town championships tournament. A few practice swings for each player and the men's and women's singles will get under way.

Somewhere in that field will be the 1958 champions; they may surprise themselves and everyone else. The fence-sitters have their favorites. But each of the challengers thinks he can beat his own record to date, play that bit better to carry him into the next round, and probably has his excuses all ready.

Nostalgia for the good old take-all-comers amateur days being the new trend among tennis pros and semi-pros, some of the Winchester players of invitation tournament caliber may re-appear for this traditional contest. In that case spectators will get a free treat and there may be some exciting upsets by the quarter-finals.

With five events to run off—singles and doubles for men and women plus the mixed doubles, the tournament committee will be fighting the clock all week end and players must appear on schedule or be defaulted. Players also are to provide their own balls, towels, coaches, claque and pep pills. If bad weather develops, but that won't happen.

During the two-month training period, Cadets Monier and Harkins and other members of the U. S. Military Academy class of 1962 received instruction in the operation and use of all infantry and artillery weapons.

Monier, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Monier, 534 Tremont avenue, Westfield, is a 1956 graduate of Westfield High School.

Harkins, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Harkins, 7 Samoset road, is a 1958 graduate of Winchester High School.

Teaching Assistants Appointed

Last September, the Winchester School Department introduced a plan whereby persons with college degrees, interested in becoming teachers, were employed to assist regular teachers whose classes were too large. Under an "apprenticeship" plan developed by the department, these assistants working full time in the classrooms proved a great help to the classroom teachers, meanwhile receiving valuable experience in all phases of classroom instruction.

Begun in the Mystic School last year, this plan will be continued there and in the Parkhurst School where enrollments in certain grades this year are too large for effective teaching. Serving as teaching assistants will be Mrs. Sally A. Batchelder of Wakefield, Mrs. Angela B. Dyson of Winchester, Mrs. Judith J. Emerson of Weston, and Mrs. Ruth E. Graham of Woburn.

The State Department of Education has approved this teaching-assistant program for state certification in lieu of the practice teaching required of those who wish to teach in the public schools of Massachusetts.

Two Boys Found Shooting BB Guns

Two boys were apprehended Friday evening when police were informed that they were shooting BB guns near Madison avenue west. The possession of BB guns in Winchester is prohibited.

Officers John Boyle and Roland Roy investigated and found the boys, one from Lincolnshire way and one from Reading, firing the guns. The guns were taken away from them.

Library News

Boys' and Girls' Room

The "Book Worm" proved to be a popular incentive reading program for children this summer. In spite of the lure of beaches, ponds, and camps, 420 boys and girls were actively participating in this program, and of that number, 202 completed the required ten books.

One fellow, after reporting on his last book, breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Now I'm a full-blooded worm." His scientific facts may be wrong, but his pride in achievement was the important factor of the moment.

A first grader was being encouraged by the Librarian. "That was a very interesting report," she said. "I thought so, too" was the youngsters' quick retort.

We commend the young people who accepted the challenge of this program. They have taken a big step on the road to good reading habits. They are learning, as Thoreau learned, "Books are the treasure wealth of the world, the fit inheritance of generations and nations."

New Telephone For Children's Room

Parkview 9-5340.

A separate telephone line has been installed in the Children's Room to enable borrowers to call direct without having to be transferred from the adult library. Many times, efficient service could not be given patrons calling to renew books or ask for information due to the number of calls coming to the library daily.

When calling the Children's Room, dial Parkview 9-5340; the Adult Department, Parkview 9-3770. Calls can no longer be transferred from PA 9-3770 to the Children's Room.

Library Open Saturdays

Beginning September 19

Winchester Boat Club News

Winchester Boat Club was not to be outdone in "Labor Day Week-End" spirit. The week end proved to be beautiful and sunny, which brought out a great crowd. Although no official snipe races were held, Dick Winkler won on Saturday, with Dick Patrick and Clarence Borggaard second and third. Sunday Clarence Borggaard finished first, and second and third went to Dick Winkler and Herb Alderson.

Although the snipe races were unofficial, the turnouts were out for "blood" and the Dillon Cup. Three races were scheduled for the week end; but due to the light air, only two were held, and one was postponed. Winning the first was Robb Dannenberg, with Warren Dannenberg second and Linda Chase third. Walter Clark, Buzz Hall, and Rob Dannenberg were the first three in the second.

On the holiday, swimming races were held. The following won first places:

6 years—James McClusky
7-8 years—Alan Raphael
9-10 years—Ann Bubser
11-12 years, girls—Kandy McConnell

11-12 years, boys—Bill O'Malley
Girls 13, over—Pat Ramsey
Boys 13—Bill McConnell
Boys 14, over—Al Bonney
Diving, open—Kandy McConnell
During the intermission, Pat Gawlinski, life guard and diving champ, gave an exhibition.

Also, a ping-pong tournament was held. Bob D'Errio won the championship, after playing three close, fast and fascinating games against second-place winner Dick Chase.

Also this week end in Winthrop, several snipers raced in the Cottage Park Regatta. Tom Legere brought home a beautiful first-place trophy; Carl Freyer won second place. Rod Long, Dick Cook, Dick Ivers, Commodore Ralph Swanson and Ken Cook also sailed, some doing well.

Next week end the turnabout seniors will have their chance to sponsor a regatta, the National Senior Turnabout Championship, which will be held here. Forty to fifty-five boats are expected. On Saturday a chicken pie supper will be held. Fred Lawton, former skipper of the Columbia, will be on hand to show colored film of the America's Cup race.

Tickets for Navy-B.C. Game Here Saturday

Those who have ordered tickets for the Navy-Boston College football game on Saturday, September 19, at the new Boston College stadium, can pick them up this Saturday at the Winchester Sport Shop. Bob Livingston, chairman of the local ticket committee, urges all who have ordered tickets to pick them up Saturday, as those which are not claimed must be returned to Navy.

The seats local fans will occupy are choice ones and those who have been to Boston College say the Eagles' new stadium is a great place to see a football game. Parking facilities, however, are somewhat limited, and those who arrive shortly before kickoff time are not going to find places just outside the field!

Winchester's interest, aside from a potentially fine football game, lies in the fact that two former high school football stars, Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo, third classmen at Annapolis, are on the Navy team. A year ago a big delegation of local fans went in to see these boys play for Navy against Boston University at old Braves Field.

Clock on Church Tower Stopped, Broken by Vandals

The clock on the steeple of the First Congregational Church was broken over the week end by vandals.

Harry Stabile, who is in charge of alterations to the church, told police Tuesday that the clocks were broken after 1 p.m. Saturday. Evidently someone had climbed the staging and had changed the hands on three faces of the clock and broke the hands on the clock facing Wedge Pond.

This is the second time reports have been received that someone had been on the staging. The police are checking on the site daily.

Unitarian Church

On Sunday morning, September 13, the Unitarian Church will resume services with Rev. Robert A. Storer preaching on the topic: "Genesis." This will inaugurate a year of Bible emphasis. Throughout the following Sundays, Mr. Storer will make use of a book of the Bible as a sermon topic. A few minutes at the beginning of the sermon will be utilized to describe the book, and when and how it came to be written.

The sermons will deal with present-day problems suggesting how old and eternal truths as found in the particular books may be applied. This same procedure will be followed in the Upper School worship service in order that the entire family may have a course in Biblical literature on the same Sunday. This plan was evolved as a result of an expressed need for a deeper understanding of our Bible.

On September 20, Church School registration will be held, followed by a Family Service with a dedication of teachers. Directly after the morning worship, a family picnic will be held at the Sheep Fold. In case of rain, the picnic will be held in the Parish Hall.

Enters Airlines School

LaVerne B. Layne of 9 Harvard street has been accepted for training at the Bay State Academy Airlines School at Boston.

The specialized program of study chosen by Miss Layne is part of an intensive period of instruction conducted in the airline resident training course.

Upon graduation from the school, LaVerne will be qualified to accept a position with any one of the major transportation companies and airlines, either international or domestic. This position may be in the reservation-sales department, flight or ground passenger service section, space control, communications, traffic, general office, and related departments. ### Mystic Valley Gas Offers Bargains

Dave Beattie wishes to announce that with the coming of the fall season, the Mystic Valley Gas Company is offering some genuine bargains of quality merchandise. Included in the bargains are cooking ranges, heating ranges, clothes dryers, space heaters, refrigerators, water heaters and incinerators.
The Mystic Valley Gas Company is offering a clothes dryer for as little as $179.50 installed and vented to the outside. Now that the cold, damp season is about to descend on us, a clothes dryer is a must for all homes, particularly where there are young children. A clothes dryer is a wonderful gift for any occasion since it offers a tremendous saving in time, energy and money.
For anyone concerned with the heating of any room or basement playroom, the gas space heater is the answer. We have heaters suitable for practically any unheated area in your home.

Cramped for space in your old refrigerator? If this is a problem to you, we have a big reduction (as much as $200.00 on some models) to offer you. A gas refrigerator is guaranteed for a period of ten years.

With chilly mornings just around the corner, we are featuring gas heating kitchen ranges as low as $199.50. This price includes delivery and normal installation. We also have straight cooking ranges from $107.00, completely installed.
Is rubbish disposal a problem to you and your family? A gas incinerator is your answer to rubbish disposal.
Gas is fastest for heating hot water. Come in and see our automatic M. V. GAS, continued on page 14

Breck Permanents Featured at Marcel Salon

Breck permanents, one of the best permanents which can be obtained, are featured at the Marcel Beauty Salon, at 169 Washington street. One of the leading brands, Breck's offers three different types of permanent wave lotions: Severe, Breck Beautiful and Enduring, which is a 10-minute wave.
Much softer than other permanent waves, Breck's makes a more natural wave because it is made from fine ingredients. The Marcel Beauty Salon will participate in the Breck coupon plan.

Also featured at the Salon is the Wella Kolesterol Concentrate for dry scalp. This hair treatment which is applied with a steam cap to get it deep into the hair, softens and conditions lustreless, dried or over-bleached hair. This treatment is recommended before and after a permanent.
Marcel Beauty Salon also has a complete line of Clairol tints and bleaching products which have proved to be very popular.

Owned by Mrs. Margaret Corrigan, the Marcel Beauty Salon can offer any hair style. Unlike other salons which offer a complete beauty service, Marcel specializes in hair cutting and other hair treatments.

Professional Nurses' Group

The next meeting of the Professional Nurses' Group will be at 8 p.m. on September 17, at the Nurses Home of the Choate Hospital, Woburn.

This group is open to all registered nurses from Woburn and surrounding towns. The meetings are held on the third Thursday of every month. After a short business meeting there is an informative talk by a leading physician, followed by a question and answer period.

Anyone desiring further information may obtain it by calling either of the following: President, Mrs. Eunice Reardon, PA 9-4037; Vice President, Mrs. Constance Christmas, BR 2-3299.

We hope all who can will attend and help us make this group grow. It is an excellent opportunity to keep up with all the latest trends in modern medicine and makes an ideal refresher course for those who have been out of contact with nursing through the years.

Accident on Wildwood Street

Theodore Coirier of 16 Howe street, Somerville, was involved in a freak accident Monday at 4 p.m. while he was traveling on Wildwood street.

Mr. Coirier was driving a Ford sedan and was making a left turn into Fletcher street when the door on the driver's side flew open and while closing it, the car went to the left side of the road, sideswiped a tree and ended up in the property of Adolph Hermann of 20 Wildwood street.

The left front door was damaged but no injuries were reported.

M. V. Gas

Participating in a summer Midshipman training cruise aboard the Atlantic Fleet radar picket destroyer USS Vesole, is Midshipman 1/c Peter W. McKenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McKenny of 12 Ravine road. While on the cruise, he visited the ports of Palma, Spain; Cannes, France and Gibraltar, British Crown Colony. The Vesole was scheduled to return to her home port in Norfolk, Va., September 7.

News from the Dovers

The Star received a letter last week from an old friend, Harold Dover, who with his wife, Maude, former secretary at the Mystic School, is now making his home near his daughter, Edith, and her family in Frederick, Md. Harold, who was a member of the Winchester Jenney Station staff, writes that they like it in the south, and it just could be of course that his daughter's new swimming pool has contributed to their pleasure. The Dover family used to like their swimming at Palmer in the old days.

It's hot in Frederick, according to Harold, most days being over 90, but he says the Southerners have adopted the philosophy of taking it easy when the weather is too hot and letting the work wait for a time when you don't have to sweat too much getting it done. Incidentally his work in Frederick is of the paper variety, which he says is much easier than shifting tires and putting on chains in a blizzard.

Harold and Maude get the Star regularly every Saturday and through it keep abreast of happenings in the old home town. Harold says there isn't much chance of their coming back to Winchester to stay, but they are looking forward to a visit with old friends here next year.

Another Report of Broken Windows on Sheffield Road

A resident of Sheffield road called police Tuesday to report that six windows had been broken in the rear of his garage during the past six weeks. This is the second time that similar incidents have been reported in that area.

The windows were 12 inches by 18 inches. The police route officer was notified.

Mrs. Corrigan has had the salon for 16 years and in that time has served customers from many parts of the world, including Scandinavia and Italy. Many of the patrons are visitors from these distant lands and others are local people who travel there.

Mrs. Corrigan attends the hair style shows in Boston each year and shortly will attend the tinting and bleaching sessions at the Statler. She was born and brought up in Winchester and attended the local schools before graduating from the Mansfield Academy in Boston.

Working with Mrs. Corrigan is Olga, who is a graduate of the Wilfred Academy. She was formerly with the Jordan Marsh Company. Mrs. Corrigan will add another girl this fall.

Boys Smash Beer Bottles; Hit Driver of Car

The police were told Sunday night that a group of boys were causing a disturbance on Canal street. The boys were identified as a group who live on Main street near the center.

The boys were throwing glass beer bottles at a passing car and smashing them on the roadway. The driver of the car, a Charlestown man, reported that a bottle had broken a window in his car and he had been cut by the glass.

Spaulding's

In the greeting card line there are selections by Hallmark, Norcross and several others, gift wrappings and ribbons. With the addition of the back section of the shop last year the store was greatly enlarged and has provided space for customers to browse.

Spaulding's is run by Miss Edith M. Spurr, who has been in command of the store since 1954, when she purchased it from Mary Spaulding. Born and brought up in the Wakefield-Reading area, Miss Spurr was graduated from Colby Junior College and the University of New Hampshire, where she studied to be a laboratory technician. Miss Spurr spent the summer moving from South Hampton, N. H., to Stratham and will eventually have another outlet of rare and out-of-print books. The newly acquired house and buildings were built in 1741 and all the old features are intact.

New Local Firm Congratulated on Boating Invention

The Daco Products division of the Diamond Antenna & Microwave Corporation has recently received commendation from the boating, automobile and workshop industries for new inventions which have been perfected by the firm. The major innovation was in the boating field. Starting in October the Daco Products division will be housed in the Winchester plant on River street.

The Daco affiliate was formed as the result of a new machine invention called the Daco Cutall Saw which is capable of cutting out any intricate shape or figure to a degree of detail and fineness unknown to be previously mechanically possible. So fine is this saw that it can cut the liberty head out of a dime and can cut any material except glass.

With its affiliation with Daco the Diamond Antenna and Microwave Corp. is extending its diversification one step further into other spheres since this is an offering of a consumer product. Diamond is active in the electronics industry.

Instead of marketing the Cutall saw at present, Diamond is planning to concentrate on the variety of products it is capable of producing for market purposes.

Albert S. Hovanessian, president of the firm, says that already the demand for Daco's high compression, solid metal blow-out proof thermal gaskets for motor boats is great.

It offers more power, more fuel economy, easier starting, cooler operation and smaller repair bills for the outboard motor owner, he said.

Testimonials of product acceptance and efficiency of the newly developed gasket have gone beyond "our own expectations," the president stated.

So successful is it, Mr. Hovanessian claims, that "we have just recently signed a long term contract with the nation's largest consumer mail order company, with concurrent contract renewal options for a lifetime period."

"The Daco gasket has been accepted as the greatest advance in outboard history in over a decade."

Already developed by Daco and soon to be announced for marketing, will be a complete line of similar high compression gaskets for other lines of internal combustion engines for the automobile (including foreign cars), truck, bus, tractor, motorcycle and motor scooter fields.

Other products being prepared for the consumer market are: A sterling silver infant's feeding spoon with the baby's name cut completely through the handle.

A sterling silver belt buckle with the name of a person, school, or other preferred identity completely cut through the metal.

Personalized signature desk plates cut out of solid metal in chrome or polished brass finishes.

A variety of personalized wood, plastic and leather goods items.

Solid silver pins, clasps, book marks, etc.

Solid metal cut-out stencils, door signs, name plates, etc.

These are only a few of many consumer items presently being prepared, with others to follow in due time. In addition, there are many other commercial and industrial applications of products as well as machines yet to be exploited, Mr. Hovanessian concluded.

Gilson to Speak to League

"How Can Our School System Maintain High Scholastic Standards?" This is the question on the minds of every concerned parent and taxpayer. And it is also the title to be given next Wednesday by Dr. Harry V. Gilson, superintendent of schools in Winchester. Members of the League of Women Voters of Winchester will gather to hear him at their first General Meeting of the season at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, September 23. Mrs. James G. Baker has graciously consented to open her home at 7 Grove street for the meeting. Tea will be served after Dr. Gilson's talk. Members are urged to attend and to bring their friends.

This will be an excellent opportunity to get an inside view of the academic objectives and standards of our own school system.

Army Specialist Four Wayne A. Robinson, 20, son of Mrs. Dorothy F. Robinson, 50 Dunster lane, is participating in a lengthy large-scale field training exercise with the 3d Armored Division in Grafenwohr, Germany. The exercise is scheduled to be concluded October 17.

Specialist Robinson, a tank gunner in Company A of the division's 33d Armor in Gelnhausen, Germany, entered the Army in November 1956 and arrived for duty in Europe in June 1957.

Robinson attended Winchester High School.

Attempt Made to Start Fire

They found that someone had set a bag of rubbish on fire on the porch. A search of the area failed to locate anyone.

Fiore, Carmen Frongillo, Randolph Kazazian, Anthony Melaragni, Anthony Penta, Dominic P. Provizano and Richard B. Tofuri.

Assisting the committee in an ex-officio capacity are: Anthony Vespucci, venerable, Winchester Men's Lodge; Victor Ficociello, past president, Abnerona Civic Association; William A. Fiore, president, Abnerona Civic Association; and Angelo L. Maletta, M.D.

A resident of Washington street called police Monday morning about 5 a.m. to report that she heard shots and the cries of a man asking for help. She thought that the sound came from the J. H. Winn Company area.

Officers John McHugh and John Farrell investigated but were unable to find anyone in the area. Evidently these sounds were the shots fired at Omar C. Wheeler of Woburn.

The 37-year-old father of three was ambushed Monday when he left his home to start for work. He was shot five times and left on the street where his wife found him and notified the police. It is possible that the sound of these shots carried across the fields in the stillness of the early morning.

Police Chase Teenage Boys Through Winchester to Waltham

Two officers of the Winchester police force participated in the chase of a stolen car through Winchester, Arlington and Belmont, eventually ending up in Waltham. The boys, who were later apprehended, were 15 and 16 years of age and were from Billerica.

Officers John Frongillo and Robert Baird in Patrol Car 52 spotted a car heading south on Cambridge street at 3:55 a.m. Sunday. The car was occupied by two young boys, and because of their age the officers tried to stop the car. The driver attempted to force the police cruiser off the road. It was later discovered that the car had been stolen.

The chase continued along Cambridge street into Arlington, Belmont and eventually into Waltham. Officer John Frongillo fired five warning shots into the air and warning shots were also fired by Arlington, Belmont and Waltham police.

Unfortunately, on Trapelo road in Waltham the cruiser went out of control, running onto the curb, where it was damaged on the left side with a possible radiator leak. Because of the dirt and water which went up over the windshield, the Winchester officers were forced to leave the chase.

At 5:15 a.m. the car was located in Waltham, where it had been abandoned and the license plate removed. The registration was found in the glove compartment. At 7 a.m. the Waltham police reported that two young boys were found in a heavily wooded section of the city. They were held on a charge of suspicion of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Car Hits Tree When Driver Falls Asleep

A car went out of control at 3 a.m. Monday morning and hit a tree in front of 105 Cambridge street when its driver fell asleep at the wheel.

Officers Daniel Pearson, Jr., and Roland Roy investigated and found that Robert V. Reilly of 45 Memorial road, Somerville, while driving a Buick sedan south on Cambridge street apparently fell asleep and lost control of the car, causing it to go over to the left side of the road and onto the front lawn at 107 Cambridge street, breaking shrubbery and tearing up a section of lawn and hitting a tree at 105 Cambridge street.

Appointed New Dean of Students at Paul Smith

Gray M. Twombly has been appointed to the position of Dean of Students at Paul Smith's College. Mr. Twombly was appointed to the faculty in 1947, one year after the college opened. In addition to teaching forestry subjects he has been very active in the building and development program, having supervised the construction of the several new buildings.

Mr. Twombly graduated from the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse in 1947 and received his M.S. degree from Syracuse in 1954. While in college he "rowed on the crew."

Mr. Twombly is a native of Winchester. He served in the Marine Corps from 1942 to 1946.

The Twomblys live on the campus at the college. Mrs. Twombly is the former Patricia Bailey of Grotton, Connecticut. They have four daughters, Susan, Sara, Abigail and Pamela.

Mr. Twombly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Twombly live at 16 Lawson road.

Crowded Schools Present Problems with Largest Enrollment Yet

Winchester has its share of the national headache, the problem of a rising school population. "The enrollment is even larger than we anticipated," said Dr. Harry Gilson, superintendent of schools. According to the latest report from the main office on Tuesday of this week, 4097 students were registered in the Winchester public schools, an increase of 191 over last year's enrollment with more late registrations to come.

The effect of the growing number of students may perhaps be most easily seen in our secondary schools. The Junior High, whose student capacity at the time of remodeling was estimated to be barely 600, now has registered 665 boys and girls. This figure shows an increase of 53 this year.

Eighty-two additional students have been entered on the High School roster, bringing its number up to 1181. Many classes in both these schools have as many as 36 or more students. Most educators prefer a maximum of 30 pupils to a teacher, with the ideal being set at 25. For years it has been the policy of the School Committee to try to keep classes at a reasonable size so that the best of instruction may be given to each child.

Throughout the day the High School auditorium is being used as a study hall for 200 to 275 pupils each period. The teachers in charge report that in addition to the difficulties of studying without proper desk space, much valuable time is lost in the entrance and dismissal of these large numbers of students.

Theft at Winchester News

Some time last Thursday night, believed to be between 11 o'clock and three o'clock Friday morning, the Winchester News Company's store on Thompson street was entered and a sum of money taken from the cash register.

Officer John Farrell while trying doors at the rear of stores on Thompson street at 3 o'clock Friday morning, discovered the back door of the News Company ajar. It had previously been reported locked at an 11 o'clock inspection by Officer Jack McHugh.

An inspection disclosed that about $25 was missing from the cash register, but that little if anything else was missing. It is thought that the intruder may have been frightened when he heard the officer at the front door of the store.

It is believed that the person responsible for the theft was either a boy or a very small person, since he must have entered through the store's paper chute and made his way to the first floor by way of the elevator. He evidently left the store by the rear door which can only be locked from the inside.

The car which went out of control Monday morning on Cambridge street in front of the home of Dr. Ivar R. Hakanson. The car hit the tree with such force that it jumped to where the arrows are shown on the tree. The driver of the car evidently fell asleep and was pulled from the back seat of the car by Officers Daniel Pearson, Jr., and Roland Roy.

Football Jamboree on Manchester Field Saturday Afternoon

Eight football teams will participate in the Bay State Middlesex League Jamboree to be held Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field. Besides the Sachems, Stoneham, Wellesley, Lexington, Dedham, Reading, Natick and Milton will play here and the other half of the league will meet in Framingham.

Play at both fields will start at 1 p.m. Stoneham will open with Wellesley and they will play for 15 minutes, after which Lexington and Dedham go on for an equal length of time, taking the ball where it is left on the field by the preceding teams.

Following a ten minute intermission Stoneham plays Dedham and Lexington takes on Wellesley. Reading and Natick follow Lexington and Wellesley after which Winchester goes on with Milton for 15 minutes. After a 10 minute break Reading plays Milton and Winchester closes the Jamboree with Natick.

According to the Boston Globe, Coach Dan Bennett of Natick sums up his chances: "We lost eight of our 11 offensive starters and have to rebuild. We have 95 out for the club and our main strength lies with Center and Captain Morris Wilson, a 6-1, 190-pounder. We have plenty of backs, eight of them, but most are inexperienced. Standouts so far are left halfback Ralph Doran (can do 10.4 in track suit for the 100) and right guard Jack Hayes (good blocker with fair speed)."

Milton's Coach Tom Brennan says: "In a nutshell this club has balance, good speed, not too big and a good first unit. We lack reserves and are now looking to back up our first group. You need reserves in this league with a tough game scheduled every week. We've got two outstanding linemen (guards John Carota and Joe Trozzi) and two top backs (Bob Sullivan and Steve London)."

Special Town Meeting on Monday to Discuss Ridge Street School, Park Bath House, Zoning

A special town meeting will be held Monday, September 21, at the Memorial Auditorium of the senior high school at 8 p.m. There will be four articles acted upon at this meeting.

The first article concerns the Johnson road-Ridge street school. The report of the building committee for the school will be heard and the town will vote on whether the committee will be authorized to proceed with the construction of the elementary school at that site and purchase original equipment and furnishings. Also, the meeting will determine if and how the money shall be raised.

Under the second article the meeting will consider the appropriation of money from the Excess and Deficiency Account for the construction of a new bath house at Leonard Field. This is the bath house which was burned this spring.

Articles 3 and 4 concern the changing of zoning laws. The first land is that owned by J. H. Winn, Inc., behind No. 620 Washington street. The request is that the land be rezoned from a single residence district to an industrial district.

Article 4 asks the town to amend the zoning laws so that a section of land behind 163-179 Washington street be changed from a general residence district into a business district.

The Reverend Dr. Dwight Cart, minister of the church, officiated and a reception followed at the Winchester Country Club.

The bridegroom is the son of Professor and Mrs. Paul H. Garrett of New London, Connecticut, and Wellfleet. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Roy Godwin of 7 Grassmere avenue, wore a gown of ivory imported Italian silk with a scoop neckline edged with Alencon lace and a chapel length train. Her mantilla styled veil was made of heirloom Brussels lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of alba lilies and stephanotis.

Wearing a princess style gown of sapphire blue chiffon tulle, Miss Marcia Lloyd of Hamden, Connecticut, was maid of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of rubrum lilies. Identically gowned were the bridesmaids, Miss Jean Randlett of Winchester, Miss Frances Craig of Southborough and Miss Anne Garrett of New London, sister of the bridegroom.

The best man was Mr. Claude Garrett of Mansfield, Connecticut. Ushers were Mr. Woody Klose of Red Hook, New York, Mr. Paul McCarthy of Brookline, Mr. Ronald Obermeyer of New Hyde Park, New York, and Mr. Lester R. Godwin, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride.

The bride graduated from Bradford Junior College, Class of 1958 and the Katherine Gibbs School in Boston. Her husband enters his senior year at Cornell University this fall where he is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and Scabbard and Blade. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Garrett will live in Ithaca, New York.

He was a member of the Massachusetts Commission of Atomic Energy and a director of the A. Kimball Company of New York and the Turner Tanning Machinery Co. of Peabody.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife Mrs. Olga Muriel Roberts; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Joyce Richardson and Mrs. Jean Roberts Simmons; two sons, John B. and C. Peter Roberts; five grandchildren, all of Hamilton; and two sisters, Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. Dorothy Whittington of Sussex, England.

Funeral services will be private.

Community School Association

A meeting of the Executive Board of the Community School Association was held on Tuesday, September 15, at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Joseph J. Zrodowski, 26 Squire road.

After coffee was served the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, president. Reports from the secretary and treasurer were read.

Discussion of the junior high situation took up much of the meeting. It was noted that a Citizens' Committee for a New Junior High has been established with the purpose to be—"provide a new junior high for the children of Winchester now." The Community School Association is represented on this committee.

In line with the discussion on schools a paragraph from a pamphlet put out by the National School Boards' Association, entitled "What Price Double Sessions?" was read into the minutes as being very timely—as follows:

"When double sessions are resorted to, children receive less education and a poorer quality of education. They pay the highest price—a handicap at the start of life. But the community pays, too, and in the long run the nation pays because its human resources have not been developed to their fullest potential."

Again this year the Community School Association will sponsor the Rockefeller Players in "Alice in Wonderland" to be held on Friday afternoon, October 23, at the high school, at 3:30.

Mount Holyoke Alumnae Fund

Participation in the 1959-1960 Mount Holyoke Alumnae Fund campaign started Tuesday evening, September 15, with a meeting at the home of the Winchester chairman, Mrs. Frederic B. Withington, at 20 Hancock street. She is assisted by Mrs. Adin B. Bailey of 9 Wildwood street, as vice-chairman.

Members of the committee are Mrs. James S. Allen, Mrs. Malcolm E. Clark, Mrs. Richard L. Emerson, Mrs. Charles E. Greene, Mrs. Emmons S. Ellis, Mrs. Richard A. Sawyer, Mrs. James B. Willing.

A visit to every local alumna is planned by the group, using the same plan of recent years. Last year Mount Holyoke achieved the highest percentage of contributions among alumnae solicited, recorded by any college or university in the country, and won a citation and $500 award from U. S. steel in recognition of this achievement. The national goal for the 1959-60 campaign is $250,000. Mrs. Withington reports.

MISS YUKO HAYASHI

New Organist at First Church

After a summer in Japan, Miss Yuko Hayashi has returned to this country and will assume her duties as the new organist at the First Congregational Church.

In addition to studying music in Tokyo and playing as a guest performer with the Symphony Orchestra there, Miss Hayashi has received her Bachelor and Master's degrees from the New England Conservatory of Music. She is a member of the American Guild of Organists.

Emil P. Hjarding Died Tuesday

Emil Peter Hjarding of 18 Mt. Pleasant street died Tuesday, September 15, after an illness of several months. He was 76 years old.

Born in Copenhagen, Denmark, on September 11, 1883, Mr. Hjarding was the son of Hans Peter and Alma Nielson Hjarding. He was a member of the Danish Frederik Lodge No. 857, F. & A. M. of New York. He was a resident of Winchester for two years.

Mr. Hjarding is survived by his wife and by a daughter, Mrs. Ernest H. Ulm of Prospect street. He also leaves three grandchildren, Jean, Jerry and Joanne of Winchester.

A clock maker by trade, Mr. Hjarding was with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for 27 years and made the tower clock on the firm's New York City building. Private funeral services will be held this afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at the Bennett-Norris Funeral Home. Dr. Dwight Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, will officiate and following the services cremation will take place at the Woodlawn Cemetery in Everett.

Clifford Roberts Dies Wednesday

Clifford Roberts, 62, of 264 Sagamore road, Hamilton, vice president of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation, died Wednesday, September 16, at the Beverly Hospital after a brief illness. Mr. Roberts for several years made his home on Sheffield road and was well known here.

A native of Burnley, Lancashire, England, he was educated in that country and served as a major in the British Army during World War I.

Mr. Roberts came to this country in 1924 and joined the then experimental department of the shoe machinery firm in 1928. He was appointed manager of the department in 1936 and became assistant vice president and director of research in 1940. In 1944 he was elected a director and vice president of the firm.

He was a member of the Massachusetts Commission of Atomic Energy and a director of the A. Kimball Company of New York and the Turner Tanning Machinery Co. of Peabody.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife Mrs. Olga Muriel Roberts; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Joyce Richardson and Mrs. Jean Roberts Simmons; two sons, John B. and C. Peter Roberts; five grandchildren, all of Hamilton; and two sisters, Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. Dorothy Whittington of Sussex, England.

S. O. I. Bowling

Thursday, September 10, at 7:00 p. m., Strike Lanes, Winchester, fourteen S.O.I. teams, a new high with many new members, quaked the town as they consumed every alley available opening night. They will rock and roll each Thursday night for about 35 weeks. We are looking forward to a most interesting and unforgettable year with this year's young recruits who are in our midst.

We cannot forget the fact that the softball season just closed and that our boys were in the final playoffs. We wish to publicly thank them for the time and effort that they show to keep the S.O.I. in the sports limelight. We wish to extend our good wishes and the sportsmanship to the Vets who won the championship four straight.

In the final game our coach Mulligan "Casey" Fiore tried desperately to stem the slaughter by sending pitcher after pitcher in, finally scanning the bench, his eyes lit up as he saw seated a veteran of three wars, years of softball experience, rubber armed, cool, reliable, the ever loving unassuming "Sachel" Hokie Procopio. "Go in," he commanded. Silence fell over the crowd.

Could he do it raced through every one's mind? Make the mound. He did. He did his best, a tidal wave swept in. Final score 19-4.

P.S. "Sachel" was carried off the mound. Please, no one take offense of what we write for it is not intentional.

We know we have a lot of new bowlers and most all of the old kinks are back so let us wait till the team names and the players and the top name of each team is the captain:

EDITORIAL

Our editorial last week about the damage to the clock in the Congregational Church steeple brought us a visit from a good friend who wanted to talk to us about what he called a tendency of newspapers, police and the public generally to pick on teen agers for whatever they do out of line and ignore, or mention only slightly the derelictions from law and order of adults. He mentioned several cases, of which he knew, where teen agers had been stopped and booked by law enforcement officers while adults doing the same thing were not interfered with. For example, police are constantly ordering teen agers not to loiter about the streets or corners, yet they ignore adults doing exactly the same thing.

Our visitor and friend contended that the young people of today are essentially the same as they were 20 years ago. We hear more of their misdeeds because there are many more young people now and many more ways for them to get into trouble than there used to be.

Concern is everywhere expressed about drinking by young people. Our friend did not condone drinking by teen agers but is not surprised that it exists. The youngsters' parents drink, nearly every social function commences with cocktails and there regularly is liquor in many homes.

More concern is voiced over teen agers and their actions in automobiles. Yet our friend feels that adult drivers are just as guilty of traffic violations as the kids, who see their fathers and mothers drive too fast, drive after drinking, make U-turns in one-way streets, double park, park in "no parking" places and fail to observe "stop streets." Police, said our friend, if they catch a teen ager doing any of these things will book him, while they are likely to do nothing at all to an adult caught in the same infraction.

Our friend feels there is altogether too much emphasis placed on the wrong doing of youth, and not nearly enough to the bad example being constantly set by young people by their elders. In this connection we recall an old washerwoman of our acquaintance who often used to say, "Whin' the' min set the' bhis a better example, the' bhis will have a better chance!" How right she was!

We do not mean to be overly critical of the present-day boys and girls. We don't agree that the kids of today are the same as 20 years ago. How could they be! Surrounded with all sorts of temptations, provided with cars to get them wherever they wish to go whenever they wish to go there, with money that would have supported many a family when the editor was a boy, and pretty much on their own with little parental guidance and no home responsibilities, why wouldn't they get into trouble?

The point to our editorial was not why the youngsters do what they do, but what do we do about it! The high school boy we mentioned last week thinks a YMCA or recreation building is the answer.

Perhaps so! We are, however, more inclined to agree with our visiting friend that teen agers wouldn't do a lot of things they are doing, things that aren't good for them, or for society, if they did not see their elders doing the very same things! Monkey see, monkey do!

Next Monday's special town meeting should attract a good attendance. With an important school matter to be decided and two proposed changes in the Zoning By-laws to discuss the session has possibilities, aside from the Park Department's request for money to rebuild the bath house at Leonard Field pool destroyed by fire.

The meeting is being held well after the vacation season and there should be little excuse for precinct members failing to attend. It is to be hoped that a big majority of them will be in their places for changes in the Zoning map should be carefully considered and decided by a representative vote.

One of the proposed changes would relocate land now in the general residence district off Washington street beyond Forest street in the industrial district. The other proposes to extend the business district on Washington street in the vicinity of St. Mary's Church to include land now zoned for residence.

Incidentally the Planning Board is holding a hearing on the proposed Zoning changes tonight at their rooms in the basement of the town hall. Town meeting members will be welcome.

Well Field Site Cuts School Area

Editor of the Star:

The progress of the elementary school project brings to mind the lesser progress of the Junior High problem. The last town meeting that settled on Well Field revealed for the first time that the development cost might run higher than Wildwood. Nothing in the report beginning on page 197 of the 1958 Town Report indicated this possibility.

Since the site has been so controversial it might help if we can be a bit adaptable and save money. The chart on page 203 of the 1958 Report shows the 3.38 acres of the inactive well area to be about as inconveniently located as it can be. It divides the school area from the athletic area, but more importantly forces us to back the school up against the hill.

I suspect a good deal of extra earth will have to be moved which adds to the cost but it possibly also explains why we chose a two-story construction for the instructional area as shown on page 202 of the Report. That means fireproof rather than fire-resistant construction, and that costs money. (I believe single story construction would have been chosen for the Wildwood site where there was plenty of room to locate the building.) This inexpedient locating of the school is forced on us by the necessity of keeping 150 ft. from the above-mentioned 3.38 acre well area, which is reserved but not being used.

My question is, can the Water Board re-check its long range plans and see if they can eliminate this area. Do we really need it in the future modernization and expansion program of water service? If not, we surely would revise our ideas of layout for this land, and I am sure could save money.

Some years ago we might have escaped our present dilemma had the people of this town acquired some of the Ginn estate when it was available. Such is "hindsight" over "foresite."

All of us may later agree that the present layout is makeshift, aesthetically undesirable with a fenced-in area frustrating a logical layout. For this reason I would hate to go ahead without checking the possibility I have suggested.

The School Board is dead set against further expansion in the center, and without their help it seems useless to pursue the issue. I think I am objective. We might as well go ahead but avoid action dictated by expediency. I hope the Water Department can help us resolve some of our problems.

P.S. And to all those asking why I wait so long to bring up this discussion, I say why didn't you bring it up!

Opposition!

Editor of the Star:

The people living in the area of the proposed change in the zoning laws, as described in Article 4 of the town warrant, are up in arms and rightfully so. This article is to be acted upon at the special town meeting on Monday, September 21.

The residents of the area are vigorously opposed to the change which would drastically change the character of the neighborhood. It would greatly add to the parking hazards and further endanger the lives of the youngsters attending St. Mary's school. Conditions which now exist in the area are very serious. All one needs to do is to view the section on a Sunday morning to realize that this would be repeated daily if changed.

Most of us have lived here a lifetime and sincerely hope that the people of the town will cast a negative vote on Article 4.

Voters Service in Action

Election days may seem far on the horizon to many of us but not to the Voters Service Committee of the League of Women Voters of Winchester. This active group is already planning its program for the elections of 1960, town elections in March, primaries in September, state and national elections in November. Their aim is to see that every person in Winchester who is eligible to vote goes to the polls on election day. (Last year the committee mailed reminders to register to all twenty-one year olds and all new residents of the town. They also placed numerous posters in store windows to call attention to registration and voting.)

Another facet of the Voters Service program is the distribution of non-partisan information on all candidates. Questionnaires are mailed to all candidates who appear on the ballot in primary, local, and state elections. Candidates are asked to reply to questions regarding their qualifications. These replies are printed in the Star about ten days before each election. The questionnaires give the voters a chance to compare the factual background information on candidates that is usually neglected in political slogans and posters. Another service to the voters has been the publishing of attendance records of Town Meeting members running for reelection. This recent innovation has been most favorably received by the townspeople.

Chairman of the Voters Service Committee of the League is Mrs. Malcolm H. Masters. She reports that her committee for the coming year will include Mrs. Walter Armstrong, Mrs. Frederick Herberich, Mrs. John M. Lee, Mrs. Edward Little, Mrs. Gilbert Morse, Jr., Mrs. Alan Simmons, and Mrs. Norman Stafford.

Box 231 Sounded for Fan Fire

Box 231 was sounded Wednesday evening at 7:53 from the fire station after a telephone operator called to report a house fire on Manchester road.

The Police and Firefighters responded and found that there was an electric kitchen fan on fire at the home of Raymond Gross at 10 Manchester road.

Lt. Col. Stewart Heads New Army Reserve Unit

In a recent order emanating from XIII Corps (Reserve) Headquarters at Fort Devens, Mass., Lt. Col. James R. Stewart, Jr., 7 Winslow road, was designated as the Commanding Officer of the new 320th Special Forces Detachment with headquarters in the Boston Army Base.

Lt. Col. Stewart was promoted to this new Reserve Post from the position of Artillery Department Director at the 1030th ARSU Reserve School.

A new branch of the Army Reserve, Special Forces Detachments have been organized only this year in New England. Four units are currently set up—two at the Boston Army Base, one in Roslindale and one in Manchester, N. H. Lt. Col. Stewart's unit was originally slated for Rutland, Vermont, but subsequently moved here in June.

To get an idea of the missions that will be assigned these Special Forces units, in case of hostilities, one has merely to see the new motion picture "Surrender—Hell!" now playing its premiere in Boston at the Paramount Theatre and then let the imagination take it from there! This picture is based upon the book "Blackburn's Headhunters," a re-cap of Guerilla training and operational activities conducted in the Philippine Islands following the fall of Corregidor. The then Lieutenant Blackburn is now Colonel Blackburn, CO of the famous 77th Special Forces at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Unconventional warfare is the keynote of Special Forces units, all within the Geneva Convention, and deep planning, discipline and sound imagination are its success features. (This type of activity has been going on since history was first written down on stone slabs!) Techniques of survival, demolitions, communications, medical aid, scouting, patrolling and, most of all, leadership, require highly specialized and well trained personnel for these Army units, whether they be Regular or Reserve.

Lt. Col. Stewart took his small group of specialists on a two-week tour of Active Duty at Fort Bragg, N. C., last month. There, under the tutelage of Colonel Blackburn's expert organization, they received their first indoctrination into Special Forces operations.

Since these troops may go into initial action by land, sea or air, each must eventually be a qualified Parachutist. To the end of requalification many of those troops who went to Fort Bragg, including Lt. Col. Stewart, a former member of the 11th Airborne Division, underwent a refresher course which culminated in four actual parachute jumps, while they were at Ft. Bragg. Of course, many more Special Forces units will be formed in the future. And to prepare personnel for potential activity in this type of operation, there are at present openings for Enlisted Men, especially in the units organized locally. There are pay-drill opportunities for men with at least six months' service in the specialties of radio, medical technicians, mechanics, administrative personnel and demolition men. Lt. Col. Stewart is requesting that any readers of the Star contact him at Parkview 9-3598 any evening, if they are interested, or if they know of someone who could assist in rounding out the assignments available in the three Boston Special Forces units.

Local Students at Lowell Tech

Two 1959 graduates of Winchester high school have matriculated at Lowell Technological Institute as members of the class of 1963. The 63rd academic year opened September 8 for a week of orientation activities including many social events, and classes began Wednesday of this week.

They are Hugh F. Skerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Skerry of 130 Sylvester avenue, and Daniel A. Vespucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vespucci of 33 Harvard street.

School Problem

Even though the cafeteria serves lunch in three shifts to the long lines of hungry youngsters, it is impossible for all of them to have seats and to have sufficient time to eat. Temporary solutions to these emergency problems are being discussed by the administrative staff. One suggestion has been made that those students with combined lunch and study periods be sent home for that time if they live near the school.

The total enrollment for the elementary schools was 2251 on September 14. Fifty-nine new families have moved into the Parkhurst area, and have entered 83 children for the first time in the Parkhurst School, which has an enrollment of 477 students. With insufficient space for the 76 kindergarten pupils already enrolled there, it has been reluctantly decided by the School Department that some 18 or more of these children must be transferred to the Wyman School.

Although the kindergartens are overloaded in the Wyman, there is one classroom which can be used for this purpose. As far as possible, the children selected for transfer reside in the same bus area of the Parkhurst district.

Despite the serious difficulties caused by large enrollments, all principals and teachers are extending their efforts to ensure successful educational training for each child.

By popular demand The Friends of the Winchester Hospital Waltz Evening will be held two evenings this season, October 16 from 9 to 11, and October 17 from 9 to 12. Limited to 150 couples each night, this will give those who were unable to obtain tickets before, a choice of two evenings.

Chairman of this year's dance is Mrs. William Garcelon, Treasurer, F. R. Brown, Jr. Mrs. Richard Schmadier is in charge of the music and prizes and Mrs. Frank D. Bates is the refreshment chairman. Tickets for Friday evening are being handled by Mrs. Richard Fields and Saturday night by Mrs. Leslie J. DeGroot. Mrs. Robert H. Sullivan is in charge of the flowers which will be sold during the two evenings. Services, Mrs. Samuel E. Perkins and clean-up, Mrs. Richard A. Lowe.

Adult Education Program

Offers Fourteen Courses

Seven of the fourteen Adult Education courses to be offered in the 1959 fall program were described in the Star last week. The following courses complete the list of course offerings.

This term the course in Furniture Refinishing not only includes instruction in the refinishing and repair of old furniture, but also the art of applying novelty finishes. The process of antiquing involves the use of gold leaf on a black background of either furniture or small objects. The course will be taught by Mr. Philip Tardano, who is a junior high school teacher in the Industrial Arts. He is a graduate of Fitchburg State Teachers College, and is a member of the Massachusetts Industrial Education Society and the American Industrial Arts Association.

The instructor for the class in Party Cookery is new to the program. Mrs. Judith Chamberlin was a Home Economics major at Wheaton College, Ill., and has taught at the high school level. She has also had experience working with professional caterers. She is a past member of the Michigan Education Association and a member of the National Home Economics Association. This course is offered for those homemakers interested in the art of making attractive hors d'oeuvres, unusual casseroles, and interesting desserts in an economical and efficient manner.

A Keeping Fit Class for women only is also planned for this fall. It will feature rhythmic exercises to help you keep fit while engaging in a pleasant, stimulating group activity. Health and beauty rules and their applications will also be discussed. Persons registering for this course are requested to obtain from their family doctor a statement saying that they are physically able to engage in the group exercises.

The course entitled "The Russian World" is offered for the second time because of popular demand. The current emphasis on diplomatic relations between the United States and the Soviet Union makes this course a must for persons interested in international relations. Mrs. John Davison will again bring to the course her first-hand experiences in Russia which she visited in 1958 as a member of a delegation of student newspaper editors. She is a graduate of Swarthmore College and Oxford University, and is presently a candidate for a Ph.D. in history at Harvard.

The course in Conversational French is planned this year to meet the demands of all students regardless of their previous knowledge of the French language. This should prove of value for both the traveler and for the person who merely wishes to develop a facility for speaking and understanding ordinary French phrases.

The instructor will be Miss Charlotte LeClair, a member of the Winchester faculty. She has taught French in the Junior High School here and in the Adult Education Program, Miss LeClair is a graduate of Boston University with an A.B. and an M.S. in Education, and has studied the teaching of French at the University of Geneva, Switzerland. Two years ago she spent the summer traveling in France and Switzerland with a group of French people.

This fall the Winchester Adult

Education Program will include two courses that are being sponsored by local civic organizations.

The Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross is sponsoring a course in First Aid Training which can lead to a standard certificate in First Aid. In this course students will be able to gain new and useful information in application to daily life for themselves, their families and neighbors. The instructor will be a person who has had broad experience in this field. Mr. Gerald Y. Hills of Winchester comes to us with a degree from the city of London College, England. He has had training with St. John's Ambulance Brigade and the American Red Cross. He has taught First Aid here in Winchester and in the Boston area since 1941.

The Winchester Rotary Club is sponsoring a course in conjunction with the Adult Education Program this term. This course in Accelerated Reading is designed to increase efficiency in reading techniques with emphasis on comprehension and rate.

The course is to be taught by Mr. Victor Sanborn, who is a graduate of Middlebury College, and who holds a Master's degree from the University of New Hampshire. He has also attended the Harvard Graduate School of Education, and has been director of reading at several institutes in the Boston area, including the Cambridge and Boston Adult Centers.

Persons wishing to register for any Adult Education course are reminded that registration in person will take place on Monday evening, September 21 from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Senior High School. The time is earlier than previously planned so that registrants may then attend the Town Meeting. Registration by mail had been originally planned for the week of September 14 to 21. However for those persons who are unable to register in person on September 21, it will be possible to register by mail through Monday, September 28, providing that enrollments for the particular course have not reached the class limit.

For the convenience of Winchester residents, Adult Education pamphlets are being taken home by elementary and Junior High pupils. They may be obtained in several of the stores in the downtown shopping area as well as in the Public Library, the High School office and in the Superintendent of Schools' office.

Two-for-one offer while they last. An Addiator, world's smallest adding machine, plus five multi-color ball point pens and 15 refills, all for $3.98. Addiator alone sells for $8.98. See them at the Winchester Star Office.

Boat Club News

The past week end Winchester Boat Club was the location for the biggest regatta on Mystic Lake this season and probably in other years too.

The National Senior Turnabout Championship drew 46 boats from Winchester, Medford, Quincy, Hingham, Hull, Marblehead, Sherborn, and School Sailing Club of Medford. The weather proved to be very favorable. Saturday noon a very successful chowder party was held, which approximately 70 people attended.

In the afternoon, Jim Fiske (School Sailing Club) made a clean sweep with a first in both races. Larry Doyle (Medford boat club) also did the same in second place. In the first race Mary Hogan (Marblehead), Tom Raphael (Winchester), and Perry Ware (Medford) finished third, fourth and fifth. Tom Curtis (Crow Point, Hingham), sailed home third in the second race with Francis Charles (Hull) fourth and Phil Kimball (School Sailing Club) fifth.

After an exciting afternoon of sailing, skippers, crews and families got together at the chicken pie dinner, followed by colored movies of the 1958 America's cup race. Fred Lawton, who sailed on the Columbia, gave a running commentary on the movies. Sunday morning in the final race, Carl Olsson (School Sailing Club) was victorious. Donald McArthur (Town River) and John Fiske (School Sailing Club) finished second and third.

Wind conditions couldn't have been much better. After the race the trophies were given out. Jim Fiske with 4½ points won first place. Larry Doyle (Medford) finished second with 9 points. 16 points gave Donald McArthur third place and 18½ gave fourth to Carl Olsson. Fifth went to Phil Kimball with 19. The first Winchester boat to place was Tom Raphael in seventh.

The seniors really had their hands full this week and found there can be some pretty tough competition in a regatta of 46 boats! Although our boats didn't retain any trophies, it proved to be an exciting and very successful regatta.

AAA Rules for School Bus Safety

Safety rules for youngsters who use school buses were issued today by the American Automobile Association.

More than a quarter of a million Massachusetts children will travel to and from school by school bus this year, the AAA reports, urging parents to take the initiative in helping their children to learn a few simple rules:

Youngsters should arrive at the bus stop in plenty of time to avoid rushing, with its consequent hazards.

They should wait in a safe place well off the roadway.

There should be no "horseplay," pushing, or racing for seats in getting on or off the bus.

Hands, head, and feet should be kept inside the bus. Loud talk, boisterous laughter, or other disturbances to the driver must be avoided.

Youngsters should cooperate in keeping the inside of the bus clean. Many kinds of accidents are possible with blowing papers or slippery trash on the floor.

Children should remain seated while the bus is in motion. All instructions of the driver must be followed carefully. Instructions given as the child leaves the bus are of particular importance.

Parents should meet very young children at the bus stop as they return from school, if at all possible. This is especially important if the child must cross streets.

CAL-MATH, the new circular pocket slide rule and calculator. Equal to the finest quality 10-in. slide rule at a fraction of the cost. Well made, attractive, does all sorts of number work. See it at the STAR office. Only $4.95.

Women's Bowling League

The Winchester Women's Lodge No. 1592, O.S.I.A., started their bowling league with eight teams on Wednesday, September 2, at Strike Lanes.

The teams are being named after various brands of cigarettes and it seems that the Camels came out on top winning four points from the Kools. There was much excitement the first night of bowling with everyone doing their best hoping to win their first game, but only one team was fortunate enough to do that.

However, this being the beginning of the season there will be plenty of ups and downs with team standings. So girls, get in there and pitch in with a few spurs and strikes. Betty Bellino Morgan came through with high single for the night, 111, and Ginger Maggio with high three string for 266.

The teams and their captains are:

L & M—Betty Morgan
Kents—Phil Corby
Winstons—Ginger Maggio
Newports—Kay Lentine
Kools—Grace DeSoto
Camels—Gloria Monterisi
Sanos—Florence Garcia
Alpines—Julia Pettit
Final standing for the first night:
Individual high single — Betty Morgan, 111; Rose Severina, 104.
Individual high three — Betty Morgan, 293; Ginger Maggio, 266.
Team High Single—Newports, 562
Team High Three—Sanos, 1315

Team	Standing	Pts Won	Lost

Kents	2	2
Sanos	2	2
Alpines	2	2

The board of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association met on Friday, September 11, in the Rich Room of the Public Library.

Mrs. Rowland Patrick, president, welcomed those present and asked for the usual roll call. Following this Mrs. Bradford Bentley, the secretary, read the minutes of the June meeting. These were accepted and placed on file. Mrs. Oscar Surtees, assistant treasurer, read the treasurer's report which was also placed on file.

Mrs. Patrick announced the convention of the Massachusetts League of Nursing which is to be held in November and said that the regional convention is to be held in Boston this year and will be in April. An interesting letter was read from Mrs. Symmes who left our staff last spring after being with us for four years to take on a position as house mother in one of the dormitories at Smith College. Mrs. Symmes expressed her appreciation at having had the opportunity to serve the people of Winchester through the W.V.N.A. and spoke of the real satisfaction it had been to have been associated with such a fine service giving organization.

Mrs. Wiklund, executive director, reported that though the load had been comparatively light at the beginning of the summer it had gained momentum as the summer progressed. She expressed appreciation of Mrs. Scott's and Mrs. Pearson's filling of staff gaps during these months. Mrs. Clark, the staff's very able secretary, left September 15 and Mrs. Margaret Oxford is to take her place. The new nurse, Miss Eleanor Madden, is working out well and Mrs. Wiklund told those present that later in the meeting Miss Madden would be present so that the board might meet her. Mrs. Wiklund went on to report that the school program had started off well and expressed her gratitude to the Winchester Hospital for their help in sterilizing much of the school supply material. The Board of Health part of a generalized service she reported as also going well, with the weekly clinics again being held after having been closed during the month of August. She expressed gratitude to En Ka for two donations given during the summer. In closing she told of an invitation she had received to be part of a panel on volunteer and official Public Health agencies, which is to be held later this fall in Amherst.

Mrs. Aubrey, chairman of the personnel committee, thanked those members of the board who had helped in the autoconvoy during the summer and asked for volunteers for this fall and winter. Mrs. Wiklund offered an orientation session for those interested. Mrs. Surtees of the finance committee led a discussion of the proposed budget which will go to U. C. S. later this fall. After this piece of business Miss Madden joined the meeting and in response to Mrs. Wiklund's request she gave those present her background before coming to the hospital as a graduate of Waltham High School and St. Elizabeth's nursing school in Brighton. She was then in the Navy for two years, after which she continued her studies at Boston University. She has since then been in Public Health nursing in Newton. She expressed her pleasure at now being on the staff of a V. N. A. which is conducting a generalized service.

Mrs. Harrison, chairman of the education committee, told us of her participation in a public health conference during the summer. She was one of a panel of four which was moderated by Dr. Robert Reed, associate professor of the Harvard School of Public Health. This panel was part of a three-day program sponsored by the Northeastern district of the Department of Public Health. Mrs. Harrison then distributed the board members' manuals which she and her committee have worked on during the past year. She was highly commended by Mrs. Patrick for the outstandingly good job done on this project. The book will give board members and other interested people a very clear idea

TURNING THE TABLES

Chris Ferro had the tables turned last Thursday when Frank Fontaine, noted TV comic, came into his new barbershop at 876 Main street. Mr. Fontaine was caught by the Star photographer as he was making one of his famous "faces." A resident of Winchester living on Highland avenue, Mr. Fontaine has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show and the show "Make Me Laugh," among others.

Food Sale

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Abington Post No. 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a Food Sale in Cambridge in aid of the Converse Market. A large variety of home-baked food will be on sale. When down town shopping please make a purchase from the girls who worked so hard to make this affair a success.

Library News

The Library Staff like everyone else in town, is back after pleasant summer vacations. Both the Adult Department and the Boys' and Girls' Room are looking forward to a busy and rewarding year. The Library would like to remind its old friends and inform new friends about some of its services.

The regular winter schedule resumes this week. The Library is now open Monday through Saturday. The Adult Department is open Monday-Friday 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., and on Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The Boys' and Girls' Room is open Monday-Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

There is available in the library a small meeting room, the Rich Room, for organizations which wish to meet here. In order to reserve the room for a group meeting, an advance call to the Librarian is necessary.

The Reference Department is available to help in gathering bibliographic material for the many study groups in town. If you are the leader or a member of a study group, stop by the Library and ask our Reference Librarian to help you find references needed.

A feature which is popular with our borrowers is the "New Books Table." Books, pamphlets and recordings, before going into circulation, are displayed on this table which is at the right of the main entrance. As soon as the books are placed on the table, borrowers may reserve them.

The Downs Room on the balcony level of the Library houses our collection of recordings. This includes classical, semi-classical, show music, and records of the spoken word. These recordings circulate in the same manner as books. For those interested in language records the Library has in its collection French, German, Spanish and Italian. Inquiries at the Circulation Desk if you wish to take out one of these items.

16mm films circulate to anyone with an adult library card. The films are primarily on historical subjects. A collection of filmstrips also circulate. Subjects covered by these filmstrips are varied and can be used with different age groups. Inquire at the Circulation Desk if you are interested in borrowing either films or filmstrips.

The Friday and Saturday library movies will be resumed on October of this year in the Rich Room. The programs are composed of films for educational and recreational purposes and are correlated with library books. Displays of books for boys and girls and adults are placed in the room and discussed during the program. Friday night is "Family Night" when boys and girls in the first through sixth grades must be accompanied by an adult. It is hoped that entire family groups will plan to attend these Friday evening programs. Saturday morning, boys and girls of school age are invited to attend. This program will be under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Russell, the Children's Librarian, who will discuss books on topics related to the movies.

Flash Cards for extra learning experience at home now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES D. HALWARTZ

To Enjoy Vacation Abroad

Water Superintendent James D. Halwartz of Reservoir street, and Mrs. Halwartz are sailing September 26 from New York on the S. S. Independence of the American Export Line for Naples, French Morocco, Palma in the Mediterranean and Barcelona, Spain.

After two days in Naples Mr. and Mrs. Halwartz will go on to Rome for two days, after which they will make their headquarters in Florence and take trips to Venice, the Italian Riviera and Switzerland.

Mr. Halwartz served in Italy during World War II as a lieutenant in the Water Supply division of the Corps of Engineers. The trip he and his wife are taking will return him to many places at which he was stationed during hostilities. Jim claims that his present trip is in the nature of a second honeymoon.

moon and to celebrate his completion of 20 years service to the Town of Winchester. His wife, Mary, says these may be Jim's reasons, but she personally is going to Italy to check on her husband's actions during his war service there.

The Halwartz's daughter, Mary Jane, isn't going abroad, but very much wishes that she were, not only for the thrill of the trip but to find out once and for all whether her dad and Captain William Rasmussen, his company commander, actually did win the war as they claimed during a recent get-together at the Halwartz home.

Mr. Halwartz began his service to the town as a rod man for the Engineering Department under the late Town Engineer, James Hinds. After four years in the Engineering Department he entered the Water Department as assistant to the then Water Superintendent, the late Harry Dotson. He succeeded Mr. Dotson in 1948.

Dr. Hackett Speaks to Baptist Women at Fall Meeting

The Women's Fellowship of the First Baptist Church is fortunate in having as the speaker for their first meeting of the fall, Dr. William Hackett, a missionary under the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, who has just returned from Burma.

The meeting will begin with a pot-luck supper served at 6:30 under the direction of the members of the L. Jennie Crawford Circle. Following a brief business meeting, the devotional service will be led by Mrs. Martin Swanson, with Mrs. Joseph O'Donnell furnishing special music.

Dr. Hackett, the son of missionary parents, was born and brought up in Burma. He took his theological training at Hartford Seminary in Hartford, Conn., and his Ph.D. at Cornell, where he specialized in agricultural technique.

The Hacketts started their work in Burma just before the outbreak of World War II. For a time Dr. Hackett worked with Dr. Gordon Seagrave, the famed "Burma Surgeon," and drove an ambulance on the Burma road until the invading Japanese armies came uncomfortably close. He and Mrs. Hackett took the last plane to escape from their part of Burma, saving only the few possessions they were able to carry with them.

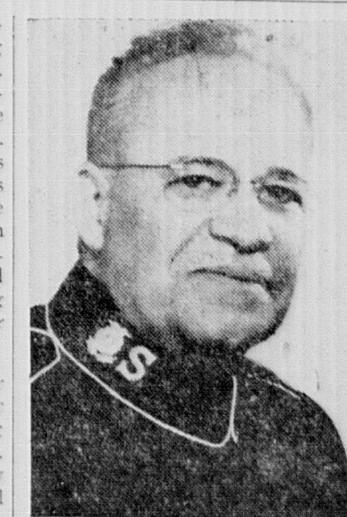

As soon after the war as they could get permission to return, the Hacketts settled near Taunggyi in Southern Shan States of northern Burma, and there pioneered in agricultural mission work. They set up a rural Christian Center with an experimental farm that has attracted wide interest. Because of the help they have given in improved stock and seeds, and modern agricultural methods, the economic level of the entire area has been improved, and a growing church has been established along with a school, the first available for village children, and a dispensary where a nurse provides the only medical care for many miles around.

During the Karen rebellion of 1949, considerable fighting occurred in the Shan States, and the United States embassy sent a "rescue party" to Taunggyi, fearing the Hacketts might be in danger. However, they did not feel the situation was serious enough to make them willing to leave their work. The wisdom of this decision was repeatedly proved in the months that followed, for they were able to act as intermediaries between the rebels and the government forces. Both sides trusted them, and their presence helped to bring peace without bloodshed in their district.

Dr. and Mrs. Hackett and their two children will be making their home in Hartford, Conn., during their furlough. While there, Mrs. Hackett, the former Marion Shaw of Belchertown is doing special work in Greek at Hartford Seminary to help in her work of translating the New Testament into the Taunggyi language.

With a speaker who comes from such an interesting background an interesting evening is assured and all women of the church are urged to attend. Members of circles will be contacted by their circle leaders. Those who do not belong to a circle are urged to get in touch with either Mrs. Walter Josephson or Mrs. Sargis Matson for reservations.

HOLLAND FRENCH

Commissioner Holland French, Salvation Army Eastern Territorial Commander from New York, will be the principal speaker at a Farewell Dinner given to Colonel and Mrs. Ralph T. Miller, New England Provincial Commanders, at the Dorothy Quincy Suite of the John Hancock Building on Friday, September 25.

Introducing Our New Teachers

This is the first in a series of photographs of the new teachers who have started teaching in Winchester this fall. Through this series the new teachers will be introduced in the hope that parents and pupils will rapidly make them feel at home here.

MISS MARELLA RIMBACH, GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL.

Miss Rimbach is teaching the second grade at the Washington School. She is a graduate of Clark University with an A.B. degree and is currently studying at Boston University for her Ed.M.

Before starting her teaching, Miss Rimbach was assistant to Professor Bok for a year and a half at the Harvard Observatory. She taught in Gloucester before assuming her position here.

Little League Cookout

Last Saturday afternoon at Ginn Field, the Winchester Little League held its second annual cookout.

A more perfect afternoon, weather-wise, could not have been asked for.

Shortly after 2 o'clock chairman Walter Cuff started his program for the boys with relay races for the smaller fry, three teams competing at one time. By process of elimination the Bears and Panthers emerged as finalists, and in the final race the Panthers came through as champs.

Competition among the big leaguers was every bit as spirited, with the Red Sox and Reds meeting in the final. In a ding-dong race with the lead changing "hands" continually, the Reds came through with flying colors, winning a fine race.

With the competition from the caterer's trucks it was very difficult to operate the program smoothly so that the tug of war between or rather among the smaller fry took much longer than usual, with sometimes as few as three or four members of a team present. Therefore volunteers had to be used to fill up the teams with as many as five teams being represented on one side.

After spirited competition the "Lions" with other help were down all competition and dragged their opponents over the line. These boys really did it the hard way defeating three teams in the process.

When it came time for the Big Leaguers there weren't enough to form one team, so the games were ended. After chow the awards were made.

In the American League, the Reds, managed by Neal Doherty and coached by Walter Cuff, and sponsored by Converse Market, received the championship trophy. Neal Doherty accepted the trophy and thanked his coach and his boys for their fine work all through the season.

George Ross, manager of the champion Buffalos, minor league winners, was awarded the trophy for his American League team. George thanked Jack Stone, his coach, and all his boys for their fine play and work. The Buffalos are sponsored by Forester's Flower Shop.

In the National League, Art Johns, perennial manager of the once again champion Dodgers, accepted the trophy on behalf of his team and in his acceptance speech thanked his coaches Ros Boutwell and Remy Clarke and all his boys for their fine work. Arthur, then in turn, awarded the trophy to Tom Derro of Kiwanis, sponsor of the Dodgers.

Woody Boynton, manager of the Ponies, the National Minor League champs was awarded the trophy for his team. He thanked Ken Cullen, his coach, and all his boys for their fine work. Incidentally, his team has no sponsor. This is the first year in competition for Woody and his boys and it is quite a feather in their individual caps to win the title in their very first year.

The last item on the program was the presentation of Little League jackets to our graduating twelve year olds of whom we in Little League are very proud. They have conducted themselves like gentlemen and good sports through their Little League careers and we are confident that they will set a fine example to other boys throughout their lives, just as their predecessors have done.

We have every reason in Little League to thank the men and women before us who started and built Little League into the fine organization it is so that we might carry on its traditions and continue to turn out such fine upstanding young men.

Our graduates are:

Braves — James Guarante, Dan Holland, Mike Kerrigan, John Kimball, Kent Parrot, John Kimball.

Dodgers — Kevin Collins, Ken Fulgione, John Kanton, Gene Lane, Charlie Tarbell, Warren Wilson.

Junior Tennis Tournament

Play has been concluded in the six events for boys and girls in the annual tennis championships.

Betty Bixler successfully defended her 1958 girls-15-and-under title by beating Debby Price in the final. Among the interesting matches were Cindy Randlett's 10-8, 4-6, 6-4 win over Gail Towner in the first round and Debby Price's victory over Terry Coon in the semis, 7-9, 6-1, 6-4.

In the boys-13-and-under singles final Gerry Hills defeated Kent Parrot of Pee Wee football and hockey fame 2-6, 6-2, 6-4 in a match that saw the lead change hands many times and was featured by sound tennis. Parrot beat Dwight Bellows, son and manager of our beloved treasurer (with better strokes already yet), 7-5, 6-2, and Gerry Hills beat Winkie Bacon 6-2, 6-2, both these matches coming in the semis.

In the boys-18-and-under singles final Benny Bacon made it three years in a row by outlasting Billy MacNeill 7-5, 6-1. Bill MacNeill had his hands full in the semis, managing to overcome Jeff Hills by the scores of 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, in a match featured by excellent tennis with the issue in doubt until near the end. Jeff had earlier given notice of his potential by ousting third-seeded Paul Ryan in straight sets in the quarters. Unseeded Winkie Bacon gave fourth-seeded Sam Cady some anxious moments in the first round before going down by the scores of 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

In the boys-18-and-under doubles Billy MacNeill and Peter Branch had an easy path to victory, beating Benny and Winkie Bacon in the final 6-4, 6-2.

Gerry Hills and Winkie Bacon defeated Peter Campbell and Billy Price by the scores of 6-0, 6-4. Price and Campbell pulled the upset of the tournament by beating second-seeded Dwight Bellows and Billy Keaton in a long struggle 3-6, 8-6, 6-4. Peter and Billy have played the tournament circuit together for two years and their experience as a team was an important factor in their victory.

The 15-and-under mixed doubles final found Winkie and Benny Bacon opposing each other with Betty Bixler and Jane Hood respectively. Both finalists had three-set semis, with Benny and Jane Hood beating Jerry Hills and Debby Price 8-6, 4-6, 6-4, and Winkie and Betty Bixler outlasting Billy Price and Diane Kittredge 6-8, 6-2, 6-3 to circumvent a brother-and-sister final. Benny Bacon and Jane Hood won the final by the score of 6-2, 6-2.

Tennis enthusiasts can be proud of the fine crop of up-and-coming junior players in town who will soon make their presence felt in the adult championships. Few adults begrudged the temporary loss of a court or two for a few evenings, secure in the knowledge that big oaks from little acorns do grow.

On behalf of the Winchester Tennis Association acknowledgment is again made with thanks to Mrs. Bacon, who arranged the matches, collected the entry fees, assigned the courts, awarded the prizes and lugged the table and draw sheets to and fro.

THE BEGGS & COBB FIRE IN PICTURES

DENSE SMOKE FILLS THE AIR AT THE BIG SHOP

The Big Shop as flames shoot from the windows and from the roof of the building. This shot, taken by Star Photographer Bill Ryerson, was made when the fire was at its height. The first alarm was turned in from Box 12 at 11:03 p.m.

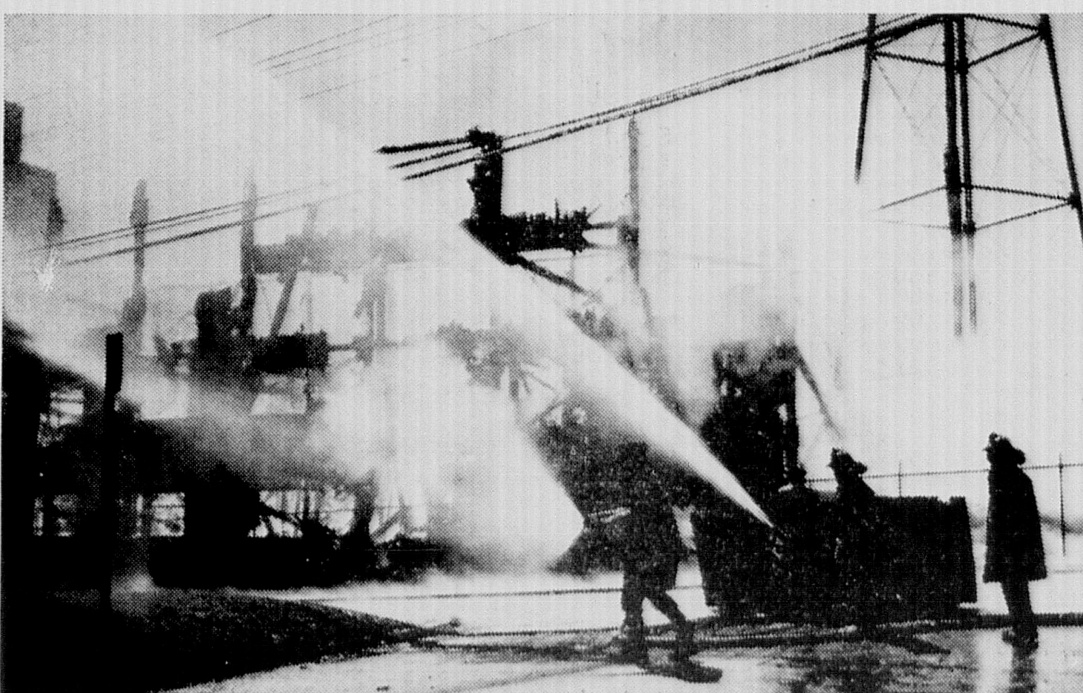

FLAMES SHOOT FROM END OF BIG SHOP

Flames shoot from the lower end of the Big Shop as seen from Swanton street. Firefighters from 10 towns plus Winchester have started to spray water on the building. The fire evidently started on the Main street side of the building and within moments the whole building was engulfed in flames. A firewall in the building was the only thing that remained when the fire was out.

BELCHING SMOKE

Great clouds of belching smoke poured out from the seven story Big Shop as flames poured out of the windows. The water tank is the tower at the right side. After the fire only the power house was standing, a brick structure well toward the back of the plant's grounds.

ONLY THE ASHES REMAIN

After the flames were out the firefighters sprayed water on the charred remains. The intense heat from the fire cracked the plate glass window at Chris' Barber Shop on Main street and caused the whole line of stores across from the fire to be closed for some time.

RESCUE OPERATIONS

Six firefighters spray water on the charred remains of the Big Shop. During the operation a hose broke on Main street spraying all the on-lookers and newspapermen with water. Another hose broke later on dousing a police officer with a chilling bath.

It Finally Happened

Beggs & Cobb Plant

Is Consumed in Fiery Inferno

The thing the Winchester Fire Department has been dreading for the past few years finally happened Thursday morning when the comparative calm of the morning was shattered by the steady ringing of Box 42. Beggs & Cobb, the old leather mill, went up in smoke like it was in a fiery furnace.

Aided by the rather brisk cool wind, pieces of wood from the plant blew over the area bounded by Swanton and Main streets. These pieces set other parts of the plant on fire and the whole area was a mass of searing flame.

Local firefighters were aided by all the auxiliary force who were available as well as by off duty firefighters and outside aid from surrounding towns. The intense heat which could be felt as far away as Salem street hampered firefighting conditions.

The 83-year-old leather firm had been an integral part of Winchester until it was sold in December 1957 to Harry Remis of Swampscott. Many of the residents of the area abutting the mill worked at the firm and it was with genuine regret that they saw the plant close.

With the purchase, Mr. Remis got the tanneries in Dover-Foxcroft, Maine and the sales offices in Boston. At the time of the purchase Mr. Remis announced that the facilities of the Maine plant would be expanded and the Winchester plant would be closed.

Since the time the plant was closed workmen have been tearing down parts of the building and were working on the main shop when the fire broke out. Last week there was a smaller fire in the basement of the shop which was caused by the demolition tools and which was quickly extinguished by firefighters.

The first alarm of the fire was sounded at 11:03 a.m., followed by the second alarm two minutes later. The third alarm was sounded at 11:09 and the fourth came at 11:25.

Firefighters came from Arlington, Stoneham, Woburn, Reading, Bedford, Malden, Melrose, Medford, Wakefield and Bedford Air Force sent U. S. Air Force trucks 13 and 2.

Several houses in the area nearby the plant were damaged to some degree. Many houses and Mottolo's Restaurant, which is right across the Boston & Maine tracks from the burning plant, were sprayed with water to try and prevent the flying sparks and intense heat from setting them off too.

WATER IS PLAYED ON HOUSE

Two unidentified firefighters play water on a house near the fire. Because of the good start the fire had on the building the main job of the firefighters was to keep the fire from spreading to nearby homes.

ORDERS YELLED AND CARRIED OUT

Firefighters from ten communities and the Bedford Air Force Base worked harmoniously together to keep the fire from spreading to nearby homes and stores. The barricade shown above offers some protection from the searing heat.

THE BURNING SKELETON

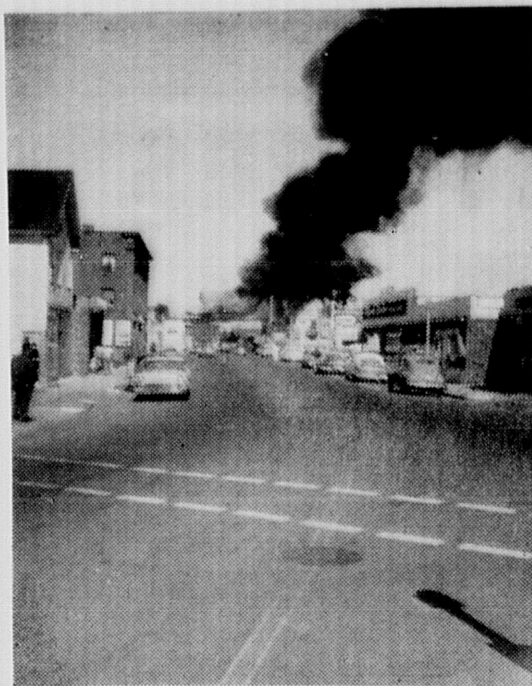

The Big Shop is reduced to a burning skeleton as the fire nears its end. The clouds of smoke were seen from miles away and the screaming alarms aroused many in the region. Because of the fire the Noonan School did not open for the afternoon session yesterday.

FLAME ENGULFS BIG SHOP

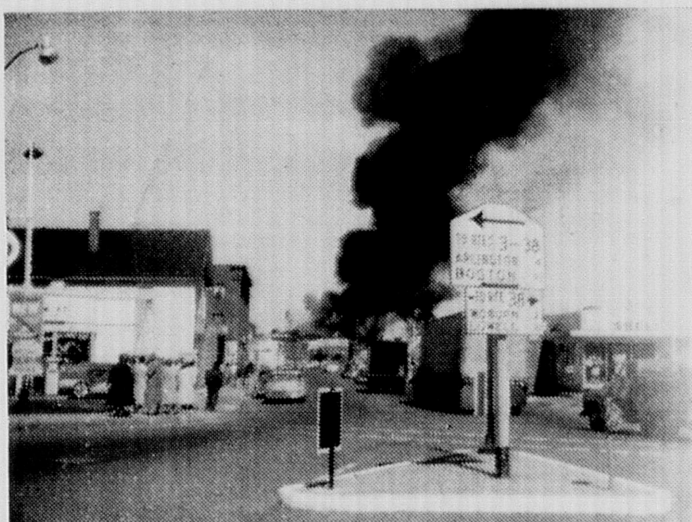

A wall of flame shoots out from the Swanton street side of the Big Shop. The building is in flames and only the brisk north wind kept the debris and burning sparks from spreading to the heavily settled north end district. Even so, a rash of small fires started even as far away as Washington street.

James Connelly

Main street as it was briefly while the alarm for Box 42 was still ringing. Moments later the street was filled with fire trucks from other towns and cars of people rushing to help out and to watch.

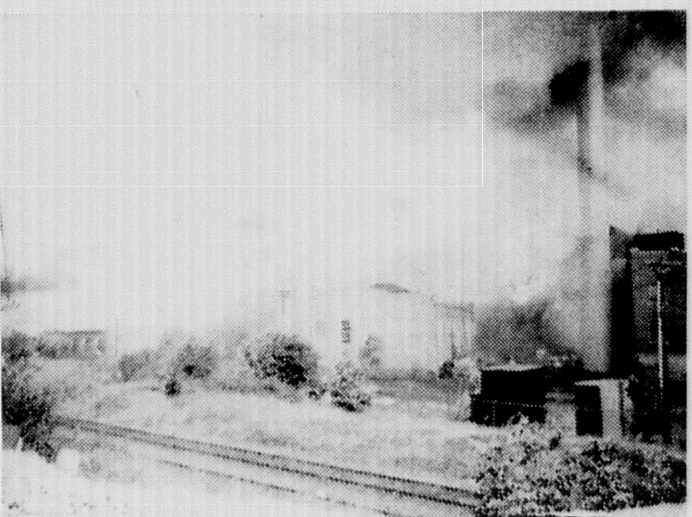

James Connelly

Dense smoke billows out over the Center as a group of people gather on the corner by Gullotti's Esso Servicenter shortly after the alarm was sounded.

Don Nelson

The intense heat kept the photographer away from the edge of the Boston and Maine Railroad tracks near Mottollo's Restaurant on Main street. The sheets of flames at this point nearly reached the top of the water tower.

Don Nelson

The brightness of the flame is shown here as the area is too light to give a good contrast to the photograph. The plant's office and smoke stack are recognizable in the midst of flame, dense black smoke and flying debris.

James Connelly

In the distance the water tower at the 83-year-old plant has started to burn. Already Main street is filled with cars heading toward the burning plant with auxiliaries and others who were workers and watchers.

Beggs & Cobb

Many houses in the area had broken windows and firefighters were busy with the rash of smaller fires which started from sparks. Malden firefighters put out a brush fire at the rear of C. H. Symmes Grain Mill at 745 Main street. Stoneham and Arlington both responded to a house fire at Tremont street, which is located off Swanton street. This fire was caused by sparks falling on the roof of the house. Another fire was extinguished on the roof of 43 Spruce street by the Bedford firefighters.

Melrose on its return to the fire station put out a fire at the home of Nicholas Fitzgerald at 250 Washington street. The evening and gutters at the house and the side porch were burning. At 12:40 Melrose went to the new Esso station on Main street where gasoline was leaking out the street.

Winchester Red Cross workers, the Auxiliary Police and the regular police were all there helping out.

Red Cross Meets Problem Head On

The Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross as usual met the disaster problem head on. Within minutes of the call aid was being sped to the scene.

William A. Wilde, Jr., disaster chairman, and Gerald Hills, first aid man, were immediately on the scene, ordering the necessary things. A call was put out immediately from the Chapter House on Washington street and nearly 50 volunteers came to the rescue to make sandwiches and coffee. Five boys who are regular helpers at the Red Cross House were released from High School to help.

Mrs. Lois Smith, librarian of the Winchester Public Library, immediately sent all the girls she could spare to the Chapter House to start them making coffee and helping out.

The Wakefield Red Cross sent a truck over with coffee cups which were needed and the Lynn Red Cross sent its canteen truck. Miss Esther Burnham, Red Cross field representative from Boston, and Chandler Blackington, public relations representative from Boston, were on the scene.

The canteen chairman Mrs. Marion Gowdy and Mrs. Billie Swan, her assistant, were directing the operations and coffee was made at both the Unitarian and First Congregational Churches. Harry Doyle drove the Red Cross car and four other automobiles were pressed into service.

Chief Callahan In Boston When Fire Started

Fire Chief James E. Callahan was in Boston at the State House when the first report of the fire came into the fire station here. Ever since the plant was idled in 1957 the fear of a fire there has been uppermost in his mind. With the several smaller fires in the buildings during their demolition, this problem came even more to his mind.

Not one to waste time, Chief Callahan was back in Winchester in about 15 minutes after he heard of the fire and was soon directing the firefighting operations.

Rusty Water Caused By Open Pipes

If any local residents are bothered by rusty water it can be blamed on the fire. Because of the tremendous amounts of water which were needed to combat the flames the Water and Sewer Department opened all gates so that there wouldn't be a shortage.

It was expected that the need for water would continue through the night and this was another reason why all possible water was made available.

Gerald J. Connors Receives Banking Institute Honor

Campbell of Kissimmee, Florida. While there she was in the Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, Florida, for two and one half months recuperating from a previous infection.

Dependency Allowances Broadened

Governor Foster Furcolo signed House Bill No. 481 extending dependency allowances under the Employment Security Law to certain children of divorced or otherwise separated parents. The new law was sponsored by Representative William J. Casey of Lawrence.

It provides that the allowance shall be increased from $4.00 to $6.00 a week. This amount will be allowed for each child under 18 years of age and also for each child 18 years of age or over who is incapable of earning any wages because of mental or physical incapacity who is dependent upon an unemployed parent, and for each child under the age of 18 years, for whom the parent is under a decree, or order from a court competent jurisdiction to contribute to such child support and for whom no other person is receiving allowances in a benefit year.

The new law provides that the child must be domiciled within the United States or its possessions and that the total unemployment benefits and partial earnings must not be more than the average weekly wage of the recipient.

The Auxiliary Police force under the leadership of Chief Joseph Moffett did an unusually fine job of directing traffic and helping with the many jobs which come up at such emergencies.

Ten men reported for duty at 11 a.m. and stayed on duty until 6 p.m., when they were relieved by ten more men who stayed until the last of the work was done.

They directed traffic at Loring and Cross streets, Swanton and Spruce streets, Clark and Main streets, Lake and Main streets and Cross and Main streets. They kept traffic flowing at these corners and kept the hoses free.

Living with Your Heart

("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

Must a woman with heart disease think of pregnancy in terms of fear?

No—for good medical management can bring almost every such woman safely through pregnancy, extensive study of patients at Boston Lying-In Hospital has shown.

However, the success of the pregnancy depends upon three major factors—the patient's own cooperation, the doctor's persuasiveness and the availability of appropriate services in the community. Drs. C. Sidney Burwell and James Metcalf have reported in a study supported by Heart funds.

Two hundred and ninety-eight pregnancies in 277 women with heart disease were studied, leading the medical experts to the conclusion not only that "in the vast majority of instances it is possible to carry women with heart disease safely and productively through pregnancy" but that no evidence existed that pregnancy accelerated the course of heart disease in later years. Only three of the women failed to survive.

Of 100 patients reviewed 4.1 years, on an average, after being seen in pregnancy, only a few were worse, most remained as well as ever and 27—a surprisingly high number—had improved.

Of these, Dr. Burwell pointed out, only five had surgery.

Although 85 per cent of these women had mitral stenosis—narrowing of the mitral valve—the report stated that surgery for this condition during the course of pregnancy was considered "not a good general solution."

"It is almost never necessary and we are aware of the special risks of cardiac surgery in pregnant women," it was pointed out. Operation after completion of pregnancy has been recommended in a number of patients.

A policy of what doctors term "conservative management" was found to be "highly sensible and highly successful."

The patient's ability to go successfully through pregnancy and delivery was found to depend upon the heart's capacity for work and the extent of total demand for work placed upon the heart.

The total demand on the circulation includes not only the cardiac work necessary to sustain life but the load imposed by ordinary activity, emotional stress, illness, overweight, lack of sleep and other factors.

Programs of removing as many burdens as possible from this workload to compensate for the burden of pregnancy were set up. They included controlling, as far as possible, physical activity, emotion, stress, anemia, obesity, infection and abnormal heart rhythms.

"Management of heart disease in pregnant women is seldom a problem of the use of digitalis or diuretics," the report declared. "It is a matter of prevention and control of congestive phenomena by understanding and controlling the total burden on the heart."

False Economy vs. Mental Health

The small amounts we spend on patient care in most mental institutions is false economy, according to the Health News Institute. Recent studies clearly indicate that if we spend larger sums on many of our mentally ill, we could be curing them rather than merely keeping them in custody.

In general hospitals we spend $26 a day per patient. In public mental institutions the average per day is only $4.07. One result is that mental patients who fail to recover within the first year face a mounting likelihood that they will languish permanently in the back wards, lost, hopeless and forgotten.

We have drugs today which are remarkably effective, the HNI points out, in calming the disturbed patient and making him accessible to treatment. But, in the words of Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, "the potentials inherent in the new tranquilizing drugs are as yet largely unrealized. If treatment is unavailable, the effect of the drugs is lost."

In other words, lack of money, which accounts for a 55 percent shortage of physicians in mental hospitals, is depriving thousands of the mentally ill of possible cure and rehabilitation.

Secretary Flemming cites a fruitful experiment at a Maryland state hospital, in which 72 male patients were taken out of the wards and placed in a convalescent cottage under intensive treatment which, of course, would necessarily be more expensive. All had been institutionalized for at least five years, and some for more than ten. With individualized care, 26 of these long-term patients were able to leave the hospital, and 25 of the 72 became self-supporting.

"Let us say it would have cost $1,500 a year to maintain these patients in the hospital for the rest of their lives," the secretary suggests, "and that they have an average life expectancy of twenty years. This would amount to a total cost of three quarters of a million dollars."

Such a short-sighted investment in waste makes clear that our present appropriations for public mental hospitals serve only to prolong a problem, not to solve it.

WATER TANK SUCCUMBS

White smoke and flames spewed from the water tank which bears the Beggs & Cobb name. To the left flames belch from the Big Shop. Hoses across the street impeded traffic and for a while bus service and train service went off schedule. Traffic was finally closed off from Main street and detoured to Woburn via Woodside road. Police working rapidly and efficiently eliminated most of the traffic snarl. The Auxiliary Police worked during the evening and into the night to keep the roads open and the hoses secure.

The 1959 Pee Wee football season gets off to a start on Sunday, September 20, when Winchester will be the host for Melrose on the West Side Field at 2 p.m. Coaches are Al Lindsay and John Riordan.

Pee Wee Football Game Sunday

The Wee Satchems, Winchester's 1958 Pop Warner suburban league champions had their first call for candidates last Tuesday at West Side Field. Heading the list of 113 boys trying out were varsity members Dan Brink and Barry Johnson.

This year the team will be coached by Al Lindsay and John Riordan. The latter is the former Winchester High 1953 all scholastic center and captain who attended both Bridgton Academy and Xavier College.

Representing the team in the newly organized 12-team league will be Bob Johnson and George Rowe.

Winchester will be host to Melrose Sunday, September 20, at West Side Field, at 2 p.m.

The squad has been cut down to its maximum strength 30 players under league rules. The remaining 60 or 70 boys will form Farm League teams under the supervision of Harry Stabile and Lou Errico.

Other Satchem candidates who were with last year's squad and appear to be first team eligibles, are the Murray brothers, Whit, Gary, Sparkie Cannon and Jack Kimball.

Some of the new candidates who have made great progress are Bob Gilbert, Ed Cutting, Joe Lucy, Eric Schaefer and Dave Rowe.

The 1959 schedule:

Sept. 20—Melrose at Winchester

Sept. 27—Winchester at Everett

Oct. 4—Inter Division Game

So. Shore team to be selected

Oct. 11—Somerville (Tufts) at Winchester

Oct. 18—Winchester at Swampscott

Oct. 26—Wakefield at Winchester

The team with the highest standing in each of the No. 10 Division and So. Shore Division on the season's play will meet on November 7 for a championship game.

Returning to Graceland College

Stephen Fisher of 6 Bacon street left last week for Graceland College, Iowa, where he is a sophomore in the liberal arts course.

Peter L. Fisher, formerly of Winchester, is a senior at Michigan State University, majoring in social science. He has been awarded a Hinman Scholarship which is given on the basis of superior academic ability and promise, and requires that the recipient show promise of personal development through the advantages offered by higher education. Peter, who is married and the father of a six-month-old son, was recently initiated into Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honor society.

His wife is an elementary school teacher in the Okemos, Michigan, schools.

National Boys' Tennis Championships

A local boy, Benny Bacon of Wildwood street, assured himself of a national ranking by winning three rounds to reach the round of sixteen in the Boys' National Tennis Championships held at Kalamazoo, Michigan, last July.

Each year exactly 96 boys from all over the United States, its territories and possessions, are chosen to compete at Kalamazoo for the national 15-and-under championships. Eligibility is limited to those boys who have won or been runner-up in a sectional, district or tennis center championship. Benny Bacon qualified by winning the Eastern Mass. tennis center championships in singles. He also won the Maine State singles and doubles, the Mystic Valley doubles and was runner-up in the New England Championship doubles.

At Kalamazoo in the first round Benny beat Robert Engels of Kalamazoo 6-0, 6-1. In the second round of 64 Benny beat Robert Goeltz of Bethesda, Maryland, whose father is a tennis professional who developed Donald Dell among others. Goeltz had pulled a major upset by beating Johnny Galante of West Point in three sets in the first round. Benny's scores in this match were 6-3, 6-1. In the round of 32 play had been switched from the usual clay surface to macadam because of rain. This surface is anathema to Benny, for he is not yet a hitter. His opponent was Paul Diamond of Ann Arbor, Michigan, who had ousted John Creighton of Seattle, Washington, in the first round. Creighton was placed to reach the round of sixteen on the basis of his play the week before in the Western Championships. Against Diamond Benny lost the first set 1-6 and was down 3-5 and love 30 on his serve. At that point his father thought about packing for the long trip home, but apparently Benny had other ideas. He never quit and bit by bit struggled back to 5-5. In the eleventh game after a series of rallies which saw the game go to deuce twelve times, Benny won to go ahead 6-5 and then ran the set out at 7-5. After the mandatory fifteen-minute rest period, it was apparent that Benny's comeback had taken a lot of starch out of his opponent and Benny quickly ran the match out at 6-1 in the third set.

The next day, on Friday, July 31, Benny played the number 1 seed, Charles Passarelli from San Juan, Puerto Rico, on the center court in the Dr. Stove Memorial Tennis Stadium built to accommodate two thousand spectators. A feature of the championships is the flag-raising ceremonies every morning, during which the national anthem is played. With spectators, players and ball boys standing at attention this is a sight to thrill any youngster who is impressed with the fact that he is representing something more than just his particular section.

Benny's opponent, Charles Passarelli, is coached by 'round by former national champion Welby Van Horn, who has groomed him sixteen in the boys' since he was eight years old. Needless to say, he is a real power hitter and his strokes are in the classical tradition. Benny had decided that it would be futile to hit against such a player and determined to out-steady him if he could. For a brief pulsating moment in the first set Benny enjoyed a lead of 4-3 and 30-40 on Passarelli's service but a major upset was not to be as Charles fought back and won 6-4. In the second set the greater experience quickly told and Benny went down at 6-2, secure in the knowledge that he had taken more games from the national jockey champion than any other player up to that point.

If You See a School Bus—Remember!

When approaching a school bus which has stopped to take on or discharge passengers, and while the blinker lights are flashing, the law now requires you to stop immediately before passing no matter in which direction you are moving. Having stopped, you may then proceed to pass at not more than 10 miles per hour, if you can do so safely.

This does not apply when approaching from the opposite direction on a divided highway nor unless the bus carries the "School Bus" sign.

Volunteer Workers Great Aid to Hospitals

In rendering Volunteer service in a hospital you are part of a great team which is assisting the staff to provide a service that would not otherwise be furnished. All assignments are not of the "glamorous" type, some are routine even to the point of being monotonous. It may be sitting at the information desk, selling in the gift shop, wheeling patients, carrying the mail, bringing in the gift cart with its magazines or papers or working in Occupational Therapy.

Whatever the service, it has much more significance than the worker realizes. Even those simple acts, the very approach to them, requires discipline and orientation.

Volunteer workers serve for one reason: for the comfort and welfare of the patient. The patient, however, is the important person in the hospital. There is a willing, sincere interest in rendering the patient service, a service that is dependable and performed with a high sense of responsibility and pride. The doing of Volunteer work is its own reward, and indirectly it brings many benefits. The worker becomes a more sensitive, finer human being. It is his or her contribution to society, to his or her fellow man. In a sense, they earn the right to serve.

The Volunteer worker will meet many moods, many personalities, many challenges. Some patients are critically ill, others may be severely ill at all. The Volunteer worker is prepared to meet these challenges. The attitude toward the hospital itself has a bearing on the Volunteer worker's ability to serve.

The hospital is not just a building of brick or stone, but rather it is a team of which the Volunteers are a vital part. This team with doctors at its head is dedicated to humanity to the end of helping patients to get well and to supply the morale necessary for the patient's well-being and comfort. It is the "Art" of ministering to the sick.

An artist works with materials at hand, whether beautiful or ugly, broken or deformed. Out of these materials, he creates something of eternal significance. It takes constant practice that never ends. As an artist the Volunteer worker brings spirit and uplifting hope to the patient.

But even more as the Volunteer worker enters the room she is being tested by the patient. In the simple act of handing the patient a letter, straightening a gown, or by some other worthy deed, the Volunteer is handing the patient a touch of warm humanity, warm interest, consideration and care. Concern for the patient's recovery and health adds much to the process of rehabilitation. The Volunteer shows in this simple, seemingly unimportant service that, not only they care, but the hospital cares, and the community cares. In reality the Volunteer interprets the community, society, to the patient and the hospital to the community.

The Volunteer enters the patient's room in a warm, cheerful, yet restrained quiet way, as though saying a silent prayer for recovery. The Volunteer is optimistic, tactful, patient, yet efficient and business-like, controlled, trained by life and for the duties at hand. A spark catches on, a communication opens up to the patient. A breath of hope and joy lights up the room. Troubles are forgotten for a moment. The patient responds to the warmth of a friendly, helpful soul. The patient feels, and rightly so, that he is the most important person in the world. The Volunteer leaves the room wishing the patient well, hoping he will feel better, assuring him everything will be all right, giving him hope.

"This is service to humanity," says V. D. Dortch, Administrator of the New England Sanatorium and Hospital, "this is truly an application of the golden rule. This is life itself. Will you serve in this most worthy endeavor? Roy Hatfield is eager to tell you more. Please call NO 5-1740."

Crawford Memorial Methodist Church

"Advice from Dennis the Menace," the rather unusual sermon subject announced by the Rev. H. Newton Clay, has aroused considerable interest in the parish of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and throughout the community. All that the pastor will say about it at this time is, "The subject is perfectly legitimate and the theme will be perfectly proper in the morning worship service of the church. Other than that you will have to come and see — or hear!" The service will be at eleven o'clock.

Next Sunday will be Registration Day in all departments of the church school at the Crawford Memorial Church. Sessions will be held at 9:30 and 11 o'clock.

The Pastor's Associates will hold an important meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the church parlor to plan and organize their program for the fall and winter seasons.

I. C. Queensmen in Eastern Mass. Drummerama

The Immaculate Conception Queensmen of Winchester will compete in the 9th Annual "Drummerama" of the Eastern Mass. Bugle and Drum Assn. to be held at Stone Field, Dedham, Sunday afternoon. The contest will climax "Drum Corps Week" as proclaimed by Gov. Furolo.

The local unit will vie for top prize in class B against the Statesmen of Everett; the Pontiac Chiefs of Lawrence; Hyde Park All-Girls' unit and the Bel-Air Cadets of Lowell.

Contests will be held in three other classes. All participating units have qualified for the championship on a point scoring basis throughout the summer.

In his proclamation, Gov. Furolo praised the drum corps program for the spirit of competition and sportsmanship which it exemplifies. He described the team work and discipline which it encourages as a training for useful citizens of the future.

Two sets of judges have been assigned to the Drummerama by the All-American Board of Judges. Units will be judged on personal appearance, music, marching and maneuvering and general effect.

Tufts Life Trustees Auto Registration Fee Now $6.00

Robert W. Meserve, left, of Waltham, former Assistant U. S. Attorney and widely known Boston lawyer, and Lieut. Gen. James M. Gavin, USA (Ret.) would fared expert on nuclear weapons and now executive vice president of Arthur D. Little Inc., of Cambridge, received signal honors by being elected trustees for life of Tufts College.

Meserve, a World War II Navy veteran, is an honor graduate of Tufts and Harvard Law and now a partner of Nutter, McClellan & Fish, Gen. Gavin, a West Point alumnus, retired in 1958 after 30 consecutive years of service in the Army.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley today announced that the Legislature has enacted a "flat fee" for registrations of certain vehicles effective beginning January 1, 1960 and thereafter. A fee of six dollars ($6.00) is established for all passenger cars, all motorcycles and all automobiles of the semi-passenger type. (Beach wagons, station wagons, etc.)

This does not affect the three dollar ($3.00) fee for automobiles and/or trailers owned by any political subdivision of the commonwealth which remains the same. The special provisions of law relating to the registration of trucks, semi-trailer units, taxicabs, busses, and heavy vehicles, and vehicles requiring special fees remain the same.

rugs and has a special shirt service. Mrs. Maggio says that at times she has done some tinting but will do it only at the owner's risk.

Mrs. Maggio lives at 24 Raymond, place and she is helped on a part-time basis by her sister, Mrs. Angelina Dattilo. Mrs. Maggio worked at the J. O. Whitten Company for 20 years before she started at the laundry in 1954.

The laundromat is open from 8 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock at night every day but Wednesday, when it is closed all day. Persons who are interested in contacting the firm are asked to call Parkview 3-1010 for further information.

Mrs. Maggio stresses that the RYCO service is not a self-service operation where the people have to put their own clothes into the machine and then wait for them. Instead, at RYCO all you have to do is drop off your laundry and request a specific time when you will pick it up. Usually this is some-day service unless you want it some other way. And your clothes will all be returned neatly packed and many of them can be put away without further work.

An eight to eight-and-a-half-pound load of laundry washed and dried will cost $6. Woolen blankets cost $1.00 washed and dried, quilts $1.50. George Washington bedspreads, $1.50, regular chenille bedspreads $1.00 and the charge for rugs is according to size and weight.

So, to avoid a day of drudgery, lugging heavy wash to clothes lines and lifting it from the machine, simply take your laundry to the RYCO Laundromat at 290 Washington street and let Mrs. Maggio do it for you. She will give it a personal treatment and you will be free of a difficult time-consuming chore.

This year, he says, the stocks are bigger than ever, and it should be a good year for models.

Besides handling the models, Joe Lampasona is a barber. A barber in Woburn for 12 years before coming to Winchester two years ago, Joe is a noted and expert men's hair stylist. A barber of the old school, he is known for the expertise of his work. One of his many specialties is a real flat top which, as those who wear it know, is a difficult style to get cut so it looks "right."

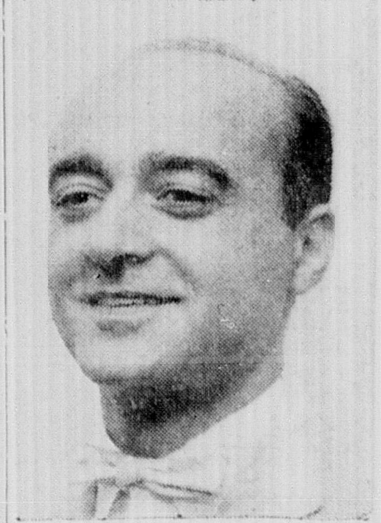

Joe's operation is unique, for not only is he running a successful barber shop, but he also carries an extensive stock of models and model supplies. Included in the line are airplanes, railroads, boats, car kits and the radio-controlled boats and airplanes.

To complete the model line, Joe's Hobby Shop carries the plastic and balsa wood models and a very extensive line of model accessories.

Joe's Hobby Shop also carries a line of games, such as darts, etc., and sports sets such as basketballs, footballs and boxing equipment. There are also books on hobbies for the beginner.

A trip to Joe's Hobby Shop at 292 Washington street for a haircut or a model is definitely worth your time. The display windows give you only a glimpse of the many models on display inside.

The shop is open from 8:30 to 6 p.m. daily and is closed all day Wednesday. Joe's Hobby Shop is also closed for lunch hour at noon.

Sachems Play League Game at Concord

Winchester Opens 1959 Football Season Saturday at 2 P.M.

Winchester High opens its 1959 football season Saturday afternoon, playing a Middlesex League game with Concord at Concord, commencing at 2 o'clock. Local fans should keep this time in mind, for most Winchester games in recent seasons have been played at 1:30.

Winchester expects a tough game with Concord, always a good early-season club, and this year reported to have a big line and a quarterback in Bernie Meglin, Jr., son of the capable Concord coach, who likes to pass early and often.

In the recent Bay State-Middlesex League football jamboree Concord beat Walpole, 6-0, and lost, 8-0, to Framingham. Winchester beat Milton, 14-6, and tied Natick, 0-0.

Coach Knowlton is pleased with the development of his team and expects his charges to give a good account of themselves at Concord tomorrow. Never underestimating a Meglin-coached team, he is confident but not over-confident.

He will field a pretty sizeable team at Emerson Field with John Hosmer, 165, and Roger DeMinico, 168, ends; Captain Richie Winn, 200, and Paul White, 210, tackles; Brian Cullen, 190, and Mike Brink, 175, guards; and Chris Stavaridis, 197, center. Dana Kelly, 182, will quarterback and hand off to Tom Cox, 155, and Sandy Cochran, 165, halfbacks; and Joe Capone, 188, fullback. This starting group will average 187 on the line and 172 in the backfield. The team average is just under 180.

Don't forget that starting time of 2 o'clock.

School Insurance Program

The Community School Association would like to clarify a few points of the voluntary insurance program which it sponsors.

This school insurance program is effective even though the family may carry other accident insurance. Every insured child who participates in or simply attends any school-sponsored activity is covered.

This voluntary insurance plan in no way conflicts with the insurance plan for those participating in interscholastic sports.

Any injury must be reported not later than twenty days after its occurrence. In the event of injury the proper claim form may be obtained from the school principal. All bills for claims should be sent to Higham, Nelson, Whitridge & Reid, Inc., which service the program for the underwriting company, Craftsman Insurance Company of Boston. Payment will be made directly to the doctor.

During the school year 1958-59, 2550 Winchester children and 57 teachers were insured. 115 claims were paid to the total of $3330.20.

Local Firefighters Respond to Woburn Fire

A group of Winchester firefighters in Engine 3 and the rescue truck responded to the fire at the Tanners Degreasing Plant last Friday afternoon.

After the big fire at Beggs and Cobb on Thursday the town was agog when Box 10-334 was sounded at 4:15 from the fire station. Great clouds of black and white smoke came from the plant which is located near Washington street in East Woburn.

Engine 3 was driven by Firefighter Bernard Styles with Lt. Walter Carroll, Callman Homer Davidson and Selectman Sherman Saltmarsh, Jr., on board. At 5:54 p.m. the rescue truck responded with Firefighter Joseph Connelly driving and Auxiliary Otis Arlington covered in at the local station while firefighters were battling the $250,000 blaze which injured four Woburn men.

Heat Detectors Installed at Senior High School

Heat detectors which are used to detect fires are being installed in the Senior High School. The Gamewell Company of Newton is in charge of the installation.

The detectors are being put in the attic and the boiler rooms of the school. These extra fire alarms had been recommended by Fire Chief James E. Callahan. When the job is completed there will be 40-50 of them in the building and if there should be a fire, the heat will cause them to register at the fire station and the alarm will sound.

Another fire precaution at the High School will be the new water line and hydrants at the rear of the building. These will be installed shortly and will feed from lines on Main street and the Mystic Valley parkway through Manchester Field.

Accelerated Reading Course Starts Oct. 5

A great deal of interest is being shown in this course in speed reading by the town's adults. Many parents and professional persons have decided that the excellent results obtained by the courses last summer should make the new course this fall of real value to them.

The course is again being sponsored by the Winchester Rotary Club as a community service, and will be given Monday nights commencing October 5, from 7:30 to 9:30, at the high school.

Applications are still being received at the Winchester Star or by Mrs. John McLean, PA 9-0084, Graduate students, $10; adults, $20.

League to Hold Units on Junior High School Issue

Baffled by the current status of a second junior high school in Winchester? People are wondering. Along what lines are the Building Committee plans being developed? Will they be favorably received at town meeting? The League of Women Voters of Winchester will hold unit meetings next week to discuss the secondary school building issue and the Well Field site. Those attending will be given the latest information available on the Building Committee plans. Also, there will be a discussion of the main points of the issue which will be especially helpful to new residents. Consensus of opinion will be taken among those members attending. The League of Women Voters will enable the league to take a stand with a view to action, if the issue should come before the town for a vote. Those who worked in the campaign following the school referendum last fall will remember the active participation of the league.

Mrs. Lawrence Kelbley, vice-president in charge of units, reports that there will be six meetings during the week. Choose the one that is most convenient for you. The discussion leaders will be Mrs. Richard Alt, Mrs. Leslie DeGroot, Mrs. E. J. Dieterich, Mrs. John Elliott, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbley, and Mrs. Lawrence Rubin. Bring your friends and your questions to one of the meetings listed below. Remember, anyone interested is invited to attend.

AND THE WALLS CAME TUMBLING DOWN

The giant crane wrecks the fire wall at Beggs & Cobb last Monday morning. The wreckers found that the wall was reinforced with iron bars and nearly impossible to knock down in the conventional manner. After several tries the wall came down with a thunderous crash at about 2 p.m. Next on the agenda is the water tower, which is seen at the left.

Beggs & Cobb Fire Wall Crashes Down Monday Afternoon

The fire wall, which was the last remaining wall of the Beggs & Cobb tannery on Swanton street, was torn down Monday, ending the fear that it might fall and injure someone. The wall was torn down by the wrecking company which is now demolishing the plant and came down with a thunderous crash at about 2 p.m.

Not as easy to destroy as believed, the wall survived many attacks by the demolition crane. Because of the reinforcement of the structure by iron rods, the huge wrecking ball seemed to glance off the wall like a ping-pong ball.

With the demolition of the wall, fire officially came to an end. Approximately 1,500,000 gallons of water were used in the two days, according to Water Superintendent James Halvart, and the fire department used 22,050 feet of hose and the engines pumped 106½ hours, according to Fire Chief James E. Callahan.

Aid was received from Arlington, Engines 1, 4, Ladder 2 with deputy chief and 12 men; Stoneham, Engines 3, 5, with chief and 8 firefighters plus call men; Woburn, Engine 1, auxiliary truck, chief and 19 men; Medford, Engine 2, 1, deputy chief and 8 men; Reading, Engine 1, chief and 6 men; Malden, Engine 3, captain and 4 men; Wakefield, Engine 1, chief and 5 men; Burlington, Engine 1, chief and 5 men; North Reading, Engine 1, captain and 4 men; Middleton, Engine 1, officer and 3 men; U. S. Air Force in Bedford, Melrose, Engine 3, captain and 5 men.

Other fires caused by the heat and flying embers were at 43 Spruce street, where the roof and gutter were on fire; 250 Washington street, where awning and roof of back porch were on fire; 13 Tremont street, roof fire; 6 Winter street; 9 Winter street; 12 Winter street; grass fire near Symmes Grain Mill on Main street and at the Shore road field. These fires were put out by the engines which came to Winchester to help with the fire.

The Mystic Glee Club opened its 20th season with the customary dinner on Monday evening, September 21. The ebullience of the members was heightened by the appearance of six newcomers, forecasting a successful season. The new members are: Messrs. Bradley Bissell, Vincent McCabe, George Souza, James Stewart, Paul Vatter, all of Winchester and Mr. Randy Scher of Wakefield.

Under the leadership of Mr. Keith Phinney of Woburn and the administrative skill of president Victor Guilbault several concerts are planned including the traditional Christmas and Spring concerts in Winchester as well as several in surrounding towns.

Any men who would like to sing but were not at the opening dinner are urged to get in touch with Mr. George Phinney at PA 9-6142, Mr. Jim Grozier at PA 9-3609 or Mr. Leigh Quinn at PA 9-4994, who make up the membership committee.

Members from Arlington, Medford, Melrose, Reading, Winchester and Woburn give the group a thoroughly cosmopolitan air. The unusual success of last Spring's concert together with the special impetus of the 20th anniversary promise a season of more than the usual popular appeal.

Johnson Road School, Zoning Changes Voted

$691,500 Voted for Johnson Road School at Lengthy Special Town Meeting

The sum of $691,500 was voted at Monday evening's session of the Limited Town Meeting to build a new elementary school on the Johnson road-Ridge street site in the West Side hill section of town. The vote was 152 to 1, indicating that ten of the 163 town meeting members present when the meeting got under way did not vote. There are in all 228 town meeting members, showing 65 members absent from the meeting to start with. There were a lot less than 163 in their places when the special session was finally dissolved at 11:40.

Prior to the actual meeting Selectman Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., read the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted by the meeting:

"Whereas on Thursday, September 17, 1959, a devastating fire started at the former Beggs & Cobb plant in Winchester, which could rapidly have spread to almost disastrous proportions, we the Town Meeting Members here assembled do hereby gratefully voice our appreciation of the conscientious, efficient and loyal public service rendered by the members of the Winchester Fire Department, the Police Department, the Auxiliary Fire Force and the Auxiliary Police, the Red Cross, Civil Defense and Water Department.

"We also express our gratitude to firefighters from neighboring cities and towns who quickly answered our call for assistance. Among those communities who rendered such valuable help in preventing the spread of the fire are the Fire Departments of Woburn, Stoneham, Arlington, Medford, Reading, Bedford, Air Force, Malden, Melrose, Wakefield, North Reading, Burlington and Middleton.

"The confining of the fire to a limited area was due in large measure to the voluntary mutual aid agreements with other municipalities. "The Town of Winchester does hereby gratefully express its appreciation to all those who so loyally served.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided as moderator at the town meeting and the invocation was made by the Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The meeting opened with consideration of the report of the Building Committee for the Johnson road-Ridge street School, made by Mr. Andrews.

Mr. Andrews prefaced his remarks by asking for one-half hour in which to make his committee's report. This brought Mr. Hewis to his feet, reminding the meeting that as the result of recommendations by a committee appointed to study ways of shortening town meeting sessions, a time limit of 10 minutes speaking time had been placed on town officers and committee chairmen, with a five minute limit for all others. He argued that if Mr. Andrews was given half an hour in which to speak, those who might oppose his views should be given equal time to reply. He felt that if the time requested by the school building speaker was granted, all rules should be suspended and the meeting thrown open to all without limit.

The town meeting members did not support this reasoning, and Mr. Andrews got, not only his half hour, but also an extension of time. He first stressed the need for a school at the proposed location, stating that over-crowding at the Parkhurst School had only been alleviated by transferring 17 pupils to the Wyman School that very morning.

He told the meeting that even in the time since his committee had made their original tentative estimates of the cost of the proposed school, building costs have risen, stating as an instance the structural steel for the building, estimated as costing from $18,000 to $22,000, with an actual bid cost $48,000.

All building costs, he said, reflected an upward trend, and in the committee's judgment, will continue to do so.

Mr. Andrews said his committee had been concerned with the increase in cost on an actual bid basis over what the committee's estimate had been, and stated that his group had given much thought to possible savings in construction.

There are, he said, no frills in the school, but a saving of some $82,000 might be effected by reducing the size of the class rooms over what is believed to be the best size. Another saving of $141,000 might result from eliminating one of the class room wings from the immediate building plans.

Here again the committee felt that in view of projected enrollment figures and past experience at the Parkhurst this would be unwise. Based on the present count at the Parkhurst, the new school will be using when opened, seven rooms with the optimum 25 in a room, or six rooms with 30 pupils.

Winchester Women's Bowling League

Well, well, here we are again cavedropping on the ladies' bowling league. Some of these gals can really throw a fast ball, men's bowling league take notice.

The Camels were a little slow-moving this week losing one point to the Alpines. Don't give up Alpines at this early stage, there is plenty of climbing to do yet. Too bad, we should have a camera with us to take a picture of the fancy stepping that goes on when getting ready to throw. Aim for the pins, girls not the gutter; no credit for that kind of bowling.

We are told that Dolly Rodwell looks for the light brown ball, says it brings her luck. Lots of excitement with the Camels. Their captain, Gloria Monterisi bowled 118 for one string which is the high string so far this year.

Here are all the teams in the league:

Team No. 1, I & Ms.—Betty Morgan, Capt.; Lillian Garcia, Marion Marone, Loretta Frongillo, Ann Gaudioso and Laura Dattilo.

EDITORIAL

The Star received recently a letter in which an old subscriber tells of the experience had by a family newly come to Winchester from the Middle West in buying a truck-load of wood from an out-of-state man going from door to door.

The letter was unsigned and we never publish unsigned letters, but the advice given newcomers to town by the writer, of doing business with a local dealer, is so good that we decided to pass it along to our readers.

According to the old subscriber the newcomers in question bought the wood by the truck load. Apparently there was no deception here, but the lady of the house did the buying, and when her husband came home and checked the amount of wood his wife had paid for he found that the unknown dealer had gotten "a pretty fancy price for his product if measured on a cord basis."

This is not the first time Winchester householders have bought wood from unknown sellers and have been unhappy with what they have gotten. This is not to say that there are no reputable wood dealers outside Winchester. The Star has carried ads from several and so far as we have heard their dealings with local customers have been very satisfactory. They have, however, advertised their wares with addresses and telephone numbers, and can be reached if what they sell is not as represented.

That is the point the old subscriber wanted to make. Buy it of a local dealer, or one you know about. In this connection the classified page of the Star will help. And it isn't only wood. The same advice is good whether what you are buying is a roofing job, getting the chimney cleaned and pointed, having your house painted or repaired, or any other type of household service, plumbing, wiring, heating, etc. The dealer located in Winchester or near at hand, who advertises his wares or service is a pretty good man to stick with. If anything goes wrong, he won't be hard to find.

Senator Karl E. Mundt, Republican, of South Dakota, has introduced in Congress a bill to establish a commission to study the problems of small towns. The Washington Newsletter of the National Editorial Association explains that the bill is not intended to make headway this year but has been offered to precipitate comment and discussion which Senator Mundt hopes will lead to passage in 1960.

The study would be made by a "Hoover-type" commission patterned after the two groups which studied the Executive Branch of the Government and made numerous recommendations leading to the passage of considerable legislation.

According to Senator Mundt's thinking a small town is any community with less than 10,000 people, and he points out that just as events have created problems for cities and towns, technical and industrial development has produced changes which have created new challenges and new problems for small towns. The proposed study would determine what is responsible for one town's success while another of equal size and equal opportunity may go steadily down hill.

Senator Mundt believes only in America can you find such an institution as our typical small town where there are in a compact area many of the advantages and few of the disadvantages of life in any city in the world. Our American small town, he believes, brings together the advantages of modern living and the privilege of residing in a community with people who estimate the character of a man by what he is, rather than what he has.

There can be no denying that much of America's charm stems from its small towns and villages. Many of its outstanding men and women originated in small towns and learned there the sense of values that enabled them to make important contributions to the American way of life. Everything possible should be done to keep our small towns politically and economically sturdy. The real grass roots of democracy are located there.

We are all going to pay for the new elementary school the limited town meeting voted Monday night to build on the Johnson road - Ridge street site. Each taxpayer in the town is going to pay his proportionate part of the $691,500 the school is going to cost, be he rich or poor, a family man or childless, one who lives in a humble or a pretentious home, or one whose children do not attend the public schools at all.

We need to keep this in mind because this new school will belong to the town, not to those whose children will go to it. Their taxes will not pay for it. Taxes from all the town will build the school, staff it and maintain it. So we shouldn't be too intolerant of those, who having to pay, may have certain doubts about this or that feature of the proposed building.

In all the years we have been reporting town meetings the Star has never heard so much discussion of school toilets as was the case in the arguments over the new Johnson road school on Monday evening.

To be sure, Mr. Andrews should have quieted any apprehension by his "excellent control" explanation of why the toilets are to be as they are. However, there were those who seemed not convinced, and one speaker went so far as to claim that new houses being built in town have more toilet facilities than are being built into a school for several hundred pupils.

Now toilets are important, and it does seem that those responsible for designing and building the school should not skimp in their direction. Let us have the requisite number of "receptacles" by all means, even if we have to do without a conference room or two. Nothing can replace a toilet when needed!

It is reassuring to see citizens and voters of the town reluctant to change established Zoning By-Laws, whatever the reason. Everywhere are horrible examples of communities which have no zoning, or which disregard their law at the slightest pretext. Good zoning is the backbone of desirable community growth. It should be carefully fostered.

It is equally reassuring to know that when there is good cause for making exception to our zoning provision the voters are willing to make such exception. There was no good reason for refusing Dr. McDonough permission to enlarge his medical center and to use for this purpose land he had always believed to be zoned for business anyway. Denying him this permission would have worked a hardship on him and resulted in a lessening of medical services available to the community. The voters at Monday's meeting took this into account. They were right to do so, and they were also right to retain the protection residents of the affected district wanted for the remainder of the strip involved.

Beggs & Cobb Fire Brings Memories

Editor of the Star:

The recent destruction of the Beggs & Cobb tannery brought back many memories of our childhood. It had been such an integral part of our lives. Our father, who is now eighty years old, had worked there from the time he emigrated from Italy until his retirement. Our welfare was therefore closely linked with the consistently able management of the plant, for, as we remember it, while the wages were not high by today's standards, Dad and Mother were able to raise seven children, purchase and pay for a home, pay their medical and other bills, and even put some aside for their retirement. There were no such things as strikes, and life seemed calmer and easier.

We became very familiar with the entire plant, for, in the summer when school was out, it was our chore to take Dad his lunch. That wasn't very good for Dad because naturally we would sit down with him and invariably consume most of his delicious pepper sandwiches—much to his amusement. We recall many of his fellow workers, a number of whom have passed away (Zopito Mezzanota, Salvatore DiZio, Mr. DeLuca, and many others too numerous to mention), playing a friendly game of "Scopa" in the warm sunshine along the fence during the lunch period.

And the men, with their heavy rubber aprons, pulling hides out of the watery pits, or opening up bundles of hides just in from South America, loaded with salt, from which the undesirable portions had to be removed with sharp knives and then tossed onto a flat push cart to begin their processing into the finest leathers.

We'll never forget the leisurely paces of the little two-wheel wagons pulled by a slow and never overworked horse, nor the stable in which the horses were kept.

Then came the day when the new power plant was finished, out of which each morning came many wheelbarrows of ashes. These ashes were important for it was our chore to go over them carefully, picking out the unburnt coke, totting it home in home-made carts, and placing it in the bins built into our cellar, three of them. Then there were the discarded lime and chemical barrels, these were broken down and cut into wood for the kitchen stove and likewise brought home in our little wagons.

These salvage operations took place each morning before school, and did we hate it; but it was part of the necessary plan for survival in those "teen years" and early 1920's. The finest part of the new boiler plant, though, was the new, loud fire whistle which blew faithfully each morning at seven, seven-thirty, noon, twelve-thirty and ten minutes past four, and finally at seven-thirty P.M. We all set our clocks and watches by its lusty loud blow.

Nor can we ever forget the wafting of the far from sweet smells which came in our direction when the south wind blew toward Florence street. Nostalgic!

For the immigrants from Italy, Ireland, Greece (primarily), and other nations, old Beggs & Cobb was the source of security in a strange unfamiliar land, amongst strangers who within a few years accepted them for the hard-working, honest, conscientious people they were.

In the true American manner, these new immigrants were assimilated and became proud naturalized citizens. In most cases these new citizens brought up sizeable groups of children, who, as second generation Americans, have proudly joined the ranks of artisans, skilled workers, professional men and women, and just downright good American citizens. Having been brought up with them and knowing them as well as we do, we certainly can say that they have given the Winchester law-enforcement agencies cause for a minimum of trouble.

Many, many of their fathers worked for old Beggs & Cobb, fathers who were stern, but kind, and who definitely wore the trousers in the home, to the good of the children and the community. These same men gave old Beggs & Cobb full value for their wages, thus contributing to their mutual benefit (a far cry from some of today's theories of feather-bedding, etc.).

Even from this distance our heart grieves for Beggs & Cobb. Under the circumstances, we suppose it is only natural that it should.

Wants Town Hall Open Evenings

Editor of the Star:

Perhaps the pleasure of returning home from a vacation is lessened to some degree by the realization that Winchester has not changed noticeably, and that it still faces the same serious problems which existed at the beginning of the summer. In addition to re-familiarizing ourselves with these same problems, we are often made aware again of minor irritants which can easily be corrected but which never are because they are so small.

One of these annoyances is the difficulty of doing any kind of business with town offices—he it securing a dumping permit, a fishing license, or merely obtaining information—because the town offices are not open at convenient hours. Although local stores and banks have made arrangements to accommodate residents who are not in town from eight to five, the town offices have not done so.

It has become the general practice in many towns for the town hall to be open for business a few hours a night once a week, and it has always been customary in very small country towns to transact business in the evening. Town officials who are in a position to establish work schedules should give this problem some consideration to see if they could arrange their hours to give more and better service to the residents of the town. Certainly, in a town the size of Winchester, we should be able to enjoy some of the conveniences found in many of the smaller towns of the Commonwealth.

Chief Harrold Thanks Police Assisting at Fire

Editor of the Star:

May I have space in your columns to express my sincere thanks to the Members of the Woburn Police Department, Woburn Auxiliary Police and our own Winchester Auxiliary Police for the great assistance they all rendered the officers and men of my department during the recent three-alarm fire at the old Beggs & Cobb tannery.

The nature of the fire and the many pieces of apparatus working to control the blaze posed a severe police problem, to which was added the large numbers of onlookers attracted to the scene.

Our efforts to control the situation were materially aided by the work of the three departments mentioned above. Cooperative effort such as theirs is deserving high praise.

Very truly yours,
Charles J. Harrold
Chief, Winchester
Police Department

In Appreciation

Editor of the Star:

We wish to extend our grateful appreciation to Chief James E. Callahan and to the members of the Winchester Fire Department for their outstanding assistance at our recent fire.

To Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cusack and to the volunteers of the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross, may we say a sincere "thank you" for the soup, sandwiches and coffee they provided at the scene.

Noonan School Mothers' Assn.

The Noonan School Mothers' Association launched a busy season on Monday evening, September 21, when the executive board met at the home of the president, Mrs. Edward McCormack, 17 Ardley place.

Following a delightful coffee hour the members of the board discussed the activities program for the coming year which will include a rummage sale on November 17, Rob Munsted's puppet show on November 24, a Christmas party on December 18, and the "Sno-Ball" dance on January 16. Spring events will be a "penny sale" on April 7 and the May festival on May 3.

The first social event of the year was a tea for new mothers which was held in the school auditorium on Tuesday morning, September 22. The 41 mothers who have children entering Noonan School for the first time enjoyed a pleasant hour meeting with Miss Minetta Jurgen-son, principal, and with members of the executive board. Mrs. Philip Porter and Mrs. Nathan Fitch, of the social committee, were in charge of refreshments and were assisted by Mrs. Richard Emerson and Mrs. Frank Brooks, who poured.

Town Accountant Attends Meeting

James J. Costello, town accountant, attended the meeting of the New England States and Municipal Finance Officers' Association on Monday and Tuesday. The meeting was held in Manchester, Vermont, on municipal finance administration.

Mr. Costello was re-elected as secretary of the association at this meeting.

Topics discussed at the affair were: "The Metropolitan and Suburban Relationship," "The Financial Relationship Between Accounting, Management and Budgeting," and "The Relationship of State and Local Government."

KINSMAN, in Somerville, September 22, Grant E. beloved husband of the late Agnes (Davidson) and father of Mrs. Ernest Tourtellotte of 15 Winchester Place, funeral services at the E. L. Kelleher Funeral Home, 67 Broadway, Somerville, Friday at 2 p.m. Relatives and friends invited. Late employee of the Augusta & Barry Transportation Company.

ALL THAT WAS LEFT ON FRIDAY

A group of spectators survey the still-smoking ruins of the Beggs & Cobb plant on Swanton street last Friday morning. The fire wall was still standing at the time this photograph was taken and it stood until Monday afternoon, when it was knocked down by the wrecking crew, leaving only the water tower standing at the upper part of the former tannery site.

Town Meeting

Mr. Andrews pointed out the town has already spent $33,500 for plans and advice, and that it seems false economy to throw this away and try to work out new plans on the off chance of saving some $15,000 or $20,000. His committee admitted the sloping nature of the site, but he asked the meeting whether a level site can be obtained.

Mr. Andrews showed slides to illustrate the building type. Briefly it is of three connected units, the first devoted to a multi-purpose room, administration offices, conference and health rooms and a kindergarten with separate play area.

Behind this unit are two more units connected by stairways, each unit to have six classrooms. Counting the multi-purpose room, or auditorium, and the kindergarten, the school will have 14 rooms and will have a per pupil cost of $1520 as opposed to the state average of $1519.

The Building Committee's motion asked for an appropriation of $691,500 for the school, of which $550,000 will be by a 20-year bond issue and the remaining $141,500 by a transfer from the Excess and Deficiency Account.

Mrs. Bailey presented the School Committee's endorsement of the plan, and discussed some of the possible alternatives, such as postponing construction, making the rooms smaller and eliminating the kindergarten. The School Committee felt, she said, any such curtailment would be disastrous, education-wise, and very probably would cost more in the long run.

Mr. Dunn discussed the financing and reported that the Finance Committee recommended favorable action on the plan to build. The Selectmen and Planning Board supported the plan and urged favorable action.

Most of the opposition to the building plan was voiced by Mr. Hewis, who doubted many of the figures given by proponents and felt that the School Building Committee was not representative of the poor people of the town, who will have to help pay for the school.

He said the new building is to cost $691,500, to which must be added the $33,000 already spent by the committee and the $20,000 in round figures the Park Department paid for the land when it bought it some years ago for a playground.

He reminded the meeting that the Parkhurst Committee refused to change the site selected for that school and that it had cost $50,000 to prepare the site for use. He felt that the site for the Johnson road school is a swamp and that it will cost another $50,000 to prepare. He also questioned the contour of the land on which the school is to be set, claiming a 50-foot differential from the lowest to the highest spot.

Continuing Mr. Hewis felt the toilet facilities were insufficient, claiming many private homes have more toilet facilities than are to be provided in the school. He finally proposed a $325,000 school that the town can afford to pay for and that would, he said, take care of all the children who need to go to the Johnson road school and also relieve the crowding at the Parkhurst.

Mr. Barnard told the meeting that the result of opposition to the original plans of the Parkhurst School Building Committee had cost the town $152,000, and urged the meeting to accept the proposed plan.

Mr. Haslach strongly resented the implication that the meeting did not have the intelligence to understand a school plan so ably presented and reminded the meeting that the people for whom the school is to be built, the occupants of the fine new homes in the West Side hill section, are with their taxes going to pay for the building for their children.

Mr. Cullen was a little confused over the saving of $141,000 that could be made by lopping off one of the two classroom units not immediately needed. By his computation that would indicate that the two classroom wings are to cost $282,000, leaving the sum of $409,500 for the administrative wing with its kindergarten and all-purpose room.

Mr. Andrews admitted that was the way it looked, but made no further explanation, beyond stating that the grading costs had to be taken into account.

Mr. Hewis returned to the lists to battle vainly against the acceptance tide and got some little support from Mr. Carroll in the matter of toilet facilities.

The meeting, however, was becoming impatient for the question, and when it was put the vote was 141 to one, with Mr. Hewis objecting. A two-thirds vote was necessary because of the bond issue involved.

Following a recess the delegates returned to quickly authorize a transfer of $8,500 from the Excess and Deficiency account to rebuild the bath house at Leonard Pool, practically destroyed by a recent fire. Mr. Shanahan presented the Park Department's arguments for the new structure and showed slides of the destroyed bath house with plans for rebuilding.

There was also no opposition to the proposed alteration of the Zoning Map to place in the industrial zone a strip of land adjacent to the J. H. Winn Dial Hand factory needed for enlargement of the plant. Mr. Redding gave the change the Planning Board's blessing and it was quickly adopted.

There was objection voiced to the final article of the warrant, under which a motion was introduced, again altering the Zoning Map to place in the business district a strip of land at the back of properties numbered 163 to 179 Washington street extending to Bridge street.

The proposed change was sought by Dr. James F. McDonough, for the purpose of enlarging the medical center he operates on one of the properties involved. A number of physicians have established offices in the center and to accommodate those now in the building and provide adequate space for his own growing practice Dr. McDonough was faced with the urgent need for more room.

Mr. Redding, speaking for the Planning Board, told the meeting the Board would have no objection, either to including in the business district the whole strip at the rear of the properties involved, or to have the change to business district affect only the McDonough property.

Mr. Garvey, as counsel for Dr. McDonough, told the meeting the doctor would also be satisfied either way. He stressed the advantage to the town and hospital of the medical center and assured the delegates no commercial project of any sort entered into the client's plans.

Mr. Carroll presented a petition from residents of the district objecting to placing the entire strip of land affected in the business district. Mrs. MacDonald also objected, telling of past unfortunate results following such changes, and warning the meeting once land is zoned for business any sort of business establishment can be located there.

Mr. Hewis offered a substitute motion to have only the McDonough property placed in the business district, but without specific figures as to size there was some doubt as to whether the motion could be made.

A ten-minute recess was ordered and after Mr. Ambrose had secured a map from the Engineer's office, a substitute motion acceptable to the town council was evolved at a conference in which he and Mr. Hewis and others interested was involved.

The substitute motion was carried by a voice vote, after which the motion actually affecting the Zoning Map was passed, 121 in favor and two in opposition.

Boat Club News

Although the schools and most of the colleges have started classes, and summer activities have for the most part ended, Winchester sailors find conditions for sailing more suitable than ever. Nothing can compare with fall sailing on the lake, with the days, sunny and cool, and the winds stiff and sometimes even steady.

Saturday was such a day. Dawson Blamire took top honors in the snipe fleet, while Ken Cook and Dick Ivers finished second and third.

Carol Dannenberg and Buzz Hall were both successful in the turnabout fleet, as there were two races. Linda Chase and John Berger were second and third in the first race, and Leigh Quinn and Brian Heard were second and third in the second.

Sunday, Tom Legere crossed the line first. Norman Towle of Medford, finished second and Ken Cook, third.

Rob Dannenberg, Roger Heard, and Linda Chase were the top three in the first turnabout race. Roger Heard won the second, with Tom Raphael and Rob Dannenberg, second and third.

The final race of the turnabouts' Dillon Cup race was held Saturday morning. Defending champion, Rob Dannenberg, wrapped up the cup again with a first. Warren Dannenberg and Buzz Hall, also were second and third in both the final race and final standings.

For a group of shipwrecked sailors, the members of the Winchester Boat Club looked and sounded alive and happy Friday evening at the Shipwreck Party. The only objects that looked at all forlorn were the ripped pants, mismatched socks and shoes, old shirts, sailor hats and uniforms, and even nightgowns and broken bones. If a camera had been present, the pictures would have received at least an honorable mention, if not first place, in any contest, I'm sure.

Prizes were given for the best costumes. Rob Dannenberg and Carol Shanly topped the juniors.

THE NEW NEW ENGLAND

Vacation Travel—BIG Business

New England plays host to more than 3,000,000 visitors each year. A billion-dollar business in our six states, vacation travel is second only to manufacturing as the region's largest dollar earner.

While most of the vacationers presently come from the Northeastern United States and Eastern Canada, 600-mile-an-hour jet plans are extending New England's potential market even to the most distant states and other countries.

No other section of the United States has so much to offer the vacationer in so compact a package. As naturally endowed as Marilyn Monroe, New England has sparkling ocean beaches, peaceful lakes and streams, rugged mountains (16 of them over 5,000 feet), verdant woodlands, summer and winter sports, plus countless historic and cultural attractions. You name it and New England has it—all within an easy day's drive.

Vacationists' dollars filter down to practically all segments of our economy. Every one of us should be a helpful and courteous member of a vast New England reception committee to help the visitor feel at home and make him want to return.

"Russia's Many Faces"

The first showing of "Russia's Many Faces," an illustrated lecture, will be presented by Carl deSaze in the Melrose High School Auditorium on Friday, October 2, at 8:15 p.m.

This is a keyhole journey: a look at the Communist world taken by Mr. deSaze this past summer, in which he surveyed the problems involved in traveling through satellite countries of Czechoslovakia, Poland and the newly opened Bulgaria, to say nothing of the vastnesses of Central Asia, Siberia and many other republics within the Soviet Union.

The show is sponsored by the Pioneer Fellowship of the Green Street Baptist Church, Melrose. Mr. Henry C. Betcher, Jr., is the president.

This message was prepared by The New England Council for Economic Development and is published by this newspaper as a public service in cooperation with the New England Daily Newspaper Association and the New England Weekly Press Association. ## Lions Club Runs Eye Fund Campaign Official kick-off of 1959 Eye Research Fund Campaign of the Winchester Lions Club was announced by Alfred A. Zirpolo, president of the club.

The club will seek to raise funds needed by the Lions Eye Research Fund Committee to support projects in Massachusetts by Blind Seals Drive sent to all homes in Winchester.

The research projects are at Tufts, Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, the Joslin Clinic, the Ophthalmic Plastics Laboratory, the E. B. DuPuy Eye Research Fellowship, the Harvard Laboratory of Ophthalmology and the Retina Foundation.

President Alfred Zirpolo pointed out that the need for research is desperate. Someone in this country goes blind every 24 minutes, he said. "Over the last twenty-five years, eye research, due to lack of funds, has lagged considerably behind the research in most other disease groups, despite the fact that blindness is the most crippling of all diseases."

"If the causes of blindness are to be discovered and prevented, eye research is our only hope. We earnestly urge every citizen of our community to cooperate with our campaign. If funds are provided, tremendous possibilities for eye research can be instituted."

There were 1500 sandwiches sent to the four Canteen Stations at the fire and fire house. Also 17 dozen doughnuts, 80 gallons of coffee, 300 cups of soup, between 11:30 a.m. and 11:00 p.m.

Coffee was made in the kitchens of the Congregational Church by Leon Smith; in the Unitarian Church by Mrs. Doyle, and at the Chapter House by Mrs. Gowdy. Also at Mr. Goethal's kitchen and at Randall's.

Mr. Antippos of the Splendid Restaurant always can be counted on to help the Red Cross in sending the first 100 sandwiches with Randall's coffee to the scene of disaster by Red Cross Motor Corps until the Volunteer Canteen workers assemble for work.

Prompt offers of assistance from the Metropolitan Chapter and the Lynn Chapter of the Red Cross were accepted. The field representative, Miss Esther Burnham and Mr. Chandler Blackinton, public relations director, visited the Chapter. The Lynn Chapter sent its Mobile Disaster unit with Mr. Dan Wormwood, Jr., Mr. Arthur Avery, Mr. Frank Hardy, and Mr. William Belair, who most ably assisted the Canteen workers at the scene.

Peter Longinos of 10 Loring avenue gave their yard over to Canteen service and were most helpful for twelve hours, from noon to midnight.

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley today announced the second periodic motor vehicle inspection for 1959 will take place during the month of October.

The law requires every motor vehicle registered and operated in the commonwealth during the month of October to display the official windshield sticker on November 1. This sticker, which bears black lettering on a red background, must be placed on the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and in no other place, and all other stickers, gadgets, decals, tourist stamps, and other attachments to the inside of the windshield must be removed. On wrap-around windshields, the stickers should be placed in the lower edge of the windshield as far to the right as possible and still be visible to the front.

The Registrar points out that there are 1,822,785 motor vehicles registered in Massachusetts. Inspection stations and personnel will be overworked during the latter part of October. It is suggested that early inspections be made to prevent delays at the end of the month.

Following the October, 1958, inspection, 815 were summoned into court and paid fines for not complying with the law requiring periodic inspection of motor vehicles.

The Star is sorry it lapped 10 years from Jim Halwartz' length of service to the Town of Winchester, crediting him with only 20 years instead of 30. In a way the mistake was natural enough because Jim just doesn't look like he has spent as many as 30 years with the headlines that are an inevitable part of his job.

"Quality Is Our Most Precious Asset"

S. O. I. Bowling

We rolled into the second week and the boys really loosened up in a hurry when last year's champ, who is this year's captain of Bates, Bob Fiore, took a quick lead as you'll note below. Army, captained by Tony Saraco, Alabama, captained by Babe Tofari, and Notre Dame, captained by Moose Bellino, are right up close behind the leader. It is too early to predict or foresee what the future will hold.

We cannot quickly forget the tragic disastrous fire at B. C. which wiped out in short order the years of labor and sweat of many townspeople and many of our present bowlers. As we gaze at the bulk of rubble and ruin, we try to visualize what once proudly shouldered itself into the sky and is now no longer visible. The remaining fireproofed stone like a tombstone engraved with fire that read "This is the end."

As we mentioned before there are many bowlers who are B. C. graduates. For instance, Big Joe Marone with a small Pippin cigar; Charlie Lizzotte, who weighs 99 lbs. soaking wet; Pete Lonigro, popular taxi driver; Mario Buzzotta, the biggest cop in town and world traveler; Correction Fiore, the publicity boy during the strike; Jeff Gaudioso, the human talking machine; Phil Muraco, wild west hero; Joe Di Iorio, well-known gardener; Tony Chetalo, Rocky De Teso, Eddie Forgiome and many others too numerous to mention.

Going back thirty or forty years; if some of you old timers can remember "Sachel" Hokie Procopio, M. D. Saraco, whose silhouette is like a beach ball, and last but not least, our own original Maxie Di Mambro, who recently received the famous Italian "Bascio di Morte," the sera, sera. For those who can remember back fifty years let us not forget old callous foot, our beloved present venerable Anthony "Chic" Vespucci.

We had quite a few 300 bowlers this week: Bob Fiore bowled 366; Moose Bellino 331; Jay Cammarata 326; Choppers Gangi 317; Mingy Frongillo 313; Johnny Riordan 310; Hokie Procopio 310; Frank Penta 308; Correction Fiore 306; Al De Minico 303 and Steve Cammarata 302.

For the first time in five years the man who makes the final decisions, Mingy "Nikita" Frongillo, is strutting around as proud as a peacock because he is one of the top ten bowlers. Skitchy Fiore (366) and Sachel Hokie (310) felt so cocky after having such a good night that they challenged Moose Bellino (331) and Jay Cammarata (326) one string for fifty dollars. At the last moment Sachel remembered that gambling is illegal in Winchester and backed out.

Will someone please help Joe Berardi keep score? After every one had left Joe was still adding figures, finally Manager Frank Scully and a few others came over and helped him out. We appreciate his heeding our request of last week to check your scores carefully.

For Women Only

Daughter: "Do you know what kind of a man that I want to marry?"

Mother: "I imagine I do, dear, probably the same kind of man that I wanted—until your father came along and spoiled my plans."

Watson Town Tennis Champ

Nothing succeeds like success, goes the adage, and the town tennis championship tournament sponsored by the Winchester Tennis Association, with help from the Park Department, again proved it. Charlie Watson smoothly overcame all comers for the third successive season. Ruth Murray and Adolph Alla kept their mixed doubles crown untarnished. Weegee Coon and Philip Young squelched their opposition in the ladies' doubles. Only Shep Holt and Dave Moore altered the pattern by blasting through to the men's doubles championship. The second outstanding change in the tournament is the unclaimed women's singles honors, a curious distinction proving nothing perhaps except that the ladies can and will change their minds. Since there were only three entries, the event was cancelled.

The competition was sharp in all other sections, however. Those who saw the matches, which commenced September 12, know better than these words convey the high and low quality of play. Every challenger has a tale, for which the summary "I lost" is insufficient. But the winners merit printed notice, which may incidentally forecast different results for 1960. This year's run-off, for instance, brought forth the most colorful tennis from frequent players who favored Harvard emblems on their shirts.

Twenty-nine men were drawn in the singles, and in the deceptive shoals of the first round many a fond intention foundered. The great expanse was scattered with C team wreckage. Bill Emerson reappeared on the Palmer street courts with a more polished game shaped out of sheer determination and a lot of practice some place to wear down Bob Nichols in three sets. Langdon Smith returned to the scene of former glory to dispose of the perennial dark horse, Bob Pritchard. Lanky Bob Repetto had too much speed for that experienced fox, Jim Riley, and Chris Wadsworth held down a determined Bill Bird. Ike Powers was defaulted to Shep Holt by an unsympathetic judge apparently, and a Harvard lawyer overcame Frank Moore.

Emerson meant business and in a play-alike second round match extended Watson to 7-5, 9-7. The unlucky man of every tennis draw, Tony Apsey, finally bowed to Lang Smith 9-7, 13-11. Dave Moore swept out of without loss of a game in anticipation of stogie-puffing Joe Bacon's lob and chop, but Bill Macneil came to grief under the steady hammering of our now nationally prominent junior, Benny Bacon. Up in the semis, however, the competition suddenly faded. Watson abruptly dumping Dave Moore and Bob Repetto passing Shep Holt in straight sets.

In the 3 out of 5 final, Watson again showed the pace, grace and dead eye of a natural athlete. In spite of Repetto's base line harassment, Watson won handily. Three years ago he was frothing at the mouth after his first championship. This year he hardly looked tired and is still "The Man to Beat."

Men's doubles really go on from April to November, and anyone can get an argument from Whit Gray as the championship combination. Doubles represent the best tennis playing in Winchester. Our own B & K (Deb Bellows and Bob Keeton) knocked off the heavily favored Alla-Williams team and came close to making Prudence hash of Watson-Apsey before running out of gas. (They showed well against the Army champs earlier this year.) The unknown danger of Wadsworth and Smith gave Holt and Moore plenty to worry about in a hot battle where daily practice and court familiarity may finally have determined the outcome. The match gave the gallery a display of some of the sharpest volleying seen here in recent memory and more of the same would be welcome.

It was about even money going into the final, where Holt and Moore went after everything right at the start to capture the first set 7-5. Even at this psychological disadvantage, Watson-Apsey at 4-3 in the second set seemed on the verge of high gear play. But the sun got in someone's eyes, or something, and the match settled down to an unyielding duel. They fought all day, as the ancient legends often read. Long shadows striped the court, spectators had drifted away and the air was chill when Holt and Moore finally exhausted their opposition and claimed the laurels.

By comparison the ladies were abrupt. The favorites survived and in the finals showed sort of crisp competence by continuously outting their umpire after seven games and finishing their match in their own way with the outward cheer they always maintain. Mrs. Coon's cross court shots and Mrs. Young's net play were too much for the aggressive game of Mesdames McDonald and Wingate.

Mixed doubles are fun but commentary can involve a reporter in great difficulty. Let it suffice that we point with pride once more to Ruth Murray, who can put away balls Adolph Alla is too tired to chase. Marilyn Chase and Tony Apsey offered stiff competition but the champs were just too confident to be rattled.

Pee Wee Football

Last Sunday at West Side Field the Winchester Pee Wee football team opened their 1959 season by defeating Melrose 14 to 0. The first score was made by Richie Errico on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard line with Barry Johnson sweeping right end for the score after the second touchdown was scored late in the game on a brilliant 75 yard off-tackle smash by Eddie Cutting who fought off several tacklers before he broke into the open to go all the way.

Bobby Gilbert played a great defensive game at halfback, deflecting several passes right out of the arms of would-be receivers. Richie Errico and Dave Rowe made last ditch tackles to stop Melrose scores. The line, backed up by Barry Johnson, stopped about everything that was thrown at it. The Murray twins, Ed Tonnello and Joe Lucy proved to Melrose that they could get nowhere through the center.

This year's team is being almost completely rebuilt as only seven of last year's Dog Warner's Suburban League champions returned this year. Coach Al Lindsey and his assistant John Riordan, have done a remarkable training job in preparing this team of raw recruits in the short space of two weeks.

Next Sunday, September 27, at 2:00 o'clock, Winchester plays Everett at Everett Memorial Stadium which is located on the Revere Beach Parkway.

The Farm teams are now being organized and their schedule will be announced shortly.

Introducing Our New Teachers

A photographic series on the new teachers who have started teaching in Winchester this fall has been planned. Through this series a new teacher will be introduced each week in the hope that parents and pupils will rapidly make them feel at home here.

Italian-American Vets Dance Nov. 14

The Winchester Post 65, Italian-American War Veterans of the United States, will hold its fall dance at the American Legion Hall, Four Corners, Woburn, on Saturday, November 14, with dancing from eight o'clock to midnight.

This event is an annual affair which has been enjoyed by the members, their families and friends.

The fall dance committee includes Anthony De Luca, chairman; Emidio Di Loreto, Thomas Derra, Frank Rallo, Albert Derra, Bill Maggio, Pat Guarino, Michael Lionetta, Joseph Pellegrino, James Pasquale and Ralph Fiore.

The response to this annual dance has been so great that it has been necessary to hire a larger hall than for the previous occasions. It is the hope of the committee to make this occasion an enjoyable one which will always be remembered.

Junior High Pupils Make Own Book Covers

Something new has been added to the junior high school. We now have our own book covers which were designed in the eighth-grade art classes as part of the art program.

Joan Segerstrom and Malcolm MacKay (now at the high school) were responsible for the attractive book cover chosen from the many designs presented to Mr. Dickman's office.

We no longer have to ride in the shadow of the Winchester High School Schems for book covers or a name. We now proudly adorn our books with the new covers and shall be known as the Spartans of the Winchester Junior High School.

The Knit Shop Has Many Ideas for Christmas

It is time now to start making your Christmas gifts as well as warm sweaters and mittens for the fall and winter seasons ahead.

More women than ever are knitting and it is not only the popular thing to do but they find that hand knit garments for the family outwear the machine knit ones many times over.

The Knit Shop is ready to serve you with new materials and ideas. For the glamorous look we have a leaf pattern cardigan in yarn with a gold thread woven through it. The sweater may be decorated with "tear drop" pearls if you wish. Mohairs from France come in unusual colors. Sweaters from these yarns are very soft and light in weight, yet give the fashionable bulky look. There are light weight mohairs and a new angora and wool yarn by Bernat that makes a lovely sweater for evening.

For the woman who likes tweeds, we have the finest selection possible with over thirty patterns to choose from, each has yarn which either matches or blends perfectly with it. Some of the checks and plaid materials make it possible to have three sweaters of different colors to wear with one skirt.

The Shetland yarns to use with the tweeds come in medium weight and light weight and the tweeds are hand woven from Andrew Stewart and from Pringle, imported by Armstrong.

There are many designs in ski sweaters for both men and women —the handsomest of which come in Paks with complete directions for knitting.

The Peruvian ski-mask, so much in demand, may now be purchased in a pak.

For children there is an unlimited choice of mittens, caps and sweaters. New Bernat paks feature a "Doll Face" Cap with sew-on eyes at the back. Mittens and socks to match the cap come in separate paks.

For fun and for warmth, knit the "Puppet" mittens—the chipmunk, or the tiger, mouse or whale.

To keep the baby snug and warm in his carriage there is a Cozy-Baby Parka, with hood attached, quick to knit, easy to wash and fast drying.

For a new note of interest in the shop, we have some luxury items in net and felt which are in "do-it-yourself" packages. There is a white Xmas tree skirt with reindeer and Santa to applique—a Xmas door decoration in the shape of a large Xmas stocking—and the most glamorous Xmas stocking we have seen. A net and felt card table cover and a pink net johnnie seat cover have to be seen to be appreciated.

Our monogrammed blouses are very popular as is our monogramming service which requires only a few days. We carry "Margaret Smith" knitting bags, also tote bags as well as buttons and every size in knitting needles.

Come in and let us show you the new ideas for knitting.

We are happy to serve you and it is our aim to have every garment from our shop turn out successfully.

Ward's Market Has Personal Customer Service

Ward's Market at 19 Thompson street has been in Winchester for 25 years. Starting with the Winchester Fruit Company which was also located on Thompson street, the two stores were merged last year. Stanley Lavender and the late George Clark continuously ran the business since it started here until Mr. Clark's death. Ward's Market is now owned by Stanley Lavender who became associated with Mr. Clark in 1933 when they both came to Winchester. Together they bought Ward's Market in 1942 and at that time Mr. Lavender became a full partner.

The market carries a full line of fruit, vegetables, meats, poultry, sea foods, groceries, and frozen foods. In order to see that the customers of Ward's get only the best, daily trips are made to Boston for a personal selection of the items which are to be sold during the day. Thus all the perishable items are guaranteed fresh.

Ward's Market originally started as a seafood store but gradually added meats and groceries. Thus, for twenty-five years, the market has been specializing in fish and other sea products. Fresh fish are brought in each day from Boston. The market is the service-type which means that Mr. Lavender and his associates give each customer the personal attention of men who have been in the business.

Trefrey Office Reports Brisk Sales

Through a series of progressive sales contests and educational programs, the office of James T. Trefrey has shown a steady growth in the field of residential Real Estate sales.

In the months of June, July and August, title to 20 homes was conveyed with nine more scheduled for September conveyance. Of particular interest is the increasing number of double transactions, where a buyer has been sold a new house and the office has also sold his old house.

With the present tight money situation, there will be an increasing necessity for active and well informed salesmanship to be effective in a more competitive market.

Mr. Fred S. Gilley, Jr., manager of the Winchester office, feels that his staff fills this need.

Highlands Church School Resumes

On Sunday, September 27, all departments of the church school of the "Church in the Highlands" will resume. The time is 9:30, the same as in previous years.

Pupils will report to their classes for registration, with actual class work starting the next Sunday when the lesson quarter begins.

Mr. Richard H. Brownell will again be general superintendent, with Mrs. Herbert Lamson acting as superintendent of the Lower School.

Teachers include Mrs. Thomas Comeau, Mr. Ronald Richburg, Mr. Frank Inman, Jr., Mrs. Rony Snyder, Mr. Lloyd Stevens, Jr., and the Rev. Norman L. Smith.

Several classes still need teachers, and it is hoped that the need will be filled before actual classes start.

If parents are uncertain as to the age of the nursery class pupils, they are urged to call Mr. Brownell. This class is during regular church school time, and is not to be confused with the nursery accommodation class during the morning worship hour.

Mr. William F. McClintock will serve as Church School secretary and treasurer.

Looking for a really good fountain pen, Parker Vacumatic, $5., at the Star Office.

Salvation Army State Plan

Co-ordination of all services of The Salvation Army in one state-wide organization, known as The Massachusetts State Plan was announced today by Lt. Colonel James Hepburn, chairman of the State Plan Commission.

"Armies no longer fight with bows and arrows, but with the most up-to-date weapons available," Col. Hepburn stated. "The Salvation Army is fighting the most important battle ever waged—that against human suffering and need. We must keep pace with the times."

There are no less than two hundred and eighty-seven Salvation Army Centers serving the needy in Massachusetts. These include local Corps in every large city, volunteer "Service Units," in towns where there are no uniformed Salvationists, and many regional and state-wide agencies, such as Camp Wonderland for underprivileged children, the Red Shield Club for servicemen and both Memorial Hospital for unmarried mothers.

Under the State Plan, the work of each of these agencies will be carried on unchanged, but it will be co-ordinated throughout the state in such a fashion that there will be no unserved area.

Operation of the Massachusetts State Plan will be directed by an Advisory Conference of ninety-six chief leaders of the state under the chairmanship of Dr. Daniel L. Marsh.

Mrs. Frank M. Taylor Gives Three Lectures

One of the most distinguished current events lecturers of the present day, Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, will give the first in a series of three important lectures on Wednesday morning, September 30, in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. Coffee will be served at 9:45, with the lecture at 10:15. A baby sitting service will be provided as a special service.

Mrs. Taylor has just returned from Russia, where she had the good fortune to see Russia as few tourists or official visitors see that country and its people. She brings back an excellent and honest picture of Russia today—a country to be watched warily, to try to be understood.

Miss Cassie Sands at PA 9-5655 is chairman of tickets, and single tickets for the Wednesday lecture may be purchased that morning, at the door, for one dollar. Mrs. Taylor's series of three lectures is part of the Golden Star Bazaar of the First Congregational Church.

Middlesex TB Assn. Meets

The second quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Middlesex Tuberculosis & Health Association will be held at 12 noon on September 29, at the Fresh Pond Restaurant, Cambridge.

A special filmstrip which is designed for Board members, demonstrating approved principles for programs of tuberculosis associations, will be shown. Appointment of committees by the president will also be announced.

Cmdr. Brigance On Newly Commissioned Ship

Commander Fred W. Brigance of 2 Marchant road is the dental officer aboard the newly commissioned U.S.S. Providence. The ship was commissioned Thursday, September 17, at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

The U.S.S. Providence was first launched on December 28, 1944 and was commissioned in the spring of 1945. It was decommissioned on June 14, 1949 and has been converted to a guided missile light cruiser. The first ship to be called the Providence was the sloop, Katy, owned by John Brown of Providence, R. I. in 1775-1779; it was renamed the Providence when it was purchased by the Marine Committee for the Continental Navy and armed with 12 guns in 1775.

Visitors at the commissioning ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Brigance of Henderson, Tennessee and Mrs. Dorothy Webb of Tuscomba, Alabama who were visiting in Winchester last week. Also in attendance were Mrs. Fred W. Brigance and daughters Miss Carol and Miss Elizabeth Brigance of Winchester.

Mrs. Robert S. Westwater of 33 Englewood road, second from the left, discusses Operation Opera II, a community-wide membership drive for The Opera Group, at a champagne party at the Gardner Museum. "AREN'T THEY CUTE?"

Mr. and Mrs. James Blackham, Jr., admire son, Billy, and daughter, Ann, dancing on the lawn at the recent Hood pizza party held at their home on Canterbury road.

Local Housewife Wins Hood Pizza Contest

The best-dressed pizza in Winchester was concocted in the kitchen of Mrs. James W. Blackham, Jr., of 33 Canterbury road. Mrs. Blackham won first prize in the "Best Dressed Pizza" contest sponsored by H. P. Hood and Sons' Anzio Pizza Division.

Mrs. Blackham described her favorite way of dressing up a pizza and forwarded her entry to the disc jockeys on WBZ radio, Alan Dary and Dave Maynard.

First prize for Mrs. Blackham was a pizza party for over 50 people at her Canterbury road home. The party hosts were the disc jockeys and Lou Allen and Ted Ball of H. P. Hood and Sons.

Mrs. Blackham's guests were relatives, friends and neighbors from the community.

The pizza served at the party was the individual shell and sauce ingredients made by the Anzio Division of the Hood company. Special ovens were installed under the trees in the Blackham yard and the pizzas were prepared in individual tins.

Throughout the entertainment directed by the WBZ disc jockeys, the stars who stole the show were the Blackham children; Ann, age 7, and Billy, age 5.

Mr. Blackham, who works for Monahan Insurance Agency in Boston, and his wife have been permanent residents of the Winchester community for more than seven years. Mr. Blackham is a native of the town.

The lecture is being sponsored by the International Relations Committee of the association and will be given by Dr. Dorothy W. Weeks, now actively engaged in recommending and coordinating research for the national defense in the Ordnance Materials Research Office at the Watertown Arsenal. The talk will be preceded by tea at 4 o'clock.

Duck Rescued by Two Boys

On a late August day, while fishing on the duck pond, Bill Zwickian and Robert Cummings noticed a baby Merganser duck hopping and stumbling about. The other ducks chased him and took food away from him.

The boys asked at the Park Commissioners office if they could take him home and care for him. Superintendent "Babe" Mullen said that they could.

They brought him home and fed him on corn, cereals and vitamins for a month. In that time he was cured of his lameness and grew to be a full-sized healthy, aggressive duck.

He grew bold enough to peck at Bill's collie dog, Bonnie, when she was rude enough to try to eat from the duck's dish. She even had the habit of sitting on the back steps next to the dog and if the dog was allowed to come in the duck would peck at the dog, annoyed at being left out.

After a month of soft living the duck was taken back to the pond and it ran into the water and joined her former friends with a flap and a squawk!

Liberated Homemaker

Carl deSuzo Visits

Mrs. John Bradley

with Barbecue and Gifts

Tuesday, September 22, was an eventful day for Mrs. John D. Bradley of 11 Lawrence street. She was liberated from housework on that day by none other than non-vivant, Carl deSuzo, WBZ Radio personality, who arrived to undertake his duties in a police-escorted caravan of cars.

Mrs. Bradley entered the WBZ Radio contest, "Liberate a Homemaker from Housework for a Day," and her winning letter won her the services of Carl deSuzo, plus several surprise gifts.

Her letter stated: "Any man who is willing to help out, is a little mental no doubt. If my letter should come in first, let me tell you the work. My home has nine rooms in all, not including a large entry hall. I have three children to keep in line, plus keeping the house in perfect shine. I am five feet two, people tell me I'm small. I keep the house clean, including the hall. If a man could do it all well, I want to see. I really need a lazy day. I dare you to liberate me."

Carl and his entourage arrived at noon and was greeted by Mrs. Bradley's neighbors, who had spent the morning decorating the trees and shrubbery with bunting and balloons. Signs were posted on poles enroute to the winner's home, with personal messages for Carl. The caravan of cars included two WBZ News station wagons, trucks from New England Laundries, Inc.; L. P. Hood & Son, Inc.; Converse Market in Winchester; and Adams & Sweet.

After greeting the neighbors, Mrs. Bradley was introduced to the drivers of the vehicles who listed the prizes she had won. They included a one-week's laundry service from New England Laundries; milk and cheese supplies from H. P. Hood & Son, Inc.; a $25 food certificate good for food or cash at Converse Market; twenty steaks, courtesy of Converse Market; rug-cleaning service by Adams & Sweet; window-washing service and a complete outdoor barbecue stand, including table and chairs, from WBZ Radio.

After posing for a WBZ-TV News cameraman, Mrs. Bradley and her guests proceeded to the back yard, where Carl prepared feasts for the barbecue. Neighbors were in high spirits and offered to prepare salads to go with the feasts and loan Mrs. Bradley extra utensils to take care of the group who would join her for lunch.

Carl told the group of his recent trip to Russia, and enumerated many interesting anecdotes during the luncheon. After posing for innumerable photographs with Mrs. Bradley and her neighbors, Carl supervised the cleaning up of the premises and made a futile effort to help with the dishes. To everyone's surprise, Carl had little cleaning to do. Mrs. Bradley, in order to make a good impression on her distinguished visitor, had spent the entire week end cleaning the house to prove her capability as a homemaker.

Congregational Leader to Speak in Town

A lecture series for four evenings is offered at the First Congregational Church on Wednesday, September 30, October 7, 14 and 21, at 8:00 p.m. in the Palmer Room.

Dr. Albert J. Penner, minister of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference will speak about the general theme of "Our Congregational Churches and Contemporary Christianity" with the following sub-topics: "We are Protestant," "We are Evangelical," "We are Liberal," and "We are Ecumenical."

This is an excellent opportunity not only to learn about the above theme, but also to get better acquainted with one of the leaders of the Congregational Denomination in our country. Dr. Penner and his family have moved only last year to our community from his post in New York City as minister of the Broadway Congregational Church. His office as minister of the Massachusetts Conference is located in the Congregational Building on 14 Beacon street in Boston, and his work brings him in close contact with all Congregational Churches in our State.

We are privileged to have Dr. Penner offer his time and leadership in connection with the adult study program at the First Congregational Church. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend these events.

Hi, Hi Schoolers

by Betsy Schaefer

Hi again! It's time for the doings of the rank and file of Winchester High School to officially appear again. I personally am not only glad to be back again for my second year, but am simply overjoyed at the prospect of having 300 new freshmen readers.

I realize that these same 300 people were around last year to read the column if they had wanted to, but whoever saw an eighth grader who would be caught dead reading about the doings of that other world called the High School. But now, that you're freshmen, welcome aboard.

On the football scene, at the Bay State Jamboree held last Saturday at Manchester Field, Winchester, led by Captain Richie Winn, defeated Milton 14-6 and tied Natick 0-0.

The Cross-Country team, led this year by Phil Nichols and Donny Brown, will run their first meet against Haverhill this Friday. Field hockey tryouts for the 1959 squad captained by Sue Fisher took place this week and last. Jr. Varsity and Varsity members who met with Watertown for a scrimmage on Thursday included the following: Joanne Hess, Jane Hess, Sue King, Joanne Hess, Julie Palmer, Fetsy Root, Marilyn Long, Peggy Padeiford, Mary Donovan, Pat Burton, Louise Phelan, Carol Lawson.

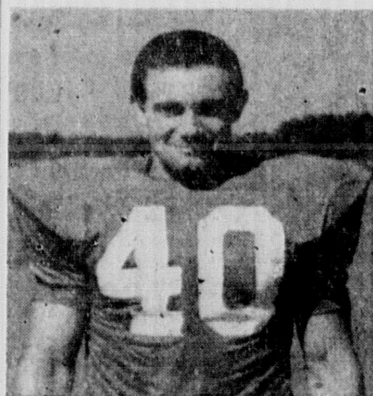

Also Jackie Cartier, Sue Foster, Carol Arlanson, Joan Denton, Joanna Hill, Carol Parker, Sue Mucera, Roberta Mulford, Martha Preston, Judy Donovan, Martha Maloney, Sue Koch, Thea Kirk, Paula Collins, Barbara Stewart, Gail Towner, and Betty Bowes.

Freshman cheerleading tryouts also took place last week. Judy Tofuri and Candee Callahan were chosen to captain the squad which includes Linda White, Ann Shidler, Cindy Hopkins, Diane Burnham, Martha Sweetser and Margo Harmon.

The Octette had its first meeting of the new year. Frannie Weaver, Nancy Stone, Roberta Mulford, Linda Lantz, Martha Maloney and Vicki Soucek were welcomed as new members.

The Red and Black Editorial Board, plus advisor Philip Lewis, received a pleasant if hectic surprise when 96 students appeared at a preliminary meeting. Because of the discontinuance of a Journalism class, which in other years had handled the paper, classes will be held after school to acquaint interested students in the basic requirements of good newspaper writing.

Instruction in proof and copy reading, makeup, and general procedure will also be offered. Richard French, Judy Powers, and Nancy Morrison will be running the classes with the object in mind of picking next year's staff.

MIKE MURPHY

Veteran Starter at St. Joseph's

Mike Murphy of Winchester will be the veteran fullback starter at St. Joseph's College in Indiana. The Pumas, as the team is known, opened their season last Friday against Northeast Missouri.

Mike was the Pumas' leading ground gainer last year with 407 yards and a 4.1 average per carry.

The Hills at Nassau Again

Fred R. Hill, appliance manager of the Winchester Appliance on Thompson street, with Mrs. Hill, left Tuesday by Pan American Airlines for a vacation trip to Nassau in the Bahamas.

The Hills are guests in Nassau of the York Corporation as the result of Mr. Hill's sales effort in the recently concluded contest to sell York room air conditioners. As a matter of fact he had to win two contests in order to take Mrs. Hill on the trip.

There never was any question about winning one contest, but Freddie admits that the abnormally hot August helped him materially to put the other across. As for the Star, we are glad that all that melting weather of August was good for something after all.

This year's trip is Freddie's fourth in a row. In 1956 he won a trip to Nassau, and in 1957, to Vardero Beach in Cuba. Last year he and the Mrs. went to Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

Bellino Cave Townsfolk Great Show

Winchester Fans at Navy-Boston College Game Last Saturday

The more than 500 Winchester fans who trooped over to Boston College's new stadium at Chestnut Hill last Saturday saw their former star all-around athlete, Joe Bellino, give a dazzling exhibition of offensive football in the Navy's 24-8 victory over the Eagles.

Not quite as many made the trip in town this year as went to Braves Field for the Navy's joust with B. U. a year ago. The first football jamboree in Winchester's history was taking place at Manchester Field last Saturday and quite a number of those particularly interested in high school football elected to stay at home for this attraction.

Those who did go to Chestnut Hill saw the same Joe Bellino who used to thrill them when he was a schoolboy at Winchester High. A year ago Bellino was hampered with a knee injury and made only a token appearance against the Terriers. Last Saturday the Winchester ace was sound and put on quite a show.

Several early comers had a chance to see and talk with Joe before he changed from his Middlesex uniform to moleskins. They found him the same modest boy he was in high school, much more interested in expressing his appreciation to the home-town fans for coming to see him play than he was in telling them what he hoped to do out on the field. He let his actions speak for themselves and they did just that!

In the opinion of Eagles' Coach Mike Holovak, himself a former All-American back at B. C. and a professional star, Bellino was the difference in Navy's winning game with B. C. The Winchester boy was voted the outstanding back and player, carrying for 115 yards in eight tries, or slightly better than 14 yards a carry, and contributing a sparkling 50-yard individual run for a touchdown.

In addition to this Bellino, on one of the few quick-openers Navy was able to make go against the big B. C. line, scooted 33 yards up the middle to set up the first Navy score, using all his dazzling speed, clever faking and change of direction. He also threw the key block on Attleboro Dick Pariseau's 80-yard punt return for a Navy touchdown midway in the second period.

It was Joe's yell to the Navy quarterback that resulted in the cut-back and key block that got him away alone at midfield.

Joe's touchdown in the third quarter was pretty to watch, a replica of many the delighted Winchester fans had seen him pull off many times as a schoolboy.

It wasn't a pitchout. He lined up at wingback left and started to his right, taking a handoff behind center. Down to 174 yards and lightning fast, Joe simply outran the B. C. corner man, avoided a tackler at the 35 by cutting sharply off his right leg and then darted and faked his way into the end zone without a hand being laid upon his flying figure, changing direction some three times on the way.

Every Winchester heart in the stands sank into their owners' boots when Bellino pulled up lame after his sparkling run. The Navy retinue, from Rear Admiral C. L. Melson down through the coaching staff to the lowliest waterboy, also held their breaths. However, it developed that Joe merely had suffered muscle cramps from pulling too-tight elastic stockings onto those pile-driven legs of his. He returned to action after assistance from the trainer.

Winchester fans left the Eagles' fine new stadium very happy. So did Admiral Melson. As he greeted the Middlesex entering their dressing room he gave Bellino a hearty hand shake and a "nice game, Joe," greeting, but also warned the Winchester star not "to scare them at Navy again like that!"

To make the Winchester fans' joy complete, the other home-town boy on the Navy squad, Frank Dattilo, got in for a while at left end. Dattilo had been hampered by a lacrosse injury sustained last spring and for a time it was doubtful whether he would be able to go against the Eagles. He did and that filled Winchester's cup of joy to overflowing.

Epiphany Y. P. F. News

A large group of young people convened at the Church of the Epiphany Sunday evening, September 20, for the first meeting of the Young People's Fellowship. A delicious supper was prepared by some of the mothers, consisting of casseroles, salad, and angel food cake. Following the meal, they attended a worship service.

Afterwards, the business meeting was conducted by President George Tridale. Such points were discussed as the Spring trip and the new YPF room, one of the many new additions to the building. A television set has already been contributed to the "Rec Room," and it is hoped such things as a phonograph, ping-pong table, and soda pop machine will be added in the near future.

The following social calendar for the year was planned by the Executive Board:

October 31—Halloween Hop,
November 28—Skating Party,
7-8 p.m.
December 20—Carol Sing in December 24—Carol Sing

Emerson Honored at Banquet

Richard L. Emerson, CIU, of 75 Pond street, Winchester, was recently honored at a banquet at the New Ocean House in Swampscott, Mass., in recognition of 25 years of service with the Phoenix Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Hartford, Conn.

He has averaged more than one million dollars of business written for each year of service and in 1955 and 1957 he led all agents nationwide in business written for the entire company.

Mr. D. Gordon Hunter of Hartford, a member of the Board of Directors was toastmaster and among the guests were fellow agents from all over the United States, including Mr. Ed Wood who traveled from San Francisco.

Northeast College Tuitions Highest

Figures released recently by the U. S. Office of Education reveal that college tuition and fee charges in the Northeast, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New England, are higher than in the nation as a whole. An analysis of the national statistics prepared by the New England Board of Higher Education at 31 Church street, shows that state universities in the Northeast charge, on the average, nearly 30 per cent more than the average for all state universities.

The public teachers colleges charge tuition and fees that are only about 4 per cent greater than the national average, but the public junior colleges in the Northeast levy charges which average 138 per cent above the national figure.

The study also reveals that costs in private colleges in the Northeast are above the national average for private colleges. Tuition and fees at private junior colleges are nearly 40 per cent above the national average for junior colleges; at private universities, 28 per cent above the average, and at private liberal arts colleges 25 per cent above the average for all institutions of the same type.

Wednesday's the Night

"Cereba-Cyrell" sounds like the title of a gay musical and it almost is! At least the "Hairdos and Hemlines" show (to benefit the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A.) will be nothing-if-not gay and it will have a musical background.

This coming Wednesday evening the Winchester Junior High School auditorium will welcome quaint old bellies, exotic Egyptian dancers and Mrs. Bradford Bentley of Sheffield road, "straight off the set of Wag-on Train" or so she looks! Mrs. Robert Roundey of Ardley place and poodle, "Sugar" of the same address, will take care of the negligence department. Vivacious Cereba, clever stylist of the Tawney Salon has prepared this part of the show and will entertain it with her discerning and oft-times hilarious comments.

T.V.'s Jack Chase will take over as commentator when the mislabeled pets and their modish mistresses appear. "Gowns by Cyrell" is a familiar credit line to most TV addicts. Cyrell of Rome, Paris and Brookline, has designed dresses for Zsa Zsa Gabor, Dinah Shore and Giselle McKenzie among others. Some of the gorgeous creations from Cyrell's white and gold shoppe will be modeled by Mrs. Charles Raffi, Jr., Mrs. Everett P. Stone, Mrs. William Sutcliffe, Mrs. Paul Collins and Mrs. Harris Richardson, Jr., all of Winchester. Lovely Mrs. Walter Wilcox of Arlington will also model.

It is interesting to note that mistress of ceremonies, Cereba, will be wearing a gown especially designed for her by Cyrell.

Door prizes will include one of Cyrell's enchanting hats-to-suit-the-wearer, as well as a precious blue rose plant, the fabulous never-never colored rose, developed by Mrs. Gordon Fisher.

Make-up is to be handled by the well-known Jack Stein, New England's leading make-up specialist.

Pretty teen-age daughters of Winchester M.S.P.C.A. members will act as usherettes and guides to the coffee cafeteria downstairs where a steaming cup, before the show, will be served to those who wish it.

"Hairdos and Hemlines" has everything and its proceeds will go to help those who cannot help themselves—our not-so-dumb animal friends.
